EXPLORERS TRACKED

Eight Canadians May be Alive

Searchers Find Deserted Camp of Men Three Weeks Missing

Approach of Winter Storms Adds to Difficulty of Early Rescue

[Copyright, 1929, by the North American Newspaper Alliance.]

WINNIPEG, (Man.) Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—With eleven planes searching for eight explorers who three weeks ago became lost in the Canadian wilds, the first trace of the missing octet and their two planes was revealed today, and the searchers revived their hopes of finding them alive. Every indication, searchers announce, is that the flyers came down at a point or points beyond the sixty-fifth parallel. However, that leaves still a vast area to be scanned.

The eight Canadian airmen left their Baker Lake base on Chesterfield Inlet the 8th inst., to explore the barren lands of the Canadian Northwest. Since that time no word has been heard from them.

The party consists of Col. C. H. D. MacAlpine, president of the Dominion Explorers' Company; Stan J. MacMillan, Chief Mechanic A. G. Milne, and Geologist A. Boadway, all of the Explorers company, flying a Wasp Fairchild, and Pilot G. A. Thompson, Maj. Baker and Mechanic Goodwin of the Western Canada Airways, with Richard Pearce of Toronto, editor of the Northern Miner, with a Super-Universal Fokker.

DESERTED CAMP

It was established today that the lost party had spent the night of the 8th inst. at Beverley Lake, which is at the end of a series of lakes running due west from Chesterfield Inlet and Baker Lake where they set out. The flyers at last reached the end of their first leg safely on their hop to Bathurst Inlet, en route to the MacKenzie River.

The relief planes under the command of Capt. J. Blanchette, one piloted by Roy Brown of Western Canada Airways and the other by W. Spence of Dominion Explorers, hopped off last Thursday from Stony Rapids toward the barren lands to seek trace of the MacAlpine party.

No word came from them until today, when a radio message came from Baker Lake on Chesterfield Inlet saying that they had won through to that point, having passed Beverley Lake on the way and discovered traces that showed that the MacAlpine party had camped there. They also found lakes frozen where their pontoon-equipped machines could not land. And they ran into fog, frost and snow.

VAST ENIGMA

It does not look possible that sea planes from the south will cross the height of land in this area until winter spreads south and makes it possible to fly with skis from the southern bases. That may postpone

BEVERLY HILLS, Sept. 29. [To the Editor of The Times:] We are all in a lather over this Shearer, and the lobbying. If one man with influence can change a whole conference it's not him you want to investigate; it's the guys that he influenced, and it's the same with lobbying in Washington; if we have Senators and Congressmen there that can't protect themselves against these evil temptations of lobbyists. We don't need to change our lobby, we need to change our representatives. Fight on Flexible Tariff Lost

Finance Committee Minority Issues Appeal to Nation Against Hoover

Foreseeing Defeat, Bourbons Charge President With Usurping Powers

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—Further acknowledging that as matters stand on the eve of the showdown, they are beaten in their fight to repeal the flexible provisions of the tariff, the eight minority members of the Senate Finance Committee tonight put out a statement appealing to the country against President Hoover and the Republican leaders in Congress on this vital tariff issue.

The statement denounced the flexible scheme as an "entering wedge toward the destruction of a basic principle of representative government" and made the prediction that if the law remains unchanged the business of tariff making will pass permanently from Congress to the executive branch of the government.

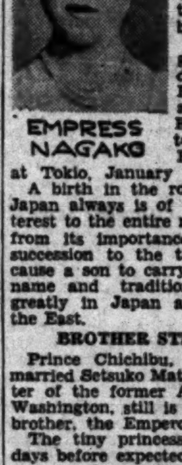
STORK VISITS EMPRESS

Daughter Born to Hirohito

Princess Third to Arrive at Household of Japan's Ruler

Subjects Celebrate, But Disappointment Reigns Over Lack of Heir

TOKIO, Sept. 30. (Monday) (AP)—Empress Nagako gave birth to a daughter today.



EMPRESS NAGAKO

The daughter, born Monday, is the third to come to the imperial household. Princess Schigeko, was born December 6, 1925, and another daughter was born about two years later but died in 1928.

Empress Nagako was the daughter of Prince Kuni and married Emperor Hirohito, who then was Prince Regent, at Tokio, January 26, 1924.

A birth in the royal family of Japan always is of tremendous interest to the entire nation, not only from its importance in governing succession to the throne, but because a son to carry on the family name and traditions is desired greatly in Japan as elsewhere in the East.

BROTHER STILL HEIR

Prince Chichibu, who recently married Setsuko Matsudaira, daughter of the former Ambassador to Washington, still is the heir of his brother, the Emperor.

The tiny princess was born ten days before expected. She weighed seven and a quarter pounds. The Empress was said to have come through the ordeal well.

Shortly after her birth the Princess, in accordance with the age-old custom, was presented with a short sword of archaic design, the gift of her Emperor father, which will be kept close by the Princess throughout her lifetime as a symbolic protection against evil. Because she was a girl she also was presented with a small purple ceremonial skirt.

The ceremony of naming the child comes October 6.

GIRL A DISAPPOINTMENT

Although there was nation-wide rejoicing at the safety of the Empress and her child there was keen disappointment that the baby was not a Crown Prince. Only males can occupy the throne of "lineage unbroken through ages eternal."

News of the birth was broadcast by radio throughout Japan and two blasts on a siren told the capital that it was a girl. Religious observance of the event took the form of announcement services at three shrines in the Imperial Palace. These are the Kashikodokoro, where the mirror of the sun goddess is enshrined, the one dedicated to ancestors of the Imperial House, and the shindene which is dedicated to the "Eighty Myriads" of deities in the Shinto pantheon.

SCIENTISTS FIND SERUM FOR CANCER

Discovery Declared to Confirm Previous Tests Against Dread Scourge

VIENNA, Sept. 29. (AP)—A report was issued today from Prof. Eiselberg's surgical university clinic that three Austrian bacteriologists—Edelmann, Schoenbauer and Schloss—have confirmed previous experiments which indicated discovery of an anticancer serum.

According to the experiments, antiseptically shredded and triturated human cancer tissue, when inoculated into bouillon and preserved for a week in an incubator at blood temperature, gives rise to a substance which dissolves any flesh cancer cells.

It is said that it is scientifically correct to assume that these tests can be applied practically in the treatment of cancer and that such trials of the new substance will be made here soon.

TROOPS GO TO BORGER

Mayor Arrested in Texas Town

Gov. Moody Puts Rampant Oil Region Under Martial Law After Killing

Murder of District Attorney Prompts Severe Action; Rangers in Charge

AUSTIN (Tex.) Sept. 29. (AP) Borger already is under martial law.

Gov. Moody stated tonight that he had no comment to make on the movement of State troops to Borger, where Dist.-Atty. John A. Holmes was assassinated.

"Come around tomorrow and I'll show you a copy of the proclamation," he said.

BORGER (Tex.) Sept. 29. (AP)—National Guardsmen were en route here tonight undoubtedly with the notice that Gov. Moody had placed the town and county under martial law. Meanwhile, Texas rangers here investigating the assassination of Dist.-Atty. Holmes, fifteen days ago, arrested Mayor Pace on a charge of causing a State witness in the Charles Hale murder case to leave town.

The militiamen, about 100 officers and men, left Fort Worth on a special train and are due here at 5 a.m. tomorrow. Their departure was unheralded, bearing out Gov. Moody's recent statement that in the event troops were sent here, their arrival will signalize the proclamation of military rule.

TOWN SEEMS QUIET

Borger, a great sprawling oil town with a two-mile-long main street grown up in three years from a bald and dreary prairie, was relatively quiet tonight, except for the suppressed tension felt since the Holmes slaying, the subsequent arrival of rangers, their charges of criminal conspiracy between city and county officers and the resultant shadow of martial law which had been seen for days.

Mayor Pace made $3000 bond before County Judge Wood soon after his arrest and was freed pending preliminary hearing tomorrow. Ranger Aldrich made the arrest on a complaint lodged by his superior, Capt. Hamer.

The witness, S. E. Broome, was held in the jail at Canadian, some miles away. Hale was charged with killing Ray Martin December 23, 1926, in an asserted "beer joint."

If Pace is found guilty, a sentence of from two to five years could be assessed.

One somewhat unusual incident occurred this afternoon. Two "drunks" lurched into a hotel and were accosted by Capt. Hamer.

"Where'd you get it?" he asked.

"None of your—business."

Rangers took them to the jail and Mayor Pace locked them up.

ALL DRESSED UP

As troop reign approached, the town was in its Sunday clothes, more residents than usual attending church while others rode up and down the two-mile long main street discussing events of the last two weeks.

The usual cloud of dark-yellow smoke from the scores of carbon-black plants hovered over the city. Pipe line workers, carbon black plant employees, oil well drillers, oil pumpers and other brawny men of the "black gold" industry that has given this town a million-dollar monthly pay roll, reveled in their accustomed fashion on their day of rest.

The thirteen organized churches here reported after today's services that more persons became members of the respective bodies today than at any other time in the three-year history of the city. Fifty-four persons pledged their faith to the Presbyterian denomination alone.

From the trend of conversation heard on all sides, only a few persons seemed to remember the original question that led to the invasion of Borger by the rangers, to be followed by troops—who killed Johnny Holmes?

The answer to that question seems destined to prove a sensational surprise to those who do not know Borger.

SPRING SIGNS DECEIVE BYRD

Seals Come Out to Frolic But Cold Wave Springs From South to Send Mercury Down Again

BY RUSSELL OWEN

LITTLE AMERICA (Anarctica) Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—The blizzard of a few days ago has been followed by a cold spell which kept the thermometer hovering between 50 and 60 deg. below zero. The sky has been clear for two days and the sun shining brilliantly with a warmth that can be felt when facing it, but has little effect in this cold drift of air from the south which yesterday extended as high as the meteorologists with the Byrd expedition could trace it with their balloon.

There are many signs, however, that spring is not far off because in the brief interval between the blizzard and the cold wave it was so warm that seals came out on the bay ice in great numbers. Men who went far out on the bay toward the sea until they got within a mile of the curtain of seasmoke beyond which they could see nothing, saw hundreds of seals basking in the sun. They were mostly found in the new ice which extends to a point about fourteen miles north of the base to the point where the bay ends at the east cape of the barrier. This ice is broken and heaped up by pressure and in the pressure holes are places where the seals come up to breathe and crawl out when the weather is not too cold.

A lot of them are crab eaters which are the best to eat and one of them was killed and brought back to camp. It tasted good, very much like ordinary round steak when cooked well with dried onions. It is valuable as is all fresh meat, for its vitamin content, and men who go out on the trail will be able to get well stoked up with it before they leave.

PERSHING SHOOTING VERIFIED

General Did Put Pellets in Judge While Hunting; "Last Shot" to be Mounted

BY JOHN STEELE

ABOARD S. S. BERENGARIA, Sept. 29. (By Radio)—I have verified from a member of Barney Baruch's Scottish grouse shooting party on the estate of the Duke of Montrose that Gen. John J. Pershing did shoot Judge Richard Paul Lydon of New York.

The judge received three pellets, one in the wrist, one in the chin and one just under the eye. The first two were removed locally, but the other was left until his return to New York.

It is reported that Judge Lydon intends to mount the pellets on a gold plaque inscribed, "Pershing's Last Shot."

HALF-HOUR TEMBLOR HITS HILO

Hawaiian Quake Laid to Lava Movements Below Surface of Earth

HILO (Hawaii) Sept. 29. (AP)—Inhabitants of this island were awakened at 5 o'clock this morning by an earthquake of half an hour duration which apparently was the forerunner of a series of even more severe temblors predicted by Thomas A. Jagger, volcanologist. Little damage was done.

The earthquake this morning was one of twenty-five or more or less intensity which had been recorded by the volcano observatory seismograph between noon yesterday and 11 a. m., today. Some damage was done to the observatory instruments.

Thursday the earthquake caused damage estimated at $100,000 in the Koma district on the western side of the island, and Saturday streets of Hilo on the eastern shore were ripped open, buildings were moved on their foundations and walls cracked.

Prof. Jagger, who has studied the volcanoes of Hawaii for many years, said the temblors are caused by the movement of lava beneath the surface of the earth.

CUPID KICKS UP PRISON ROW

Arizona Convict Weds Guard's Daughter and Judge Cites Official to Explain Roaming of Romeo

PHOENIX, Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—A prison romance in which the daughter of a guard and a convict serving a five-year sentence on a robbery charge were the principals, being climaxed at the altar on the 12th inst., was disclosed late yesterday afternoon when Superior Judge Marlin T. Phelps of Maricopa county cited Lorenzo Wright, superintendent of Florence State prison, to show cause why he is not in contempt for allowing the prisoner-benedict to roam outside the penitentiary, as, it is asserted, he has been doing for the last sixty days.

William Brown was convicted of robbery and sentenced in 1927 by Judge Phelps to serve five years in Florence Prison.

A guard, Blakely by name, had an attractive daughter Emma, who used to spend a certain amount of time with her father within the walls of the institution.

Emma Blakely and William Brown met, and despite the grim stone barrier which supposedly separated them, a romance ripened.

Then on the 12th inst. Miss Blakely and Brown appeared at the Courthouse, and, records show, obtained a license to wed. Further records show they were married just a few moments later.

Now, Judge Phelps wants to know why a prisoner is allowed such liberties, and why Brown is not serving his sentence.

In the meanwhile Superintendent Wight can not be reached for a statement as he is on his way to this city from a convention of prison heads at Toronto. But he has been ordered to appear and answer the contempt citation October 5.

The maximum penalty for contempt of court under such circumstances, it is pointed out, is a fine of $300 or six months in jail or both. In addition to the fine and jail sentence the court may order the official's removal from office.

MICHELSON CONTRACTS PNEUMONIA

University of Chicago Physicist Seriously Ill Following Operation

CHICAGO, Sept. 30. (AP) (Monday) — Prof. Albert A. Michelson, world-famous authority on the speed of light, was reported near death shortly after midnight today. Fears were expressed that the aged scientist would not live until morning.

CHICAGO, Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—Anxiety over the condition of Prof. Albert A. Michelson, noted physicist of the University of Chicago, was increased tonight. Three physicians, after examining him at the Presbyterian Hospital, announced he had contracted pneumonia.

The 77-year-old scientist, who underwent a double operation for bladder trouble on the 20th inst., was convalescing satisfactorily until Friday when a rise was discovered in his pulse, respiration and temperature. He passed a restless day on Saturday and his physician, Dr. Herman L. Kretschmer, called in consultation Dr. Ernest Irons, internal-medicine expert.

Their diagnosis of pneumonia was confirmed today after Dr. John B. Herrick, specialist on pulmonary diseases, had been called in. Pneumonia was found in the right lung, and an effort is being made to localize it there. Despite his condition, Prof. Michelson was able to take nourishment and received a visit from his family. He passed a fairly restful day, Dr. Kretschmer said.

HURRICANE RAGES ON

Sweeps in From Gulf Today

Toll of Shipping From Storm in Bahaman Waters Mounts Higher

Florida City Reported Under Water as Other Areas Set to Face Gale

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS)

Falling barometers and rising winds presaged the approach Sunday night of the tropical storm into the north coast of the Gulf of Mexico, where the Weather Bureau said it probably will pass inland somewhere between Apalachicola, Fla., and the Mississippi shore Monday.

Toll of shipping from the storm which swept Bahaman waters before crossing from the Atlantic to the Gulf around the southern tip of Florida mounted with news that the Scandia is a total wreck aground in the Bahamas, southeast of Jupiter, Fla. The Coast Guard took five men from the vessel before rough seas compelled a halt in the rescue until morning.

The Italian steamer Salina is aground off Manzanillo reef and has been sending out imperative calls for assistance. Rescue speeds through the stormy Atlantic from Coast Guard bases at Norfolk and Wilmington, N. C.

RESCUE WORK

At the same time, the wrecking tug Warbler has been dispatched from Key West to the aid of the British freighter Domira, which has been aground since last Tuesday off Great Abaco Island, and which has been abandoned by all except three of the crew of thirty.

Reports say the missing Bahamian, with its crew of twelve men, is safe in Nassau Harbor and that the American tanker Garnet Hulings has been floated from off Gun Cay and is proceeding under her own steam.

Aside from the wreck of two small Cuban fishing boats, no distress is reported from shipping in the Gulf of Mexico, where the storm was reported centered late last night about 125 miles west of Tampa. Crews of the Cuban boats saved themselves.

PREPARE FOR STORM

As the storm center moved northwestward along its course and drew closer to Florida and Alabama coasts, high winds disrupted communications to the section around Apalachicola, Fla., and barometers trended downward.

Pensacola and other cities and towns along the Gulf coast made preparations last night for a blow. The Weather Bureau was not certain whether the storm center would near Apalachicola or Mobile, Ala., but said it would require longer for the storm center to reach the Alabama coast, if it trended that way.

WORD LACKING

Best available check-ups revealed that no extensive damage was caused by the gale that blew Saturday night and yesterday morning along the lower west coast of Florida. A relief expedition was dispatched to Naples and Everglades to see whether aid is needed.

Word still is lacking from some of the Florida keys over which the storm center hovered in its passage from the Atlantic into the Gulf. Reports from No Name Key said several persons had been drowned but this was not verified. A Florida east coast wrecking crew reported the overseas railway was washed out somewhere near No Name Key and that parts of the State highway to Key West are under water.

Key West is isolated except by boat. The damage at Key West was minor.

FLORIDA TOWN REPORTED UNDER WATER

MIAMI (Fla.) Sept. 29. (AP)—Sheriff M. P. Lehman of Dade county, reaching here today after a hazardous drive over inundated highways strewn with fallen poles and trees, reported the town of Homestead, with a population of about 5000, was flooded to a depth of from one to two feet as a result

AMERICAN BALLOONS LEAD

Goodyear Entry Tops Race List With 347 Miles; Army and Navy Bags Next With Two Still Up

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 29. (AP)—With seven of the nine balloons in the Gordon Bennett International Balloon Race reported landed, tabulations tonight by the Associated Press show the three bags representing the United States had traveled the greatest distance.

The Goodyear VIII, piloted by Ward T. Van Orman, with Alan McCracken as aide, landed three miles north of Troy, O., at 6 p.m. and apparently was leading with a distance from St. Louis unofficially estimated at 347 miles.

The Army bag piloted by Capt. William E. Kepner, winner of last year's race, landed on a reservoir at Celina, O., at 3:15 p.m. and was second with distance estimated at 338 miles. Army officers at Scott Field, near here, conceded Van Orman probably had an edge of a few miles. Capt. James F. Powell was Kepner's aide.

The Navy balloon piloted by Lieut. T. G. W. Settle, with Lieut. Winfield Bushnell as aide, was next with 315 miles. This bag landed near Eaton, O., at 2:30 p.m.

The two balloons still up, so far as known, are the Belgica, piloted by Capt. Ernest De Muyter, winner of four Gordon Bennett races, and the Denmark, piloted by Lieut. George Schenstrom. The Belgica was last reported at 2 p.m., when it caught in a tree near Paoli, Ind., 200 miles east of St. Louis, but moved on after tossing out radio equipment and ballast. The Denmark was unreported late tonight.

D. Eduardo Bradley, pilot of the Argentine, suffered a crushed leg and severe bruises when his bag fell on a farm fifteen miles south of Terre Haute, Ind., at 10:30 a.m. His aide, Lieut. Francisco J. Cadaval, was bruised. The bag was demolished when it struck a tree. His distance was 160 miles.

The other foreign balloons landed as follows:

Lafayette, France, Georges Blanchet, pilot, Stinesville, Ind., 1:10 p.m., distance 205 miles.

Barmen, Germany, Dr. Hugo Kaulen, Jr., pilot, near Melvin, Ill., 8 a.m., distance 175 miles.

Stadt Essen, Erich Leimkugel, pilot, Catlin, Ill., 9 a.m., distance 170 miles.

TANAKA DEATH STILL MYSTERY

(Copyright, 1929, by the Chicago Tribune)

TOKIO, Sept. 30. (Monday) (Exclusive)—While common street-corner talk all day yesterday questioned the official announcement that former Premier Baron Giichi Tanaka's death was due to heart disease, and in some circles it was declared openly it was suicide because of the recent political scandals, it seems certain this morning that the event will go down in history as unsettled.

The heart attack of Baron Tanaka occurred during a banquet at a fashionable restaurant in Tokio on Saturday night with fifty high party officials, where the present scandals and other immediate party problems were discussed with frankness. After the banquet he repaired to the home of his favorite concubine, where at 5 o'clock yesterday morning he died. The concubine's room was barred immediately to the press, the public and the police. Baron Tanaka's body was hurried to his official residence, a twenty-minute taxi ride distant, where an hour later all high party officials gathered and held a long council.

By 11 o'clock they learned the facts and announced the unexpected death of the former Premier. Not until 11 o'clock yesterday morning was the announcement made. Then it was said that the death occurred at Baron Tanaka's official residence.

For weeks Japan had been seething with the news of an increasing number of scandals which have been uncovered by the present Hamaguchi government and fastened on Tanaka's recent regime. The sensational stage was reached last week, when the Minister of Railroads was arrested and jailed, charged with accepting bribes.

Emperor Hirohito posthumously decorated the Baron with the Grand Gordon of the Rising Sun in recognition of his services to the empire. Premier Hamaguchi today paid tribute in the press to the memory of the man he succeeded as head of the government.

"SUICIDE" MAY TURN OUT TO BE MURDER

Mrs. Virginia McPherson

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—Declaring they have found a witness who saw a man leaving the home of Mrs. Virginia McPherson, nurse, of this city, shortly before she was found dead, Washington police have today reopened the case.

Mrs. McPherson was found dead recently in a room in her fashionable Park Lane Apartments. The Coroner's jury, a few days ago, brought in a verdict of death by suicide. However, friends of the dead woman were not satisfied to believe that she had taken her own life, and instigated a private investigation.

It was learned that a neighbor had heard screams in the nurse's apartments, and, later, saw a man leave.

Soviet Flyers Reported to Have Reached Sitka in Hop From Seward, Alaska

It covered the distance of nearly 600 miles in about seven hours and thirty-seven minutes. Arrival of the plane at Sitka was reported by the naval radio station at Bremerton, Wash.

Collapse of Geneva Parley Will be Subject

Rear-Admiral Reeves First Will Reply to Charge

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29. (AP)—The story of the collapse of the tripartite Geneva naval limitations conference of 1927 will be sought tomorrow by the Senate Naval Committee from two of those behind the scenes at the meeting.

Rear-Admiral J. M. Reeves, U.S.N., who was a member of the board of American naval experts at the parley, will be heard first as he replies to the statement of a Geneva newspaper reporter that he "frequently expressed the hope the conference would not succeed."

Later in the day the committee expects to turn at last to William B. Shearer, the $25,000 "observer and reporter" of American ship builders at the naval meeting, whose suit against the battleship makers for an additional $250,000 started the Senate and Presidential investigations.

HINGES ON SHEARER

Awaiting Shearer's story, the Senate investigators have put the shipbuilders, who already have testified, and American naval experts to the conference on notice to be ready to come before the committee. The future of the Senate investigation hinges on the disclosures of Shearer tomorrow.

Meanwhile, Commander H. H. Frost, the second of the four American naval experts who were named by Drew Pearson, Geneva newspaper correspondent, as associates of Shearer in the Swiss city, sent word today to the committee that he wants to reply.

Chairman Shortridge of the investigating committee said he has not heard of Commander Frost's request, which was addressed to the committee secretary, but he added that all four of the American naval experts named by Pearson will be summoned before the committee in due course. He said Frost will have to await the conclusion of the committee's hearing of Shearer.

Pearson said that he frequently saw the following four American naval experts in company with Shearer at Geneva; Rear-Admiral Reeves, Rear-Admiral Frank H. Schofield, Commander Frost and Commander H. C. Train. He said the "atmosphere" of their meetings and conversations were "distinctly anti-British" and he said Admiral Reeves was "loquacious" in his expressions of hope for failure of the parley.

Before calling Shearer the committee may recall Laurence R. Wilder, organizer of the trans-oceanic company, who paid Shearer $4500 as an "artist and consultant" in 1928 after he had learned of Shearer's activities at Geneva. Daniel Cohalan, attorney for Shearer, submitted some questions which he asked the committee to put to Wilder. These dealt with what knowledge Wilder has of Shearer's past record.

DOCUMENT SOUGHT

If those questions are put Shearer's past record may be inquired into by the committee during its examination of him. Already the committee has been told of a document purporting to be a Scotland Yard record of Shearer. Senator Allen, Republican, Kansas, of the committee, has expressed a desire to know what knowledge the shipbuilders had of Shearer when they employed him to go to Geneva as an "observer and reporter."

Senator Allen also is going to produce the asserted secret British document, which Shearer wrote to the shipbuilders that he had produced to the Navy at a critical time in the Senate debate on the fifteen-cruiser bill last February. In his letter, Shearer said that this document was made use of by some of the Senators in supporting the measure, which later passed.

Shearer has been present at all of the committee's hearings of the shipbuilders during the past week and has indicated a willingness to tell his side of the case. The shipbuilders told the committee they secretly employed Shearer to go to Geneva but they insisted he was sent there only to "report" on the "trend" of the conference.

Bomb Suspects in Mexico Face Prison Terms

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 29. (AP)—The public prosecutor tonight announced that at the trials next month he will demand twelve years' imprisonment for Carlos Castro Balda and Carlos Zozaya accused of bombing the Chamber of Deputies and the Obregon campaign headquarters last year. They were arrested in July, 1928, in connection with the investigation of the assassination of Gen. Obregon by Jose De Leon Toral, and have been in prison since.

A sentence of six years will be sought for Miss Maria Elena Manzano, who is asserted to have plotted the deaths of former Presidents Obregon and Calles. Several other persons will face the court on similar charges.

exerted by the criminal element of Borger, it has been predicted generally that no arrests were to be made in connection with the Holmes killing until troops arrived. Rangers have been working on the case ever since the District Attorney fell mortally wounded at his garage door, the victim of an assassin's bullets.

Two score murders have been committee in the town since it sprang up in the wake of an oil boom three years ago. None of the killers have been apprehended and the rangers believe they have been protected.

of the hurricane. No deaths were reported there but several persons were injured slightly.

The Sheriff said water has backed up from the lowlands east of Homestead and is flowing through the town and across three miles of low country to the Atlantic Ocean. He said the town was flooded to a depth of three feet last night, but that the water later receded somewhat. Farther south, at Florida City, water is standing at a depth of about two feet and it is not known whether other small communities farther down the coast have been flooded, as highways are impassable and telephone lines are crippled. The Sheriff expressed belief, however, that much of that territory is inundated.

County authorities, working in conjunction with Red Cross and other relief agencies, immediately sent food and water supplies to the flooded area. Guards were posted in and about Homestead and no one was permitted to enter the town except residents and persons going there on emergency business.

Power lines are crippled and Homestead is without electric service.

Refugees from the Everglades were given food, shelter and medical attention at Florida City, fearing that high water might claim lives in the extremely low country to the west and south of Florida City, authorities traveling through the affected district in trucks, gathered up residents and brought them to town.

Although no official estimates has been made, fruit growers and produce farmers in the Homestead area fear crop damage has been heavy.

All train service over the Florida East Coast Railroad from Homestead south to Key West has been suspended and it probably will be four or five days before it can be resumed.

With sunny skies and a peaceful calm displacing torrential rains and high winds of the past two days, city officials today set about checking up on the amount of damage in Miami and Miami Beach. They reported that most of the damage was done to roofs on unsubstantially built homes, trees, yachts in Biscayne Bay, and water-soaked goods in business establishments the windows of which were blown out by the high winds. It is estimated that about 4000 telephones were put out of commission during the storm. No official estimate of the loss, however, yet has been made.

Official estimates of damage to Fort Lauderdale, which was struck by a high wind late yesterday, also are lacking here. The roof of the Broward Hotel there was damaged badly and the American Express Company's office was demolished.

At Coral Gables, a suburb of Miami, four houses were wrecked and three others damaged.

Two persons were injured and two buildings damaged near Hollywood.

KEY WEST STILL CUT OFF FROM LAND

KEY WEST (Fla.) Sept. 29. (AP)—The lower end of the Florida keys, including the city of Key West, still is cut off tonight from the mainland as a result of the passage of the West Indian hurricane through the Straits yesterday with the possibility that neither railroad nor highway connection can be established for two or three days.

Key West itself came through a seventy-mile gale almost unscathed, but a wind which in some instances is said to have reached a velocity of ninety miles an hour swept over the keys northeast of here tearing away portions of the Overseas highway at Pine Key and washing out a large section of the Florida East Coast Railroad tracks above Marathon. The latter place is fifty miles and Pine Keys about thirty-six miles from here. It was reported early today that an aged negro woman had drowned at Marathon. Another rumor was that a white woman and her two children also had drowned.

COAST GUARD SENDS VESSELS TO RESCUE

NORFOLK (Va.) Sept. 29. (AP)—The Norfolk division of the Coast Guard service today ordered two of its most powerful cutters sent to the East Coast of Florida hurricane area, where two steamers are ashore and a third still was sending out SOS calls late today. The vessels ashore are the Danish tank steamer Scandia and the American steamer Garnet Huling. The Italian steamer Salina is reported as "off Manzantillo reef still sending out calls for help."

The cutter Yamacraw was sent from Savannah at noon to the aid of the vessels and the cutter Modoc at Wilmington, N. C., was ordered tonight to proceed there also.

BOURBONS SEE TARIFF DEFEAT

vidual citizen of his power and influence in his government through bureaucracy," the eight Democratic members asserted, "we deem it our duty vigorously to protest any further encroachment in this direction and especially with respect to taxation. In the hope of arousing the people, regardless of party, to take the broad and public view of this important question, we make this appeal."

The signers of this somewhat unusual statement were Senators Simmons of North Carolina, Harrison of Mississippi, King of Utah, George of Georgia, Walsh of Massachusetts, Barkley of Kentucky, Thomas of Oklahoma and Connelly of Texas.

DEMOCRATS CHIDED

While the events leading up to this action on the part of the minority tariff leaders are somewhat jumbled, it was learned that the statement was written at a conference Saturday afternoon in the office of Walsh of Massachusetts. Walsh told his colleagues at that time that they were injuring their cause by showing too much partisanship in the debate that had raged all week.

Between the lines of the statement it is not difficult to see the Democratic desperation, for unless there is an entirely unforeseen upset in the next forty-eight hours, President Hoover has won his fight for retention of the basic flexible tariff provision.

HOOVER'S BACKING

The country as a whole probably cannot follow the intricate and highly technical moves on the Senate floor, but generally the public takes the position that the President is right when he takes issue with Congress. There has been abundant evidence of this since President Hoover came vigorously to the support of the flexible provision as one Republican Senator after another resolved his doubts and decided to vote to keep the section in the new tariff legislation.

The Democrats, as a last forlorn effort, evidently believe that they can create the impression that the President is reaching out after power which he has no right to possess and, by talking about the sanctity of representative government, hope to win back some of their wobbling brethren who were with them a wook ago but are now in the enemy Republican camp.

THEIR MOMENT PAST

The opinion of observers here tonight is that the move comes too late and that any political advantage the Democrats might have gained by a bold challenge of the President's stand has been frittered away in the bitter partisanship which has kept the Senate in a turmoil.

The maddening part of it, from the point of view of the Democrats, is that some of the Republican Senators believe that the flexible provision, put into the tariff in 1922 as a temporary, post-war expedient, has served its purpose and could now be abandoned. Perhaps if the President had not spoken so forcibly some of these Republicans would have voted for the nullifying amendment. Now they fear to run counter to the President or have been won over to the President's position.

VOTE NEAR AT HAND

The outlook tonight is for a vote on the flexible section within the next week. Tomorrow Senator Smoot will ask that the Senate vote not later than 4 o'clock Tuesday, and while the Democrats may demur they are not apt to delay the showdown more than a day or so. Although all sorts of compromise suggestions probably will be offered within the next two days it is believed that at the end there will be a clear-cut vote in which the Senate will decide whether or not the President shall continue to have power to raise or lower rates.

INCORPORATIONS SET MARK

PHOENIX, Sept. 29. (AP)—A total of forty-seven corporations with a combined capital stock of $133,225,000 were incorporated under the laws of Arizona during the fifteen-day period ended the 25th inst., setting what is believed to be an all-time record, according to the Arizona Corporation Commission.

HOPE REVIVED FOR EXPLORERS

Canadians Believed Safe in Hinterlands

Theory of Plane Trouble Now Abandoned

the finding of the lost explorers for five or six weeks.

Undoubtedly the two missing planes headed north toward Pelley Lake en route to Bathurst Inlet from Beverley Lake, but where did they land?

Did they, too, run into winter over the height of land or in the area south of Bathurst Inlet and lose their way as they flew blindly?

Are they down somewhere in that bleak, treeless, uninhabited lost land or did they go on blindly?

It would not have been hard for them, having lost their bearings, to have missed Bathurst Inlet and to have swung on west toward Coronation Gulf.

It looks as if some such condition must have arisen since both planes have disappeared. If engine trouble had developed, it is against the law of flying averages that both machines would have simultaneously been put out of commission. There were competent mechanics with the party who were capable of getting at least one of the machines on the wing again.

It appears now that the eventual search will have to be made north and south along the line of the Arctic Circle from as far west as Great Bear Lake to Pelley Lake on the east and up along the heavily indented shores of the Arctic gulfs.

SOLO SEARCH

If the lost men came down in the Coronation Gulf area, there is still a chance that they may be found within the next day or two, even though they may not all be brought out until winter sets in. That chance depends on the success which will attend the flight of C. H. (Punch) Dickens, the Western Canada Airways pilot, who is trying to fight his way along by the MacKenzie River and Great Bear Lake route to Coronation Gulf and Bathurst.

This ex-war pilot is making a magnificent lone effort which, whether he wins or fails, should rank with the greatest of solo flights ever made.

But will Dickens win through to Bathurst? At any time he may run into such fog and winter conditions as evidently interrupted the flight of the Macalpine party.

This between season, when the last of fall in the Far North and the first of winter are staging a fight in which the former must lose and the latter inevitably win, is the worst time of the year for flying. Indeed, in another week or two at the most, so far will this between season have spread south that all flying must cease and the airmen, no matter how eager, will just have to wait for winter.

From which it is evident that unless the missing explorers are located within the next week or ten days they will not be found for five or six weeks, unless, in the meantime, they should make their way by foot to some post with wireless in whose vicinity they might have come down.

SUPPLIES GOING IN

Besides the three planes already mention, other planes are ferrying in provisions, supplies, gasoline and winter camping equipment from Cranberry Lake on the Hudson Bay Railroad to Stoney Lake, more than 400 miles northwest.

From Stoney Lake at the moment other planes are portaging gas to caches still farther north to Dubawnt and other lakes, so that when winter comes, patrolling over the big area involved may be carried out expeditiously from these bases and sub-bases.

So far as the lost men are concerned, while there is undoubtedly worry over their three weeks' silence, there is not yet active anxiety. Nowhere does one hear the slightest hint that they met with actual disaster. The presumption is that they are undoubtedly down somewhere—and alive. And while they may not be exactly comfortable on the wind-swept barrens there is no reason why they should be suffering acutely yet.

WELL EQUIPPED

According to word at headquarters, they are well equipped. They had enough emergency provisions for a month, and even though that month may be nearing its end, they had rifles with which to kill game and lines with which to catch fish. They have winter clothing and eiderdowns for sleeping. They have primo stoves and blow torches on which they could cook even though wood fuel were scarce as long as they had any gasoline left in their tanks, unless this was exhausted when they landed.

So far as signalling relief planes is concerned, both machines carried Verey lights. At any rate the mosses of the region could be used to make smudges that would be visible to flyers searching in such a country on a clear day for a distance as great as fifteen miles.

Coast Air Line Adds to Service

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29. (AP)—Homer J. Merchant, traffic manager of the West Coast Air Transport, announced today his company in the future will operate planes on a five-hour schedule to Portland and a six-hour schedule to Seattle.

Coincident with the announcement Merchant said the San Francisco Bay terminal of the line will be changed from Mills Field, San Francisco, to the Oakland Airport to afford better transfer facilities with the Los Angeles-bound planes of the Western Air Express.

ATHLETIC CHIEF OF BIG TEN DIES

Western Conference Faculty Chairman Succumbs

Prof. Goodenough Authority on College Sports

Also Noted for Writings on Higher Mathematics.

URBANA (Ill.) Sept. 29. (AP)—Prof. George A. Goodenough, 61 years of age, of the University of Illinois, chairman of the Western Conference faculty committee on athletics and head of the Big Ten eligibility board, was found dead at his home here today. Death was due to heart disease.

Going to his study to summon him for breakfast at 7 a.m., Mrs. Goodenough found her husband's body slumped in a chair in which he had seated himself at a desk less than an hour before. He had been in poor health for some time and had recently suffered a stroke of paralysis.

BRAIN AND BRAWN

Prof. Goodenough was professor of thermodynamics at the university and although well known in engineering and educational circles attained principal prominence as an arbitrator of Big Ten athletics, in which capacity he served for twenty-three years. He was chairman of the faculty committees on both athletics and eligibility and was in charge of the investigation that resulted in the ousting of Iowa from the Big Ten. His last official act was to declared Alan Holman, star quarterback of Ohio State University football team, eligible for another year's competition. The announcement was made Friday.

EXPERT ON MATHEMATICS

Prof. Goodenough was recognized as an authority on mechanical engineering and tables on steam power compiled by him are regarded as exceptionally valuable works. He was author of many technical books, including "Principles of Thermodynamics," contributed the chapter on thermodynamics to the American Civil Engineer's Handbook and was co-author of "Essentials in Calculus" and "First Course in Calculus."

Born in Davidson, Mich., he attended Flint (Mich.) High School and received a bachelor of science degree at Michigan Agricultural College. He was graduated with a master's degree in mechanical engineering at the University of Illinois in 1900 and one year later joined the faculty.

Fox Purchases Theater Strings in Two States

TUCSON (Ariz.) Sept. 29 (AP)—Sale of the Lyric Amusement Company's string of eight theaters in Southern Arizona to the Fox West Coast Theaters was announced here. The consideration was not made public.

The transaction includes one amusement house in Tucson and another under construction, two in Nogales, two in Douglas and one each in Bisbee and Lowell.

MISSOULA (Mont.) Sept. 29. (AP) Purchase of Missoula's four motion-picture houses by the Fox West Coast Theater Company from the Simonds Amusement Company was announced here by William Steege, Fox manager for Montana and Idaho.

LOUISVILLE (Ky.) Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—Kentucky, long noted for its beautiful women, has selected one of its prettiest daughters to welcome Legionnaires who open their eleventh annual convention here tomorrow.

She is Miss Gladys Carson, 18 years of age, of Lyndon, near here. Miss Carson was chosen from a group of twenty-seven beauties, and will occupy a place of honor at all Legion functions.

PARIS FEELS UNEASINESS OVER COSTE

French Airman With Fuel for Fifty-two Hours Now Gone More Than Sixty

PARIS, Sept. 29. (AP)—Uneasiness was felt in Paris this evening when the sixtieth hour passed without word from Dieudonne Coste, the country's premier airman, who hopped off from Le Bourget at 8:15 a.m. Friday for a long-distance flight record.

Coste carried fuel sufficient to keep aloft fifty-two hours, which was reached at 10:15 this morning. The more optimistic at Le Bourget advanced the opinion that he may have landed in some out-of-the-way place in Siberia and would be heard from tonight or tomorrow with a new record.

The Air Ministry, however, has queried Moscow for any available information in the soviet capital.

Population of State Mental Homes Listed

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 29. (AP)—The total excess population of six California State mental hospitals stands at 1298, Earl E. Jensen, director of the Department of Institutions, reported to Gov. C. C. Young. This number, he said, is approximately sufficient for an institution the size of Mendocino State Hospital, which now has a total population of 1517.

Jensen said that the nonresident insane present an ever-increasing problem and that thirty-five accepted cases, with forty-five others pending, await return to their States of residence. Fifty-one patients were sent to other States recently.

Improved methods of treatment and increased activity on the part of social service workers and deportation department alone makes it possible to meet the situation. Jensen said, adding "and even so the total of the inmate population is expected to increase approximately 600 this year."

Convicts Eager for Return to Mexico Prison

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—Inability to secure work or earn an honest livelihood caused thirty convicts who have spent several years serving penitentiary terms to commit minor infractions so that they might return to jail, according to El Universal Grafico, which states that this figure represents 40 per cent of the recent number of convicts released under provisions of the pardon law. All thirty had been out of jail about two weeks and expressed preference for jail life to that outside prison walls.

Los Angeles Opens Fight for Next Year's Meet

States Caucus to Poll Vote for Commander

LOUISVILLE (Ky.) Sept. 29. (AP) The opening skirmish in the fight for next year's convention began today as America's warriors of 1917-1918 poured into Louisville by train, plane, boat and automobile for a four-day frolic at the eleventh annual convention of the American Legion which opens tomorrow.

The first musical organization to break the Sabbath morning calm was that of the Edward J. Beatty Post of Canton, Mass., and with it were 500 Massachusetts Legionnaires who are after next year's convention for Boston. Two more train loads arrived later in the day. California, seeking the 1930 meeting for Los Angeles, sent more than 200, and both States immediately got in motion for lining up support. Indications are that the race for the next convention will be between Boston and Los Angeles.

POLITICAL RIPPLE

In the crowds that surged through the hotel lobbies was a ripple of politics and the various State delegations arranged caucuses to decide where they will throw their support. Among those prominently mentioned for national commander are O. L. Bodenhamer of Eldorado, Ark., and Gen. A. L. Cox of Raleigh, N. C.

Mrs. Donald Macrae, Council Bluffs, Iowa; Mrs. William H. Cudworth, Milwaukee, and Mrs. Fred Kramer, Madison, S. D., are among those talked of for president of the auxiliary.

From every State and territory the Legionnaires came, resplendent in varicolored uniforms and bringing with them noise-making devices of all descriptions. There were Indians and cowboys, and added to the colorful array were mascots ranging from pretty girls to ducks and eagles.

RAILROAD PROBLEM

The arrival of 116 trains presents the biggest railroad problem in the history of Louisville, accustomed though the city is to handling the Kentucky Derby crowds. It was estimated tonight that fully 20,000 had arrived for the Legion and auxiliary conventions, and that tomorrow's arrivals will swell the total to around 50,000.

Some forty musical organizations, including the champion drum and bugle corps of Miami, Fla., detrained during the day, and in the interim between showers there was almost a continuous parade of drum and bugle corps and bands, the musicians' tin hats glistening in the warm sun that caused many to discard coats.

Not since the World War days when Camp Zachary Taylor disgorged its thousands on the streets had Louisville seen such a gathering. Reservations under one roof were made for three outstanding heroes of the war—Sergt. Alvin C. York, Samuel Woodfill and Willie Sandlin.

Tomorrow's program is the fullest of the convention, starting off with the address of welcome by Gov. Sampson of Kentucky and Mayor Harrison of Louisville. Miller C. Foster, national vice-commander, makes the response. National Commander McNutt will make his annual report, and greetings will be heard from the auxiliary and the "Forty and Eight."

Sultan Goes to Bath Attended by Whole Staff

MONT DORE, Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—From this little spa, high in the Auvergne district, it is possible to see the Alps in Switzerland and the Black Forest in Germany. Three "best-sellers" have been availing themselves of the health and beauty of Mont Dore this year, Phillips Oppenheim, Baroness Orczy and John Galsworthy. And the Sultan of Morocco was daily escorted to the baths by his entire retinue! Now Dr. "Dick" Sheppard, popular dean of Canterbury, has been seeking relief here for his asthma, which has long troubled and handicapped him.

The waters were first popularized by the Romans, and where the springs rise you may still see the remains of a big bathing station, with a portico and a pantheon.

OLD HOLD-UPS RECALLED

DOWNIEVILLE, Sept. 29. (AP)—Recalling the old days of stage hold-ups and sluice box robberies, a sluice box at the Gold Nugget Mine above Downieville was reported robbed of $4000 in gold a few days ago. F. J. Foster, the operator, was called to Los Angeles and while the boxes were left unguarded someone cleaned the riffles in which he estimates at least $4000 was impounded.

MRS. KISSES SO MISSES CASH

Estranged Wife, Paid to Keep Her Lips Untouched, Balks, Weds Again and Forfeits Income

NEW YORK, Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—A singular marital arrangement by which an English millionaire paid his estranged American wife an annual income to induce her to remain unkissed and unkissable was revealed today as the pact was dissolved after three years.

The American wife was Mrs. Christine Sharp Stanbury, formerly of the Commodore Hotel. Today friends in New York learned that since the 11th inst., she has been the bride of Alexander McGregor, a retired manufacturer, whom she married after wearying of the arrangements made in her behalf by Arthur Stanbury, an exporter of Birmingham, Eng.

The American girl married Stanbury October 20, 1923, and for two years lived with him in England. On December 22, 1925, the couple separated under the terms of the husband's strange arrangement.

Stanbury, unable to live with his American bride, yet was unwilling to have another share her affections. Accordingly, he drew up the unusual pact. For a handsome annual income his wife agreed to forego the attentions of other men. He, in turn, was pledged not to seek her affections.

Another provision of the contract was that the wife must not live within twenty-five miles of Birmingham. In return the husband agreed to relinquish his legal right to all property she might acquire after the separation.

For three years the arrangement held. Then, last summer in London, Mrs. Stanbury met a fellow-American, wealthy and middle-aged—McGregor.

She soon obtained a divorce in Sonora, Mex. The couple were quietly married by Rev. Harry E. Porter at the Avondale Presbyterian Church, Chicago.

The former Mrs. Stanbury, asked about her previous nuptial misadventure, said: "We never discuss matrimony in England."

WOLFSKILL QUIZ WAITS ANALYSIS

Murder Inquiry Depends on Results of Poison Hunt in Death of Rich Woman

FAIRFIELD, Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—Further investigation of the mysterious death of Miss Edith Irene Wolfskill, eccentric heiress to $800,000, is awaiting the result of the analysis of her stomach for poison by San Francisco and Berkeley experts, it was said here today by Coroner Klotz. Final word will arrive on the analysis next Tuesday or Wednesday, the Coroner said, and if the presence of poison is found an exhaustive investigation will be made of the finding of her body near the Wolfskill ranch near here.

Sheriff Thornton said today he still is convinced Miss Wolfskill met with foul play, and did not wander off into the hills and die of exhaustion. He vigorously is investigating her death, he said.

Ney Wolfskill, brother of Miss Wolfskill, yesterday filed in Fairfield and in Los Angeles petition for letters of administration for his sister's estate, asking to be named administrator.

An open letter to the Business Leaders of Los Angeles

You pay a good price for your clothes—you are fussy about style and cut—but are you as fussy and particular about who cleans and presses your clothes?

Do you realize that it costs only half of one per cent more of your purchase price to have your suit cleaned and pressed by the best craftsmen in the city, than it does to give it to the newest or poorest tailor shop in the city.

Just a few cents make all the difference—you are SURE of real dry cleaning—you are sure of getting all minor repairs looked after by real tailors—you are sure of getting modern pressing done on modern pressing moulds—a different pressing mould for each part of your suit (not a "general purpose" machine.)

Direct responsibility—dry cleaned in our own plant—under our own supervision—to our own standards which have been exacting, believe me, for 29 years!

Fast service. Fair, business like prices. Money-back guarantee if not satisfied. Ability to meet responsibility for loss and damage. We call and deliver promptly.

Out-of-Town Folks

LABOR PURGES PARTY'S TAINT

British Ascendants to Drop Socialist Name

Convention Today to State Policies Adopted

[Copyright, 1929, by Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—With their leader absent on his American mission, the Labor party tomorrow opens its twenty-ninth annual conference at Brighton. The first concern of the leaders will be to purge the party of all remaining traces of radicalism, which the policy of the party in power already has proved no longer a feature of the Labor group, by outlawing the name "Socialist" and insisting on the word "Labor" as the official designation.

The week is expected to hold many indications of what the immediate and future concerns of the government will be. Herbert Morrison, Minister of Transport and chairman of the Labor party, will hold the floor tomorrow and will probably discuss railway development.

Unemployment measures are scheduled for attention Tuesday with J. H. Thomas, Lord of the Privy Seal, charged with remedying the present situation and expounding the government's program.

Arthur Henderson, Foreign Secretary, will discuss foreign affairs on Wednesday, when a pronouncement is expected regarding the attitude Great Britain will adopt with Russia, while Thursday Philip Snowden, Chancellor of the Exchequer, who is acting Prime Minister during the absence of Ramsay MacDonald, will take up the problem of finance and taxation.

The essential purpose of the present convention is to revise the party constitution. With the dropping of the name "Socialist" the party definitely renounced its quasi-revolutionary attitude and announces itself as an organization devoted primarily to maintaining Parliamentary representation for Labor.

Theater Bandit Slain in Chicago

CHICAGO, Sept. 29. (Exclusive) An attempted hold-up of McVickers Theater, near State and Madison streets, was frustrated tonight by Assistant Manager Edgar Cobb, who shot and killed the would-be robber.

The theater was crowded at the time, and the sound of the shot caused some confusion in the house. Patrons rushed from their seats to the lobby. They saw the form of the bandit lying on the floor just outside the manager's office.

On January 2, 1926, a bandit believed to be the one killed tonight robbed the theater of $10,000 in receipts.

TWO DIE AS RESULT OF AUTO ACCIDENTS

YAKIMA (Wash.) Sept. 29. (AP)—Two persons were dead here today as a result of traffic accidents. Barbara Dexter, 5 years of age, was fatally injured and her sister Lucille, 7, was painfully hurt when the automobile driven by their father, H. M. Dexter of Miles City, Mont., collided with another car here late this evening. Orville Elliott, 46, of Parker died this morning as a result of injuries received in an automobile collision here Saturday night.

WHALE-MOUTHED SHARK PULLED OUT WITH TRUCK

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29. (AP)—A whale-mouthed shark, believed to be the first of its kind ever caught in this district, has been brought to San Francisco from Point Reyes where it was landed through the combined efforts of a heavy salmon hook and an automobile truck.

It was caught on the Point Reyes beach by an amateur fisherman who had baited his hook with a live sardine. The tug on his line almost pulled him into the water but he was able to make it fast to a motor truck which pulled the giant fish ashore.

Weighing about 3000 pounds and measuring seventeen feet from tail-tip to nose, the shark is of that species in which the jawbone is constructed like that of a whale. It is declared to be of a peaceable nature, lacking the ferocity attributed to other sharks.

ONE DROWNS IN SINKING OF RUM SHIP

Coast Guard Fires on Runner Plying Across Lake Erie

ERIE (Pa.) Sept. 29. (AP)—One man was drowned and another arrested here early today when a boat loaded with liquor sank in Lake Erie after being fired upon by Coast Guard boat No. 2259 in charge of William E. Peterson, boatswain's mate.

Alex Lasko, Erie, drowned when he jumped from the rum boat into the lake, and Paul Schoenbein, Erie, was arrested on charges of violating the prohibition laws and conspiracy.

Coast Guardsmen said the rum boat was ordered to halt and that when it failed several shots were fired at it. One shot pierced the gasoline tank and caused the boat to take fire, forcing it to shore. As the craft neared land, Lasko jumped into the water. Guardsmen attempted to save him by throwing ropes. Later, grappling hooks were used in a futile effort to recover the body.

The boat sank in shallow water, and after it was raised, Guardsmen said they found fifty-eight cases of whisky and beer on board.

Oroville Woman in Court Today for Killing Mate

OROVILLE, Sept. 29. (Exclusive) Mrs. Pearl Baldwin, accused of shooting her husband to death the 21st inst., will be given a preliminary hearing tomorrow on the charge brought by Dist.-Atty. McGregor.

Although the husband made a dying statement to Dr. E. A. Kusel that he had leaned on his gun on returning from a hunting trip and that it was accidentally discharged, there is evidence that the couple quarreled over Mrs. Baldwin's going to a dance and that there were frequent quarrels in which she is asserted to have been severely beaten by her husband. The Coroner's jury held her responsible for his death.

China Appoints Bay City Consul

PEIPING (China) Sept. 29. (AP)—Appointment of Henry Kung Huinchang, as consul-general at San Francisco to succeed A. C. Kung, who was discharged following the arrest of Ying Kao, vice-counsul, on charges of opium smuggling, was announced today. Ying Kao and his wife are waiting trial on the charges.

Although not implicated in the alleged plot, Kung was held responsible for the action of his subordinates.

Edison Taken on Motor Drive

WEST ORANGE (N. J.) Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—Thomas A. Edison left his home in Llewellyn Park, West Orange, today for the first time since he was stricken with pneumonia several weeks ago. Mrs. Edison stated tonight that the inventor took advantage of the splendid weather and enjoyed a two-hour drive in surrounding country.

There were no visitors at the Edison home today, but members of the family called.

PRINCETON PROFESSOR DIES DESPITE BATTLE

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 29. (AP)—Dr. Charles Ronald MacInnes, 53 years of age, instructor of mathematics at Princeton University, died today at the Pennsylvania Hospital despite seven blood transfusions for which Princeton students and internes had volunteered.

GREEK PATRIARCH DIES

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 29. (AP) Greek Patriarch Vassilos, Pope of the Eastern Christians, died today at the age of 79. He was the third to bear that name and was elevated to the Patriarch in 1901.

BARE LEGS BANNED

SPRINGFIELD (O.) Sept. 29. (AP) A St. Clairsville dancing pavilion banned bare-legged women and men without neckties, asserting their appearance on the dance floor discouraged business.

RAIN ENDS DRY SPELL IN ENGLAND

(Copyright, 1929, by New York Times)

LONDON, Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—After thirty-seven days of continuous drought, rain fell over wide areas in Southern and Western England today, thus ending a dry spell which has broken all weather records of the past seventy-one years.

London had only a slight drizzle toward the close of an overcast day, but in the Thames Valley torrential rains poured down on the parched fields. At Colwyn Bay, North Wales, one and a half inches of rain fell in one hour. Three houses were flooded at Amersham, Buckinghamshire, and from the hill districts came stories of streams being suddenly swollen into rivers.

Parts of Southeast England failed to get a single drop of rain. As March was totally rainless they may by tomorrow have experienced something England has not known since 1904—two months in a single year during which no rain has fallen.

RACE FLYER AND TRIO DIE IN AIR FALL

Plane Crashes After Motor Goes Dead in Fog Near Pennsylvania Town

KANE (Pa.) Sept. 29. (AP)— Harri Emery of Bradford, Pa., pilot, and two men and a woman, passengers, were killed near here tonight when Emery's plane crashed. Emery, known prominently as a flyer, had participated in three transcontinental races, finishing second in last year's event.

The others killed were Leon Emery, 47 years of age, brother of Harri; Miss Ella Davis, 35, and Ellis Michaels, 35, mechanic. All resided at Bradford.

The wreck occurred about a mile from here and residents of the vicinity say they heard the plane circling overhead in a dense fog just prior to the crash, the pilot apparently seeking a place to land. The motor went dead, it is said, and the plane came down in a field.

Smoke Screen for Protection of Silkworms

TOKIO, Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—Japan is in for a smoky autumn. And all for the benefit of the silkworms. The autumnal mists do not agree with the mulberry leaves on which these busy little creatures feed, and last year a heavy smoke screen proved most efficacious in keeping Jack Frost off the mulberries. So this time the method is to be employed more extensively than ever.

Head of Motor Company Killed

CLEVELAND (O.) Sept. 29. (AP)—Walter C. White, 52 years of age, president of the White Motor Company, died in a hospital here early today from injuries sustained in a collision of his car with another while driving from his home to his office yesterday.

Mr. White suffered fractures of the right leg and left thigh and internal injuries.

Mrs. Vanderbilt Ill in Hospital

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 29. (AP)—Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., was removed from the Ritz-Carlton Hotel to the Graduate Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania today suffering from a recurrence of intestinal grip. She is under the care there of Drs. G. G. Burden and S. E. Keene, and two nurses.

Mr. Vanderbilt said his wife was seized suddenly with the attack Saturday upon their return from Newport, R. I.

PRISONER ESCAPES

SAN QUENTIN, Sept. 29. (AP)—Louis Hootcheo, 52 years of age, an Indian received at the Penitentiary May 25, 1928, from Stanislaus county, was reported by prison officials as missing from State Road Camp No. 11, Lake county, today. He was serving five years for burglary.

KERN INVITES LION KILLER

Jay Bruce, Professional Nemesis to Mountain Cats, Called to Greenhorn Area to Hunt Beasts

GLENNVILLE, Sept. 29.—Jay Bruce, professional lion killer, will be sent to Kern county on request, by the State Fish and Game Commission, for the purpose of killing the mountain lions reported in the Greenhorn mountain area, Buford Fox of the Agricultural Commissioner's office announced today.

When four different mountain lions, all of large size, were reported seen on Greenhorn Mountain last week, and when a Bakersfield hunter shot a lion weighing more than 200 pounds and when another mountain lion was sighted above the Jack ranch, it was deemed time to call in Bruce, who has killed more mountain lions than any other living man.

Bruce, who has been hunting in the northern part of the State, will be ordered south to Kern county where he has been promised quarters on Greenhorn Mountain in the heart of the lion territory.

LINCOLN SUITE FOR PREMIER

MacDonald Will be White House Guest Three Days and May Visit Hoover's Camp

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—During Ramsay MacDonald's visit at the White House he will have the honor of occupying the Lincoln suite and of sleeping in the bed which Abraham Lincoln brought to Washington from Springfield.

It is a huge bed, eight feet long and six feet wide. It is a modest bed. It was purchased by Lincoln when modesty was a necessity because of a slender purse. Its trappings, however, are more luxurious than those enjoyed by Lincoln. The counterpane—or what in Lincoln's youth was known as the "spread," was made by Mrs. Calvin Coolidge when her husband was President.

MAY VISIT CAMP

The British Prime Minister will be the President's guest for three days. During that time it is believed they will thoroughly discuss not only naval disarmament, but all other international problems of importance.

But the President is desirous of having Mr. MacDonald as his guest at the Virginia camp, at which Mr. Hoover has been spending his week-ends. If the weather is favorable it is likely the British leader will have an opportunity to tramp through the Virginia woods along the shores of the Rapidan.

Such an excursion would give Mr. MacDonald a view of some of the finest scenery in the country. He would see that part of the Bull Run battlefield traversed by the road to the President's camp. He would see many of the picturesque homes of the Virginia countryside and some of the most interesting historic spots south of Washington.

FURNITURE RESTORED

The Lincoln suite at the White House consists of a bedroom, sitting-room and bath. Mr. Hoover has been restoring to the room all of the Lincoln furniture remaining in the White House. Various chairs and tables, pictures and bric-a-brac have been found in odd corners. They now are in the Lincoln suite.

STIMSONS TO RANK AT EMBASSY DINNER

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29. (AP)—Adhering to a long precedent of the British Embassy, and one which usually is followed by other foreign missions in Washington since the British Embassy is considered the social arbiter, Secretary Stimson and Mrs. Stimson will be the ranking guests at the dinner to be given by Sir Esme Howard in honor of Premier MacDonald on October 8. The practice followed for many years by the Embassy has been never to invite an outranking guest when the Secretary of State, the chief member of the Cabinet, is to be present.

Replying to published reports that ✦Vice-President Curtis and Mrs. Dolly Gann, his sister and official hostess, had been slighted in not having been invited to the dinner, Embassy officials pointed out that had the Vice-President and his sister been invited they would have outranked the Secretary and Mrs. Stimson, since Mrs. Gann, by a decision of the Diplomatic Corps in April, would be accorded the position normally reserved for the wife of the Vice-President.

The Vice-President and Mrs. Gann are expected to be invited to the reception which will follow the Embassy dinner.

It was stated tonight on behalf of Vice-President Curtis that Mrs. Gann will return to Washington next Saturday from her visit to Topeka.

This announcement means that Mrs. Gann will attend the White House dinner. Arrangements regarding the seating for that affair are unknown.

MACDONALD WALKS DECK MOST OF SUNDAY

ABOARD S. S. BERENGARIA, Sept. 29. (AP)—Although today was Sunday, Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald of Great Britain, a day out from Southampton and Cherbourg on his way to New York and Washington, hardly made it a day of rest. Aboard this liner which is crowded to the limit, mostly with home-coming Americans, he took advantage of the calm and pleasant autumn weather.

Mr. MacDonald was up at his usual early hour and kept to the broad promenade around the deck for most of the day. At intervals he sat quietly reading a book on the sheltered afterdeck but he tramped many miles around the closed course during daylight hours. He still was hard at it when the bugle announced dinner tonight.

His daughter Ishbel, his companion on the trip as she is his official hostess at home, was not far behind her distinguished father in feats of pedestrianism, if in fact, she did not exceed his record. They were both good walkers and, sometimes together and sometimes with other companions, stepped a lively pace for a good part of the day. She wore a red walking suit with a darker red coat and went most of the time without a hat.

Neither attended the public Church of England service conducted in the morning by Capt. Sir Arthur H. Rostron. Both took tea with other members of their party in the lounge room during the late afternoon.

TOBACCO GROUP IN BERLIN OFFER

Americans Seek Monopoly in Exchange for Loan

Wilhelmstrasse Reported as Considering Proposal

[Copyright, 1929, by Chicago Tribune.]

BERLIN, Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—An American offer of a large loan to the German government for the exchange of a grant of the tobacco monopoly has been received by the Wilhelmstrasse, it is learned from an exclusive source.

One New York company which now is financing the leading German cigarette concern, Retsma, makes the offer. Though the sum is not named, it is based on the most favorable terms, the repayment of the loan being spread over a considerable number of years in the shape of a percentage tax on cigarettes.

MONEY SORELY NEEDED

The government desperately needs the money, not only to carry on the ordinary business of state, but also in order to counteract the Nationalist agitation, which is growing alarmingly, by telling the people "the Young plan has so relieved the situation that we are able to reduce taxation."

The Cabinet hoped to be able to carry through the Swedish match monopoly and American tobacco monopoly in a disguised form without telling the Reichstag.

TROUBLE IN PROSPECT

The Berliner Zeitung Mittag's revelation of the Swedish match monopoly proposal exploded a mine under the feet of the Cabinet. At today's meeting the Cabinet received government instructions and views; the government spokesman was so furious he went so far as to hint that the paper is liable to prosecution by reason of criminal espionage.

When the additional proposal of the American tobacco monopoly leaks out, when the Reichstag meets on Monday, an exciting parliamentary session is expected. The Socialists in principle are opposed to a State monopoly, while the Nationalists are sure to denounce the move as further "slavery of the German people to international and American capital."

IDEALS and POLICIES

TEN YEARS AGO not many firms could write of their "Ideals and Policies." The spirit of the "new business" has established definitely, however, that business to have lasting success must be permeated with a genuine concern from top to bottom for the permanent welfare of every employee, for every prospective customer, for every buyer. Thus is Big Business created and supported, becomes permanent and becomes profitable.

THIS IDEA has been one of the supporting factors of General Motors Corporation, General Electric, United States Steel Corporation, Western Electric, Standard Oil, Chrysler Motors Corporation and hundreds of others among the outstanding businesses of America.

IN A RECENT ARTICLE in Nation's Business, March, 1929, Fred W. Sibley, Vice-President of the Bankers Trust Company, New York City, said in part:

"He sees wise business men fortifying their enterprises against unreasonable and unfair competition by devising new dexterities.

"And he is aware that all this is in the way of civilization, of economic evolution, OF THE ADVANCEMENT OF THE PRINCIPLES OF BROTHERHOOD AMONG MANKIND.

"Co-operation among men—men thinking and working together—is the first requisite. Then will come co-ordination of thought and effort and with it the success which, if fairly attained, means human happiness."

MOTIVATED REPRESENTATION

THROUGH THE YEARS OF its efforts to establish itself as one of the outstanding businesses of California, The Frank Meline Company has worked toward the goals established in Mr. Sibley's article. Not only because it pays, but because the spirit of its leader has been reflected in the acts of its entire organization.

ITS REPRESENTATIVES HAVE been selected always with the wish that they, in their relations each with the other and with the public, would evidence true concern for "human happiness," for "brotherhood among mankind."

THESE CO-WORKERS WITH THE Meline executives are men and women with ideals motivated, not only by a spirit of helpfulness, but by a carefully prepared plan of operation. They are permanent employees, of one of Los Angeles' largest business institutions, who know their business and are striving continuously to learn more and more about it. They are proud of the Corporation, proud of their executives, proud of each other, proud of their city and state and proud of the property the Corporation owns, proud of their helpfulness to the community welfare.

WHILE THE FRANK MELINE COMPANY derives the utmost satisfaction from the size of its organization and the size of its achievement, it derives more satisfaction from the sterling character of the men and women who represent it, the scope of their knowledge and the spirit of wholesome helpfulness that motivates them in their work.

WITH MEN AND WOMEN like these competently counseled and directed by a plan, all things are possible. Their achievements stand as a monument to healthy endeavor, but they firmly believe that what they have done is as almost nothing compared to what they can do and will do, based upon the satisfied customers of yesterday who are gladly helping them build tomorrow's business.

PACIFIC STATES SAVINGS

Diagonally opposite the great department store of the May Company—and one block from the magnificent establishment of Bullock's—surrounded by many other of this city's important retail establishments, the downtown theatres, the banks and financial institutions—Pacific States Savings' Broadway office is in good company.

With all due modesty, Pacific States Savings believes that it contributes to the importance of this district in which its Los Angeles facilities are now concentrated. It is the foremost building and loan association in the West—and one of the oldest. It is the fastest growing building and loan association in Los Angeles.

Our past record, of more than 40 years, is without flaw. Our present outstanding strength and liquidity is the surest indication of our determination to maintain the high standards of conservatism to which we have been so long committed.

Our Sixth and Grand office, which has been far outgrown, is now merged with our more central and accessible office at 752 South Broadway just off Eighth. The floor space in this office has been enlarged, making it the most spacious in the Pacific States Savings System. Its staff and equipment have been greatly augmented.

Our thousands of savings and loan customers in Los Angeles will find that this concentration of facilities will afford them rapid service even at peak periods.

You will be in good company

When you place your savings in Pacific States Savings to earn 6%, you will be in the good company of 58,000 prudent individuals, and firms, corporations, banks, title companies, insurance companies, and other legal custodians of funds now served by this institution. A CHUCKLE FOR EVERYBODY

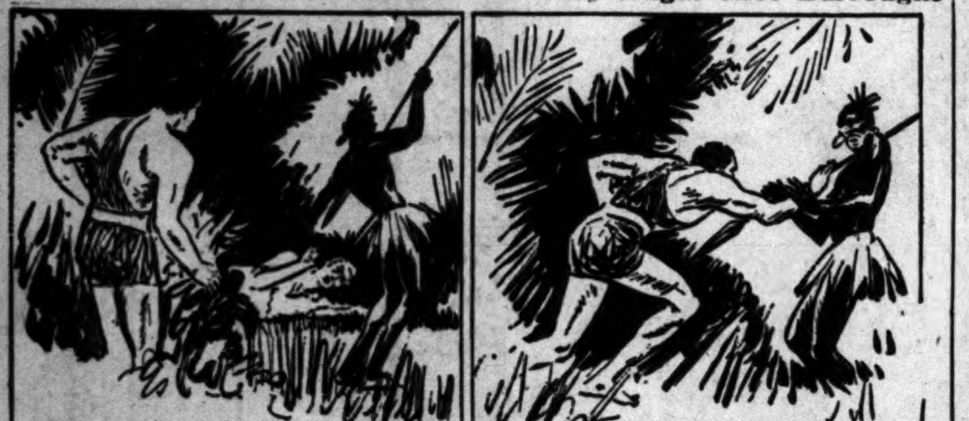
THE BEASTS OF TARZAN

By Edgar Rice Burroughs



Tarzan now decided he could better continue his search by traveling alone. Leaving the beasts and Mugambi to await his return, the ape-man came several days later upon a savage in the act of hurling a spear at a wounded white man. Instantly Tarzan recognized the intended victim, and his face went white with rage. The man was his prey—the black should not have him!

Surely this man had been aboard the Kincaid. Yet he had not been among those who had accompanied Rokoff at the village where Tarzan had been a prisoner! There could be but one explanation, he thought. This fellow it was who had fled ahead of the Russian with the woman and the child—and the woman also had been aboard the Kincaid. Quick as a flash Tarzan leaped upon the warrior, striking down his spear.

The black, whipping out a knife, turned to do battle with this new enemy, while the Swede cook, lying in the matted grass, witnessed a duel the like of which he had never dreamed to see. First with crude weapons, then with hands and teeth, like primordial brutes, the two men fought. Now it dawned upon the wounded Swede that he had seen this white giant before and his eyes went wide in surprise.

This growling, rending, half-naked white man was the same English nobleman who had been a prisoner aboard the Kincaid! . . . The fight was over. Tarzan had been compelled to kill his antagonist who would not surrender. He leaped to his feet beside his fallen foe, placed one foot upon the broken neck, and lifted his voice in the hideous challenge of the victorious bull-ape. The Swede shuddered.

FRENCH ACCEPT OHIO MEMORIAL

Thirty-seventh Division Gift Presented Montfaucon

Community Building Tribute to Victory There

Pershing Attends Ceremony, Poincare Unable to

MONTFAUCON (France) Sept. 29. (AP)—Ohio's Thirty-seventh Division again stormed Montfaucon today, but instead of the rifles, bayonets and machine guns of 1918 they carried only a message of love and good will to the French republic and a deed to a magnificent community building presented to the city of Montfaucon in memory of their fallen comrades.

Minister of the Interior Tardieu, French high commissioner in Washington during the war, in behalf of the French government welcomed the delegation, which was headed by Gen. William P. Jackson.

The occasion was a sad disappointment to former Premier Poincare, who long had counted on being present to render homage to the late American Ambassador Myron T. Herrick, regarded in France as the greatest citizen Ohio ever produced. The man who was President of France when the Thirty-seventh achieved its immortal fame was unable to attend because of his health.

In replying to the address presenting the memorial M. Tardieu said:

"I bring you the salutations of the French government. After eleven years you soldiers of Ohio's Thirty-seventh Division, have wished to revisit the place where you achieved victory and glory. We made war together and we won together.

"We did not desire that war and therefore we can evoke its sad memory with serene conscience and clean hands. Clouds since have passed in the clear sky of our friendship, but now that they are settled nothing prevents our closer co-operation toward peace. Already the pact which bears the names Briand and Kellogg affirms our fond desire for peace. American soldiers that you are, I wish to say in the name of French soldiers to whom I belong, that those who waged war are always, tomorrow as yesterday, the most ardent apostles of peace."

Gen. John J. Pershing and William W. Harts, military attache at Paris, were present.

CUT IN AIR PASSENGER RATES SEEN

Reductions Expected to Result from Use of Larger Planes

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—Substantial reductions in air passenger rates through the contemplated inauguration of larger passenger planes are predicted by the Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Aeronautics, William P. MacCracken, Jr.

Discussing the new Fokker thirty-two-passenger plane which has just been given an experimental license by the aeronautics branch and is expected to be put in regular service shortly by the Universal Air Lines, Mr. MacCracken stated that planes of this capacity can be operated at lower cost per passenger mile than can smaller planes.

When it is realized that the expense of the crew is an important cost item in an airplane operation it can be seen that a plane with a thirty-two-passenger capacity, which requires the same crew as a ten-passenger ship, can be operated under full load at less crew cost than three of the smaller planes, Mr. MacCracken said.

Another item, that of depreciation, may also be less, he stated, since the rugged construction makes such planes less conducive to depletion in value than the smaller planes. Fuel costs, despite the higher price per gallon, are not a major item in operating expense and would not be materially higher in the large planes than in the present trimotor planes, Mr. MacCracken asserted.

Assuming these large planes can be operated at $1.50 per mile, which Mr. MacCracken regarded as not improbable, and that the average number of passengers carried is twenty-five, the cost per mile would be 6 cents.

Dividing Costs Holds Up Plan for Bay Bridge

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—The city of San Francisco and the State of California are agreed that a new bridge over a deep-water arm of the bay which cuts Third street in the industrial district is an absolute essential to a continued industrial development, but the apportionment of costs has them at loggerheads.

The impasse reached a climax when Maj. Charles L. Tilden, president of the Harbor Commission, flatly announced the State cannot and will not pay more than $150,000 of the total cost and that only because the Harbor Belt Railroad, State-owned and operated, will cross the structure. The total estimated cost is $550,000 and the $400,000 balance confronting the city is a hard chestnut.

French People Not Fish Eaters

PARIS, Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—According to recent statistics, while the English people eat 1,300,000 tons of fish annually, the French eat only 200,000 tons. The reason for this is not apparent, because fish is known as healthful, nutritious and cheap. As a result the port of Dieppe has recently organized a "fish week" presided over by the French Minister of Commerce.

TURNING THE SPOTLIGHT ON MEN —AND WHAT THEY WEAR

by The Chevalier

> "Costly thy habit as thy purse can buy;
> But not express'd in fancy; rich, not gaudy;
> For the apparel oft proclaims the man."
> Hamlet, Act 1, Scene III.

Copyright, 1929, [illegible]

RETURNING to our review of Fall fashions which was interrupted last week to discuss formal attire for the Opera season, we may as well begin with neckwear, for that is one accessory that forces a man to give it some attention.

The neckwear being worn by smartly dressed men may be divided into two classes with regard to design. First, the small patterns; neat geometrical designs, all-over figure effects, checks, basket-weave designs, and herringbone patterns, particularly in Spitalfields and rep silks. Second, and the more advanced fashion, stripes. These are quite unobtrusive in character, and for the most part of the shadow type, that is, stripe effects in which the stripe is made up of small, closely-set figures with a plain stripe alternating. Those with well defined stripes are narrow and closely set.

The first of these two groups, the small patterns, is preferred for wear with striped shirts; the second group looks best against backgrounds of solid color.

Following the popular acceptance of tobacco browns in Fall suitings, neckwear in off-shades of brown, reddish and copper tones, are exceptionally good. Blue-grays and blue-greens follow the advanced tendency in men's suits towards off-shades of blue.

Turning to hosiery we find a decided trend in the direction of plainer effects. Fine checks, narrow stripes, patterns that give a solid-color impression, and neat clocks will undoubtedly be the most popular. Lounge suits call for hose that matches either trousers or shoes. Blue-greys for suits of that shade; off-shades of blue for the advanced suitings in this tone. Reddish brown hose to harmonize with the tobacco brown suits and dark reddish brown shoes.

Gloves seem to be a neglected accessory so far as Southern California men are concerned, yet one cannot be considered smartly dressed without this finishing touch to his attire, especially when a topcoat is worn. Those men who have not worn gloves recently will find quite a number of style innovations. As an example, the new slip-on type for town wear, with no button or snap, and loose fitting, with something of a flare at the wrist.

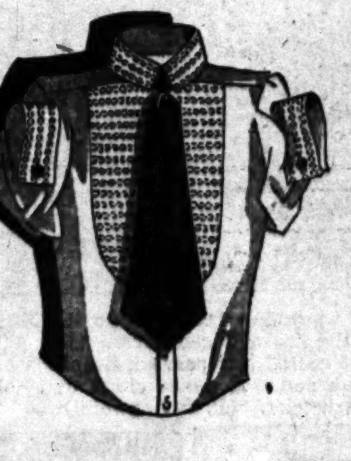
Then there is a new driving glove of cape, perforated along the palm and back; and a golf glove with suede leather palm and grained leather back, well perforated.

In general there has been a big improvement in glove leathers, they are softer and smoother, and the styling is along lines of greater comfort. We expect to see more correctly gloved men around town this Fall.

And now for the final accessory that sees the light of day, the handkerchief. Either a plain white, which is always in good taste, or a fancy one may be worn in the breast pocket of the lounge suit. If colored it should harmonize with the necktie, but the practice of wearing a handkerchief and tie in exactly matching designs is frowned upon as displaying too obvious a straining for effect.

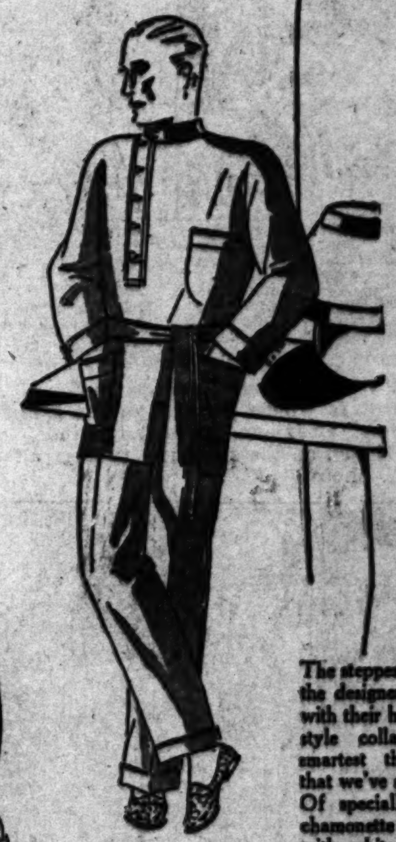
And that, by the way, is a point always to be carefully avoided. After all, being well dressed is more than a matter of matching things. Creating an effect without calling attention to the way it is done shows true art in dressing. Everything worn should contribute to the general effect, but must not individually intrude upon the attention. Only then can one say that the desired result has been achieved.

The Chevalier



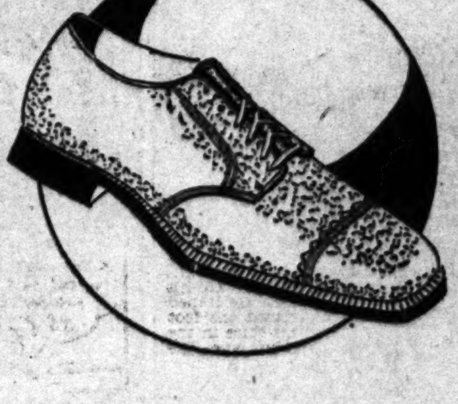
A custom-made novelty shirt, with body of imported madras in gray or pale yellow homespun effect. Collar, cuffs, and bosom are of Russian corded French madras, in blues and tans on a white ground. The bosom is cut on the new short pattern for comfort. English stub type collar. $11.50.

At Machin's
Custom Shirtmaker



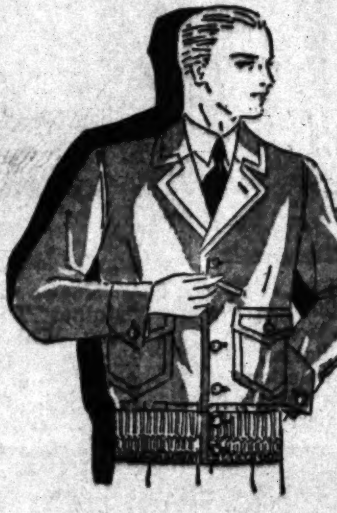
The steppes of Russia inspired the designer of these pajamas with their high-button Cossack style collar. They're the smartest thing for lounging that we've seen in a long time. Of specially woven English chamonette in scarlet or black, with white piping on collar, pockets, cuffs and trouser seams. $10.

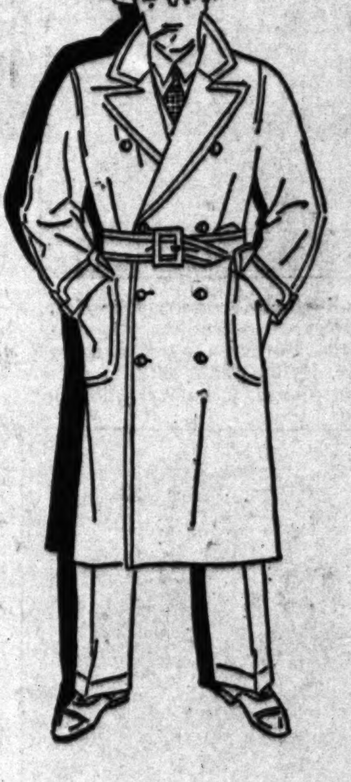
At Harris & Frank



Even in Southern California the winter season calls for shoes a bit sturdier in build, and this Johnston & Murphy oxford meets the situation splendidly. Of tan Scotch grain, with heavy soles. A blucher style built on the "Britton" last. $15.50.

At Wetherby-Kayser





Sketched is a splendid all-around sports jacket of fine imported cape leather. Coat style collar, adjustable cuffs, knit bottom, and unlined. Certainly an ideal coat for golf, motoring, and riding. In a smart and distinctive warm Silver Fawn shade. $30.

STREET CAR FASHIONS BRING STREAM LINES

ATLANTIC CITY (N. J.) Sept. 29. (AP)—In sharp contrast with the dinky and unprepossessing horse-drawn vehicles of grandmother's day are the stream line cars that are the vogue on the trolley lines of America's urban centers.

It may come as somewhat of a surprise to straphangers to learn that America's transportation system is somewhat responsive to the decrees of modern fashion experts.

But there is concrete evidence of this effect in reports from the American Electric Railway Association in the 1930 mode in street cars. The association opened its convention here yesterday.

Witness the effect of the accentuation of slenderness and comfort in modern styles on the street car! Visualize a long slender car built close to the ground whose bright-hued exterior glistens in the sunlight. Peep inside and you see linoleum-covered floors and individual cushioned seats.

That is the 1930 model street car—a far cry from the crude box-like cars that made their uncertain way along tracks behind a pair of horses or mules in the '90s, and the heavy battleship cars whose menacing bulk has recently traveled along those same routes!

The industry has heeded the trend of the times and the "electric railway men" have now become "local transportation men," operating street cars, busses, taxicabs and even airplanes in a few cases.

The "industry" now operates 75,000 rail cars and 11,000 busses and employs 10,000 men and women.

Correctional Institutions Have Vacancies

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 29. (AP)—Earl E. Jensen, director of institutions, reported to Gov. C. C. Young that for the first time in seventeen years the three correctional schools of the State have vacancies without waiting lists in the county jails to fill them.

With an inmate population of 1048 on August 1, the vacancies were as follows: Preston, 36; Whittier, 10, and Ventura, 41. On that date there were 1168 on parole. Information received as of September 21 gives the inmate population as 1011 with 1219 on parole and a correspondingly higher list of vacancies.

Jensen expressed satisfaction that there are no boys confined in county jails under questionable environment awaiting entry to State schols.

The school year at the schools is about to reopen with a program stressing vocational education, Jensen reported. The boys will be placed in vocational classes of the type in which they are interested, and in which they are thought best to qualify.

Such purely academic work offered will be purely related matter and will serve as an auxiliary to progress in vocational work.

TALKING MACHINE LOVE LETTERS NEW CUPID AID

LONDON, Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—If your love is far away and you want to send him (or her) a kiss by post, you must no longer decorate your letter with crosses. That method of keeping alive the flame of love when cruel distance separates fond hearts is obsolete.

The newest idea is to send the object of your affection a neat little talking-machine record, made while you wait, or honeyed words, interspersed by kisses, which he (or she) can play to his (or her) heart's content and the probable desperation of his (or her) neighbors.

All you have to do is to stand before a microphone, say your say (or sing it if you feel that that is more affecting,) blow your kisses, and in a few seconds the complete record is ready to send away.

It is all very touching, but it must be rather tantalizing, too, to have to wait until your love has time to record his (or her) reply to your message.

Britain Backs Art Exhibition for Stockholm

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—October will see the opening of a great exhibition of contemporary art in Stockholm, for which the Crown Prince and Princess of Sweden have been affording practical help of the organizers. Sir Joseph Duveen's national organization on behalf of living British artists has arranged the exhibition, which will be held under the auspices of the British government.

Princess Ingrid, the Crown Prince's daughter, has artistic talent, and Prince William, her uncle, is an artist of international repute. So the Swedish royal family will be active and interested patrons.

INVENTORS' FAIR SHOWS PROGRESS

Speed and Compactness Are Main Objectives

Paris Exhibition Amazes Its Visitors

Queer Exposition Founded by ex-Police Head

PARIS, Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—How to build yourself a house in a few hours, transform your walking stick into a violin and fold up your bicycle and put it in your suitcase are only a few of the many useful things you might lately have learned to do in Paris.

Presently the Parisian family will be able to fold up all the furniture and carry it about in the car, while the chauffeur will always have a good, stout water-jug and wash-basin "collapsed" in his pocket.

The "inventors' fair" not only meets demands for speed and compactness; it runs past them. And perhaps this is not to be wondered at when one reflects that the fair was founded by M. Lepire, former prefect of police. This is its twenty-seventh year, and it has shown the French inventor to be more ingenious than ever.

BANK PROTECTED

Paris already has its apartment-houses that supply tenants with refrigerated air during heat waves, and the city is hoping to bring its hospital patients real breezes of ozone before long.

And many are the wonders they are adding daily to the Banque de France, whose central premises are being enlarged and improved with offices and strong rooms seventy-five feet deep. The lift that will take clients down into these subterranean regions is closed by an eight-ton door, and behind the door is an iron gate which can be opened only by those who know the combination.

The visitor descends to another eight-ton door and a further steel gate, which again requires a knowledge of the code for their opening. The unauthorized comer will bring all the alarms about his ears that modern science has yet thought of.

AID TO CHEMISTS

Paris intends that its new "Maison de la Chimie" shall be the center of international co-operation in the science of chemistry, and serve as a rallying ground for the chemists of all nations. The house itself was at one time the mansion of La Rochefoucauld d'Estissac, and was visited by Marie Antoinette and Lavoisier, the father of modern chemistry.

After its transformation the building will be able to accommodate scientific and university institutions; there will be statistical and technical rooms, a great lecture hall and a large library, all of which it is hoped to open in a year's time.

The "Maison de la Chimie" is to constitute a memorial to Marcelin Berthelot, the illustrious chemist.

Contractors Must Register in Fixed Time

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 29. (AP)—In order to speed registration of building contractors with the newly created Department of Professional and Vocational Standards a deadline will be established, James F. Collins, director of the department, declared. He said he had not decided definitely on the date.

Collins declared that but 2000 of more than 50,000 contractors in the State have filed applications for licenses with his department.

The director has been busy addressing meetings of various organizations at San Jose, Los Angeles, San Diego, Fresno and Sacramento, explaining the requirements of the law passed by the last Legislature. Collins also has conferred with representatives of contractors' associations, credit associations, insurance companies, representatives of organized labor and officials of public bodies.

Noted British Paintings Will be Exhibited

BRUSSELS, Sept. 29. (Exclusive) The Belgian and Flemish art exhibition in London two years ago was a great success, and a pleasant corollary, if not a sequel, is the exhibition of British old masters to be held here next month.

Earl Spencer has loaned the well-known portrait of Little Lord Althrop at the age of 4; the masterpiece is insured for $250,000. But one of Lord Londonderry's contributions is covered for twice this sum. This is Hoppner's "Miss Frances as Miranda."

A very large amount, too, would be payable to Lord Swaythleng, who is lending "The Harvest Wagon," by Gainsborough, if that famous work were lost.

Pat Crowe Held for Panhandling

NEW YORK, Sept. 29. (Exclusive) Another and pitiful entry was added today to the police record of Pat Crowe, who climaxed a notorious criminal career in 1900 by kidnaping young Edward Cudahy and holding him until he got $25,000 ransom from the youth's multimillionaire meat packer father.

Crowe, who later made many thousands of dollars by lecturing and writing books after his reformation, became a common vagrant when he had run through the money and has been arrested several times for begging since 1925.

Shabby, unshaven, coatless, he was arraigned again for alms-seeking in Tombs court. He protested he was writing again and had gone to the lower East Side for "color." He had only 5 cents when arrested. Magistrate Gottlieb suspended sentence, gave him a dollar, and sent him to the court of night clerk to draw on the fund for needy cases for his fare to New Brunswick, N. J., where Crowe said he had relatives.

Bullock's-Wilshire felt that Los Angeles sensed the Purpose which commanded the undertaking—realized the desire of the founders to do something more than erect a store unique, a beautiful trading place.

In Bullock's-Wilshire is crystalized the rich beauty of things contemporary—Art, Structure, Merchandise, Service.

"What's the matter with our employment department; aren't we getting plenty of applications?"

"Yes, we are, Mr. Foster, but you know what that means —a raft of men, all kinds, good, bad, and indifferent — it would take us six months to weed out the good ones."

THEY CLASH AT PALO ALTO SATURDAY

The Coast's first crucial Conference game of the year—Oregon vs. Stanford—is slated for this week-end. Johnny Kitzmiller, left, is the big gun of the Webfooters. He plays quarterback, while Dave Mason, right, does a lot of damage from his right halfback berth. The Oregon skipper has been laid up and may not be ready for service against Stanford. Lower chap is Harlow Rothert, the Los Angeles boy who is proving such a riot at halfback for Stanford. He scored the touchdown which beat the Olympic Club Saturday.

HUSKIES POINTING FOR S.C.

Bagshaw's Team Makes Great Showing Before Record Crowd

SEATTLE (Wash.) Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—Football made a comeback at the University of Washington Saturday when the Huskies attracted the largest opening-day crowd in the history of the school and gave the fans and scouts a beautiful exhibition of gridiron power as they defeated Whitman, 47 to 0. The Huskies showed as much power in the backfield as they did in the line and executed their plays with deception and snap, using but three or four scrimmage plays and six passing plays, all from a close-kick formation.

COACH BAGSHAW

The Huskies simply crushed the Whitman team by superior execution and man power.

One outstanding flash was uncovered in the backfield in the person of Merle Hufford, the sophomore sensation of the Washington squad. In a ten-minute exhibition he rambled for three touchdowns and uncovered more speed and open-field running than any back has shown on the Washington

OREGON ELEVEN STRONG

Webfooters Confident They Will Make a Good Showing Against Stanford Team Saturday

PORTLAND (Or.) Sept. 29.—Aside from the excellent showing made by Oregon and Washington yesterday in first real football tests of the season the most significance apparent was that the Oregon States need some quick development before they play Southern California next Saturday. The game with the California Aggies tended to verify the bear stories that have been coming. From Corvallis, although it is certain stories that have been coming from Corvallis, although it is certain did against the California Farmers.

The Orange team was not keyed up for this game, which they regarded as already in the bag. Instead, Paul Schissler has been building for the Trojans. The Aggie line surprised the northerners with its strength, but it also showed that is the worst weakness of the Oregonians. It was only by beating them down by numbers that Schissler overcame the visitors. It is likely that the game will result in some revisions on the line-up, Schissler put in yesterday.

COACH McEWAN

The trouble is the time is too short to whip the material he has into its best shape. The niche had by Howard Maple is far from filled, but there was some consolidation in the showing of the backfield, especially Rowdy Kerr. Schissler can launch an aggressive attack on the Trojans if only his front wall will hold up.

After the way it performed yesterday the University of Oregon will have greater ambition than ever to put Stanford out of the running next Saturday. It does not feel confident of that, of course, but it will not carry the inferiority complex that northwest teams have so frequently suffered the past few years when they went up against the California schools. There is no question but that Oregon is far stronger than when Stanford beat it, 26 to 12, in an early game last year. The Webfeets then were mainly a sophomore team. Now, with a year of experience, they are set to go. Oregon shifted players so rapidly in the game that it was difficult to get a line on them. However, with Archer, a veteran, on one end, and with Jack Erdley, a newcomer, from Pennsylvania, on the other, the weakness in the wing positions that had been re-

HEATH AND MERRITT TO SWAP POSTS

Beefy Coaches Baseball at Pomona as Earl Takes Over Basketball

CLAREMONT, Sept. 29.—In an attempt to better the existing athletic situation at Pomona College it was announced yesterday that Coaches Colvin "Keefy" Heath and Earl Merritt would exchange jobs. At present Heath is instructing the varsity basketball team while it has been Merritt's job to coach the Sagehen baseball team. The change means that from now on Merritt will have full charge of the basketball squad, while Heath's chief interest will be with the baseball team.

"BEEFY" HEATH

The change also necessitates a swap of freshman teams. Heath will now have direction of the freshman casaba players and Merritt will coach the Sagechick diamond squad.

For the past two years a change of some sort has been approaching for the Sagehen teams in these two sports have been woefully weak and it cannot al be blamed on the lack of material. Merritt, it seems, is much better fitted to coach basketball rather than the national pas-

MISS WRIGHT'S ENTRY OKEHED

Three Southern California Women Win Plea

Mrs. Reynolds, Miss Klinck Also Admitted

Rain Puts Oakland Hills in Fine Condition

BY ANNE TRABUE

(California representative of the U.S.G.A., who will report the women's national championship for The Times.)

OAKLAND HILLS COUNTRY CLUB, BIRMINGHAM (Mich.) Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—Three women well known to California golfers, Kathleen Wright, Kathleen Reynolds and Esther Klinck are happy this afternoon, for they have been definitely informed by the committee in charge that their entries have been accepted for the national women's golf championship which starts over the Oakland Hills Country Club course tomorrow morning. After some discussion, the three Southern California entries were okehed, although the formal applications and entry fees seem hopelessly lost somewhere between a small town in Canada and the offices of the United States Golf Association in New York.

MISS KATHLEEN WRIGHT

Four other women stars, three from Chicago and one from Kansas City, did not fare so well, their entries being rejected on account of irregularity in the manner of filing.

Californians are particularly pleased that Miss Wright will be among the starters tomorrow and feel that she has a chance to pick off the low qualifying score. Kathleen told me just a few minutes ago that she was hitting her shots this morning as well or better than she ever has in her life.

RAIN HELPS COURSE

Rain started to fall last night and continued until after daylight this morning with the result that the course is in better shape than we dared hope that it would be. The holes are so designed that woods rather than irons will be the favored clubs, there being but one short hole where an iron can be used from the tee and but two or three where an iron can be taken for the second shot. It is going to be a week of slugging and it looked very discouraging when the fairways were baked and bare spots loomed up everywhere. The rain has helped that though, and the players are going into their shots this afternoon with more confidence.

Mrs. Louis Federman, who won the Buffalo invitation, told me a little while ago that she scored an 80 yesterday and an 81 today and it was her opinion that the scores would be better since the rain. The course, which is over 6400 yards in length, is laid out over rolling hills, not of any elevation to speak of but providing lies of every description.

The greens are the most fascinating I have ever seen; from the first to the last, they are most interesting in contour and development and the surfaces are uniform, but slower than most players like. Every green is conspicuous, most of them brought into relief by traps. Sitting here at my window I can see seven of them looking like velvet in the soft light of the

HOLLYWOOD RETAINS TWO-GAME MARGIN OVER REDS

Sandberg and Jacobs Shine in Twin Bill

BL BOB RAY

Jack Lelivelt and his scrapping Seraphs made their final appearance of the season at Wrigley Field a glamorous affair by hanging a couple of kayoes on the Seals' chins to make it a profitable week. The Angels came from behind with a five-run rally in the eighth to annex the opener, 7 to 5, and then shoved across a winning run in the final inning of the nightcap to win, 6 to 5.

Ray Jacobs

The double-barreled victory gave the Angels the series by a six-to-one margin and moved them up to third place, but one game behind the second-place Missions. The Hollywood Stars have a three-game margin over the Seraphs, so the Leliveltians' second-half chances aren't so bright despite their bumper week at the expense of the fog-bound Seals.

Ray Jacobs and Gus Sandberg, a couple of Swedish Seraphs, were the fair-haired Scandinavians of the afternoon. Jacobs hit a home run with two men on to give the Angels a 6-to-5 lead in the opener, and he also connected with a timely single that shoved across two runs and tied the score in the nightcap. Sandberg, batting for Parker in the seventh inning of the second game, came through with a single that sank the Seals and produced an Angel victory. Gus came up with two men out and the bases full and his hit prevented the athletes from working overtime.

Lelivelt used two pitchers in both games, Red Roberts relieving Lefty Peters in the opener and Clyde Bar-

Johns Twirls Sheik Win in Morning Tilt

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—Hollywood and the Missions broke even on the two games played here today, the Stars winning the morning game, 3 to 1, and the Reds the afternoon, 8 to 0. Hollywood won the series, four games out of seven, and that club looks to be all set to take part in a post-season series. The Missions play Seattle here this week, while Hollywood meets the up-and-coming Portland outfit at Los Angeles.

"RED" JOHNS

Hollywood left here tonight with a two-game lead and, with only one week to go, that looks like a safe lead. If Hollywood and the Missions do engage in a play-off, it will be started right after the close of the Coast League season, and the first three games will be played here. A seven-game series will be played if that many are necessary to gain a decision and the last part of the series will be played at Los Angeles.

Dutch Ruether shut out Hollywood in the afternoon game. Bert Cole was thrown into the fray in the morning, after Pillette had been nicked for three runs in the first two innings. Bert pitched perfect ball and did not allow a hit, but the squat Mr. Johns also was hurling himself quite a game and he won, 3 to 1.

Duth Ruether took up in the afternoon where Cole had left off. The veteran southpaw was softly touched for eight hits but he kept the score clean. Hank Hulvey started against him and was lifted in the seventh in-

OREGON STATE NEXT ON TROJAN GRID SCHEDULE

Southern Californians Likely to Give Rivals Good Licking; Don Moses May Play

BY BRAVEN DYER

After Saturday's outrage at the Coliseum it seems to be the popular thing to climb on the old band wagon and acclaim the Trojans as the most murderous, bone-crushing team of all local history. Provided the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals doesn't corral Howard Jones and his boys for what they did to the Bruins it is assumed that the Trojans will romp right through the rest of their schedule without any serious opposition from anybody but Stanford.

That's all very well and if you do give a few hip-hip-hurrahs you'll make yourself solid with Trojan fans, but personally I can't see any reason for getting all steamed up just because forty-five Southern California players ran up 75 points against poor old Bill Spaulding's willing, but impotent athletes.

DON MOSES

Losing Fleming, LaBrucherie, Fields and Gould from last year's team deprived Spaulding of his best backs and his outstanding lineman. The Bruins were nothing to shout about last year, losing to Stanford, 45 to 7, after they had several weeks' practice, so why get excited about Saturday's atrocity?

WORLD OF POWER

The Trojans, it is true, displayed a world of power, but so would any first-rate team under the same circumstances. After Howard Jones's boys have flattened the Washington Huskies, if said Huskies are to be flattened, this writer will be prepared to give 'em a cheer. That, mates, promises to be a football game.

Oregon State is next and it is hard to see how the Corvallis Farmers can escape taking a good licking from Messrs. Barragar, Saunders, Musick, Hill, et al.

Coach Schissler lost the spark plug of his team in Howard Maple, quarterback, and also said farewell to a couple of first-rate guards in Eilers and Carlson. However, the Oregon State coach will probably put a fighting football team on the field and that's apt to mean a lot if the Trojans take their victory over U.C.L.A. seriously, which I don't see how they can.

Prior to the game somebody said that the score would not be large because Spaulding and Jones were good friends and that Jones would hold his boys back. After the game the reply to that was that all Bruin rooters were at least thankful that Jones didn't cut loose.

As a matter of fact Jones had very little control over the situation. He is at Southern California to build a football team. It must be built in at hurry. With so many men of good caliber it will take experimentation to find the right combination. So the Bruins just naturally had to look at a lot of football players. The only possible way Jones could have kept the score down, as I see it, would have been by playing Dye at quarterback, Hill at center, Galloway at end, and so forth. But what would Mr. Fan who had paid $2 to see the game have to say to that.

On the whole Jones was pretty

SANTA ROSA TEAM WINS

SANTA ROSA, Sept. 29. (AP)—The Santa Rosa American Legion bonecrushers, State champions of last year, defeated the Arbuckle Legion eleven, 33 to 6, here today in a game featured by many spectacular runs and long passes. Santa Rosa scored one touchdown in the first period, two in the third and two in the fourth. Three of the five trys for extra point were successful.

TROJANS LEAD IN RACE FOR SCORING HONORS

Southern California's smashing victory over U.C.L.A. in the Coliseum Saturday gave the Trojans a good start toward Pacific Coast Conference scoring honors. Howard Jones's pupils top the University of Oregon, their nearest rivals, by a matter of eighteen points.

The players are tied for individual scoring honors, with three touchdowns each. They are Russ Saunders of the Trojans, Cecil Sherwood of Oregon State, Ellingson of Washington State, Hatton of Oregon and Hufford, Washington.

U.C.L.A. holds the dubious distinction of being the only conference eleven which hasn't scored a point. The team and individual scoring records:

HEISLER RACE VICTOR

FRESNO, Sept. 29. (AP)—William Heisler of Hawthorne won the fifty-mile dirt track race which concluded the Fresno District Fair here today. Babe Stapp of San Francisco was second, Mel Kenneally, the Pacific Southwest champion, was third; Al Gordon of Long Beach was fourth, and Jimmy Sharp of San Pedro fifth.

A record-breaking crowd of 15,000 witnessed the revival of dirt track racing here on the mile oval and got their thrills when Sharp and Walter Gills of Los Altos drove their machines through the guard rails on the turns but escaped unhurt.

Johnny Mescall Captures Third Annual Motion-Picture Tournament at Lakeside

REGISTERS 73 TO ANNEX SECOND CROWN IN ROW

Burns, Tearle Shoot 80's to Tie for Runner-up Trophy; Marshall Leads Producers With 79

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

Johnny Joseph Mescall of the Fox Hills Country Club, whose vocation is grinding cameras, and avocation digging divots, yesterday shot a sparkling 73 to win the third annual motion-picture golf championship for the second consecutive year over the Lakeside Country Club course.

Johnny, who plays the game well enough to have entered the 1929 national amateur championship at Pebble Beach, has now acquired two legs on the Exhibitors Herald trophy.

Neal Burns, winner of the first motion-picture championship in 1927, registered an even 80 to tie with Conway Tearle for the runner-up trophy. The Lakeside golfer lost in the play-off, however, and Tearle, who plays under Rancho colors, was awarded the Al Jolson cup.

James Tingling will have his handicap cut now that he score a neat 92-24—68 to win low net and First National trophy and medal which goes with that honor.

George Marshall, whose excellent work in organizing the tournament made the event an outstanding success with an entry of more than 200, poked out a 79 to win low gross in the producers' and executives' division. He was presented with Joe Schenck's cocktail shaker, and it is hoped that he will make good use of this utilitarian gift.

Other good gross scores were a 76 by Ken Hawks in the directors' division. Hawks hails from Lakeside and negotiated his home layout in 76 strokes.

Following are the complete results in all divisions:

ACTORS' DIVISION

First low gross, Neal Burns, 80.
Second low gross, Conway Tearle, 80.
First low net, Ed Kennedy, 73 net; Rich Allen, 73 net; H. Goodwin, 73 net.

PRODUCERS' AND EXECUTIVES' DIVISION

First low gross, George Marshall, 79.
Second low gross, Mike Farley, 82.
First low net, Jack Warner, 86-16—70.
Second low net, Wes Smith, 73.

DIRECTORS' DIVISION

First low gross, Ken Hawks, 76.
Second low gross, Leo McGary, 83.
First low net, James Tingling, 92-24—68.
Second low net, Robert McGowan, [illegible]-16—70.

TECHNICAL DIVISION

First low gross, Gene Hornbostel, 84.
Second low gross, Chuck Lewis, 88.
First low net, William Foxall, 96-22—74.
Second low net, C. Dunning, 90-16—74.

WRITERS' DIVISION

First low gross, Roy Webb, 77.
Second low gross, James Regario, 81.
First low net, Richard Fantl, 86-16—70.
Second low net, George Todd, 71 net.

EXHIBITORS' DIVISION

First low gross, Don Knapp, 82.
First low net, Lou Rosenberg, 83-10—73.

SPECIAL PRIZES

Most birdies, John J. Mescall, 3.
Low gross, first nine holes, Roy Webb.
Low gross, second nine holes, Ken Hawks.
First prize, putting, Earl Douglas, 36.
Second prize, putting, Otis Hoyt, 36.
Best gross of players over 18 handicap, James Tingling, 92-24—68.
Best net of players over 18 handicap, R. A. Walsh, 93-24—69.
Worst score on thirteenth hole, W. F. Fitzgerald, 18.
Worst score on No. 6 hole, F. D. Langton.
Longest drives, 3, George Marshall, 735 yards.
Longest individual drive, W. B. Davidson, 251 yards.
Booby prize, Harry Poppe, score 150.
Actors' booby prize, Frank Richardson, 138.

MERCURY CHAMPIONSHIP ON THIS WEEK

More than 100 golfers of the L.A.A.C., Hollywood A.C., Pacific Coast Club and Santa Monica A.C. are ready this week for the opening of the first annual combined clubs tournament, scheduled to start with a qualifying round at Riviera Country Club Friday. The qualifying round will continue over the weekend and match play will begin next week to continue for the remainder of the month.

Already 110 golfers of the four clubs have entered the tournament and Charley Keppen, who is receiving the entries at the L.A.A.C., and Commissioner George Clark expect fifty more to enter before Friday.

PAIRINGS ANNOUNCED FOR GRIFFITH PARK EVENT

Milo Thompson, manager of the municipal golf courses at Griffith Park, yesterday announced the pairings for first-round matches of the Halloween tournament. This event will be the first of a series of regular monthly match-play tournaments for week-day golfers.

The eighteen-hole qualifying round was played last week with George Harmon's 77 winning low gross. Low net went to Dr. D. E. Stegeman, 83-18-65.

Qualifying play for the November tournament, which will be known as the Thanksgiving event, wil be staged the latter part of this month.

Following are the pairings for first-round matches, which must be completed this week:

California's Duck Season on Tomorrow

A lot of feet are going to get wet tomorrow morning, quite a few thousand twelve-gauge shotgun shells are going to get exploded and just possibly some of our Southern California sportsmen will have duck dinners tomorrow evening, for at that chilly hour of a half-hour before sunrise tomorrow, the duck season in California will open. To hunt ducks one must wade in considerable water, shoot shotgun shells in the general direction of where the ducks are and if one outguesses the duck and puts several leaded pellets through its carcass then there is every chance in the world that duck meat will grace the table that evening.

A few days before the duck season opened in past seasons have been an exciting time for the duck hunters. The last few days have been even more exciting than ever before. It appears that there will be more hunters out on the opening and the reports from the favorite duck haunts of Southern California declare the game more plentiful than during the last ten years.

Just why there are more ducks is explained by Pete Peterson, hunting authority for the B. H. Dyas Company stores. Peterson declares that for several weeks past flight after flight of ducks have come from the North and, as is natural with a duck, looking for some easy board and lodging. The food has been awaiting them for the keepers of the several hundred private and public duck club grounds have been putting out the feed to attract those very birds and then kept on putting out more feed to keep them contented—sort of a new decoy as it were. So the ducks have come, they saw food, they gobbled and tomorrow more or less of them will be conquered.

TWICE CHAMPION

Introducing Johnny J. Mescall of the Fox Hills Country Club, who yesterday won the third annual motion-picture golf championship for the second consecutive year. Mescall shot a snappy 73 over the Lakeside Country Club course to trim a field of 200 and grab a second leg on the Exhibitors' Herald trophy. Neal Burns won the first tournament in 1927.

WOMEN GOLFERS IN TITLE PLAY

late afternoon. There are 102 traps scattered over the course and they are of the mighty variety. A whole family of elephants could be buried in them simply by hauling in some soil to cover them up. Some of the edges are overhanging but many of them are covered with a creeping grass and look more inoffensive than they prove to be. A ball in a trap means loss of a shot, but I must say in all fairness that any golfer entered in this event should be able to negotiate them. The one who scores well tomorrow will have to avoid the traps and use her head because this a course that is going to reward a carefully planned and brainy attack rather than one of the slashing variety.

NOT DIFFICULT

I do not consider the course a very difficult one, it is wide open from the first hole to the last one, there is practically no rough, the only hazards being the very artificial looking traps, a lake on the edge of the sixteenth green which makes it a very difficult hole, the lies which are seldom on level ground and the great length of the holes. The course was designed and built by Donald Ross, whose work I admire wherever I see it.

The day has been cloudy and a wind, not particularly cold, has been blowing from the north. Most of the women have been over the course today some of them in rain coats, but most of them with bared heads and none too heavy sweaters. It seems almost as if they are challenging the elements.

GLENNA COLLETT DEFENDS GOLF CROWN TODAY

DETROIT, Sept. 29. (AP)—Would-be queens of American golf, ninety-six of them, from the United States, Canada and England, tackle the long, undulating fairways of the Oakland Hills Country Club tomorrow in their initial drive for the national women's championship.

With the small but fast field holding virtually every first-ranking star on this side of the Atlantic, including the defending champion, Glenna Collett, and three others who have held the title from once to three times, the struggle looks to be a toss-up.

Miss Collett stands out only as a slight favorite even though she is on her great game. Aligned against her, according to their championship potentialities are Helen Hicks, the New York star, who conquered the champion last week in the Canadian women's championship and then followed through to win the title; Virginia Van Wie of Chicago, who is out for revenge because of the manner in which she was crushed in the 1928 finals; Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd, of Philadelphia, winner of the title in 1909, 1910 and 1924; Mrs. Alexa Sterling Fraser, now heading the Canadian contingent, who captured the national crown in 1916, 1919 and 1920; Mrs. Hilen B. Stetson of Philadelphia, champion in 1926; Marion Turpie, former southern champion from New Orleans; Mrs. O. S. Hill of Kansas City, holder of the trans-Mississippi and western titles; Maureen Orcutt of White Beeches, N. Y., metropolitan champion, and a perennial national threat; Mrs. Leona Pressler of Los Angeles, holder of the western crown in 1927 and 1928, and Helen Payson of Portland, Me., one of the hardest match players in the country to conquer when she is right.

ROPER REMEMBERS WHEN

Princeton Coach Relates Some of His Past Experiences With Football Teams

BY W. W. ROPER

[Copyright, 1929, by North American Newspaper Alliance.]

PRINCETON (N. J.) Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—In looking over the teams I have coached certain ones stand out for certain things. The University of Missiouri, in 1909, had one of the greatest teams I have ever been connected with. It won the Valley championship, playing through an undefeated season—and yet it was outweighed by every team it played.

I will never forget the Kansas game, in particular. The Jayhawkers outweighed the Missouri Tigers at least eighteen pounds a man—Missouri won, 12 to 6. And won on one thing alone, determination not to be beaten. Kansas had a real team and threatened all through the game, especially in the second half. Missouri got the lead early and held it. This game was played in the old push-and-pull days, too, when weight meant more than now. But nothing can beat a team determined not to be beaten.

One of the most remarkable comebacks I have ever seen was made by the Princeton team in 1919. Colgate defeated us in midseason, and West Virginia ran all over us the first Saturday in November, running up 25 points to Princeton's nothing. Ira Rogers, present West Virginia coach, was captain and fullback on this team. He gave one of the greatest exhibitions of passing I have ever seen. At the very opening of the game he pulled the old shoestring play and shot the pass like a bullet to a man way over on the side lines.

A PRINCETON COMEBACK

After West Virginia it looked as if Princeton was in for an awful trimming from Harvard and Yale. These games came the next two Saturdays. In the next week the Princeton team showed a complete reversal of form. The West Virginia defeat, bitter as it was, made our team.

I could see a tremendous difference in the mental attitude of the players. It got better Monday and kept getting better each day. Against Harvard the score was 10-10, and then Princeton won from Yale, 13-6. Mental attitude was what did it. The Princeton players made up their minds to wipe out this West Virginia rout.

The best defensive team I ever coached was the Princeton eleven of 1922. It played an undefeated season because of determination and wonderful defensive ability. This team played a remarkable game against Chicago. In this game Princeton showed a fine attack. The Tigers made two touchdowns in the last ten minutes, with the score 18-7 against them.

Except for this burst of offense against Chicago the team didn't show much of a consistent attack in any other game. But I never have seen better fighting spirit. The players took advantage of every break. They recovered every fumble and intercepted any number of passes, and it meant nothing to them to have their opponents on their five-yard line. While the West Virginia defeat made our team in 1919, the Chicago victory made the team in 1922.

ROPER'S BEST ELEVEN

The very best team I have ever coached was Princeton in 1925. This eleven had a wonderful attack, directed by a real field general, Dan Calkins, who took advantage of every mistake by opponents. He knew where the defense was playing every minute, directed his plays accordingly. Ed McMillan, a real leader, was captain of this team. Cur attack was built around Jake Slagle, one of the best running backs I have ever seen. Slagle could run, pass and kick. That fall he outdid himself.

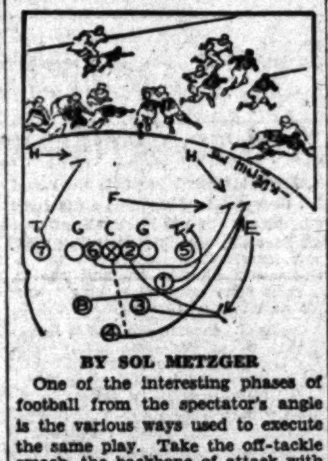
But the real reason this team was so strong was because every man was in every play, particularly on attack. It was a great interfering eleven. And in the last analysis interference and team play win football games. Every time the signal was called half a dozen men were around the ball carrier. Slagle would have never made his great run against Yale, of over 80 yards, except that the Princeton players took out the Yale men and gave Slagle a start.

In analyzing these teams and why they were successful I find that one excelled in attack, another in defense, or taking advantage of opponents' mistakes. But in every team determination to do one's best was the outstanding characteristic. This is what makes a real football team. As Mike Murphy said, "The team that won't be beaten can't be beaten."

STANZAK BROTHERS WIN

WAUKEGAN (Ill.) Sept. 29.—The Stanzak brothers of Waukegan and North Chicago won the world's baseball championship of teams composed of brothers this afternoon by defeating Marlett brothers of Hawk Springs, Wyo., in the fourth and deciding game of the series by the score of 3 to 1.

Grid Mentor Combines Two Fine Systems



BY SOL METZGER

One of the interesting phases of football from the spectator's angle is the various ways used to execute the same play. Take the off-tackle smash, the backbone of attack with any good team. Few work it alike. Slight differences, the individual idiosyncrasies of each coach, creep into its execution.

One fine method of rushing off tackle comes from the brain of Charley Crowley, Columbia's coach and a former star end at both Notre Dame and Harvard. You see the Notre Dame influence in the set of his seven forwards in a balanced line with ends spread. The Harvard influence shows in the set of his backs. From this combination of schools "Chuck" Crowley moulds a play that differs radically from the same run by either Harvard or Notre Dame.

The No. 1 back and right end No. 5 take the tackle. Both guards come out to make interference. But the right guard, No. 2, cuts back and helps No. 3 with the defensive end. A neat stunt, as this guard can cut him down from the side—the surest way. But it's a difficult method to time in order to prevent this guard getting in the way of the interfering backs.

BEARS WALLOPED HARD

GREENBAY (Wis.) Sept. 29. (AP)—Greenbay's Packers overwhelmed the Chicago Bears, 23 to 0, before a crowd of 13,000 in a National Football League game today. Outsmarting and outplaying the Chicagoans at every turn, the Packers had little difficulty keeping them from threatening.

WALKER CONCEDED EVEN CHANCE IN HAWKINS GO

Al Walker, claimant of the colored heavyweight title, is conceded an even chance to beat Long Tom Hawkins when they clash at the Olympic Tuesday night. Joe Vargas and Sammy Jackson go ten rounds on the same card.

The two black giants are not quite as big as George Godfrey but they are close to being in the Black Shadow's class. Hawkins stands six feet four inches tall and weighs around 225 pounds. Walker is a couple of inches shorter and tips close to 210.

This is the first appearance of Walker in Los Angeles. If he defeats Hawkins he may throw the brakes on the planned rematch between Godfrey and Hawkins here in November.

Both Hawkins and Walker hold decisions over Godfrey by way of the foul route, but Walker made a better impression against the Shadow than Hawkins.

Walker had scored a clean knockdown before the low blow was delivered. Hawkins and Godfrey were on more even terms when the bout was stopped.

Vargas is making his first start in the Olympic. He is a Mexican welterweight from Fresno. In bouts at San Francisco Vargas distinguished himself by putting up a good battle with Jackie Fields. He fought Jackie before the latter won the welterweight championship.

Vargas also fought Vince Dundee and Young Corbett, rivals of Fields. He drew with Dundee and lost to Corbett after having him on the canvas a couple of times.

Tuesday night's special features Willie Fausto and Frankie Diaz. The two fours are Tommy Huffman vs. Leonard Allen and Milt Fraser vs. Joe Lopez.

Billy Townsend, who is slated to meet Wildcat Carter in a rematch next week, is here with his manager, Jack Allen. He is in the same stable with Vic Foley.

REDS WIN OVER SONS AT SOCCER

Spanish-American Outfit Scores Impressive Win in Benefit Contest

The Spanish American soccer football team, latest addition to the Los Angeles City League, turned in a 5-to-2 victory over the Sons of St. George in a benefit game played at Loyola Field yesterday afternoon. The newcomers were admitted to the league after capturing the Southern California loop title last season and if they keep up their winning ways will no doubt make things interesting for the remaining eight teams during the league season, which officially opens next Sunday.

Starting off with the opening whistle the Spaniards rang up two goals before the Sons got under way. The first tally was counted by Lorenzo, while Torriente drove the ball into the net for the second point. Campillo scored the third goal.

Gould, aggressive center forward of the Reds, scored both goals for the Sons before half-time. The Sons played hard football to even the count in the second period, but a number of excellent "saves" by Pelayo, Spanish-American goalie, turned back the Redshirts. With the count at 3-2 and five minutes remaining to play, Torriente counted two goals in rapid succession.

In the morning games at Loyola, the L.A.A.C. Mercuries tied the Vikings, 3 to 3, and the Magyars won over Richfield, 2 to 0.

Next Sunday the Sons and Spanish-Americans meet in a league game at Loyola at 1 o'clock. The L.A.A.C. Mercuries meet the Scots at 3 o'clock. At Pasadena, Hollywood plays the Vikings at 1 o'clock and the Magyars and Pasadena battle in the 3 o'clock game. Hollywood defeated Pasadena, 4-3, in a practice game yesterday.

Champ of Dirt Track Arrives Here Tomorrow

Guy Deulin, dirt-track racing champion of the Pacific Northwest, is scheduled to arrive in town with his car Tuesday. He will tune the mount up this week over the curves of the American Legion Speedway in preparation for Sunday's Barney Oldfield 100-lap classic.

Deulin rates as a real ace of open-throttle experts, according to local critics. It is said that Babe Stapp and Ernie Triplett are the only rivals hereabouts for the Oregon driver when it comes down to spectacular manipulating of a mount.

"Pop" Evans, caretaker of the Legion course, will throw the track open this week for motorcycle racers and fast-car pilots who wish to become accustomed to the bends at the oval before Sunday.

Tony Radeitch the Jerome (Ariz.) pilot who tools the No. 13, declared after the last meeting that he lost out because his machine and himself were not ready to race without practice. Radeitch is rearranging his mount and expects to grab some of the prize money Sunday.

Of all the outsiders entered Sunday, Fred Cooper and Fred Merzney are expected to rate as favorites. Both finished in the money in the last 100-lap contest and proved that they will be formidable rivals of Babe Stapp, Eddie Meyers, Mel Kenealy and Ernie Triplett whenever they face Fred Wagner's starting flag.

In addition to Barney Oldfield's 100-lap grind Sunday, a twenty-four-lap consolation race for car, and two motorcycle contests are scheduled.

ST. MARY'S WHIPS ARMY

Gaels Gallop to 28-to-0 Victory Over Service Eleven; Stennett in Star Role

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29. (AP)—St. Mary's College, a little institution of less than 700 students, celebrated its opening game of the [illegible] football season today with an impressive 28-to-0 victory over the heavy, experienced West Coast Army eleven at Kezar Stadium.

"SLIP" MADIGAN.

A crowd of approximately [illegible] persons saw the collegians score two touchdowns in the first period, another in the second and a safety and touchdown in the third, meanwhile holding the soldiers in check at all times.

St. Mary's produced a fast and shifty backfield, led by Mack Stennett, left halfback, while the line was powerful.

St. Mary's scored [illegible] two touchdowns on long passes in the second period, the [illegible] pushed over for a touchdown after being given the ball on the [illegible] yard line, when an Army man interfered with the receiver of a forward pass. Gannum, Army [illegible] back, played an outstanding game for his team.

Lutze Adopts Tackle Holds for Lewis Go

NICK LUTZE.

Tackles and toe holds will be the two most punishing grips that Nick Lutze will use in his efforts to best Ed "Strangler" Lewis, former world's wrestling champion, when they clash at the Olympic Wednesday night in the finish feature event of "Carnation" Lou Daro's all-star wrestling show.

For the past four days Lutze has been training almost exclusively on these two grips. One of them, the tackle, is the only hold that has been found punishing enough to best the head-crusher. The other, the toe hold, as used by Joe Stecher, was effective enough to put Lewis on the mat shelf for several weeks.

Lutze admitted yesterday that he had perfected a stepover toe hold that he intended to use on the foot that Lewis had injured recently. He believes it will not take very much pressure to put it out of commission again. The foot, in the opinion of mat experts, will be the target of all of Lewis's opponents in future matches, especially if Lutze is able to prove that it was considerably weakened when it was first injured.

The tackle Lutze will use is slightly different than the one used by the greatest exponent of this hold in the game today. Lutze's tackles are all accompanied by a dive. It is said to be a real flying tackle, although during the next few days he expects to work on one that he can use in smashing into Lewis's stomach with great force at close range.

Neither the tackles nor the toe hold, however, will be Lutze's finishing grip, it was reported. If he is able to weaken Lewis to any extent with these two, he intends to toss the former champion with that backward slam hold he developed here this year.

The match is expected to be much closer than many expect, judging from the mat work of these two during the last month. A very sensational match is looked for, with action from start to finish.

Marin Plestina, the powerful Chicago "trust buster," will clash with Howard Cantonwine, the Iowa "Thunderbolt," in the special event of this all-star card. This match is expected to be as fast and spectacular as the feature event, while it lasts, while the opener, between Zack Malkov of Chicago and Leo Papiano, the "Wild Greek," will be one of the best curtain raisers seen at the Olympic.

Wentworth and Gregg, the guards, weigh about 2[illegible] pounds each and showed exceptional [illegible] in getting in ahead of the ball carrier on offense as well as [illegible] blocking in defense of the Washington passer.

Sahli and Snider started at the ends and stopped everything in sight. They also were effective in blocking tackles on offense. There are other men that showed well in the Whitman game who will be mentioned in future articles.

The Washington teams [illegible] in Seattle feel that the U.S.C. game will be the hump of the season and every effort will be made by the Huskies to win the contest from the Trojans.

JACKIE FIELDS TO MIX UP WITH VINCE DUNDEE

NEW YORK, Sept. 29. (AP)—Jack Dempsey comes back to the ring this week but as a promoter, not a fighter.

The Manassa Mauler of other days promotes his first card at the Chicago Coliseum on Wednesday night with Jackie Fields, the new welterweight champion, heading the list of performers.

Fields, making his first appearance since he won the title from Joe Dundee of Baltimore, will meet Vince Dundee, brother of the former titleholder, in the main go of ten rounds. Fields's title will not be at stake.

Supporting this bout will be two other ten-rounders. One of them will bring together Dave Shade, veteran California middleweight, and Joe Roche of San Francisco. In the other, Haakon Hanson, Chicago middleweight, will face Cowboy Dula of Oklahoma City.

With the outdoor season over, metropolitan fans will take their fistic fun under the roof from now on. Madison Square Garden on Thursday night will offer a match between two veteran lightweights who were among the leading 135-pound contenders a few years ago—Sid Terris of the Ghetto and Stanislaus Loayza of Chile. They are booked for ten rounds but remembering Terris's "glass-jaw" there is some doubt whether the match will go that far. Harry Ebbets, the free-swinging Freeport blond who knocked out Izzy Grove and Johnny Burns in a round each in his last two matches, meets Nick Testo of Troy, N. Y., in the ten-round semifinal. Al Ridgeway, crack Jersey City junior lightweight, [illegible] Sammy Dorfman of the [illegible] in the first ten-rounder.

At the St. Nicholas Arena tomorrow night, Jack (Kid) [illegible] of England, one of the biggest drawing cards of the [illegible] outdoor season, tackles [illegible] troit florist-lightweight, [illegible] McGraw, in a ten-rounder. [illegible] Olin, New York light-heavyweight, meets Ambrose [illegible] of Italy in the semifinal.

An all-star card is to be [illegible] at the opening show of the season at the Philadelphia [illegible] tomorrow night. Three ten-rounders involving heavyweights, [illegible] weights and lightweights [illegible] provide plenty of action. [illegible] Marullo, New Orleans heavyweight, meets Matt Adgie of Philadelphia, Billy Alger, Phoenix (Ariz.) [illegible] weight, who is substituting for Joe Gans, because of the [illegible] nian's illness, faces Andy [illegible] New York, and Johnny Farr, Cleveland lightweight, takes on [illegible] Dias of Cuba. With Bruce [illegible] ers, New Rochelle negro lightweight, is matched Andy Callahan of Lawrence, Kan., in the wind-up at the Boston Garden Wednesday night.

Other bouts on the [illegible] schedule include:

Monday, at Toledo—Chuck [illegible] Toledo, vs. Bud Porter, [illegible] lightweights, ten rounds; [illegible] rich, Toledo, vs. Teddy [illegible] flyweights, eight rounds; [illegible] Toledo, vs. "Fighting [illegible]" heavyweights, six rounds.

In the second period, the Saints pushed over for a touchdown after being given the ball on the one-yard line, when an Army man interfered with the receiver of a forward pass. Gannuzzi, Army fullback, played an outstanding game for his team.

squad in years, according to the dopesters around Seattle. Hufford weighs about 180 pounds, is six feet tall and a ten-flat man on the track squad.

Geehan, the Washington quarterback, used good judgment on plays and handled punts in fine shape. He was on the receiving end of several passes and also threw a few with the accuracy of a Walter Johnson.

The Washington line from tackle to tackle is composed of giants. Capt. Jessup weighs 235 pounds, … 6 feet 7 in height and is exceptionally strong on defense. He blocked three kicks in Saturday's game.

Paul Schweger is 6 feet 4 inches tall and weighs 215 pounds. He was all over the field, being fast down on punts as well as opening up large holes on offense on the Huskies' split-buck plays.

Wentworth and Gregor, the guards, weigh about 200 pounds each and showed exceptional speed in getting in ahead of the ball carrier on offense as well as clever blocking in defense of the Washington passer.

Sahli and Snider started at the ends and stopped everything in sight. They also were effective in blocking tackles on offense. There are other men that showed well in the Whitman game who will be mentioned in future articles.

The Washington teams and fans in Seattle feel that the U.S.C. game will be the hump of the season and every effort will be made by the Huskies to win the contest from the Trojans.

ported, did not develop. Added strength in the backfield was shown with the first appearance there of Ed Moeller, champion discus thrower, and Charles Spear, but it was the effectiveness with which Kitzmiller and the rest of the veterans were working that was most pleasing to McEwan. Incidentally, Bob Robinson, negro halfback, played a beautiful game during the half that he was in.

Washington against Whitman showed the improved game that had been predicted for it. Whitman is one of the toughest of the secondary teams but it didn't give the Huskies any trouble. Most of all the game indicated that Merle Hufford is fully up to the somewhat guarded rumors that have been emanating and may be a worthy successor to Chuck Carroll. Worst of all from the Bagshaw angle, is the fact that the team evidently lacks a punter, although to make up for his somewhat in a good forward passer, Geehan. The showing of both Washington State and Idaho was somewhat better than had been generally expected while Montana evidently is about normal strength.

HUDKINS LEAVING TOWN

Middleweight Challenger to Train at Bastanchury Ranch for Fight With Mickey Walker

Ace Hudkins, Nebraska Wildcat, will live and train at the Bastanchury ranch while conditioning to fight Mickey Walker at Wrigley Field, October 29, for the middleweight championship of the world.

The entire layout used by the Basque woodchopper, Paulino Uzcudun, will be turned over to the challenger on Wednesday or Thursday.

ACE HUDKINS

Clyde Hudkins plans to hire a colored chef and give Ace all the trimmings that attend title ring bouts. No boxing is planned for this week. The heavy work won't start for several days.

Walker will have almost a week the start of Hudkins for conditioning. He moved to Soper's ranch last Thursday and by this time everything is in full swing.

Jack Kearns is due back in town this morning to line up sparring partners for the camp. The champion will confine his work to road stuff and ring calisthenics until the latter part of the week.

Mickey has been supplied with a brand new ax and will be assigned to clear off a field of underbrush as part of his routine. He is overweight and requires plenty of reducing.

Kearns intends to train Walker himself for this fight. Teddy Hayes, who has always trained Mickey before, is in the East. It is claimed there was a rift between the Doctor and Teddy over the conditioning of the champion when he fought Leo Lomski in Philadelphia.

Both Kearns and Hayes denied this. However, the present situation calls for a real tune-up of the champion. It is very likely that Hudkins will be the favorite over the Rumson Rocker here.

The camp will be presided over by Willie Bernstein and Johnny Forbes, trainer, will assist Kearns.

Tickets for the big bout are expected to be put on sale late this week. No reservations will be taken by phone, according to present plans. The distribution will be made by mail order and direct window sale.

Kearns has discovered a fine golf course at Ojai and has issued a challenge to all members of the fight racket and newspaper men.

ROBINS SING

BROOKLYN, Sept. 29. (AP)—Brooklyn won its last home game of the season, defeating Boston in the ninth inning here today when Hank Deberry's grounder took a bad hop over Maranville's head for a single, driving home Gilbert with the winning run. The score was 3 to 2.

Jones outpitched Moss and Morrison, who divided the Brooklyn mound work, but was unlucky in the ninth when an error by Robertson put the winning run on base. Fredericks's fifty-third double of the year and Boyle's home run were features. Score:

The victory virtually clinched third place for the Indians as it gave them a lead of four games with only four more games left on the schedule. Score:

GIANTS WIN

NEW YORK, Sept. 29. (AP)—The Giants defeated the Phillies by 4 to 2 here today, breaking the streak of Shotton's men at seven straight. Bill Walker, the young New York southpaw, outpitched Claude Willoughby to register his eighth successive triumph. Ed Roush personally carried the Giant attack with a pass, a double, a triple and a home run, driving in three of the four runs. Davis hit a homer for Philadelphia, and Lefty O'Doul got two hits out of four times at bat, bringing his hit total to 248, two short of Rogers Hornsby's National League record and nine short of the Major League mark held by George Sisler. TIGERS BEST

DETROIT, Sept. 29. (AP)—While cold breezes blew and 10,500 shivered, the Tigers nosed out the White Sox, 9 to 8, in eleven innings in the last home game of the season here today.

Red Faber started on the mound for Chicago, but pitched only to one batsman, retiring in favor of Dutch Henry. Faber hurt his leg warming up, it was announced. Tommy Adkins and young Ed Walsh also pitched for the Sox.

Jonathan Stone, recruit Tiger outfielder, prolonged the game by hitting a home run into the center-field bleachers to tie it up at 7 all in the ninth and singled to drive in the winning run in the eleventh. Score:

YANKS COP

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29. (AP)—George Pipgras had one of his good days today and Washington obtained only two hits as New York won, 3 to 0.

Judge and Brown got the only bingles off the Yankee's delivery and he walked but four men.

Brown also pitched brilliantly, scattering seven hits. Gehrig hit for the circuit into the left-field bleachers and also contributed a double. Score:

COACHES GIVEN VENUE CHANGE

time as his success as freshman casaba mentor has proven. In the last four years that the popular "Fuzz" has been instructing the frosh basketball squad he has either won the championship or finished in second place. However, his failure to do anything with the baseball team has been almost as glaring as his success with the Sagechick basketeers. Last year the Sagehen varsity failed to win a single conference ball game, much to the chargrin of the Pomona supporters.

Heath has had only mediocre success with the Sagehen basketball team usually finishing somewhere near the middle of the standings. However, "Beefy" comes right from a strenuous football season to take over the task of coaching a varsity basketball squad and consequently is pretty well worn out.

Sagehen followers are confident that this new plan will be a success for both of the Sagehen mentors are extremely popular and are well liked by both the athletes and student body.

CINCINNATI TRIUMPHS

WEST BADEN (Ind.) Sept. 29. (AP) Cincinnati won the amateur championship tournament of the National Baseball Federation today, by defeating Dayton in the final game, 4 to 2.

Synnove Wins Harbor Yacht Racing Prize

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, Sept. 29.—Al Rogers's six-meter sloop, Synnove, romped to an easy victory here today in a special four-cornered racing event arranged by Los Angeles Harbor yachtsmen. Temple Ashbrook's Patricia was second and O. V. Dresden's Clio third. The Pirate, queen ship in her class, by virtue of her eastern racing victories last summer, finished a poor fourth. She was away off her course throughout the tilt, officials present declared. The Synnove's time for the twelve-mile course was 2h. 16m. 40s.

OREGON STATE DUE SATURDAY

well satisfied with the way his boys performed. "Some of them need a lot of attention on their blocking and interference running and I guess we'll have to try and put in a little time on goal kicking," was his comment yesterday.

The Trojan mentor had a few nice words for Jess Hill, "If some of my other backs ran interference and blocked like that little fellow there wouldn't be anything to it," was the comment.

"Of course, we didn't use many plays Saturday, which means that they should have worked well," continued the Trojan mentor. "We have a lot of work ahead of us in getting our new stuff working as I want it and the boys are in for a busy week."

Ernie Pinckert is a better ball carrier than Jess Mortensen and in the tougher games you can look for Ernie in that right halfback position. Did you notice that Jones had Pinckert switch places with Shaver in the third quarter? That put Ernie in the quarterback spot and it was from this advantageous position that he did his most effective ball packing. When you get Saunders, Pinckert and Musick alternating one right after another the opposition is going to take a smacking.

Saunders, incidentally, stood out as the big gun of the Trojans, but needs work on punt catching. Of course, in a big game he would not take chances as he did Saturday.

MOSES TO PLAY

Don Moses is likely to be seen in action against Oregon State Saturday. Jones realizes that if he doesn't use Moses this week-end he can't be counted on for much against the Huskies the week following. Don, in high school, was a brilliant punt catcher and it is highly probable that he will attend to this duty once he gets back into the line-up. Pinckert is no slouch at carrying the ball back himself.

Bob Hall, lanky Texan, is going to see a lot of action in the tackle berth now being occupied by Cecil Hoff. Jones was pleased with the playing of the young sophomore Saturday, and figures that all he needs is experience and confidence. Bob is strong as an ox and really doesn't known his own power.

George Dye handled himself well in the center spot, he and Barragar stopping virtually every thrust at the middle of the line. Nate's interference running proved that he is rapidly becoming accustomed to the arduous duties attendant to the position of running guard.

Galloway and Anthony don't have to be complimented; they just naturally play good football all the time from force of habit.

The first crucial game of the season comes off at Stanford next Saturday when Oregon invades Palo Alto. Coach McEwan's team is keyed up to a terrific pitch and all Northwesterners expect great things to happen. Stanford has never lost to Oregon and I don't see any reason why the Cards should begin now, particularly with the material Coach Warner has at his command.

Gordon Campbell, who scouted California against Santa Clara Saturday, reports that the Bears are using a line shift for the first time since Nibs Price took over the reins at Berkeley. Campbell was impressed by the power of the Bears and states that this chap Gill, who played with the frosh last year, looms as the best of Price's fullbacks. This means that Garrity and Hickingbotham will have to keep stepping to hold their berths.

HERD AT STANFORD

Clif Herd watched Stanford defeat the Olympic Club and had some words of praise for Capt. Muller, Card end, whose playing was one of the bright features of the day.

Aubrey Devine is due back today from Oregon State where he saw the farmers in action Saturday. Aubrey will be pained to hear of the injury to his star quarterback, Orv Mohler, who will be laid up for a couple of weeks with a sprained ankle.

Jones plans to stress a passing attack this week. The Trojans had no need of an aerial offensive against the Bruins and consequently got very little practice in this department of play, but the overhead method will no doubt prove helpful against Mr. Bagshaw's bulky Huskies of whom Sam Barry writes in another article today.

One swallow makes neither a summer nor a drunk, so they say. Neither does one game make a football season, not at least one such as Saturday's.

DALLAS EVENS UP DIXIE BALL SERIES

DALLAS (Tex.) Sept. 29. (AP)—A hitting rally by Birmingham in the ninth inning in which the Barons of the Southern Association made four runs fell just one score short of tying the score in the Dixie State series today. Dallas of the Texas League won, 6 to 5, evening the series at two games each.

ANGELS COP BOTH GAMES

Jacobs and Sandberg Come Through in Pinches as Seraphs Rout Seals, 7 to 5 and 6 to 5 foot coming to Augie Walsh's rescue in the supper shift. Both Roberts and Barfoot got credit for the victories. Val Glynn and Vernon Gomez, a couple of Nick Williams's youthful pitching prides, were the unfortunate Seal slabsters.

The Angels won the opener by staging a five-run rally in their favorite inning, the eighth. Those five markers wiped out a three-run lead run up off Peters by the Seals. The Seraphs, by the way, had won two other games against the Seals by rallying in the eighth frame.

That eighth-inning splurge chased young Val Glynn to the showers and brought the once Great Mails galloping in slightly late to the rescue. Mails uncorked a wild pitch to let in the fifth run of the round.

Ray Jacobs provided the winning punch for the Cherubs by blasting one of Glynn's fast ones over the left-field fence while a couple of mates were aboard the sacks. Jake's homer put the Angels out in front, 6 to 5, and then Dittmar's triple and Mails's wild pitch stretched their winning margin to two runs.

ROBERTS GETS CREDIT

Red Roberts, who hurled the last two innings against the Seals after Peters had been lifted for a pinch hitter, received credit for the victory.

The Seals started the scoring in the third inning and Peters did well to prevent more than one run coming across. O'Connell led off with a single to left and then Glynn worked the Seraph southpaw for a walk. After making two ineffectual attempts to sacrifice, Crosetti slashed a single off Haney's glove and O'Connell romped home. But Peters disposed of Pinelli, Suhr and Donovan to end the round without any further runs scoring.

Glynn had a wild streak in the fourth and the Angels tied it up without the aid of a hit. Webb walked and stole second and then Berger drew a pass. Jacobs bunted the runners along and Dittmar's sacrifice fly to Donovan brought Webb home. Suhr cut off Donovan's throw-in and tossed to Pinelli to double Berger at third for the final out.

Peters was touched for two more tallies by the Seals in the fifth, three hits producing the scores. Crosetti doubled for a starter and scored on Pinelli's one-base shot to center. Suhr fanned and then Donovan forced Pinelli at second. Jolley hit a Texas leaguer to right that Parker couldn't get under and Donovan sprinted home. Jolley went to third when Parker got off a bad throw to Sandberg in a vain attempt to head Donovan off at the plate.

The Seals scored another in the sixth when O'Connell doubled into the left-field corner and came in when Crosetti nearly tore Peters's head off with a line smash through the box. Peters knocked the ball down and Dittmar made a fine play in scooping it up and heaving to first, but Umpire Powell ruled Crosetti beat the throw.

Webb clouted a home run over the left-field wall for an Angel run in the last half of the sixth, but Suhr got that one back for the Seals in the seventh when he smashed one of Peters' offerings into the center-field stands.

Peters went out for a pinch hitter in the seventh and Roberts blanked the Seals in their last two times at bat.

After Haney had been retired to open the Angel eighth, Statz started the rally by singling infield off Caveney's shins. Webb's single to center sent Statz to third. Berger came out of his slump to bounce a single over Pinelli's head and Statz scored. Then Jacobs unloaded his winning circuit clout over the left-field wall to put the Angels out in front. Dittmar followed with a towering drive that landed on top of the left-field wall, but bounced back into the field for a triple. That was all for Glynn. Mails got rid of Parker, who had hit safely his previous three trips to the plate, on a foul fly to O'Connell, but then uncorked a wild pitch to bring Dittmar home. Sandberg walked and took second on another wild pitch, but Mails fanned Roberts to finally end the inning.

After bowing docilely before the southpaw shoots of Gomez for two innings, the Angels landed on the $50,000 Yankee purchase for four hits and three runs in the third frame. Hannah began the round with a single to left but Walsh fanned. Haney skied to Jolley. Statz then came to the aid of the Angel cause by slapping a single to right. Jolley bobbled the ball and Hannah took third and Statz second on the error. Schulmerich dropped a Texas leaguer in center and both Hannah and Statz scampered home. For no reason at all, Coleman threw the ball to the plate and Schulmerich advanced to second. Coleman's bad judgment was turned into the third Angel run, when Berger singled to left and scored Schulmerich. Jacobs flied to Jolley for the third out.

The Seals tied it up in the fourth when Smead Jolley poked a home run over the right - field fence with a couple of mates on the sacks. Suhr had walked and Coleman had singled to set the stage for Jolley's count-knotting circuit clout.

WALSH IS CHASED

Walsh was batted to cover in the fifth, when the Seals temporarily took the lead with two more markers. With one away, Crosetti homed over the left-field barrier. When Baker followed with a line double that almost cleared the screen on the right-field bleachers, Lelivelt derricked Walsh and sent in Barfoot. Suhr hit Barfoot's first pitch for a double off the left-field fence to bring Baker over the plate, but Clyde retired Coleman and Jolley to get the side out.

Gomez's wildness and an error by Suhr enabled the Angels to tie the score again in the home half of the fifth. Walks to Statz and Schulmerich started the round. Berger tried to sacrifice but popped to Suhr. In an effort to double Statz off second, Suhr threw wildly to center field, Statz taking third and Schulmerich second on the error. Jacobs came through with a single to left and Statz and Schulmerich rambled over the plate with the tying tallies. Jacobs was out trying to take second on the throw-in, Wingo to Suhr to Caveney.

Barfoot disposed of the Seals without any trouble in the sixth and seventh, which brought the situation up to the Angels' final time at bat, wherein something decisive took place.

Jigger Statz again started trouble for Gomez by punching a single to left. Schulmerich fanned, but Berger slapped a hit to left. Statz made a fake dash for third and Wingo's hurried throw to that base was high, Statz reaching the far corner and Berger second on the error. Jacobs looked too threatening up at the plate and was purposely walked, filling the bases. Gomez struck out Dittmar, but Sandberg, batting for Parker, delivered the winning clout to center and Statz easily scooted home to break up the ball game. Scores:

Ice-Rink Will Open Tomorrow

Official opening of the ice-skating season will be held at the Palais de Glace rink tomorrow night when a carnival headlined b ya fancy skating contest is held. Bert Clark, internationally famous comedian of the ice and manager of the Palais, will give another exhibition. Several valuable prizes will be offered victors in the fancy skating and also in the barrel jumping and speed skating.

The first hockey exhibition of the season will be staged on Thursday night when Eddie Hume's championship La Natividad pucksters collide with the All-Stars, led by "Big John" Austmann.

Hume has practically the same Natividad sextet under contract that won the title in the Southern California League last season. Included on the roster will be Hayton, the demon goalie, and Gilchrist, star forward.

Austmann's return here will be watched with interest. For the past three years the giant player, who stands six feet three inches tall and weighs above 200 pounds, has been playing at Winnipeg, Can. When here last he led the Palais outfit to the championship.

PRESTON LOST TO CARD GRID TEAM FOR AWHILE

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Sept. 29. (AP)—Injury, nightmare of the football player, struck at Stanford's hopes today while the Cardinal adherents were still rejoicing over their eleven's smooth showing Saturday in beating the Olympic Club, 6 to 0.

Johnny Preston, first - string left end, suffered a knee injury that will keep him out of the game for an indefinite period. In addition, came the disheartening news that the twisted knee sustained by Bill Simkins, varsity fullback, in the West Coast Army game, had not healed as rapidly as expected and would, in all probability, keep him out of the opening conference clash with the University of Oregon next Saturday.

Preston's post will be filled by Dick Worden, a two-letter man, or Phil Neill, flashy transfer from Menlo Junior College. Chuck Smalling and Harry Hillman will handle Simkins's assignment.

Sagehens to Open Grid Season Against Caltech Football Warriors this Week-End

RIVAL ELEVENS MIX SATURDAY

Work Ahead of Pomona Grid Athletes

Colley and Blair Nixon Show Well in Practice

Don Murdy May be Shifted Into the Line

CLAREMONT, Sept. 29.—Coach Eugene W. Nixon will in all probability give his Sagehen gridders three stiff workouts the first three days of this week starting tomorrow afternoon. In their scrimmage with the U.S.S. Idaho last Friday afternoon the Pomona team showed plainly that there is much work to be done before taking the field to meet Caltech Saturday.

EUGENE NIXON

Coach Heath's line performed only fairly well and the Sagehen backfield play was ragged, the plays failing to click with any sort of precision.

There were two bright spots in the afternoon's play, however. They were the showing of Art Colley in the line and of Blair Nixon in the backfield. Colley's play on the defense was no doubt a joy to Heath, for with the rough and ready Arthur in the center of the line-up, teaming with Long John Judy the Sagehen forward wall is going to be vastly improved. If Heath can unearth another tackle and guard the Pomona team will be made.

Nixon in the backfield showed plainly that he knows exactly what to do when he has possession of the ball and he also blocked very nicely when it was his duty so to do. Nixon will have a tough time shoving Murdy out of his regular position, but it might be advisable to shift Murdy into the line. Murdy's defensive playing is nothing short of miraculous and this asset should not be lost to the Sagehen team. The big junior weighs close to 180 pounds and football players of this size are few and far between at the Claremont institution. Murdy does not care much about playing line but if he knew it would improve the Pomona team he would not hesitate over the change.

IKE BOONE MAKES GAIN IN AVERAGE

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29. (AP)—Ike Boone, husky Mission outfielder, made a gain of 8 points during the past week to bring his average to .407 and head the Coast League batsmen as they enter the last week of the season. Boone has participated in 187 games, been at bat 755 times to pound out 307 hits. Funk and Rumler of Hollywood are second and third, respectively, the latter losing 6 points during the week to slide from first to third position at .395. Funk gained 6 points in seven days and was hitting an even .400 clip at present.

HOOSIERS AWAIT IRISH

Indiana Game With Notre Dame to Supply Feature Spot in Big Ten; Saturday's Tilts Reviewed

CHICAGO, Sept. 29. (AP)—War drums in every Big Ten football camp will sound this week, with the thumping at Bloomington, Ind., where Indiana is preparing for the invasion of Knute Rockne's Notre Dame horde, providing most of the noise.

Next Saturday's engagements will be the first of the season for six teams, Illinois, Purdue, Chicago, Minnesota, Northwestern and Ohio State, while Michigan, Wisconsin, Indiana and Iowa will take the field for their second encounters.

KNUTE ROCKNE

While the Indiana - Notre Dame tilt tops the Big Ten program, Illinois and Wisconsin will grab shares of the attention. The Illini will tackle a brisk foe in their opener, Kansas, at Urbana, while Wisconsin will entertain an eastern team for the first time in many seasons when Colgate engages the Badgers in Camp Randall Stadium.

Michigan will clash with its ancient foe, Michigan State College, in a contest of intense interest within the State, and to Coach Harry Kipke. Kipke coached the Michigan State team last season and will have his squad ready for a stiff battle with the pupils of his successor, Sleepy Jim Crowley, former Notre Dame star. State has not beaten the Wolverines since the school was called Michigan Agricultural College and Rip Macklin did the coaching, but Saturday's 59-to-7 victory over Alma, has encouraged Spartan supporters to believe an upset may come to pass.

Dr. Clarence W. Spears will parade his huge Minnesota squad for the first time in formal combat against Coe College of Iowa. Injuries and ineligibility had retarded development of the Gopher attack, but the Iowans are not expected to cause trouble.

Another Kansas team will invade the Big Ten when Kansas Aggies give Jimmy Phelan's Purdue team its initial test. The Boiler-makers appear to be well equiped with backfield power, but the line has shown Phelan nothing to cheer about.

IOWA SHOWS CLASS

Ohio State's inaugural and its first contest under the direction of Sam Willaman, will be against Wittenberg, a strong Ohio conference school.

Iowa, where Burt Ingwerson hardly knows from one day to the next what his eligibility list looks like, displayed considerable power in its 46-to-0 triumph over Carroll College, and should have no more difficulty with Saturday's adversary, Mommouth College of Illinois.

Potsy Clark's Butler Bulldogs will try Northwestern's dark-horse aggregation.

Chicago's little band will tackle Beloit and may receive something more than a test from the Wisconson eleven. Coach A. A. Stagg, whose thirty-eighth squad is dwindled from fifty-eight men down to less than forty-five, needs almost everything and expects little from them until late in the season.

Indiana's showings against Wabash and Ohio University Saturday, verified Coach Pat Page's forecast of a capable first string and little reserve power. The Hoosiers dumped Wabash, 19 to 2, but the Ohio team easily conquered the Indiana second string, 18 to 0.

Wisconsin had little opportunity to experiment in its double-header with South Dakota State and Ripon Saturday, rain and mud restricting the Badgers to straight football. Coach Thistlethwaite's charges took the westerners by 21 to 0, and downed their neighbors, 22 to 0.

SOME EASTERN TEAMS JOLTED

NEW YORK, Sept. 29. (AP)—The first general inflow of eastern football returns have brought with them the usual quota of jolts to the apparently mighty at the hands of the relatively weak.

After a day that witnessed the defeat of Brown and West Virginia and one-touchdown victories for Pennsylvania and Boston College over foes accustomed to 40-0 defeats, football experts may be tempted in the future to flip a coin when asked the always embarrassing question of who is going to win.

West Virginia's reverse at the hands of Cam Henderson's Davis and Elkins Scarlet Hurricane, 14-6, was not nearly so unexpected as the 7-6 beating Tuss McLaughry's Brown Bears took at the hands of Springfield.

Penn had its hands full to stop an agressive Franklin and Marshall team, 14-7. The Quakers' first touchdown came in the first few seconds of the game, Carlisten catching F. & M. kickoff and racing ninety-seven yards for a score. Boston College, unbeaten last year, found a Tartar in Catholic University, which finally succumbed, 13-6.

CRUSHING TRIMMINGS

On the other side of the picture, however, were crushing trimmings rolled up by New York University, Colgate, Dartmouth, Cornell; Syracuse, Pittsburgh and a host of others.

N.Y.U. swamped Vermont under a 77-to-0 count while Syracuse was rolling up a similar score against Hobart in the first night game for a major college team in the East. Cornell's varsity buried Clarkson Tec, 60 to 0, and Colgate ran upon its biggest score in fifteen years in downing St. Lawrence, 55-0, using only two forward passes. Dartmouth swept through Norwich, 67-0, with Al Marsters scoring four touchdowns. Pittsburgh presented a well-rounded team that swamped Waynesburgh 53-0.

Army got no more than a good workout against Boston University which went down, 26-0, before Cagle and Company. Navy revealed a powerful team in the Midshipmen's 47-0 victory over an intersectional foe, Denison.

Columbia's fine line showed to advantage as the Lions bowled over Middlebury, 38-6, and Fordham had nothing but a romp against Westminster which went down, 43-0.

SCORE EARLY

Carnegie Tech's plaid machine scored 21 points in the first period and nothing thereafter, but Bethany couldn't score at all. Washington and Jefferson made a good showing in turning back Ohio Northern, 33-0, but Penn State certainly hoped for more than the 16-0 verdict it gained over Niagara. Georgetown romped to a win over Mt. St. Mary's, 26-0. Greenberg scored two touchdowns as Rugers trounced Providence, 17-0. Holy Cross, which beat St. John's of New York by 19-0 last year, had to be content with a 19-0 score this time.

LIVELY BALL WORRIES 'EM

ATLANTA (Ga.) Sept. 29. (AP)—Some of the smaller college elevens which were offered up as the usual sacrifices Saturday are wondering if something can't be done about that lively ball in use in the Southern Conference.

Never were the faithful trial horses so roughly handled. Nineteen conference teams were in the field and nine of them refused to be content with less than 40 points.

Florida, Washington and Lee, North Carolina, Alabama, Sewanee and Louisiana State were the worst offenders with Tulane, V. & I., and Tennessee right on their heels in the scramble for touchdowns.

VANDERBILT ON TOP

Vanderbilt defeated University of Mississippi, 19 to 7, in the only game which counted in the conference standing.

Upsets were scored at Athens, where Oglethorpe downed the Georgia Bulldogs, 13-7, and at Starkville, Miss., where Henderson-Brown defeated Mississippi A. and M., 7-0. The Florida steamroller crushed Southern, 54-0.

At Lexington, Va., Washington and Lee snowed a luckless Lynchburg eleven under a 68-6 count.

Alabama rolled up 55 points against Mississippi College and North Carolina walloped Wekeforest, 48-0.

Sewanee downed Tennessee Poly, 46-0, and Clemson beat the plucky Davidson Wildcats, 32-14.

Louisiana State Tigers clawed Louisiana College, 58-0, the Tulane Green Wave swamped Louisiana Normal, 40-0, and V.P.I. walloped Roanoke College, 19-0.

DUKE NOT IMPRESSIVE

Duke, one of the mystery teams of the conference, failed to impress much in its 19-6 win over the Mercer Bears.

The South Carolina Gamecocks romped on Erskine, 27 to 7; Maryland disposed of Washington College, 34-7, while Virginia, also making its first start under a new coach, spanked Randolph-Acon, 27-6.

Tennessee rode roughshod over Center, winning, 40-6. The cadets of V.M.I. snowed under Richmond University, 40-0.

BROWN, SELLERS WIN TITLE

Beat Allison and Van Ryn in Sensational Upset in Pacific Southwest Tourney Final

through with the necessary victory to win the match.

The last two sets were played under arc-light, the local club being the only place where such arrangements are possible. Van Ryn appeared a trifle tired from his gruelling battle with Doeg, but even this cannot detract from the sensational play of the Californians, who traded shot-for-shot with their talented rivals.

LONG BATTLE

The doubles match was a thrilling affair, but the real battle of the day was the singles affair between Van Ryn and Doeg. The husky Stanford star won on his famous service after one of the most sensational battles in the history of local tennis. Every one of the four sets went to deuce, and only five of the sixty games played were love games. There was a brilliant battle for every point, with forehands, backhands, drives, lobs and every variety of shot coming in for plenty of play.

Doeg led, 40-15, on Van Ryn's service in the fifth game of the first set, but the Davis Cup star rallied to pull out a deuce game. Each won his own service for seventeen consecutive games. Then in the eighteenth game, Van Ryn broke through Doeg, when the latter made six errors, and took the first set, 10 games to 8.

Doeg put up a courageous rally in the second set, winning five straight games, after trailing 2-5, to even the score at one set all. Van Ryn broke through Doeg to take a 4-2 lead, and then won his own service to run it to 5-2. Placing his shots carefully, and forcing Van Ryn into errors, Doeg then won the next five games, and the set, 7-5. Van Ryn never was even close to winning that much-needed game. In the tenth game, Doeg shut him out with two aces, and in the four other games, the ex-Princeton star gathered only 5 points.

In the third set, Doeg had a love-30 lead on Van Ryn's serve in the fifth game, but lost it when Van Ryn forced him into errors. Doeg broke through Van Ryn finally in the thirteenth game, with a pair of beautiful placements, and won out on his own serve the same way, 8-6, and led 2-1 in sets.

After the intermission, both came back strong, and each won his service until the thirteenth game, when Doeg broke through Van Ryn. Doeg led, 40-15, but Van Ryn pulled it up to deuce. A placement, and a net by Van Ryn, gave Doeg the game, and a 7-6 lead. Whenever Doeg has a game lead on his own serve, the set might as well be over, and it was yesterday, although Van Ryn, battling courageously, carried the score to deuce. Doeg messed up a set-up, and then drove a return out, to lose the first two points of the deciding game. Two errors by Van Ryn evened the count at 30-all, and the easterner then scored a placement to lead, 40-30. Doeg whipped over an ace to carry the score to deuce, and won out on an error and a placement.

Miss Nuthall outsteadied Mrs. Harper in the women's singles, coming from behind in the first set, and breaking through Mrs. Harper in the last game of each set, to win the match. Miss Nuthall did not lose a set in any of her singles matches.

FANS JEER

The battle was unusual in that they traded services oftener than they won their own serves. The officiating of the linesmen was so bad at times that it was pitiful, and the crowd jeered continually all through the first set, only desisting when the players requested "that the spectators restrain their ardor."

The tournament was easily the best ever put on in Los Angeles. Although there were no outstanding stars like Bill Tilden or Henri Cochet, who won the championship in the past, the entrants were so closely matched that the seeded stars were in constant danger from the first round to the final. Ed Berry, chairman of the tournament committee, handled the day's play excellently.

STARS TO PLAY IN MEXICO CITY

With the third annual Pacific Southwest tennis championships passed for another year, several of the international net aces have turned their eyes to Mexico City, where the Mexican natinonal tournament will be staged starting next Saturday for an eight-day period.

Fred Mercur and Gilbert Hall, national clay court champions; John Van Ryn of the American Davis Cup squad and famous Wimbledon doubles champion; Ben Gorchakoff, national intercollegiate doubles king, now with the Los Angeles A.C., and Edward Berry of the L.A.T.C. are among the players who will leave this city this afternoon for Mexico.

Miss Edith Cross of the Wightman Cup team of America, third in the national rankings; Miss Midge Gladman, eighth in the country and intercollegiate girls' singles and doubles champion; Louise McFarland of Pasadena, former girls' junior champion, and Josephine Cruickshank of San Francisco, girls college doubles title-holder with Miss Gladman, and Mrs. Marion Williams of La Jolla, State women's winner at Ojai last April, will also make the trip.

O'Doul Boosts Batting Mark

By the Associated Press

Frank O'Doul consolidated his position at the head of the National League and the Big Six yesterday by pounding Bill Walker for two hits in four times at bat at the Polo Grounds as his erstwhile rival, Babe Herman, got only one out of four in Brooklyn. The former Yankee pitcher lifted his mark one point to .395 as Herman dropped a point to .384. Only a batting miracle now could save the championship for the Brooklyn slugger. Rogers Hornsby got four out of four, gaining four points. The standing:

Acorns Down Beavers Twice

PORTLAND, Sept. 29. (AP)—Taking a commanding lead in the first four innings of the opening game here today, and duplicating the attack in the second game, Oakland defeated Portland in both games by the same score of 8 to 2. Mahaffey, Portland's strong man, was nicked for four runs on four hits in the first inning of the first game. In the second game Fullerton stretched his hits over three innings, dropping behind, 6 to 0. Scores:

HAWKEYE'S GRID STORM SIMMERING

Ineligibility of Twelve of Iowa's Players Likely to be Cleared This Week

IOWA CITY, Sept. 29. (AP)—The University of Iowa's latest athletic storm, generated when a dozen members of the Hawkeye football squad were declared ineligible just before game time yesterday, today had simmered down to the proportions of a tempest in a teapot.

C. C. Williams, chairman of the Iowa athletic eligibility board, said the scholastic difficulties which barred the players yesterday, were of technical nature and probably would be cleared up before the end of the week. The question of awarding credit for military and physical training courses caused Oliver Sansen and Randahl Hickman, sophomore backfield men, to be kept from action Saturday.

Others on the ineligibility list, notably Gus Mastrogany, veteran end, were kept out for failure to complete their registration before the game. Another regular, Lawrence Reedquist, end, cleared away his difficulties late Saturday and his name was removed from the list.

The Hawkeye board declared the men ineligible after certifying the eligibility of Cran Pape, star halfback. Pape got into the game against Carroll College, but Matt Kelsh, an end candidate, who was charged with having played in the game for which Pape's standing was questioned, remained on the barred list. His case was put over until further investigation could be made by E. H. Lauer, director of athletics.

Pick Umps for Blue Series

CHICAGO, Sept. 29. (AP)—Four umpires will officiate in little world series games between Kansas City of the American Association, and Rochester, International League champion, the first time in the history of the event four arbiters have been employed.

President Thomas J. Hickey of the American Association, tonight announced that Umpires Frank Carroll and William Finneran of the International League will service, while the association will be represented by Ted McGraw and Larry Goetz.

The series will open at Kansas City Wednesday, four games to be played on the Blues' field, on Wednesday, Thursday, Saturday and Sunday. Friday being held open against possible postponement of the first two games.

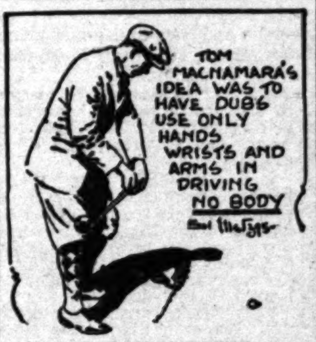
Let Wrists, Arms, Hands Do the Work



TOM MACNAMARA'S IDEA WAS TO HAVE DUBS USE ONLY HANDS WRISTS AND ARMS IN DRIVING NO BODY
Sol Metzger

BY SOL METZGER

When Tom McNamara, twice runner-up in the U.S. open, was teaching golf he used to make his pupils swing the club without moving their bodies. In short, Tom worked on the principle that the golf stroke is a throw through the ball of the clubhead. This is accomplished by hands, wrists and arms alone.

Most of us get into difficulties in stroking the ball because we are trying to do some stunt with our bodies that either ties us in a knot or throws us off balance. The remedy is to go back to first principles, those advocated by Tom McNamara, of letting the hands, wrists and arms do the work. Loosen up, waggle your clubhead back and forth over the ball until you are sure you are loose and then go back slowly and try the good sound stunt of swishing or throwing the clubhead through the ball along the line to the hole. You'll be surprised at the distance you can obtain.

A golfer is no better than his tee shot. Sol Metzger has prepared a free illustrated leaflet on the art of driving. Send for it in care of The Times and enclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

Trobabes Face Tartars Next

Coach Aubrey Devine's Trojan freshmen, who played a scoreless tie with the Santa Ana J. C. squad last Saturday, will again meet a Jaysee team next Saturday when the Trobabes tangle with the Compton Tartars. The freshmen will be playing without the services of Orv Mohler, star quarterback, who was badly injured in the Santa Ana contest. Devine and his assistants probably will work the squad hard this week in order to get rid of the rough spots that were evident last Saturday.

Coach Eddie Suggett of the Tartars has a strong squad and should give the Trobabes a hard battle. Tom Yancey, all-Southern California halfback from Compton High in 1928; Frank Friedman, a 200-pound lineman from Lincoln; Bob Fessler and Paul Bateman, ends, and White of Huntington Park are the stars of the Tartar outfit.

The game will begin at 12:30 and is a preliminary to the Trojan-Oregon State fracas.

GAS POOL PLAN TO BE DEBATED

Producers Meet Wednesday to Examine Proposal

Smaller Operators Slow to Express Themselves

Sentiment Declared Strong for Prorating Scheme

All independent operators engaged in the development and production of oil in Southern California fields have been invited to attend a mass meeting at the Engineers' Club, 833 South Spring street, Wednesday at [illegible] p.m. to discuss the proposal that they pool their gas with a group of major operating companies which hold contracts for the sale of gas to distributing companies.

The major operators recently submitted to the smaller producers an agreement in which it was suggested that all gas production from such fields as Santa Fe Springs, Seal Beach, Signal Hill and Ventura-avenue be pooled and marketed on a prorated basis, for the purpose of conserving natural gas in California oil fields. The surplus gas would be used to repressure depleted oil sands in older fields.

The independent operators selected a committee to consider the proposal, and this committee has held two meetings. Following the last meeting it was learned that many independent producers had not been in attendance and that some of them felt that their interests were not being given proper consideration, so the committee on Saturday mailed out invitations to more than 100 small producers in the Los Angeles Basin, urging them to attend the Wednesday meeting.

It is asserted that most of those who have been in attendance at the meetings held during the past ten days are in accord with the proposal of the major operators and it is the opinion of many independents that an understanding will be reached this week which will make it possible for the industry to curtail the wastage of gas without it being necessary for State Oil and Gas Supervisor Bush to resort to injunction proceedings against a single producer.

The committee representing the independent producers has for its chairman E. D. Reiter of the Miley Oil Company and is composed of William C. McDuffie of the Pacific Western Oil Company, George Machris, Wilshire Oil Company; Herbert MacMillan, MacMillan Petroleum Company; Thomas H. [illegible], Twin-Bell Syndicate, and Robert McKeon, Italo-Petroleum Corporation.

Rosedale Test of Elmer Oil Lacks Showing

ROSEDALE, Sept. 29. (Exclusive) The Elmer Oil Company has reached 4900 feet in its Houghton No. 1 well on Sec. 33, 29-26, in this district. The drill has just gone through a sand and shale formation, which showed nothing particularly attractive from a production standpoint.

The General Petroleum Corporation is still rigging up rotary for its wildcat well on property leased from the Kern County Land Company, on Sec. 13, 29-26.

The Elmer and General Petroleum prospects are about four miles apart.

NEW MONARCH LEAD MILL NEARLY READY

CHLORIDE (Ariz.) Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—Monarch Lead's 100-ton flotation mill at this place is about ready for operation. It is one of the most complete selective flotation mills in the Southwest, including every device for the saving of labor and values that metallurgists have been able to perfect. The ore to be treated carries lead, zinc, gold and silver.

NEW SHALLOW FIELD LOOMS

Discovery in Wildcat West of Elwood in Santa Barbara County Regarded as Important

BY HOWARD C. KEGLEY

Discovery of a new shallow oil field link in the coastal chain which ranges along the Pacific Ocean from Seacliff to Santa Barbara, is practically assured, oil operators believe, as a result of the announcement that the Erburu No. 1 wildcat well, twelve miles west of the Elwood field in Santa Barbara county, produced 100 barrels of oil Friday while making a water shut-off test, and that the General Petroleum Corporation yesterday was drilling ahead in the hole, through a solid body of oil sand.

It is expected that the well will finish somewhere around 1675 to 1700 feet, with perhaps 300 feet of the Vaqueros sand as a producing formation, and the popular belief is that the well should be good for 100 to 150 barrels per day of oil testing 20 deg. gravity.

The Erburu No. 1 is a joint test being drilled fifty-fifty by the General Petroleum Corporation and the Shell Oil Company on General's 350-acre lease which runs north from the ocean's edge. Shell holds a lease joining the General's on the west and extending north from the ocean. When a joint test is drilled on this property the cost and production of it will be shared fifty-fifty by the two operating companies, it is asserted.

THEORY ADVANCED

The discovery well stands 800 feet back from the sea, on a slight ridge. Geological opinion is that the oil structure probably parallels the ocean, instead of extending out into the water, but this belief has not been established, and should the structure go out to sea, as is the case at Elwood, the General Petroleum Corporation is in a favorable position, as it controls a number of State tideland drilling permits extending seaward from the south line of the Erburu lease. Shell has no tideland permits, it is asserted.

The shallow depth at which Erburu No. 1 tested at the top of the Vaqueros formation—1390 feet—indicates that the production is likely to be shallow, easy to drill and rather profitable, considering the low cost of development. The Vaqueros sand is the same formation from which the excellent wells in the Elwood oil field are producing. The outlook for deeper production where the Erburu is situated is not regarded as favorable because the next formation below the Vaqueros would be the Sespe, and numerous tests in the vicinity of Goleta, Elwood and elsewhere are said to have demonstrated that the Sespe is not capable of production in that vicinity. It does, however, yield abundantly down toward Santa Maria and Santa Paula.

GRAVITY EXPLANATION

The difference between the Erburu No. 1 well's gravity of 20 deg. at 1390 feet and the Pacific Western Oil Company's Tideland Permit No. 92, offshore at Elwood, with a gravity of 39 deg. at 3583 feet, is explained by petroleum engineers by the fact that although both wells are producing from the Vaqueros sand, it almost unfailingly happens that the production obtained from the greatest depth in any particular producing formation is of the highest gravity.

It will be remembered that in the Santa Fe Springs and Signal Hill fields the gravity of the oil has been lighter and lighter as the drillers have proceeded from one zone to another on their way down from the first production between 3000 and 4000 feet to the extreme depths of 7500 to 8500 feet.

Pacific Western, which drilled its Tideland Permit No. 92 on a pier in the ocean, completed it only about two weeks ago for 4500 barrels' initial production. It now is reported to be putting out more than 4200 barrels a day. Operators believe that this piece of property is capable within the next year of adding 10,000 to 20,000 barrels of oil a day to the company production.

ELMER OIL WELL AT SHAFTER RERIGGING

SHAFTER, Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—The Elmer Oil Company is rerigging its McVey No. 1 well, on Section 8, 28-25, near here. The well has been drilled to a depth of 6067 feet and has the fifteen and one-half-inch casing cemented at 850 feet. Drilling will be resumed as soon as rigging up has been completed.

OIL SHOW OPENS SATURDAY

TULSA (Okla.) Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—An automatically controlled pump station will be among the operating scientific and technical exhibits at the International Petroleum Exposition in Tulsa, which opens next Saturday and will continue to October 12, next. The automatic operation of the gate valves in the discharge, filling and suction lines will be shown and the system will be explained by William G. Heltzel, in charge of the exhibit.

Two tanks and a pump and motor unit are to be used in this demonstration. A three-inch discharge line leads from the pump house to the first tank. This tank is sixteen feet high and has a diameter of ten feet. The capacity is 200 barrels. From this tank a six-inch filling line runs to a second tank, which is eight feet high and ten feet in diameter. This tank has a capacity of 100 barrels. From the second tank a four-inch suction line runs back into the pump house. The pump house is twenty-four feet long by sixteen fet wide.

TYPES OF INSTRUMENTS

The scientific and technical exhibits include seven different types of instruments for determining deviation from the vertical in wells. One of these registers the variations in the downward course of the hole on a dial at the surface, two chart the course on graph rolls, two use acid bottles and two employ photography.

There will be six types of dynamometers for weighing rod loads on pumping wells. Since these instruments have been brought into use rod breakage has been reduced greatly.

Three types of bottom hole pressure gauges, for determining pressure on the face of the sand, will be shown. Two of these register the maximum pressure only, but have a simple reading. The third records the pressure at various depths and the graph requires some calculations.

TOPIC OF MEETING

At the meetings of the division of development and production engineering, American Petroleum Institute, the work that has been done by the American Petroleum Institute in the prevention of crooked holes will be brought out. Carl A. Young, director of the problems, has stated that there is "no excuse" for drilling crooked holes. C. V. Millikan, chairman of the exposition's scientific and technical committee, points out that crooked holes make well-spacing and drainage plans almost useless, adding that drilling straight holes cuts down the initial cost and the operating expense when the well is brought in.

The value of dynamometers for weighing rod loads on pumping wells is indicated, Millikan says, in the fact that while there might be a 20,000-pound average load on the rods, at one point of the stroke the weight may be 30,000 pounds.

W. A. Schlueter, member of the scientific and technical committee, is arranging a display of instruments and apparatus which will include a four-tube charcoal distillation apparatus; a double-unit low-temperature fractionating apparatus (with improved column;) and, under ASTM specification, Saybolt thermo-viscometer, Saybolt steam-heated viscosimeter, micro Saybolt viscosity tube, oil and moisture in wax apparatus, crude petroleum distillation apparatus, Reid vapor-pressure bomb, penetration apparatus, grease cone and worker, float test apparatus, and ductility mold.

PROSPECTS AT PILGRIM IMPROVING

Treasure Vault Making Good Headway on Strike in Arizona Mine

KINGMAN (Ariz.) Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—Development of the Treasure Vault's Pilgrim mine continues in a most satisfactory manner. The rich ore shoot on the 230-foot level has now been opened to a length of approximately 200 feet with both width and values holding up consistently.

The high-grade, or "picture rock," lying along the foot wall of the big vein is still very much in evidence with free gold showing almost the entire length of the drift. The main vein shows an average width of over five feet with frequent bulges up to ten or twelve feet. Sampling of the entire mass, omitting the picture rock, shows a high-grade mill product with no indication of diminution of either values or widths.

On the 350-foot level, where the vein recently was tapped, the high-grade streak is still on the foot wall and recent assays show a consistency of value that is most gratifying. Drifting north and south is now under way on this level and tonnage is rapidly being opened preparatory to the erection of the new mill, plans of which are now being drawn.

The Pilgrim district is beginning to show a great deal of activity and announcement was made this week that the South Pilgrim group, recently taken over by Ernest De Valye, Varro Peterson and associates, is to start operations immediately. Frederick Koehler, consulting engineer for both the Treasure Vault and the South Pilgrim companies, is due in Kingman within the next few days, at which time the new shaft on the South Pilgrim will be spotted and construction started.

Oil Activities in Kern Fields Register Gain

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—Oil-development activities picked up considerably last week in the Kern county fields, nine wells being spudded in.

Two wells are to be drilled in the Round Mountain area. The Sunnyside Oil Company, Ltd., will drill Smith No. 1, on Sec. 17, 28-29. The Shell Oil Company will drill Jewett No. 8 on Sec. 29, 28-29.

In the Poso Creek field, four new wells will be drilled. The Petroleum Securities Company is to drill Glide No. 17 on Sec. 21, 27-28. On Sec. 22, 27-28, the Pacific Western Oil Company will drill Rench No. 5. The Union Oil Company will drill Tribel No. 5 on Sec. 28, 27-28, and Tribel No. 6, on Sec. 28, 27-28.

The General Petroleum Corporation will drill Hensley No. 4 on Sec. 22, 29-27, in the Fruitvale area. The Union Oil Company of California will drill its N. and P. No. 1 on Sec. 8, 11-24.

In the Belridge field, the Ohio Oil Company is to drill its No. 32 on Sec. 30, 28-21.

Gas Output of Texas Wildcat Estimated High

FALFURRIAS (Tex.) Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—Although a complete gauge has not as yet been made of the new wildcat well which was brought in by the Houston Oil Company on the 300,000-acre ranch of Ed Lasater, near here, it is estimated that it should be good for a production of more than 75,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily.

The gas is coming from a depth of 4117 feet, with a rock pressure of sixteen to twenty feet th ough a two-inch tubing with a choke. This partial flow tested 40,000,000 cubic feet daily. The well is situated in the lower gulf-coast region and the closest producing area to it is on the Driscoll ranch in Duval county, twenty-five miles to the northwest.

REAL TEST IN TULARE ON DOCKET

Contract Let for Hole South of City; Work to Start at Early Date

Tulare county expects to be given a thorough test for petroleum production during the next three months as a result of three drilling projects which are soon to start. The Terra Bella Oil Company has signed a contract for drilling an oil well one mile south of that city, the Terminal Oil Company is starting to erect derrick for a wildcat well six miles southeast of Tulare and the Osborne Oil Company is expected to start its second wildcat well near Pixley within the next two weeks.

According to reports from Tulare, more than 50,000 acres in that county are now under lease for oil development. The Terminal Oil Company holds 12,000 acres of the Kelley properties under lease and expects to give the tract a searching test, having ordered a 130-foot derrick in order to be equipped mechanically for going 8000 feet deep if necessary.

If it finds oil there its lease requirements call for starting its second well within ninety days after the discovery, on the Hack ranch, which is included in its big lease. Terminal's first well is to be spudded in before October 15.

The Terra Bella Oil Company consists largely of business men in and near that city who pooled their resources in order to conduct the search for oil.

SAN JOAQUIN PRODUCTION INCREASES

Gain in August Reported as 83,794 Barrels Over Previous Month

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—Petroleum production from the San Joaquin Valley fields increased 83,974 barrels in August over the month previous, according to figures just compiled by the American Petroleum Institute.

The total production for August was 4,038,270 barrels compared to 3,954,296 in July. The daily average for August was 130,590 barrels. August production came from 4830 active wells. Production divided by fields for the month was as follows:

Midway-Sunset, 2,059,529 barrels; Elk Hills, 540,507; Kern River, 475,-464; Coalinga, 310,429; Mount Poso, 163,552; McKittrick, 144,147; Lost Hills, Belridge, 126,174; Kettleman Hills, 125,293; Fruitvale, 60,394; Round Mountain, 22,640; Wheeler Ridge, 20,161 barrels.

During August there were fifteen wells completed with a total initial daily output of 7243 barrels of oil, of which 3000 was in the Kettleman Hills and 2388 in the Midway-Sunset field.

Twenty-eight new derricks were erected and there were ninety-two wells reported as being under active drilling operations.

Trans-Pacific Buys Sodium Carbonate Tract

Announcement was made yesterday by G. E. Hooke, president and general manager of the Trans-Pacific Properties, Inc., of the acquisition of 320 acres of sodium carbonate, in San Bernardino county, and bordering the Tonopah and Tidewater Railroad.

Trans-Pacific controls the Old Gold Extension Mining Company, through 80 per cent stock ownership, and through the latter, owns the Silver Peak property in Nevada and holdings in the Vallecito placer district, in Calaveras county. Trans-Pacific shortly expects to acquire two gold properties on the Mother Lode.

It is expected that a fifty-ton flotation plant will be installed some time in October at the mine in the Kelso district.

BELRIDGE PROJECT NEAR COMPLETION

BELRIDGE, Sept. 29. (Exclusive) The Ohio Oil Company is about ready to bring in its No. 31 well on Sec. 30, 28-21. It will be put on the pump. The crew has just completed running in a string of two and one-half-inch oil tubing to a depth of 650 feet, with bottom of the hole at 700 feet. The well is in proven territory where shallow wells are small producers.

KETTLEMAN OIL SITUATION TOLD

Ohio Getting Ready for New Completion

Plans to Control Project if Needed on Way

Continental's Gusher Still Holds Up Flow

Another change is due in the Kettleman Hills area, this time on the south dome, where the Ohio Oil Company's Smith No. 1 is preparing for a production test on Section 35, 24-19.

This well recently drilled through oil sand and found considerable gas. Bottom of the hole is at 7002 feet.

Ohio is constructing traps and storage tanks for the anticipated flow and is making preparations to control this project should it become unruly as did the Milham Exploration Company's discovery well and the Continental Oil Company's Elliott No. 12-8 on the north dome.

Several weeks ago Smith No. 1 encountered oil showings and had worries over gas pressure, but by circulating heavy mud the difficult situation was handled. The General Petroleum Corporation's pipeline runs near it.

The Continental Oil Company's Elliott No. 12-8 on the north dome is flowing nearly 6900 barrels of 61-deg. gravity oil per day from a depth of 6876 feet, along with more than 100,000,000 cubic feet of gas. An accurate gauge has not yet been made on the gas, 25,000,000 cubic feet of which is going through the absorption plant and being made into casinghead gasoline. The Elliott No. 2-13, a short distance away, is drilling below 6188 feet.

The Standard Oil Company's No. 81 on Section 11, 22-17 is putting out 1000 barrels of oil per day from a depth of 6673 feet. It has been producing nearly two months. The Milham Exploration Company's Elliott No. 1 discovery well is flowing 2700 barrels.

Twenty-four projects at Kettleman Hills are down below 6000 feet. This number includes wells producing and suspended. The General Petroleum Corporation's Ochsner No. 2 on Section 26, 22-18, which developed another fishing job a few days ago when a three-inch drill pipe froze, has resumed drilling below 7321 feet in oil sand. Its Ochsner No. 2 on Section 20, 22-18 is drilling below 6395 feet.

The Shell Oil Company's Armstrong No. 1 on Section 8, 22-18, which blew in more than two months ago at 6653 feet and was lated killed, is below 7166 feet and is preparing to run six and five-eighths-inch casing.

Ten projects of the Standard Oil Company are below 6000 feet, and one is producing. The Petroleum Securities Company's Felix No. 1 on Section 35, 21-17, has cemented eight and five-eighths-inch casing at 6384 feet, with bottom at 6640 feet. Nine-inch casing is standing cemented in Ladd No. 1 on Section 28, 20-16 at 6450 feet, and bottom at 6450 feet. Nine-inch casing is cemented at 6514 feet in its Robinson No. 1 on Section 14, 22-17, with bottom of the hole at 6516 feet.

The Bolsa Chica Oil Corporation's Ferguson No. 1 on Section 24, 22-17 is sidetracking under-reamer with bottom at 6395 feet. Armstrong No. 1 of George F. Getty, Inc., on Section 6, 22-18, is drilling below 5747 feet, while the Pacific Western Oil Company's No. 27 on Section 34, 21-17 is drilling below 6685 feet.

MINE BUDGET LARGE

Owners of Lucky Strike Property to Spend $500,000

PRESCOTT (Ariz.) Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—Approximately $500,000 will be spent immediately in development of the Lucky Strike group in the Hassayampa district south of Prescott, according to Chester C. McCarty, attorney of Portland, Or. McCarty came here as a representative of the company to start the work.

In the past Lucky Strike has produced considerable ore that carried good values in lead, silver and copper, and it is believed that deeper exploration will demonstrate the existence of a large body. The company is privately flananced and offers no stock for sale.

DRILLING AHEAD

Standard's Elks Hills Test in Shale at 7000 Feet

TUPMAN, Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—Down past 7000 feet in its deep test hole in the Elk Hills region, the Standard Oil Company is drilling ahead in the blue shale area in its No. 27 hole on Sec. 31, 20-25.

Actual bottom of the hole is at 7045 feet with casing cemented at 6452 feet. Indications are that the company intends to drill much deeper.

POTRERO OUTLOOK BRIGHT

Recent Developments Revive Activity After More Than Two Years of Comparative Quiet

Developments of the past ten days have served to bring the Potrero district, at the eastern edge of Inglewood, back into the petroleum limelight. It took the district more than two years to get three wells on production, and it only took about three months to get three more on the producing list.

It was estimated yesterday that the field now is yielding approximately 2000 barrels of 46-deg. gravity oil a day. Of that amount the Associated gets 700 barrels from its Cypress No. 2, Cypress No. 3 and Pacific-Southwest No. 1. Max Pray's No. 1 gets about 150 barrels; Getty's Parker No. 1 gets approximately 750 barrels, while York & Lockhart's Harlan-Blinn No. 1 is reported to be putting out 1500 barrels of mud, water and oil, production men crediting it with about 500 barrels of oil.

Completion about ten days ago of Getty's Parker No. 1 at 3800 feet launched a revival of drilling in that area such as has not been seen since the industry rushed into the area southeast of Manchester and Cypress, about two years ago, and erected fourteen derricks in three weeks, failing to get a single barrel of oil out of the flurry.

DRIFT CHANGES

From that time until now the trend of drilling operations has been toward the northwest, the Associated moving in that direction from its Cypress No. 1 gasser, to its Cypress No. 2, Cypress No. 3, Pacific-Southwest No. 1 and Potrero No. 1. Max Pray's long shot north of Manchester and west of Prairie avenue, discovered oil in the northwest end of the district after Graham & Loftus succeeded in getting small production there.

Then Getty drilled the Parker No. 1 and got the first substantial production in the town-lot district. Shortly afterward Harlan-Blinn No. 1 blew in at about 3790 feet during a bailing test, and since being drilled somewhat deeper is flowing considerable emulsion, but is expected to clear up within a few days. Approximately a mile east and a little north of this group of wells the St. Patricia Oil Company is down 5695 feet in its Connolly No. 1, which tested wet Saturday.

DERRICK RISING

As a result of the Getty completion, the Associated Oil Company is erecting derricks and may within ten days spud in its Prairie No. 1 and Prairie No. 2, directly across Prairie avenue east of the Getty well, on a strip of business lots 150 feet deep, which fringe the west side of Inglewood Park Cemetery. Getty has made locations a little west and northwest of his producer for Fueller-Mekeel No. 1, Newman Community No. 1 and Hayes Community No. 1, and is reported to be planning to take out permits for several other projects. York & Lockhart have declared their intention to drill at least one more well in the immediate vicinity of their Harlan-Blinn No. 1. The Richfield organization has thirty-five acres of leases in the town-lot area.

While the field is still somewhat of an enigma, petroleum engineers admit that the area around the corner of Manchester and Prairie is beginning to look as though it may be the best part of the field. The Associated had a great deal of water trouble, drilling over toward the corner of Cypress and Manchester. It is admitted that there is a thicker body of shale in the vicinity of Parker No. 1 and Harlan-Blinn No. 1, which is said to be more favorable to successful water shut-offs. It also is unofficially reported that the Harlan-Blinn well picked up the oil saind several feet shallower than Parker No. 1 found it, indicating that the former probably is somewhat higher on the structure, and that the true dome of the field may be found somewhere south of the corner of Prairie and Manchester avenues.

Completion of Rio Grande at Maricopa Stirs

MARICOPA, Sept. 29. (Exclusive) With the Rio Grande Oil Company's Havenstrite No. 1 well on Sec. 17, 11-23, Maricopa Flats, producing upward of 4000 barrels daily, prospects are thought to be excellent for the company to get another producer in its Leutholtz No. 1, on Sec. 22, 11-23, about one and a half miles from the Signal Oil and Gas Company's discovery well.

The bit has passed through considerable oil sand, and drilling is being resumed after trouble with a frozen drill stem. The company has 1120 acres in this district, in the immediate vicinity of Havenstrite No. 1.

The Union Oil Company is building foundation for its first well on the flats. The hole will be on Sec. 8, 11-23, and will be known as Son No. 1. It is about 150 feet north and 150 feet west from the center of the section.

Eleven operators are working on Maricopa Flats with twenty-nine wells either producing, drilling or preparing to start.

RICHFIELD ACTIVE IN KERN AREA

Work of Drilling Going Ahead Despite Shut-in Production of Field

OILDALE, Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—The Richfield Oil Company is going ahead with its drilling campaign on the Kern front despite the fact that production is being shut in whenever new wells are completed.

Rig is going up for the company's Government No. 11 on Sec. 22, 28-27.

The Government No. 14, on the same section, is being rigged up. Government No. 16, on the same section, is rigged up, but is standing idle.

The company recently completed Government No. 9 and No. 21, pumped them clean and shut them in. These holes are on the Kern front in close proximity to the General Petroleum Corporation and Chanslor-Canfield-Midway Oil Company holes.

The General Petroleum Corporation's activities on the Kern front include two wells which are to be put on the pump immediately and one new site on which rotary is being rigged.

The company's No. 2 hole on Sec. 14, 28-27, is at about 2050 feet, and is to be put on the pump.

General's Young No. 32, on the same section, is to be placed on the pump at 1995 feet. The casing is cemented at 1750 feet in the hole.

AUSTRALIA OIL PROJECT COMPLETED

Huge Terminal of Texas Company Constructed at $7,000,000 Cost

Docks, terminals and can factories have been constructed in Australia by the Texas Company at a cost of $7,000,000, according to Charles A. Atwell, who was chief engineer in charge of the construction work. Mr. Atwell is preparing to go to China, where he will superintend the construction of six oil terminals for the company. He will also superintend the construction of two oil terminals in the Philippines.

During his stay in the Antipodes, he directed the construction of a large oil terminal in New Zealand. The Australia improvements were made in the record time of eighteen months, which was more than a year less than the company expected them to be completed.

The fact that in these foreign countries gasoline and other oil products are transported for the most part in tin cans ranging in size from one to five gallons, instead of by the American system of filling stations being used for distribution of the products, has caused the company to establish its own can manufacturing plants at points advantageous to the trade, Mr. Atwell says.

Magma Copper Plans to Sink New Deep Shaft

SUPERIOR (Ariz.) Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—When the Magma Copper Company completes the $2,000,000 improvement program recently launched it will have two shafts more than 3000 feet deep and another almost as deep.

The biggest will be a brand-new three-compartment shaft known as No. 7, and 2800 feet in depth and is to be near the concentrator. It will be sunk chiefly for ventilation of the lower levels. Its cost is estimated at $500,000, including hoist.

The No. 6 is also projected as a ventilation shaft but its depth will be only 2250 feet. Tunnel is now being driven in to the line of this shaft and the upper 250 feet will be an upraise from the tunnel. The No. 2 is being concreted from 2600 down to the 2090-foot level and will be sunk to 3250 feet. The No. 3 will also be continued to the same depth.

BEN HUR BUYS GOLD CLAIM

TONOPAH (Nev.) Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—The Ben Hur Company announces acquisition of the Surprise claim north of Round Mountain, adjoining the Gold Hill mine. Work is to commence as soon as stockholders approve the deal. The Gold Hill is owned by the Gold Hill Development Company, dominated by Philadelphia capitalists, and is reported to be developing into one of the premier gold properties of Nevada.

The Seven Troughs Gold Mines Company reports that its working drainage tunnel has been driven 8250 feet from daylight, and that prospecting drills have tapped the long-sought Coalition workings. The flow of water is rapidly subsiding, and the management expects soon to complete the tunnel to its objective, an approximate distance of fifty feet. Foundation for the 100-ton mill is in, and installation of machinery is scheduled to start early in October.

Manager L. A. Friedman of the Nevada Quicksilver Company states that ore developments in the main property continues to be satisfactory. The Montgomery claims, recently purchased, are showing large bodies of splendid ore. The rotary furnace has been repaired and improved, and arrangements have been made for a heavier output of mercury. The company operates in the Antelope Springs field, east of Lovelock.

The Chollar, Gould & Curry and Savage companies have entered into an agreement to develop the promising American Flat area on the Comstock Lode at Virginia City. A powerful electric hoist is to be erected on the Overman shaft, preliminary to comprehensive mining on a huge dyke supposed to form the footwall of the historic lode.

DEPTH RECORD MAY BE SCORED

Southern California May Rob Texas of Honor

Santa Fe Springs Texaco Hole Down 8550 Feet

Successful Production Test to Achieve Goal

Not only has Southern California the deepest water well in the world, but it may also soon possess the deepest oil well in the world if the Texas Company's Patterson No. 10-A at Santa Fe Springs comes in as a producer within the next few days.

Texaco's deep hole yesterday was reported to have developed a small fishing job with bottom of the hole at 8525 feet and if that is successfully cleared up drilling will be resumed to at least 8550 feet where a production test will be made. The present depth is exactly the same as the Texon Oil and Land Company's deep producer in the Big Lake field of Reagan county, Texas.

The present depth of the Patterson No. 10-A is the deepest attained at Santa Fe Springs and is thought to be below the recognized lower Clarke sand which has proved to be so productive. Seven-inch casing was set in this deep test to 7974 feet. The hole is open to 8525 feet. From a depth of 8250 feet the formation for at least 250 feet has every indication of showing up promising, half of which is said to be oil sand.

The world's deepest oil producer in the Big Lake field, which was completed last December at 8525 feet, is putting out approximately 2750 barrels of oil per day. Should Texaco be successful at Santa Fe Springs, its producer would be about thirty feet deeper, and is expected to yield a great deal more oil than the Big Lake producer.

The Shell Oil Company's Nesa No. 11 at Signal Hill, drilled to 9280 feet to test out the lower formation, has been recemented at 9144 feet with five and three-quarter-inch casing. Four weeks ago it was cemented at the same depth but tested wet and had been yielding approximately 400 barrels of water per day until recemented.

Shell encountered showings of oil sand in the Nesa No. 11 considerably higher but did not make a production test, choosing to drill down to a new world's record depth to determine if the Signal Hill field can produce oil at such extreme depths.

BIG COPPER PRODUCERS CURTAILING

Calumet & Arizona and Phelps Dodge Outputs Show Reduction

BISBEE (Ariz.) Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—Both the Calumet and Arizona and Phelps Dodge Corporation are producing less copper than they did early in the year, having fallen in line with other big companies that have decided to cut their output 10 per cent until demand for the red metal improves. The Shattuck-Denn, however, is increasing its production.

About 1,400,000 pounds of copper were produced by Shattuck-Denn in August and the September report will probably show practically the same amount. Five hundred tons of ore are being hoisted daily from the new strike on the 2200-foot level of the Denn mine. A new hoist capable of handling 700 tons a day, has been put into commission at the Denn shaft. It is expected that this capacity will be possible when new stopes are opened.

The workings of the Denn and Shattuck have been connected to provide drainage for the Denn. Production from Shattuck is low at this time.

REVIVAL NOTED IN MINE AREAS

Activities at Winkelman and Hayden Held Gaining

Christmas Camp Reported as Rushing Operations

Angelenos Planning to Open Apex Gold Property

HAYDEN (Ariz.) Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—More mining activity is evident in the vicinity of Hayden and Winkelman than for many years. More than a score of properties are being operated, several of them on a big scale.

At the Christmas mine, 300 men are employed and the monthly pay roll is close to $50,000. The new 400-ton concentrator is operating twenty-four hours a day. Total output of the mine is 550 tons daily, but 150 tons are shipped to the Hayden smelter without preliminary treatment. The average copper content is 2 per cent.

Sixty modern houses for Christmas employees have just been built. The camp is one of the most comfortable and picturesque in Arizona, tucked away in the hills about ten miles from Winkelman.

Two Los Angeles mining men named Forest and Hill have taken over the Apex Gold Mining Company's property and are getting ready for development. The Apex has a good gold showing and the new owners hope to have it on a producing basis soon. They have also acquired the near-by Scott group, from which $300,000 worth of low-grade copper ore has been taken from the surface.

The O'Carroll group, once known as the London-Arizona, is under intensive development. The copper vein is from thirty to sixty feet wide and can be traced for one-half mile. A four-foot vein of high-grade ore was recently opened in another part of the estate.

At least eighty men are employed in two shifts by the Seventy-nine Lead and Copper Company.

MINES HOLDING UNIT LAUNCHED

Angeleno Among Organizers of Metals Products

Capital of Company Placed at $5,000,000 Total

Properties in Carlisle Area Already Acquired

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—The Metal Products Holding Company has been incorporated with a capital stock of $5,000,000 by Ralph E. Pearce of Los Angeles, E. S. Van Leer of Paso Robles, and a group of California and Chicago capitalists to operate mines in California. The corporation announces that it has acquired the Carlisle, Canada, Edison and Maple Leaf properties, embracing thirty claims in the Carlisle district, eight miles north of Cisco, and is planning extensive developments.

It proposes to develop the principal ore bodies to a depth of 2200 feet by a 1500-foot tunnel, and to arrange for steady activities throughout the long winter season. It is asserted that the ore can be profitably worked by the selective flotation process, although former owners were unable to recover values on a commercial scale. Fletcher Hamilton, former State Mineralogist of California, has been made general manager.

The Pioneer Gold Mining Company of Los Angeles announces that a new ledge, four feet wide, has been opened on its Mitchell property, two miles east of Grass Valley. The vein shows excellent mill ore its full width, with a seam of free-gold quartz. This is the second vein tapped at the property in the past month. President Frank Lassen states that installation of underground and surface equipment is under consideration by the directors.

The Central Eureka Company, working the Central Eureka and Old Eureka mines at Sutter Creek, reports the discovery of a new vein on the 4700-foot level of Central Eureka. It was found in the hanging wall and has been demonstrated for 100 feet, the material being of good mill character. A station has been established on the new 4850-foot level of the Central Eureka, and dewatering of the Old Eureka below the 220-foot level is proceeding steadily.

Construction of mine buildings is proceeding at the old Black Bear gold mine, near Sawyers Bar in Siskiyou county, with Los Angeles investors reported as being interested. The mine for many years ranked among the spectacular gold producers of California, and recent work is said to have exposed strong ledges of commercial ore.

NEW FIELD MAKING BID FOR NOTICE

Temblor Hills Section Becoming Most Active Wildcat Area

TEMBLOR HILLS, Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—The Temblor Hills district is becoming one of the most active oil prospecting territories on the west side of Kern county. With E. L. Blanck and associates expecting to spud in shortly and Kent & McDonald about ready to drill, interest is centered on the possibility for production in two other wells now being drilled.

The Lincoln Drilling Company has plugged back its No. 1 hole on Sec. 18, 32-23 from 1028 to 1014 feet and the hole has been bailed dry. The casing is set at 978 feet and officials believe that production may be gained at a comparatively shallow depth.

The Union Oil Company has struck water in its Williams No. 1 well on Sec. 22, 32-23 and is recementing casing at a depth of 1205 feet. Bottom of the hole is at 2890 feet.

DRILLING RESUMED

Porter Project at Devil's Den Again in Operation

DEVIL'S DEN, Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—Drilling has been resumed at the H. B. Porter No. 1 well, on Section 8, 24-17, in this district. Work was held up while the cement was setting after the sixteen-inch casing was landed at 1201 feet.

The hole is now going down below 1250 feet with the drill in blue shale. It is the only active drilling job in this area at the present time.

GOLD DIGGINGS ON YUBA RIVER SOLD

The Nevada City Nugget says that the River Mines Company holdings on the Yuba River have been transferred to the Empire Mines. This is one of the largest placer properties in California, including vast gravel deposits, water holdings, ditches and rights of way. The famous Malakoff workings at North Bloomfield are a part of the property. No intimation is given of the purpose of the transfer or the plans of the Empire company.

SHIPMENTS OF ORE BY COMANCHE TOLD

The Comanche Mining and Refining Company of Los Angeles is shipping two carloads of highgrade ore monthly from the Blind Springs Hill property in Mono county. Ore shipped is running $119 to $140 a ton in silver, copper and gold. Output is to be doubled shortly and plans are being made for the installation of a 100-ton oil flotation mill.

BAKERSFIELD WELL OUTPUT INCREASES

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—The Standard Oil Company's well at the edge of the city limits of Bakersfield on Oak street has increased its production from fifty to 100 barrels daily on the pump. It is located on Section 24, 29-27 between Bakersfield and the Fruitvale field.

RARE MINERALS, METALLURGY, CHEMISTRY

Qualitative analysis will be given in this department of The Times to correspondents on ores and minerals free of charge. Make each sample of an ounce or so in weight. Be sure to write a letter stating what tests are desired and give the approximate locality from which samples were taken. Do not pulverize the specimens. Give your name and address on paper wrapped with samples.

Radioactive

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 15.—Question: This sample is supposed to be a radioactive member of the Columbite-Tantalite group containing no Titanium. It has a specific gravity of 595 and was found near Santa Fe, N. M. What I wish is that a quantitative chemical analysis be made. X.

Answer: Quantitative analyses are seldom made by this department of The Times. Your sample consists of two specimens and they somewhat differ, both being the mineral Samarskite—a tantalate and columbate of uranium. The specific gravity of the two specimens is 585 when weighed together. Niobic and scheelic acids are present; both samples are radioactive, and there is approximately 15 per cent Uranium present. New Mexico is probably a new locality for this rare mineral.

Correctly Diagnosed

PASADENA, Sept. 15. Q.: Having been subscribers to The Times in our family since 1886, and the undersigned always an interested reader of "In the Earth" the latter now for the first time wishes to avail himself of the privileges extended by your department. The two samples herewith are from the same specimen of rock obtained in the mountains west of Cajon Pass, San Bernardino county, California. Am I correct in "diagnosing" the predominating greenish mineral as actinolite, and the soft grayish material talc? If not please give the correct names. X.

A.: It is a pleasure to answer your good letter and congratulations to you and yours as subscribers of The Times. It may be that each of us had our "suspicions" that the greenish matter might be of andalusite or cyanite (?) but both specimens are actinolite. The "dark brown" traces of material in the larger sample are altered iron-alumina garnet.

Specular Hematite

CENTRAL (N. M.) Sept. 15. Q.: I am inclosing a sample of some mineral found in the mountains north of here. No one in this vicinity can tell me what it is. Can you kindly let me know through In the Earth column of The Times what it is. It carries flakes that look like copper, but it is not copper. Thanking you.

AN OLD SUBSCRIBER.

A.: The sample is a very brilliant specimen of micaceous iron ore in flakes of quite large sizes. At certain angles it shows iridescent colors when looked upon with a magnifying glass. Nice samples for colleges are represented by the specimen.

Hydrocarbons Not Indicated

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 16. Q.:—Is this asphaltic sand, and is it a good indication of oil? Found in Kings county. S.

Not Pollucite

DARWIN, Sept. 16. Q.:—Kindly advise if inclosed sample is Pollucite. T.

A.: It is simply quartz.

Granular Matter

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 16. Q.:—General analysis. Locality San Bernardino county. F.

A.: Qualitative only. The specimen carries quartz, magnetite, limonite, garnet, feldspar, mica, hornblende, and probably represents no commercial value.

Five Samples

EL SEGUNDO, Sept. 17. Q.:—Inclosed are five samples which a friend desires to have analyzed. Locations, where found not known. We would appreciate your telling us what the different samples are composed of. H. M. F.

A.: The specimens calling for special work were put aside during a period when quite a number of "no localities" were received for tests. No. 1 is rather small for satisfactory tests; it is an ore of zinc, however. No. 2 is massive altered epidote; locality probably Riverside county. No. 3 is massive Franklinite with red zincite—locality probably Franklin Furnace, N. J. No. 4 is silica. No. 5 is probably a mixture of sulphides, and it is uncertain that it comes from you notwithstanding by first-class mail—the package was opened when received. It would be a pleasure to test a duplicate specimen for you.

Three Samples

PAROWAN (Utah) Sept. 17. Q.:—I am sending you three specimens for analyses. Please give me the results of tests. W. C. D.

A.: No. 1 is not a mineral; it is an artificial product known as Ferromanganese. No. 2 is specular hematite. No. 3 reacts as impure clay in part low-grade Bentonite, and it was not tested for phosphates. Please give approximate localities where found in your next.

Two Specimens

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 18. Q.:—I am sending you by separate mail two samples of mineral from Nye county, Nevada. Is No. 1 a concentrating ore? Would like to know if No. 2 is pure kaolin. M. M.

A.: No. 1 is a problematical concentrating ore. It might by flotation processes save values. All depends on what it shows by fire assay returns in gold and silver. No. 2 is in part kaolinite; it reacts—more or less—for sulphur anhydride.

Calcium Carbonate

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 18. Q.:—I would like to know if sample inclosed is good cement ore, and what grade of cement it will make. Location Riverside county. I have read your reports on minerals for thirty years.

OLD DIAMOND DICK.

A.: Not quite thirty years, Dick! Count from October 3, 1903. The sample is a bluish-white "sugar calcium carbonate" and is not Rosendale cement rock for the reason that it carries no clay, but little silica, and no iron oxides. You might offer samples as a cement ingredient to the Portland cement industry.

Maganese Dioxide

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 19. Q.:—General analysis. Found near Silver City, N. M. W. C. S.

Magnetite

HOLTVILLE, Sept. 19. Q.:—Am inclosing sample of heavy, black rock from San Diego county. Am looking for Chromite. Please give results of analysis through In the Earth column, and oblige. T.

A.: There is a low percentage of Chromite in the specimen, but not sufficient for commercial value.

Quartz

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 19. Q.:—Will appreciate a classification and qualitative analysis of the inclosed sample from Nicaragua, C. A. B.

A.: The quartz carries pyrite (iron disulphide) and probably will give fire assay returns for gold.

Not Talc

LAS VEGAS (Nev.) Sept. 19. Q.: I am sending you some clay or talc as there are people here looking for clay as a substitute for zinc in rubber. Does the sample contain any commercial values, or might it be used as a fire clay?

PROSPECTOR.

A.: Doubtful fire clay. The samples are low-grade hydrous magnesium and aluminum silicates contaminated with iron. Values problematical.

NEAR COMPLETION

Republic Well in Midway Field Due in Shortly

TAFT, Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—Down more than 3300 feet and in oil sand with heavy gas pressure, the Republic Oil Company's No. 32 well on Sec. 8, 32-23 of the Midway district, is nearing completion. The hole had an original depth of 4434 feet, but was plugged back to 3160 feet and redrilled from that point. The ten and three-fourth-inch casing is set at 1949 feet.

Republic's No. 25 well on the same section is drilling ahead after having straightened the hole. The depth is 2675 feet.

WEBB RULES ON LAW CONCERNING INSANITY

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 29. (AP)—Atty.-Gen. U. S. Webb rendered a decision today for the Department of Institutions that all insane and inebriate inmates admitted to State hospitals before August 15, 1929, were not affected by the provision which strikes out from the list of charges against the estate of patients, the costs and charges of their commitment.

REPORT CF RICH ORE CONFIRMED

Round Mountain Mine Chief Tells of Strike

Says Find Made in Entirely Virgin Ground

Angeleno Group Gets Option on Tungsten Mine

TONOPAH (Nev.) Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—Discovery of a massive vein of commercial ore in the Round Mountain mine, at Round Mountain, has been confirmed by Louis D. Gordon, general manager. The ore body was uncovered thirty-five feet from surface, is forty-five feet wide, samples $6 in gold per ton, and parallels the great Los Gazabo vein.

Manager Gordon states that the ore body is entirely virgin, and seems certain to yield an immense tonnage of profitable ore. The discovery will assure the installation of steam shovels and the building of a 1000-ton mill by the Nevada Porphyrys Gold Mines Company, controlled by Thomas F. Cole and associates.

This corporation holds practically all the important lode and placer properties under option at Round Mountain, and controls approximately 4000 acres of mineral ground. About $75,000 has been expended this year in sampling the deposits. The corporation has completed sampling of extensive placer areas near Manhattan, and is reported to be contemplating construction of a dredger.

Los Angeles interests have optioned the extensive Siri tungsten deposits, nine miles from Hawthorne, according to John Siri, the owner. The property is credited with containing veins of tungsten five to twelve feet wide, with ore sampling 5 to 10 per cent tungsten. A large tonnage of profitable ore is said to be exposed, with placers below the huge outcrops promising to yield good returns.

Development of cinnabar deposits in the Ned's Cache properties, at the eastern end of Nye county, has proved so satisfactory that the owners are preparing for early installation of a rotary furnace. The mines are owned by Joseph Stokes and Paul Wengert of Los Angeles. The shaft is being deepened and preparations made for extensive lateral work.

Production began last week from the Gilbert lease on the Mammoth-Last Hope group at Gilbert. The lease that reports ore has been developed on the 160, 200 and 300-foot levels, and that shipments will average sixty tons weekly. Ore is trucked to the Millers plant of the Tonopah Mining Company.

SHAFT CONTRACT LET

OATMAN (Ariz.) Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—The Hartman Gold Mines Company has awarded Pete Vukoye, of Kingman a contract to extend the crosscut from 500-foot level of the Oatman Gold shaft, to the Kokomo vein.

It is believed that the vein lies about 400 feet ahead of the present heading. It will be intersected at a depth of about 1000 feet under the outcrop.

This crosscut has already intersected the Hartman vein, which shows good gold values.

"OLD-TIMER" FETE PLANNED

TULSA (Okla.) Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—In undertaking its extensive program to honor the veterans of the petroleum industry, the International Petroleum Exposition and Congress, according to William G. Skelley, president of the oil show, has the field to itself.

To Col. Edwin L. Drake there is one monument, and this is a modest stone at the site of his well, at Titusville, Pa., which in 1895 gave birth to what is now the $12,000,000,000 petroleum industry. The pioneers of the oil industry organization will be chartered this year at the International Petroleum Exposition which will be held October 5-12, and the purpose will be to better veterans' conditions.

In its plans, the association proposes to build a home for the old-timers, where veterans may spend their last days in the atmosphere that has pervaded their lives for nearly three-quarters of a century.

Every year, the International Petroleum Exposition makes a search for these veterans. This year, old-timers' day will be October 9, when the ballots will be counted to determine the new members of the pioneers' association. A "Grand Old Man of the Oil Industry" will be named and Tulsa's most popular veteran will preside.

Veterans present at last year's election and the number of years each has been in the industry, follow:

S. M. Morrison, Coffeyville, Kan., 57 years; W. P. Roach, Oilton, Pa., 54 years; I. W. Hunter, Tulsa, 58 years; John W. Gray, Marietta, O., 65 years; J. A. Kennedy, Tulsa, 63 years; F. G. Viger, Tulsa, 55 years; Hugh V. McKivern, Tulsa, 53 years; Uncle Joe Evans, 61 years; W. H. McFadden, Ponca City, 47 years; Andrew Jackson Saunders, Claremore, 71 years; James Amm, New York, 63 years; Alex Stephenson, Tulsa, 67 years; Charles Haas, Austin, Tex., 61 years; William Sinclair, Humble, Kan., 63 years; E. L. Fowler, Tulsa, 67 years; Barney Horrigan, Tulsa, 33 years; W. P. De Laney, Fort Worth, 59 years.

TOM REED PUMP ON WAY TO MINE

Huge Project Being Hauled from Kingman

Work of Installation Will Start at Once

Shaft Deepening Booked to Follow Operation

OATMAN (Ariz.) Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—Loaded on two flat cars, the big pump that is to be installed on the 800-foot level at the Tom Reed mine, arrived in Kingman a few days ago. It is now being freighted out to this point. Two carloads of pipe, connections and smaller machinery to complete the pump equipment are expected any day, including a 300-horsepower electric motor.

The sump on the 800-foot level is already finished and ready to receive water pumped up from the 950-foot level, where the rich strike was recently made. From there the big pump will lift it to the surface.

When equipment to handle the water has been installed the shaft will be continued on down to a lower level, where the vein exposed on the 950-foot level will again be developed. In the meantime work on the east drift along the vein on the 950-foot level has been discontinued seventy feet from the United American line. It was still in ore at that point.

General Manager Oscar R. Howard and Albert Burch, consulting engineer of the Tom Reed Company, have been spending much time at the mine recently mapping out future development.

Robert Milne, superintendent of the Gold Road, expects to have the Gold Road mill in operation after October 1. Work of sinking the United American main shaft to greater depth is well under way. It is planned to let a contract and have the shaft put down to at least 1000 feet.

EX-CONVICTS RUSE PUNCTURED

Released Prisoner Pretends to Be Deaf Mute to Wrong Man

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—Frank Nevin, recently released from Folsom, stopped at a house in the Richmond district and presented a pad on which he had written he was deaf and dumb and had to beg for a living.

It happened to be the home of Police Officer Edward O'Day.

"Don't kid me; you can talk as well as I can."

"I can not," blurted Nevin.

So he's back in jail again.

OAKLAND TO ENTERTAIN CITY LEAGUE

Varied Events Planned for Representation of Municipalities

OAKLAND (Cal.) Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—Business will be the order of the day, but time will be found for a series of special events when delegates assemble here for the annual convention of the League of California Municipalities, October 7 to 11.

There will be a public reception October 7 at Hotel Oakland with a welcoming address by Mayor John L. Davie and others. On Tuesday the visitors will inspect the harbor and the new Oakland-Alameda vehicular tunnel, making the harbor trip in a large ferry steamer. At noon on October 9 the city attorney's section will be entertained at luncheon.

The health officers will hold their section dinner October 9, in Hayward where community leaders are making special arrangements for their entertainment. On the evening of the same day all delegates will attend the industrial athletic and sports exhibition in the Oakland Auditorium, this to be followed by a dance.

On October 10 the Oakland Engineers' Club will give a dinner to the visiting engineers among the delegates. Visiting women are to be entertained on the same day by the Business and Professional Women's Club. On the afternoon of this day the airport will be visited and inspected. The annual closing banquet will be held in the evening.

The engineers will go to the Pardee Dam above Stockton, a part of the $39,000,000 Mokelumne water project, on the morning of October 11.

Theaters Used as Hotels for Tourist Crowd

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—So many people have been visiting Copenhagen that during the last few weeks a tourist bureau had to rent two cinemas in the middle of the town and admit its patrons for the night after the final film performances.

A cinema chair is a long way from the comfort of a hotel bed, but so many tourists preferred it to promenading out of doors for the night that the "house full" placards were utilized.

SURGERY MAKES GREAT ADVANCE

Crippled Children Treated by New Methods

Buckles, Braces and Casts Being Displaced

College of Surgeons Will Discuss Changes

CHICAGO, Sept. 29. (Exclusive) Buckles, braces and casts are rapidly being displaced in th treatment of the deformities of crippled children. In place of these painful and often inefficient devices, modern surgery is developing a technic of bone grafting, tendon transplantation and stabilizing operations which, in a large percentage of cases is successfully correcting deformities.

Evidence of this will be presented in the various surgical demonstrations held in Chicago during the clinical congress of the American College of Surgeons, October 14 to 18.

EFFECTS OF TREATMENT

Plans for the demonstrations to be given by noted orthopedic surgeons, were announced yesterday by Dr. Philip H. Kreuscher, president of the Chicago chapter of the college. These clinics will show what surgery is accomplishing to make useful citizens of the 265,000 crippled children in the United States. It is estimated that 80 per cent of these cases can be improved and that at least 25 per cent can be made self-supporting.

In order to extend the application of approved treatment methods now at the command of the physician and surgeon, the College of Surgeons will seek to further the education of the public in the prevention of deformity-causing diseases, and the proper care of such deformities when they do occur. A second step will be to co-operate with physicians and hospitals through dissemination of knowledge of the latest scientific advances and approved forms of treatment for the early care of the crippled child.

A further movement which the college is considering as a possible third step, is the encouragement of legislation requiring the registration of crippled children with local departments of health to facilitate supervision and treatment.

NATIONAL PROBLEM

"That the care of the destitute and crippled child has become a national problem," said Dr. Kreuscher, "is evidenced by the fact that President Hoover recently appointed a commission on child welfare as a part of his public-health program.

"A survey made by the International Society for Crippled Children shows that there are more than 500,000 cripples in the United States. Of these, 265,000 are under 16 years of age. Eighty-eight thousand are crippled as a result of infantile paralysis. To this long list 17,000 names are added annually.

"From an equally reliable source it is shown that for each 100,000 population there are 1500 crippled children, 80 per cent of whom are children of indigent parents.

CAUSE OF DEFORMITY

"Deformities among children arise chiefly from tuberculosis, infantile paralysis, rickets and congenital malformations.

"The prevalence of deformities from tuberculosis has been very materially reduced since the mortality of that disease has decreased 41 per cent in the last decade. This decrease is partly due, without doubt, to the better understanding on the part of the public as to the prevention of tuberculosis but much more to the fact that milk from tuberculosis cows and unpasteurized milk has been largely excluded from the diet of children.

"Not so encouraging is the report concerning infantile paralysis from Illinois and three surrounding States. In this disease the number of reported cases for 1927 was exceeded only by the reports of 1921. In Chicago the number of reported cases in 1927, the latest statistics available, was greater by far than in any other year in the last decade.

"Rickets, largely a preventable disease, still is the cause of about 25 per cent of children's deformities.

"Billions are being spent each year for education but only paltry thousands for physical reconstruction and rehabilitation in the reclaiming of the crippled child.

"In view of the fact that upward of 80 per cent of cripples are children of poor parents, it becomes obvious that the municipality, the State and even the Federal government must assist in this important work.

"Improvement in the social and economic status of the crippled child will be accomplished more successfully when the various agencies now working more or less independently and often inefficiently, combine their efforts with those of the organized medical and surgical profession."

Quiet Sought in Planning of Berlin's Homes

BERLIN, Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—The corporations that build nearly all Berlin's new houses have determined to help the tenants escape street noises. Blocks of apartments are constructed with delightful courtyards laid out with lawns and planted trees. All the living-rooms face these courtyards, and you may sit at your window or on your balcony with a charming view and no more than a distant rumble in your ears from the traffic of the streets.

The city's week-end traffic might be a lot worse, for the Berliner is a great week-ender. Fortunately, however, he goes afoot more often than not, even if he has a car. The lake-spangled forest of Spreewald and the Wannsee encourage the city dweller to take real exercise and to listen to other notes than those of street noises.

HUGE PARK PLANNED

MONTREAL, Sept. 29. (AP)—A provincial park, 1200 miles in area, is to be opened soon by the Province of Quebec in the Laurentia Mountains, eighty miles north of Montreal.

PAN-AMERICAN HISTORY MAPPED

Geography of Americas to Be Included

Maps of Communication Lines Planned

Many Countries to Join in Endeavor

BY JACK STARR-HUNT

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—Publication of a history and geography of the Americas to be completed before 1935, and the publication of a year book of geography and history of the Americas to be begun in 1930 are among the projects of the new Pan-American Institute of Geography and History, which was organized at a meeting just closed in Mexico City.

A map of the Americas will also be made by the institute. This map is to show the various routes of communication as completely as possible.

The first scientific meeting of the new institute is to be held in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, in 1932, it was decided at the Mexico City convention.

OFFICERS NAMED

The delegates at Mexico City elected Dr. Salvador Massip, a graduate of Columbia University, New York, and geographer of the University of Cuba, president of the organization. Conde de Alfonso Celso, president of the Brazilian Institute of Geography and History, and Roberto Andrade, historian of Ecuador, were named vice-presidents.

Dr. William Bowie of Washington, D. C., who is with the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey and who represented the United States Department of Commerce and the National Geographic Society at the Mexico City convention, was elected honorary president of the institution. Dr. J. Toribio Medina of Chile, prominent bibliographer, was named honorary vice-president.

Pedro C. Sanchez, for many years chief of the Direction of Geographical and Climatological Studies of the Mexican Ministry of Agriculture, is the active director of the institution in Mexico, permanent seat of the organization.

AMERICAN DELEGATES

Three delegates represented the United States at the Mexico City meeting. They were: Lawrence Martin, chief of the division of maps of the Library of Congress in Washington and president of the Association of American Geographers, chairman; Prof. George B. Winton of Vanderbilt University, Nashville, and Dr. Bowie.

James Alexander Robertson, an American historian who is editor of the Pan-American Review and director of the Historical Society of the State of Florida, was elected a member of the executive committee.

Canada, Spain, and Portugal will be invited to send honorary delegates to the 1932 Rio de Janeiro meeting, it was decided at the Congress here.

The future work of the institute will include the organization by a committee of two geographers and two historians of a library and museum to contain books and maps.

The Mexico City organization meetings were attended by delegates from every Pan-American country with the exception of Argentina and Venezuela. The sessions lasted five days, and between meetings excursions were made to the historical and archeological marvels not far distant from this capital.

WORK DIVIDED

The geographical work of the institute has been divided into topography, chartography, geodesy, geomorphology, and human geography, ethnography, and historic, biological and economic geography.

Two historical sections have been organized, one including the study of prehistory, pre-Columbian history, and archeology of America, and the history of the Colonial epoch. The second section includes the study of modern history of the Americas, involving the periods of the wars of independence from the Old World, and the periods of subsequent independent epochs.

A yearly budget of $55,000 was decided upon at the organization meeting here, the budget to be based on quotas of $250 per million inhabitants of each country.

The amounts in round figures each country is to pay yearly toward the work follow: Argentina, $2700; Bolivia, $1000; Brazil, $8000; Chile, $1250; Colombia, $1750; Costa Rica, $250; Cuba, $1000; Dominican Republic, $250; Ecuador, $750; Guatemala, $750; Haiti, $750; Honduras, $250; Mexico, $3750; Nicaragua, $250; Panama, $250; Paraguay, $500; Peru, $1500; El Salvador, $750; United States, $32,000; Paraguay, $500; Venezuela, $750.

Dr. Bowie outlined the importance of the new scientific society as follows at the convention here:

"There is a close association between history and geography, and, in fact, it is impossible to divorce the two. The historian cannot properly discover and interpret the motives that impelled a group of people to behave in a certain way unless he knows the geographic background. The character of the climate and terrain, the absence or presence of rivers and streams or ocean fronts, have a tremendous bearing on the trend of a tribe or a nation.

"We have heard in recent times much of the application of science to agriculture, industry, commerce and communication, but science can only go so far in bettering the condition of humanity without geographical knowledge. The geographer must supplement the work of the chemist, the physicist, and the engineer, for without that background the other sciences cannot efficiently utilize the resources of nature.

MAPS NEEDED

"Civilization will be greatly advanced by an early mapping of the world. Maps are still very inadequate, although mapping has been done extensively in the United States. Only 43 per cent of the area has as yet been topographically surveyed, and many of the map sheets do not serve the purposes of mining, agriculture, the development of hydro-electric power, the extension of transportation systems, and systems for communication and the transmission of power, because they were made by inadequate methods.

"Geographical studies are especially important to the Latin American countries, because only rich nations can afford to proceed in a slipshod way and develop their natural resources and industries without having previously studied the geographical environment.

"The Western Hemisphere is new to civilized man, for it is less than 450 years since Columbus discovered the New World. We must develop and utilize its natural resources as far as our present needs demand, but we must not impoverish those generations which are to follow us. In the economic development and utilization of resources the geographer must play an important role, and the Pan-American Institute of Geography and History can expert a great influence for good by outlining general geographical problems pressing to be solved, and by disseminating geographical data already existing, but not generally known."

DOG MISSES OLD AUTOMOBILE

Strange Attachment Found for Car in Which It Rode When Puppy

WACO (Tex.) Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—Dogs have loved men for all recorded time, but Judge, an Airedale here, belonging to R. S. Vaughan, local searcher of titles, developed a strong devotion to an automobile owned for several years by Mr. Vaughan. A new car recently succeeded the old and Judge is inconsolable, howling and whining and looking for the car in which he rode as a pup. When the new, shiny car stands in the driveway beside the house the dog will not even pass it, but dodges into the yard of a neighbor to reach the Vaughan back yard.

PRINCESS MARY FOND OF COUNTRY

She Spends Her Time in Rabbit Breeding and Needlework

LONDON, Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—The Queen intends to spend a few days with her daughter, Princess Mary, at Goldsborough Hall, before the court returns to London this next month.

The Princess is very fond of her Yorkshire home, for there she can dispense with ceremony and live the country life she loves. There is a small farm attached to the hall, where she has quite a large rabbitry. She has always been interested in rabbit breeding, and has been particularly successful with blue Beverens, with which she has taken a lot of prizes at Yorkshire shows.

Princess Mary likes the quietness of Goldsborough, too, because it gives her an opportunity to practice the piano. She is very fond of music, and the simple ballad appeals to her more than the elaborate aria. Her favorite song is "Danny Boy," sung to the tune of the Londonderry Air. Her younger son, Gerald, shares his mother's love of music, but the elder, Master George, prefers literature, and has already decided he will be a novelist.

Princess Mary has her piano in her boudoir, an exquisitely paneled room of which the predominating color is blue, and it is here, too, that she does a great deal of the art needlework for which she is justly famous. The Princess is clever at petit point, and among her achievements is a set of chair seats done in the Jacobean manner.

There have recently been interior alterations at Goldsborough Hall, which the Queen is eager to see, and she is interested, too, in the Japanese garden that her daughter is having made from a plan the Queen sketched.

WAR GUILT ISSUE PUSHED TO FORE

Steel Helmet Body Demands Plebiscite in Germany

Bill Seeks Annulment of Clauses in Treaty

Leaders Regard Nationalist Move as Inopportune

BERLIN, Sept. 29. (AP) — After months of propaganda, the first definite step toward a proposed plebiscite in Germany on the "war guilt" question and the Young plan was taken yesterday when a bill formally was submitted to the Minister of the Interior by leaders of the Steel Helmet organization.

The law, which is called a bill for a plebiscite "against the enslavement of the German people," was submitted by Alfred Hugenberg, prominent industrial magnate and Nationalist leader, and Franz Seldte. Hugenberg and Seldte signed the bill as official representatives of the Steel Helmet's national plebiscite committee and German Nationalist party. In addition 5000 signatures were attached.

PROVISIONS OF BILL

The bill is as follows:

(1.) The German government shall notify all foreign powers immediately and solemnly that the enforced acknowledgment of the war guilt in the treaty of Versailles is contrary to historical truth, is based on false pretenses and is not binding in international law.

(2.) The German government shall use all endeavors to obtain the annulment of the war-guilt acacknowledgment contained in Article 231 and Articles 429 and 430 of the Treaty of Versailles. It also shall undertake to obtain the immediate and unconditional evacuation of the occupied German territories, without any remaining control commissions, independently of the acceptance or the rejection of The Hague convention.

(3.) No further financial burdens or obligations based on the war-guilt acknowledgment shall be assumed, inclusive of those arising from the recommendations of the Paris reparations experts.

(4.) Chancellor and Ministers or representatives of the Reich who lend their signatures to agreements contrary to the provisions of Paragraph 3 shall render themselves liable to prosecution for high treason.

(5.) This law enters into force at the moment of its proclamation.

CALLED INOPPORTUNE

In government circles the Nationalist move is declared to be highly inopportune and embarrassing. For, if the plebiscite bill fails—which is regarded as a foregone conclusion—it permits Germany's former foes to infer that the German people do not wish the war guilt stain to be removed. It is contended that nothing could be farther from the truth, but it is sheer folly, it is declared in these quarters, to threaten the government's accredited representatives with prosecution for high treason for accepting the Young plan and therewith the liberation of the Rhineland as an important step in a forward direction.

As for the practical side of the issue, the fate of the Nationalist bill hinges on the improbable contingency that one-third of the Reichstag, 164 of 491 members, can be found to vote for shelving the enforcement of the Young plan. Even then 2,000,000 signatures of electors would be needed to hold a plebiscite, while 4,000,000 signatures would be needed if the necessary one-third vote in the Reichstag should be unobtainable.

But when it comes to the plebiscite itself, no one here imagines that 21,000,000 Germans, one-half of the electorate, can be induced to register their assent to the Nationalist demand.

Group Watches Cereus Bloom

VISALIA, Sept. 29.—A night-blooming cereus, presented to Mrs. Mineola Harris of this city by her mother, Mrs. J. C. Williams of Modesto, unfolded its blossoms one evening this week before a group of friends of its owner.

At dusk the buds began to expand and by midnight the plant was a mass of gorgeous flowerets. The plant is thirty years old and has bloomed three times.

Cargo in Air Mail Worth Millions

OAKLAND, Sept. 29. (AP)—An air-mail shipment of securities valued at more than $75,000,000, consisting of certificates of Transamerica Corporation, left Oakland Airport tonight for delivery Tuesday in New York City. The shipment is carried by Boeing Air Transport transcontinental air mail.

The securities are contained in 15,000 letters and represent a 150 per cent stock dividend for shareholders of the bank living east of the Mississippi River. But one business day will be lost in the transfer if it is completed on time.

NEW RECORD SET ON TYPEWRITER

George Hossfield Regains His Championship at Rate of 135 Words a Minute

TORONTO (Ont.) Sept. 29. (AP)—A new world record for speed typewriting contest was made last night by George Hossfield of Paterson, N. J. Regaining the championship which he lost last year at Sacramento, Cal., he defeated Elbert Tangora, also of Paterson, by writing 135 words a minute for an hour. By doing this, he bettered his own record of 133 words per minute set in 1927.

The amateur typewriting championship was won by Chester Soucek of Coraopolis, Pa., who wrote 118 words per minute for thirty minutes.

SENATE RACES STUMP LEADERS

New England Republican Situation Uncertain

Gillett and Gould Silent on Their Plans

Ex-President Coolidge Not Likely to Run

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29. (AP)—The silence of Senators Frederick H. Gillett of Massachusetts and Arthur R. Gould of Maine as to whether they will be candidates for renomination is complicating the Republican political situation in New England in the view of some leaders of the party here.

The situation in Massachusetts is of particular interest both because of the factional differences within the party organization and the looming on the horizon of what are described as contingent candidates—former Gov. Alvan T. Fuller and Eben S. Draper, who polled around 140,000 votes in the last Republican Senatorial primary. The contingency is whether Senator Gillett offers himself for renomination.

GILLETT STILL SILENT

Senator Gillett, who will be 78 years of age next month, is keeping his own counsel as to his intentions, although some time ago he was quoted as having said that he would retire from the field if former President Coolidge desired to offer for the Senate. The consensus among Republican leaders here generally is that Mr. Coolidge will not enter the Senatorial political arena.

In Maine, two candidates for the Republican nomination to the place now held by Mr. Gould are in the field—Representative Wallace H. White, who has served twelve years in the House, and former Gov. Ralph O. Brewster. While Senator Gould gave out a statement in Paris some time ago that he would not be a candidate to succeed himself unless this should become necessary in order to defeat Mr. Brewster, he declines now to indicate whether he will run.

"I will make my position clear at the proper time," he said.

However, a number of his friends are of the opinion that he will seek to continue in the place to which he was elected three years ago to fill out the unexpired term of the late Senator Fernald.

DEMOCRATS HOPEFUL

Taking advantage of the situation in which the Republicans find themselves in Massachusetts, the Democrats are planning to conduct a vigorous campaign there and entertain high hope of electing a second man of their party to the Senate to sit with David I. Walsh. There is some talk now that the principal candidates for the Democratic nomination will be former Mayor Sydney Peters of Boston and Marcus Coolidge of Fitchburg.

In Rhode Island, the Republicans have composed internal differences and Senator Metcalf is expected to be renominated without opposition. In the general campaign preceding the elections in November of next year he will find himself opposed by Peter G. Gerry, Democrat, who was defeated last November after long service in the Senate.

Senatorial elections also are to be held next year in New Hampshire, with the possibility that former Gov. John G. Winant will oppose Senator Keyes for the Republican nomination. The Republicans anticipate no difficulty in electing their candidates in both New Hampshire and Maine in the general election.

Vermont and Connecticut, the other New England States, hold their next Senatorial elections in 1932.

Fascist Leader Causes Straw Hat Popularity

ROME, Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—The summer just past was a great season for straw hats, and an enormous range of colored hatbands is still to be seen. It is largely the result of Deputy Turati's circular, which he issued as chief of the Fascist University groups.

It said that "the sailor straw hat, besides being an economical form of headgear, gives the student an air of juvenile elegance. University men, by wearing it, will be able to contribute to the prosperity of the nation."

The straw-hat makers were pleased. They had been protesting for years against the bareheaded vogue.

The Italian undergraduate's hatband denotes what course he is taking—law, medicine, literature, engineering and so on. He wears in addition a narrower band showing which university he is attending.

AGED DOG WAR HERO DIES

Jack of Putney Drove Rats Out of Trenches for Tommies

LONDON, Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—One of the dog heroes of the World War, Jack of Putney, is dead at the age of 22, having succumbed in the arms of his mistress in a London home, where the animal had rested since the armistice.

Unperturbed by the din of battle, Jack moved in and out of the British trenches doing his part in checking the great menace—the rat invasion. Jack killed more than 1000 rats before he was gassed after three years of service in the trenches and invalided. He was returned home by the army.

PLATICAS DE LOS LUNES

POR EL PROFESOR RAMON GUERRERO

En el quinto párrafo de mi Plática anterior dice "exhortativos" por "exhortativas"; y en el sexto, "no estudes" por "no estudies".

Cuando el mandato o la prohibición, sigue diciendo la Enciclopedia de Espasa, se expresan de un modo absoluto, sin relación a tiempo o lugar, podemos substituir el imperativo, en segunda persona, por el futuro imperfecto de indicativo; v. gr., "Amarás a tu Dios sobre todas las cosas"; no matarás"; "no jurarás en vano". Y también sin la anterior limitación, aunque más raramente, podemos emplear en el mandato el futuro en segunda y tercera persona; v. gr., "me traerás la respuesta"; "irá usted"; "vendrán ellos". También usamos a veces el infinitivo para exhortar, mandar o prohibir; y así suele decirse, "¡callar!", "¡obedecer!", en vez de "¡callad!", "¡obedeced!", o "callen ustedes", "obedezcan"; y de igual modo, "¡no correr!", "¡no alborotar!", "¡no mentir!", en vez de "no corras, no corráis, o no corran"; "no alborotes, no alborotéis, o no alboroten"; "no mientas, no mintáis, o no mientan". Con este valor se usa también el infinitivo con la preposición "a"; v. gr., "¡a callar!", "¡a cenar!"; y junto con un nombre, que toma entonces el mismo valor de imperativo; v. gr., "¡paciencia y barajar!"; "¡mucho ánimo y a luchar!" Del mismo modo decimos con el nombre solo, "¡paciencia"!", por "ten, o tened, paciencia"; "¡silencio!", por "calla, callad, o guardad silencio". Finalmente, para suavizar la aspereza del mandato o expresar el deseo con modestia y cortesía, nos servimos a veces de los verbos "querer" y "desear" en el modo potencial o en la forma en "ra" del pretérito imperfecto de subjuntivo; y decimos, "desearía que me acompañases", por "ven conmigo"; "quisiera que usted me oyese dos palabras", en vez de "óigame usted".

A lo que acaba de transcribir, debe agregar quien escribe estas Pláticas que, en español, como ocurre en otras lenguas, son muy variadas las formas verbales que podemos emplear para ordenar; en muchas ocasiones sólo por la entonación puede determinarse si una frase es imperativa, o meramente declarativa. La oración, "comes a medio día" (you dine at miday), que sería sólo aseverativa, si con ella nos limitáramos a enunciar un acto habitual de la persona a quien hablamos, se convertiría en imperativa cambiando de tono y diciendo a esa misma persona: "comes a medio día; te vas inmediatamente después a la escuela; al salir de ésta, pasas a la carnicería y me compras tres libras de carne de puerco". He ahí una cláusula compuesta de oraciones cuyos verbos están en presente de indicativo, y que son, sin embargo, claramente imperativas.

La niña Celia nos dice luego que "está cosiendo de verdad y haciendo grandes puntadas"; y pudo también habernos dicho, sin alterar el sentido, que "está cosiendo de veras" (in earnest), para hacernos saber que se trata de una labor seria y no de un juego. Los niños suelen decir incorrectamente, "estoy cosiendo de de veras"; "me dio mi padrino un caballo de de veras", en vez de "cosiendo de veras o de verdad", "un caballo de veras o de verdad" (real live horse). La locución antónima es "de mentiras", "de mentirillas" o "de mentirijillas": "estoy cosiendo de mentiras" (just for fun); "me regalaron un caballo de mentirillas" (toy, make-believe, horse); "se murió el cómico de mentirijillas" (he feigned death).

"Puntada" (stitch) es el espacio que media entre dos agujeros próximos en una tela que se cose, o la porción de hilo que ocupa este espacio. La expresión figurada "no dar puntada" significa no dar paso en un negocio; quiere decir también, no tener ningún conocimiento en una materia, hablar acerca de ella desatinadamente.

Cuando la puntada es larga, y sirve nadamás para marcar, asegurar y preparar lo que ha de coserse en firme después, se llama "hilván" (basting). El verbo correspondiente es "hilvanar" (to baste). En sentido figurado, se usa "hilvanar" con el valor de "trazar, preparar o proyectar una cosa": "Fulano está hilvanando sus planes (shaping his plans) para llevar a cabo la construcción de esa presa". Dícese que un discurso está "bien hilvanado" cuando sus períodos se siguen ordenada y lógicamente, y que es "deshilvanado", cuando no hay enlace ni trabazón entre sus distintas partes: "Pedro nos hizo un relato muy bien hilvanado de todos sus viajes"; "¡Qué narración tan deshilvanada nos está espetando este orador de pega!"

Nos cuenta luego Celia que le va a dar una sorpresa a doña Benita regalándole una bolsa el día de su santo. En España y los países hispanoamericanos suele festejarse, no el cumpleaños o natalicio de una persona, como en los países sajones, sino el día de su santo, o sea el día en que la Iglesia Católica celebra la festividad del santo cuyo nombre lleva la persona de quien se trate. Claro está que muchos llevan el nombre del santo del día en que nacieron, y, en tal caso, coinciden el santo y el cumpleaños.

El día del santo de persona amiga le enviamos una felicitación escrita (tarjeta, carta, telegrama), y, cuando se trata de íntimos, acompañamos a la felicitación un regalo, que se llama "cuelga". El santo del padre o de la madre de familia es ocasión de verdadera fiesta en las casas. Todos los hijos regalan algo (dan alguna cuelga) al festejado; hay comilitona en la casa, baile en la noche, y bullanguera fiesta todo el día, en la que toman parte todos los parientes y amigos de la familia.

Popularity of Sunburn Will Last All Year

BIARRITZ, Sept. 29. (Exclusive) The American feminine populace has found so many charming materials and colors to go with the laboriously acquired sunburn that numbers have determined to arrange to sunburn at home throughout the year!

A pinkish beige that matches the brown skin is one of the new shades, and the nasturtium tints worn this autumn lend themselves particularly to a permanent tan.

"Match your skin" is the latest fashion slogan, but "tan it first," is naturally implied. Gendarme blue tweed and yellow silk are the rage of the moment.

STIMSON HOLDS SELF IN CHECK

Secretary Very Cautious in Expressing Views

Attitude of Conservatism Rarely Altered

Speculation Aroused Over Navel Parley

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29. (AP)—There is something so cautious about Secretary Stimson's comments for publication on important phases of the Anglo-American naval conversations as to arouse special attention of any Washington on-looker.

Even Mr. MacDonald's announcement of his sailing date, clinching his plan to visit Washington, failed to shake the Stimson attitude of conservatism.

Looking back over the naval conversation news files reveals only one development over which Mr. Stimson allowed himself to wax enthusiastic in public. He hailed MacDonald's acceptance of naval "parity" with what, for Stimson, was a shout of triumph.

The cause of his elation was hard to understand, since Lord Balfour at the Washington conference in 1921 had accepted British-American naval parity fully and without reservation as to any type of fighting ship. British spokesmen have never at any time since then held that the United States should not have absolute fleet equality with Great Britain if it so desired, gun for gun and ship for ship.

CAUSE OF ENTHUSIASM

So what was there about the MacDonald acceptance of "parity" that so stirred Secretary Stimson? Clearly, it must have implied to him acceptance of an American notion of what actually would constitute parity in fighting power, although there should be wide disparity in aggregate cruiser tonnage and in the number of cruisers of each type each power would maintain.

Apparently the MacDonald statement to Mr. Stimson must have meant that Great Britain assented to the proposition that the United States should have more big gun cruisers than Great Britain, while the latter should have many more small gun cruisers than the United States, and that this should be called parity in fighting power. And right there the formula for an accord began to take shape, hence Mr. Stimson's triumphant remarks.

But Mr. Stimson already has achieved the reputation of being a very cautious man.

To uninitiated folk, announcement that Premier MacDonald would sail seemed to be an indirect method of proclaiming success of the naval conversations. It seemed that the Labor chieftain, whose power rests on political uncertainties at home, would not risk the ocean voyage if there was any chance of failure. So why was Mr. Stimson so little enthused?

Obviously Mr. Stimson must have felt that the naval "hoss-trading" job was only half done. The rough draft of a parity formula might have been reached, but not the amount of naval reduction in tonnage for which President Hoover aimed from the start.

Go back to Ambassador Gibson's speech at Geneva, which started the whole thing. He indicated himself at that time that while the voice was Gibson, the words were Hoover And the words said that any naval agreement which meant increased fleets, or even maintenance of existing fleets, was a "timid expedient."

"Let us," said Mr. Gibson, "take the bold course and begin by scrapping the term 'limitation' in order to concentrate upon a general reduction of armaments."

Does Mr. MacDonald's coming mean that he is prepared to make the last grand gesture face to face, and concede Mr. Hoover's demand for cruiser fleet reduction? It seems quite possible.

GERMANS FACE DOCTOR STRIKE

Strasbourg Physicians Want Higher Fee in New Contract

STRASBOURG (France) Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—A physicians' strike seems inevitable for October 1. The doctors' association had a contract with the local sick-benefit association. It expired the 1st inst. The medical association wanted the new contract to include an appreciable increase in salary, but it was refused them. Hence their decision to strike unless an amiable arrangement intervenes.

Berlin Asked by Reds to Protest Chinese Actions

MOSCOW, Sept. 29. (AP)—The soviet government tonight requested Germany to register with Nanking and Mukden energetic and decisive protests "against the cruel execution without trial of soviet citizens."

It was asserted that three soviet railway employees in Tsitsikar recently were executed without a court hearing. The soviet government said it intends to take whatever measures and reprisals may be necessary to protect the lives of soviet citizens remaining in Chinese territory.

Airway Plans Better Service

SEATTLE, Sept. 29. (AP)—Improved air service between the Pacific Northwest and California points was announced here by officials of the West Coast Air Transport Company, who also announced the appointment of Homer J. Merchant as general traffic manager of the line. His headquarters will be in Portland, Or.

Planes from the Northwest will be timed to arrive at San Francisco to afford close connections with planes for Los Angeles, Long Beach, San Diego and Agua Caliente, Mex., officials said.

Veteran Captain of Cutter Bear Soon to Retire

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—Capt. C. H. Cochran of the United Sstates Coast Guard Service, best-known as commander of the famous old cutter Bear, now retired from service, will follow that veteran of Alaskan waters into retirement on his return from Unalaska next month. He will go out of active service October 28 with the rank of commodore after forty-four years.

SANGER LUG BOX TO BE STANDARD THIS YEAR

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 29. (AP)—As a result of appeals made by growers at hearings held throughout the San Joaquin Valley for the re-establishment of the old five and one-quarter inch Sanger lug box as a standard container during the present season, G. H. Hecke, State Director of Agriculture, has ruled that the Sanger lug will be standard for the remainder of the year.

Abolition of the Sanger lug as a standard container was scheduled to go into effect this year as a result of the action in 1927 of representatives of the grape industry in reducing the number of standard containers.

ARGUMENT DUE ON VENUE PLEA

Alexander Pantages Motion May be Heard Today

Defendant Asks for Trial in Another County

Change Lies in Discretion of Judge Fricke

Superior Judge Fricke in all probability today will decide whether the trial of Alexander Pantages, charged with attacking 17-year-old Eunice Pringle, will be held in Los Angeles or will be moved to some other county.

Defense Attorneys Gilbert and Ford late Saturday filed a motion for a change of venue, asserting that statements of the District Attorney and Rev. R. P. Shuler made it impossible for him to get a fair trial in Los Angeles. In support of their contention they filed numerous affidavits.

While no definite time for hearing on the motion has been set, the defense attorneys indicated they will be ready to argue the point today at 10 a.m. if the prosecutors are ready. It is known that Dist.-Atty. Fitts and Chief Dep. Dist.-Atty. Stewart, much opposed to the change of venue, spent considerable time Saturday and yesterday preparing to resist the defense move and probably will be ready to go into court today.

BOTH SIDES READY

The matter of the change of venue lies purely within the discretion of Superior Judge Fricke, before whom Pantages originally was scheduled to go on trial at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, but his decision becomes a part of the record in the case and may be cited in case an appeal to a higher court is made in the event of a conviction.

In the event the court overrules the motion for a change of venue the defense counsel yesterday indicated they would seek a postponement of the trial. According to both Gilbert and Ford, the strain undergone by Pantages during the trial and conviction of his wife on the manslaughter charge in connection with the death of the Japanese gardener killed in an automobile crash virtually has made him an ill man.

"It would not be humane to force Pantages to trial until his physical condition has improved from the strain that he has been through," Attorney Gilbert asserted. "I believe several weeks should be allowed him."

WITNESSES GUARDED

On one end of the counsel table when the case is called will be Dist.-Atty. Fitts and his chief deputy, Robert Stewart. On the other end of the table will be Defense Attorneys W. I. Gilbert and Joseph Ford. Close beside them will sit Pantages, fighting to escape a fate similar to that which recently befell his wife, Mrs. Lois Pantages, who was found guilty of manslaughter in a traffic case, in the same courtroom.

The prosecutors go to court with the announcement that they have "an open and shut" case against the theater man and confident of getting a conviction. They have many witnesses under subpoena and most of them have been under close guard since the date of the asserted offense against Miss Pringle.

The defense will come to court with its case undisclosed, but it is known that every resource that Pantages's wealth can command has been at its disposal and that private detectives in its employ have gone over every angle of the case. Gilbert and Ford asserted that they expect to acquit their client.

THRONG EXPECTED

The opening of the case is expected to draw one of the largest crowds ever drawn to a similar trial. It is understood that the public probably will not be excluded from the trial, as was done at the request of defense attorneys when Pantages's preliminary hearing was held a few weeks ago before Municipal Judge Wilson. At the preliminary hearing it was mandatory, under the law, to comply with the wishes of the defendant, but a Superior Court judge is not bound by the same rule.

Selection of a jury is not expected to take more than a day or perhaps a little longer, as each side will only be allowed ten peremptory challenges. Twenty were allowed in the case of Mrs. Pantages, charged with murder, and it took three and one-half days to complete the jury.

Pantages will go to trial on two counts of attack on the young girl, one asserting that he used force and violence and the other based on the statutory provision relating to a girl under age.

The case against the theater man had its inception late in the afternoon of August 9, last, when the

NAME SIXTH AND SPRING CITY'S DAMPEST CORNER

The wettest spot in Los Angeles is at Spring and Sixth streets. If they depended on the rain it would be the driest! In the last ten years there has flowed to this spot water enough to make a tower a block square and 864 feet 9 inches high. It is all gone now! The average rainfall at this spot is about fifteen inches annually. Every year the equivalent of sixty-five years' rainfall is pumped to this spot—the wettest in Los Angeles, adjudged as such by no less authority than General Manager Van Norman of the Los Angeles Department of Water and Power.

The second wettest spot is at Fifth and Olive streets. Here each year a tower of water eighty feet high is used. The average rainfall here is also fifteen inches annually. This block uses three inches of water a block square each day. The entire year's average rainfall on this spot is used every five days.

This information is contained in an isometric sketch recently prepared by the department. The graph covers eighty-three downtown business blocks in the district bounded by Figueroa street on the west and Los Angeles street on the east, First street on the north and Pico street to the south. In all this district there are but three or four squares where less than the annual rainfall is used.

The sketch presents what might be taken for a view of New York Harbor from the top of the Statue of Liberty. The "Woolworth Tower" of the Water Department, however, is the block bounded by Sixth, Spring, Broadway and Fifth streets.

The ten largest water-consuming blocks use a column of water a block square and 561 feet high each year. In the past ten years a tremendous peak over a mile high has been consumed. In the meantime about twelve feet of water has fallen over this territory.

Authorities at the Water and Power Department for the first time Saturday indicated water conditions during one of the hottest month ever recorded in Los Angeles' history, August, 1929. Twenty days' supply was held in reserve in the storage reservoirs. Approximately 400 second feet was flowing in through the Aqueduct and Los Angeles was using more than 600 second feet, according to Manager Van Norman.

"Sixty thousand acre feet additional storage is needed at once," Van Norman said. "The commission of engineers composed of Louis Hill, hydraulic engineer; R. E. McDonald, water authority, and Dr. Robert T. Hill, geologist, has recommended that this be arranged for without delay.

"It is the plan of the engineers with the department to enlarge the Chatsworth reservoir in San Fernando Valley. It now has 9000 acre-feet capacity and it is believed that it will be possible to increase this to 35,000 acre feet. The entire project is being reviewed by a board headed by Louis C. Hill.

"The problem of providing added storage in the metropolitan district is at once a pressing and extremely difficult one. Nature has provided only a few sites and these are already utilized. Despite these obstacles Los Angeles must provide, and without delay, these necessary storage facilities.

"Heavy users of water do not realize the situation and fail to grasp the lack of balance in the natural rainfall and their demands. It is one of the big problems of the city."

JUDGMENT IN PANTAGES CASE TODAY

Magnate's Wife to Appear for Sentence in Death of Japanese Driver

Mrs. Lois Pantages, theatrical magnate's wife who last week was convicted by a jury of manslaughter in connection with the death of a Japanese gardener in an automobile crash, is expected to appear this morning to hear her sentence. What the sentence will be has not been indicated by Judge Hardy, although the penalty is from one to ten years in prison.

Application for probation will be made immediately after the sentence is pronounced, according to her attorneys, W. I. Gilbert and Joseph Ford.

In the past it has been the policy of the District Attorney's office not to take a hand in probation matters but it was intimated yesterday that a "close observance" will be made of any efforts to keep Mrs. Pantages from going to jail.

The law requires that a defendant be present in court within five days after conviction and in the case of Mrs. Pantages today is the last day of grace. Her physicians have asserted that she is suffering from nervous prostration and that her condition is critical.

Judges Shifted Due to Vacations

Return of Municipal Judges Wilson, Ballard and Galbreth from their vacations is responsible for several changes made in assignments to courts by Presiding Judge Pope which go into effect today.

Judge Wilson is assigned to Division Nineteen, the law and motion court, in place of Judge Stafford, who goes on vacation, and Judge Ballard to Division Twenty-one, a civil court, instead of Judge Lickley, who also starts his vacation. Judge Lickley's work in the sunrise criminal court at Central Police Station is taken over for the week by Judge Pope.

Judge Galbreth is assigned to Division Twenty-three, a civil court, in place of City Recorder Thompson of Hawthorne, who is relieved from assignment to the Municipal Court.

Arts Library Here Viewed as One of Best

Declared by experts who have viewed it to be one of the most valuable compilations of fine arts research material in existence, a unique library is in the making in Los Angeles.

It represents an expenditure of close to $35,000 and approximately twenty years of effort on the part of Ferdinand Perret, artist and research expert, of 2225 West Washington Boulevard. Reposing on unpainted wooden shelves in plain cloth covers in the rear of Perret's art establishment, the several hundred volumes give little indication of their worth.

FERDINAND PERRET

Embracing practically all phases of development in the finer arts from the time of man's first crude attempts to the most modern masters, the collection comprises illustrations estimated by Perret at 1,000,000. In addition, there is a yet undetermined amount of data and information gleaned by the artist in his studies and researches throughout the United States, Europe and the Orient.

Conceiving the idea of a library devoted exclusively to fine arts research material, Perret as a young man just out of a German university began his collections and compilations while continuing his studies in Europe and subsequently touring the world. Coming to Southern California about twenty years ago, he continued the work.

Mountain Top Sale Suspect to Face Judge

Accused of selling "mountain tops" in and near Imperial Valley with the asserted expectation that they would come under the benefits of the Boulder Dam and thus be valuable as agricultural land, Sam Mooes, a broker, is to appear today before United States District Judge James for arraignment and entry of plea.

It is charged the defendant induced numerous persons to buy the land with the "great expectation" that it would become productive.

WILL DRAFTING UNDER FIRE

Bar Launches Inquiry of Attorneys Who Prepare Documents Free for Trust Companies

An investigation into the practice of California attorneys who draft wills and other legal documents without charge for clients of banks and trust companies in return for being named counsel in the probate of estates of these clients at a later date is being launched by the State Bar Association, it was revealed yesterday.

A committee of five lawyers has been named by Thomas C. Ridgway to conduct the investigation and to make a complete survey of the situation in California cities. The committee is composed of Leo S. Chapdler, Los Angeles; Eugene Overton, Los Angeles; Oscar J. Seiler, president of the Long Beach Bar Association; J. W. Morin, president of the Pasadena Bar, and Jesse G. Scarbarough, Jr., of Los Angeles.

DESCRIBES PRACTICE

"The practice under investigation is that of banks and trust companies who solicit business from among their patrons in the nature of wills, living trusts or other documents, and, whereby, as executor, trustee or in some other fiduciary capacity, they refer the drafting of the particular instrument to an attorney taken from a selected list. The attorney agrees to draft the document free of charge in consideration of procuring subsequent employment from the bank or trust company growing out of such instrument," President Ridgway explained.

"The survey also is expected to determine whether or not such banks and trust companies are having wills and documents drawn by their own employees who may, or may not be attorneys," the head of the State Bar said. "The committee will make recommendations,

DEAL INVOLVES HUGE INDUSTRY

United States Steel May Enter Los Angeles

Negotiations Under Way for Columbia Company

President Farrell Due Here in That Connection

That the United States Steel Corporation has decided to locate in Southern California through the purchase of the Columbia Steel Company plant at Torrance is indicated by the prospective visit in Los Angeles this week of James A. Farrell, president of the United States Steel Corporation, and Myron O. Taylor, chairman of the finance committee.

Negotiations for the purchase of the $38,000,000 steel company, which has plants not only at Torrance but at Portland, Or., and Ironton, Utah, as well, have been under way for several months. At various times committees and individuals representing the big steel company have paid visits to Torrance. Recently a number of high officials were here to make a final inspection and to report to the board.

CONNECTION ADMITTED

Mr. Farrell is now at San Francisco. "It is a little early to discuss the outcome," he said there yesterday, "but we are here in connection with Columbia steel."

Further than that Mr. Farrell, who succeeded Judge Gary as head of the steel corporation, would not commit himself. In financial circles in Los Angeles and in San Francisco it is taken for granted that nothing less than the completion of the deal brought the officials to the Coast.

Reservations have been made at the Biltmore for the Farrell party, which is expected to arrive here either today or tomorrow.

MODERN PLANT

Extension of the United States Steel Corporation to Southern California is regarded by financiers and industrialists here as being of inestimable value. The Columbia Steel Company is rated as the most important unit of the steel industry on the Pacific Coast, while the United States Steel Corporation is rated as the largest in the world.

Acquisition of the Columbia Steel Company would make a total of 195 different companies the big steel corporation has absorbed since it was formed in 1901.

The Columbia plant at Torrance is modern in every respect and recently has been enlarged. A large section of industrial acreage recently was acquired adjoining the Torrance plant by the Columbia company, providing for any future expansion necessary.

PAVING PLEA REFERRED

The City Engineer has asked authority to prepare plans for the paving of Glen Iris avenue. This was referred to the Public Works Committee.

LAST ANTELOPE VANISH FROM PLAINS OF COUNTY

Antelope, the graceful wild plains animal for which Antelope Valley was named, finally have become extinct in Los Angeles county, according to the annual report of County Game Warden Turner, on file with the Board of Supervisors.

During the season of 1927-28 a band of six to ten of the antelope, last survivors of great herds of thousands, was seen by game wardens in the valley. But during the year just closed none have been seen, Warden Turner reports.

"It is feared that these animals finally have become exterminated," says the game warden's report.

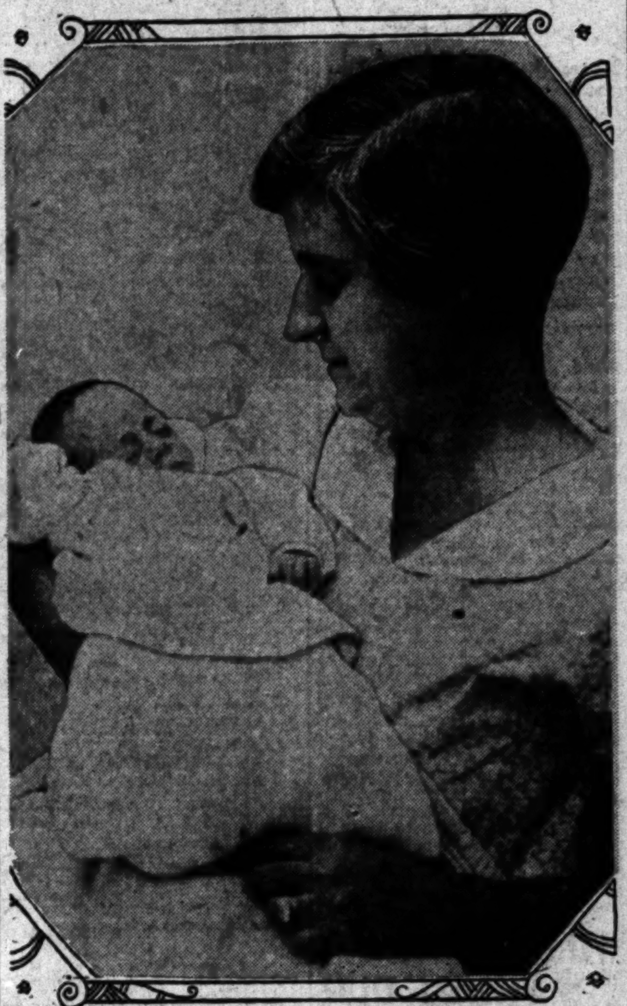
On the other hand, the county's population of deer seems to be holding its own, according to figures compiled by the warden. One ranger counted thirty-four deer in seven hours at one point in Angeles Forest.

The new State and county bounty on mountain lions is believed to be responsible for the increase in the number of deer in adjacent mountain areas. Last year there were twenty-six mountain lions killed, thirteen males at $50 and thirteen females at $75 each. There is an additional State bounty on lions.

It is estimated that lions eat two deer each in three weeks, and that the death of twenty-six lions meant 2028 deer were saved last year.

STORK GETS MIXED UP ON DATES

But Premature Infant Does Just Fine



Peggy Lou Cavanaugh and Mrs. A. H. French

THERE appears to be a growing desire among the very, very young generation to get an unusually early start in life, even to the extent of putting in a premature appearance.

The most recent example of this precocity is Miss Peggy Lou Cavanaugh, who made her bow to the world about six weeks before she was expected, evidently feeling that her three pounds and five ounces of avoirdupois at birth was sufficient for anyone to start with.

But Miss Peggy did not prosper so well at first and she had failed to consider that her mother, Mrs. J. P. Cavanaugh of 348 Frazer street, Montebello, would be afraid to trust herself with the care of so frail a bit of humanity. So Peggy was sent to the home of Mrs. A. H. French, 5230 Templeton street, former assistant superintendent of the Castelar Creche, and today at the mature age of six weeks, she has grown to be a big girl of five pounds three and one-half ounces.

At first she was fed from a medicine dropper, Mrs. French said, and in about a week's time she graduated to a doll's bottle, holding a half-ounce of milk. Now she is on a post-graduate course from a regular baby's bottle and she is gaining on an average of an ounce a day.

Nor has she ever been inside an incubator. An electric pad in her doll buggy bed, food every two hours and, most important of all, lots of sunshine, said Mrs. French, have given her such a good start that she has developed a lusty pair of lungs and in another month she should compare favorably in size and strength with any other child of the same age.

BABY FIGHTS TO PRESERVE LIFE'S SPARK

Physicians, Firemen and Nurses Help in Battle as Mother, Too, Lies Ill

Placing their hope in an occasional half-stifled cry, physicians, nurses and firemen yesterday sought throughout the day to keep the breath of life in the lungs of Baby Caldwell, while across the hall the infant's mother, Mrs. L. M. Caldwell, 32 years of age, fought a likewise uncertain battle with death.

Born prematurely early yesterday morning at Rice's Maternity Hospital, 2942 West Twelfth street, the infant girl was kept alive through artificial respiration for more than an hour by Mrs. Esther C. Rice, owner of the hospital, until Rescue Squad No. 1 of the Fire Department was summoned.

In being born the baby suffered from a series of complications which resulted practically in strangulation, Mrs. Rice said. For some time its life was despaired of, but in the afternoon it was given an even chance to live by Dr. H. S. Clay, who, with C. D. Potts and S. Ledeux of the Fire Department inhalator squad, Alice Dorsch, in charge of the nursery, Mrs. Rice and Dr. C. M. Hughes was in constant attendance.

By means of an inhalator, carbogen, a combination of carbon dioxide and oxygen, was forced into the infant's lungs. According to Mrs. Rice, who has attended at the birth of 3500 infants, the mother is in a critical condition.

The new baby numbers seventh in the Caldwell family of boys and girls ranging in ages to a boy 18. They live at 358 East Sixty-third street.

Art Commission Shows Increase in City's Work

Plans approved during the first eight months of this year by the Municipal Art Commission reached a total of $8,692,331, or an increase of 18 per cent over the months of the preceding year, according to a report issued by Miss Elizabeth Black, secretary of the commission.

Municipal buildings, bridges and statuary, valued at $6,138,880, were approved, the report states, including an addition valued at $220,000 to the Department of Water and Power Building, 218 South Hill street, the Country Club Drive branch library and airplane hangars at Mines Field.

Damages Asked in Suicide Case

Frank J. Williams damaged a bungalow court at 5638 Sunset Boulevard to the extent of $143 when he killed himself there with a gun on May 6, last, according to a suit on file in Municipal Judge Bush's court.

The action was brought against Vera Irene Chinn, executrix of Williams's estate, by G. U. Lynn, owner of the court, who charges the furniture and rugs were damaged by blood when Williams committed suicide there.

IMPROVEMENT ASKED

A petition asking for improvement of Melvil street between McManus street and the city boundary has been filed with the City Council and referred to the City Engineer and Public Works Committee.

SHULER'S FIGHT UNPLANNED

Preacher Facing Contempt Charge Undecided Yet as to Course in Court Today

Possibility that Rev. R. P. Shuler will defend himself when he comes up for hearing at 2 p.m. today in Superior Court on contempt proceedings was reiterated yesterday by the accused pastor.

"I will be there at 2 o'clock all right," he said, speaking from his home at El Monte. "There may be a demurrer filed and I may decide to defend myself—I am not sure yet just which will be done.

BRIEGLEB APPEALS

Rev. Gustav Briegleb, who also figured in the contempt proceedings, the outgrowth of remarks made by the two minister during the trial of Mrs. Lois Pantages, has a clearer course of procedure mapped out for him.

Attorney Ben S. Hunter and L. E. Dadmun, representing the pastor of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, have gone to the Appellate Court asking for a write of prohibition.

"We should have a ruling on the jurisdiction of the Appellate Court by 2 o'clock," Hunter said yesterday. "If the Superior Court is prohibited from going ahead with the contempt proceedings the Appellate Court will set a date for hearing. If we fail to get the writ of prohibition we are prepared to appear before the Superior Court at 2 o'clock. We are hopeful, however, of obtaining the writ."

MAY FILE DEMURRER

Attorney Paul B. D'Orr will appear as counsel for Shuler and indicates that unless Shuler decides to take things into his own hands a demurrer to the proceedings will be filed.

The Superior Court tribunal which will conduct the contempt proceedings consists of Judges Hardy, Tappaan and Gould. Attorneys Vickers, Shinn and Jennings, representing the Los Angeles Bar Association, placed the matter before the judges sitting en banc.

CHAMBER AIDS SAFETY DRIVE

Campaign to Cut Number of Accidents Welcomed

Fatalities in County in 1929 Already Total 433

Property Damage More Than Fire Loss Last Year

Startling figures showing that the damage in the first seven months of this year from traffic accidents here is more than 50 per cent greater than the entire fire loss for Los Angeles in 1928, were brought to light here yesterday by President Shannon Crandall of the Chamber of Commerce in connection with an announcement pledging the organization's support toward Gov. Young's State-wide safety campaign.

Mr. Crandall issued a detailed statement on the subject of safety, disclosing a number of facts brought to light through studies and discussion conducted by the chamber's safety and fire-prevention committee.

SUPPORT PLEDGED

"The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce is whole-heartedly and unequivocally behind Gov. Young and the California committee on public safety in its State-wide campaign to conserve life and property on the highways and city streets in the State of California," the statement says.

"This campaign is particularly appropriate in Los Angeles county and city in view of the tremendous increase in traffic accidents during the first seven months of 1929, as compared with a similar period last year. From January 31, 1928, the records of Los Angeles county show 312 deaths and 9360 injuries in traffic accidents.

"Similar statistics for the first seven months of 1929 show 433 deaths and 12,990 injuries. Injuries have increased, therefore, 27.6 per cent, while fatalities have jumped 39.3 per cent, in addition to personal injuries, and instances of property damage in the first seven months of 1929 reached 129,900, as compared with 93,600 in a similar period in 1928.

IMMENSE LOSS

"The property loss, while of much less importance than the personal injuries, is startling when it is converted into figures. It has been found that the average property damage amounts to $30. Applying this figure to the instances of property damage in the first seven months of 1929, we have a property damage of $3,897,000. When one considers that the damage in the first seven months of the year from traffic accidents is more than 50 per cent greater than the entire fire loss for the city of Los Angeles in the calendar year 1928, the figures become still more startling.

"The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce stands ready to support the constituted authorities of State, county and city in their enforcement of traffic laws, and to aid the Automobile Club of Southern California and other similar agencies in the securing of such additional legislation as is necessary to put an end to this great loss of life and property."

Street-Widening Cost Action Due

The City Council today will take up the confirmation of assessments for the widening of Flower street between Eighth and Washington streets.

The improvement contemplates an addition of five feet to each sidewalk. Other matters before the Council include the widening of La Brea avenue between Wilshire Boulevard and Country Club Drive, the improvement of San Fernando Road from Tyburn to Huron streets and the improvement of Ashmore Place between Marsden street and Paul Terrace.

DELEGATES SELECTED FOR BAR CONFERENCE

Announcement was made yesterday of the appointment by Thomas C. Ridgway, president of the State Bar Association, of the three California delegates to the conference of bar association delegates of the American Bar Association, to be held at Memphis, Tenn., October 21, next. They are Roy V. Reppy, Los Angeles; Joseph J. Webb, San Francisco, and Albert A. Rosenshine, San Francisco.

by Harry Carr

THE shipbuilding chiefs have made it clear that they did not hire "Expert" Shearer for his influence on the Geneva convention; they thought his writing was just bunk anyhow. They must have been paying him $25,000 a year because they admired the love-light in his eyes.

MAKES COMPLICATIONS

An entire company of actors lost their jobs because Miss Helen Hayes (a respectable married lady) announced she is going to have a baby. The "Coquette" company was disbanded in Los Angeles without the usual two weeks' notice.

The producer maintains that he should not be punished to the extent of some $8000 in unearned salaries. The actors do not think they should lose their pay; and Miss Helen Hayes says a baby is more important to her than all their jobs.

In the circumstances, it would seem to be the part of wisdom for producers, in future, to select congenital old maids for star parts. But who could be as charming and beautiful as Miss Helen Hayes and remain an old maid? It seems one of the most hopeless complications I ever heard of.

MEXICO'S NEW ART

Arthur Millier's article on the new art of Mexico in The Times is in line with predictions of mystics. It has been predicted for some time that a terrific new artistic impulse would come booming into the world during the life of this generation. We all have thought it would come from America—especially from California.

We might have anticipated that it would be Mexico. The young Mexicans of today are working through the thin veneer of Spanish culture which has lain over the land since the conquests of Cortez. They are allowing the ancient mysticism of the forgotten civilizations of the Toltec and Aztec to rise again; a primitive strain modified by modern education. No one knows much about the Toltecs; but it seems as though it will be a revival of the gentle arts rather than the harsh and striking dramatic art of the Aztecs that is about to be born again.

PROHIBITION

The iron hand of the devil-dog, Gen. Butler, has brought prohibition with a bump to Quantico where the marines hold forth.

It shows how easily the Eighteenth Amendment could be enforced if an earnest nation-wide effort were put forth. It seems a contemptible trait of character that people can care whether or not they have alcoholic drinks to serve. After all, what does it matter what there is to eat or drink? Like eating, drinking is an infernal nuisance anyway you take it. I look forward to the day when you take a pill or a shot in the arm for dinner.

THE NUISANCE OF EATING

The fact that we still have to eat is a failure to be checked up against science. We get our necessary chemical compounds by a long route. The sun brings some certain elements to plant life and the plant life supplies certain elements to animal life; and all we live on is that moiety of sustenance that lives through this long process. One day we will take it directly from the sun without having to grow wheat to feed cows to feed ourselves.

ANTINK MURDER CLEW TURNS UP

Fender of Car Like That of Assassins Found

It Was Knocked Off When Auto Hit Another

Officers Cling to Theory of Instigation by Moll

An automobile fender abandoned in an Oxnard alley after being torn from the car in a collision with another machine is believed by police to be a potential clew in connection with their investigation of the murder, last Thursday night, of David Antink, Sun Realty Company auditor, at Fuller and Melrose avenues, Hollywood.

Police of Glendale notified Capt. Cato of the homicide squad, that eyewitnesses reported three men in a Cadillac car answering the description of the automobile in which Antink's slayers escaped, had crashed into another machine parked in an alley there, and then driven away after losing a fender.

PRINTS TO BE SOUGHT

Capt. Cato instructed the Glendale authorities to hold the fender, in the belief it may have on it finger prints, which may lead to identification of the murderers. The lost part today will be subjected to examination by police finger-print experts.

Despite the seemingly sound alibis advanced by Granville Blair and Morrie Moll, originally mentioned as suspects in the slaying, Capt. Cato yesterday announced he still is clinging to the theory that it is possible they hired gunmen to kill Antink in retaliation for a pistol battle in which Antink engaged with Blair six years ago during a hold-up. Blair Friday was reported to have maintained he was in Oakland talking to a probation officer at the time of the murder, and Moll, according to dispatches from St. Paul Saturday, was in New York. The dispatches quoted Attorney William Quinn of St. Paul as asserting he had received a telephone call from Moll, in which the latter declared he had been in New York for a month.

ONE CLEW FAILS

Capt. Cato further announced yesterday that he despairs of meeting with any success in his recourse to the figures 4-M-8, which witnesses stated formed part of the license number of the murder car. He said it has developed that more than 100 automobiles of the same manufacture bear similarly arranged figures on their license plates, and that therefore they are not regarded as a possible clew.

Antink was murdered Thursday evening as he was strolling back from a drug store to his home at 717 North Fuller avenue. Three men stepped from an automobile at the intersection of Fuller and Melrose avenues, and after first knocking him unconscious with a sash-weight, fired several bullets into his head. An inquest into the murder will be conducted by the County Coroner today at the morgue.

DAMAGE AWARDED FOR PROSECUTION

PLAINTIFF ASSERTS LAWSUITS FILED AGAINST HIM MALICIOUSLY

Judgment for $2500 was awarded W. E. Huyler by Superior Judge Guerin against the Reinman Wholesale Electric Company and others at the end of the trial of Huyler's suit asking damages for asserted malicious prosecution.

At the hearing of the action Huyler asserted that after he had gone through bankruptcy in the Federal Court, the defendants brought a suit to collect an account that had been adjudicated in the Bankruptcy Court. This action, he said, was dismissed by the local courts. Immediately another action was filed which, like the first, also was dismissed.

Huyler, through his counsel, Attorney Martin Forrest, held that the defendants maliciously brought the actions to harass him and injure him and that he was compelled to expend sums of money to defend himself.

HE POINTS TO DANGERS

Stanley Anderson has requested the City Council to take steps to eliminate what he terms a dangerous condition to traffic at the intersections of Cielo Drive and Benedict Canyon Drive and at the intersection of Kinema Drive and Benedict Canyon Drive. The intersections should be widened, he states. This was referred to the City Engineer and Public Works Committee.

YOU HOP ON MOVING CAR AT OWN RISK

So Judge Decides as He Refuses Damages Plea of Aggrieved Woman

If a person boards a moving street car he does so at his own risk, and, if he is injured, he cannot recover damages for any injuries he might have sustained.

Such was the ruling of Superior Judge Yankwich in refusing damages to Mrs. Caroline Schaffer in her lawsuit against the Los Angeles Railway Company.

Mrs. Schaffer sued the railway company, asserting she suffered injuries by being dragged along the street while attempting to board a street car at Avenue 50 and Monte Vista Boulevard, on March 12, last. She asserted she suffered injuries to one of her knees and the muscles of her neck, which made her so nervous she could not carry on her work as a vocal soloist.

It appeared from the testimony that Mrs. Schaffer attempted to board the street car after it had started, so Judge Yankwich gave a judgment for the defendant.

It also developed at the hearing of the action that Mrs. Schaffer was helped into the car by the conductor and that she made no complaint about an injury, paid her fare, and asked for a transfer.

On the whole, Judge Yankwich held that Mrs. Schaffer failed to show any negligence for which the company was liable.

SANTA ANA MECCA FOR SHRINERS

Motor Parade, Barbecue and Initiation to Draw Nobles Next Saturday

Santa Ana will be the mecca for thousands of Shriners next Saturday when Al Malaikah Temple will hold an outdoor initiation ceremony at Irvine Park in Orange county, following a motor parade and barbecue.

It is expected that more than 1000 automobiles will join the motor caravan, while arrangements have been made by the Orange County Shrine Club to serve a complete barbecue dinner to 5000 Shriners.

The caravan as arranged will leave at 10 a.m. Saturday from the end of the street car line at Whittier Boulevard in Los Angeles, headed by a motorcycle escort and Potentate Edwards.

Schoenhair in Ford Tour Ship Hops to Texas

Piloting a Lockheed-Vega plane for the Pacific Goodrich Rubber Company, Lee Schoenhair landed at Amarillo, Tex., at 3:30 yesterday afternoon, ending the first half of his flight to Dearborn, Mich., where he will act as Goodrich pilot in the annual Ford reliability tour. Announcement of the landing was contained in a telegram received by Frank J. Schweitzer, Goodrich manager here.

Schoenhair negotiated the distance in six hours, having hopped off at 9:30 a.m. from the airport of the Aero Corporation of California, Ninety-fourth street and Western avenue. He will continue the flight today, being scheduled to set his plane down in Dearborn this afternoon.

According to Schweitzer the plane being flown by Schoenhair is the one in which he won second place in the recent Los Angeles-Cleveland nonstop race. It has been refitted for the Ford tour.

APPROPRIATION ASKED FOR STREET WIDENING

The City Attorney has asked the City Council to appropriate $27,310 for the acquisition of certain property on the northerly side of Glendale Boulevard between Sunset Boulevard and Park avenue for the widening of the boulevard. The condemnation suit has been filed and the money must be impounded with the County Clerk to obtain possession. The matter was referred to the Finance Committee.

FOSTER DEATH ACCUSED HERE

Fugitive Pair Brought Back From Arizona

Two Will Get Hearing Today on Murder Charge

Both Identified by Woman as Bandit Duo

Alex Cetlinski, 19 years of age, and Ned Fisher, 16, were brought back to Los Angeles yesterday from Kingman, Ariz., to stand trial for the murder on the night of July 29, last, of A. Frank Foster, wealthy soap manufacturer and polo player, who was shot to death after being held up in front of his apartment at 2700 San Marino street. They were in custody of Detective Lieutenants Brown and James.

The two this morning will be given a preliminary hearing on a grand jury indictment returned after Miss Beth Taylor, the slain man's companion and sole eyewitness to the tragedy, identified them as the bandits who commanded Foster to throw up his hands as he stepped into his automobile with her, and then killed him when he failed to comply.

Cetlinski and Fisher were arrested August 27, last, at Kingman, in connection with the slaying of a motorist named Ingraham on the highway a few miles east of Needles. A third man, Stephen Rozema, also was taken in custody and, according to advices last week from the Sheriff at Kingman, was convicted of the crime. Ingraham, it was charged, had given the trio a lift in his automobile when he met them tramping the road out of Needles, where Cetlinski and Fisher had fled, local police assert, following the killing of Foster.

According to the detectives, Cetlinski and Fisher came to Los Angeles in an automobile stolen in Chicago, and after shooting Foster abandoned the car and rode to the border on the brake beams of a freight train.

based on its survey, to the board of governors of the State Bar, who in turn may recommend to the Supreme Court the adoption of a rule of professional conduct forbidding attorneys to engage in such practice."

ON ETHICAL GROUNDS

The investigation, as such, will not be an investigation of practices followed by banks and trust companies, but, rather, the approach will be on ethical grounds, inquiring whether an attorney should accept that sort of employment, he explained.

The matter was brought to the attention of the board of governors of the State Bar Association at its recent monthly meeting in Los Angeles. A number of cases along these lines were brought to the attention of the governors by Mr. Seiler of the Long Beach Bar, who is reported to have said the practice is increasing in that city.

City Club Will Hear Whitnall

An address by Gordon Whitnall, director and general manager of the City Planning Commission, on "Downtown Subways," to be given before the City Club's county and municipal government and the State affairs sections at noon today, will be the first feature of the club's programs for this week. At the open forum of the club this evening, R. L. Daugherty, vice-president of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, will speak on "Education."

Next Wednesday at noon Dr. Ernest H. Cherrington, general secretary of the World League Against Alcoholism, will give an address on "The City Problem from a New Angle." Next Thursday at noon club members will meet at the club building with members of the Foreign Trade Club and the Chamber of Commerce to hear an address by Julian Arnold.

Southern California Telephone day will be observed at the club next Friday at noon when A. P. Hill, representing the Southern California Telephone Company, will speak on "Electricity and Voice Transmission." A dinner dance, beginning at 5 p.m., will feature next Saturday's program.

ORIENT ALL RIGHT FOR VISIT

But American Woman Prefers Home

Miss Susan Cheney and Mrs. J. H. Young

THE Orient is a splendid place for a visit but has no appeal as a permanent place of residence for Mrs. J. Henry Young, mother of James R. Young, advertising manager at Tokio for the Japan Advertiser, the largest English newspaper in the Near West. Mrs. Young has just returned from a four-months' visit with her son and is the guest of her sister, Miss Margaret Patterson, and her aunt, Miss Susan Chenery, en route to her home in Springfield, Ill.

Mrs. Young made a special effort to be in Los Angeles at this time as Miss Chenery is celebrating her eighty-ninth birthday early next month. Miss Chenery knew Abraham Lincoln and her father was one of his friends. She knows many interesting details of his life, and her mind is keen in recalling events in the past.

The Chenery family, of which Mrs. Young is a member, was prominent in Springfield. A brother of Miss Susan Chenery was one of the successful gold seekers in California in 1849.

NINETEEN ARRESTED IN FOREST

Game Law Violators and Smokers Fined Following Seizure by Wardens

County fire and game wardens arrested eight violators of the game laws and eleven forest smokers during September, it is reported by Spence D. Turner, who as county fire warden has charge of county forests and game protection.

One woman was fined $10 for smoking in a forest reserve. The ten other smokers, all men, were fined from $10 to $100 each.

Nelson Smith, 1315 West Tenth street, Los Angeles, was fined $100 for killing two deer in a game refuge in Vogel Flats, near Newhall. Thomas E. Kimmons, 2134 Pasadena avenue, Long Beach, was fined $250 for killing a doe in Los Flores Canyon. H. R. Nannel of Burbank paid $5 for shooting on a county highway.

Lewis J. Upton, 1255 Twenty-fourth street, Santa Monica, was fined $50 for killing a spike buck in Coal Creek Canyon. L. N. Fife, 5306 Second avenue, Los Angeles, paid $15 for shooting from a car on the Malibu Lake road. Ed Lidyhoff, 901 Summit street, was hunting without a license, and with no deer tages, in Coal Creek Canyon. He paid $75 for his oversight.

Fines for the month aggregated $835.

Curtiss Planes Expected to End Tour Tomorrow

Touching at more than forty leading towns and cities throughout the Pacific Northwest and Rocky Mountain region, a three-unit squadron of Curtiss Flying Service planes is due in tomorrow morning from March Field, Riverside on the final lap of a 4000-mile aerial voyage begun at Grand Central Air Terminal exactly one month ago.

Their adventures, together with a detailed account of all airports, facilities and weather conditions will be embodied in a report to the United States Department of Commerce through Capt. Walter Parkin here.

The primary purpose of the tour was the establishment of sales agencies throughout the Northwestern region.

The expedition is headed by Capt. Harry C. Claiborne, Curtiss sales-manager for the district west of Denver. The other two pilots are Lieuts. E. B. Wilkins and Earle H. Robinson. In the party are Mrs. Claiborne, Malachy A. Hynes, newspaper man, and William Birren, mechanic.

HE'S SOME HIKER

Septuagenarian on His Way to Invite Hoover Here

Expecting to arrive in Washington, D. C., some time before Christmas, Henry B. Stewart, 78 years of age, left Los Angeles on foot yesterday for the avowed purpose of inviting President Hoover to spend Christmas in Southern California.

Stewart, who styles himself "Count of San Diego World Marchers," declares he has crossed four continents and traversed 125,000 miles since 1910. On his way to Washington he will take lifts when they are offered, he said.

MAYOR TO HEAR LENNON

Master Billy Lennon, the Venice boy "discovery" of Tito Schipa, will be presented today to Mayor Porter and members of the City Council by Councilman J. C. Barthel, who represents the Venice district. Barthel will invite the city officials to join a delegation, headed by J. R. Hunt, secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce, Venice branch, and Mayor Michel of Santa Monica, which tonight will attend "Bay District night" at Loew's State Theater, where young Lennon is being featured in the Fanchon and Marco revue. He is accompanied by Ethel Boswell.

TWO APPEAR TODAY FOR SENTENCES

Convicted on Charge of Fraudulently Distributing Whisky Prescriptions

Having been convicted by a jury of charges of defrauding the government by the wholesale distribution of whisky prescriptions Eric Maas and Charles A. Richter are to appear today before United States District Judge Henning for passing of sentence.

It was charged by Asst. U. S. Atty. Davis that the two, who were agents here for eastern liquor concerns, purchased large numbers of prescriptions from physicians in and near Los Angeles and gave them to drug stores to stimulate the sale of liquor.

The jury found each guilty, but recommended leniency for Richter because of ill health.

Rites Today for Preacher's Wife

Funeral rites for Mrs. Isabelle MacAllister, wife of Rev. John MacAllister, who died Friday at her home, 1943 Carmen avenue, will be conducted at 10 a.m. today at the First Hollywood Presbyterian Church, of which Mr. MacAllister is assistant pastor. Rev. Stewart P. MacLennan, pastor of the church, will officiate. Interment will be in Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

Mrs. MacAllister was 70 years of age. She came here with her husband sixteen years ago from Ashland, Or. Besides her husband, she leaves a son, D. H. MacAllister of Los Angeles, and three daughters, Mrs. Earle Haney of Los Angeles, Mrs. R. G. Dolge of Salem, Or., and Mrs. F. C. Tabor of Corpus Christi, Tex.

Gabor Appears for Plea Today

After running the line of many important social events and being feted by high officials and high navy officers at San Diego, George Robert Gabor, also known as Taft Thew Houghton, and asserted to have posed under various other names, will appear today before United States District Judge Henning for arraignment and entry of his plea to a charge of impersonating a government officer.

The government charges that the young man represented at the Los Angeles Athletic Club that he was an assistant Solicitor-General of the United States and thus obtained $20.

DESERTION WINS DIVORCE

A daughter in New York meant more to Mrs. Sarah Bishop White than a husband in California, Allen C. White testified when asking Superior Judge Guerin to grant him a divorce. "My wife has a daughter in New York by a prior marriage," the husband declared. "She left me so as to be able to live with her." The decree was granted on the grounds of desertion.

STATE WILL CLOSE BOST CASE TODAY

Accused Officer Expected to Declare He Was Within Rights in Shooting

The State is scheduled to conclude its presentation of evidence today in the case of William J. Bost, police officer on trial before Superior Judge Wood on a charge of murder growing out of the shooting July 4, last, of Christopher Sierra, 19-year-old Mexican.

Bost is asserted needlessly to have shot the youth while attempting to arrest him on a misdemeanor charge.

According to testimony already presented by the State, Sierra was one of a group of men who became engaged in a brawl in the 200 block on North Utah street. Police were summoned by neighbors and Bost is asserted to have pursued Sierra, who fled from the scene. State's witnesses assert they heard shots and Sierra later was found mortally wounded in a yard at 122 North Utah street.

It is expected Bost will base his defense that whatever action he took in attempting to arrest Sierra was within his rights as a police officer and justified by the circumstances.

The case is being prosecuted by Dep. Dist.-Attys. Barnes and Scheinman. They are seeking life imprisonment for Bost.

VENUE BATTLE LIKELY TODAY

Pringle girl ran screaming from a small room of the Pantages Theater Building and asserting that Pantages had attacked her.

Policemen who investigated, arrested the vaudeville magnate and he was held in jail until arraigned in court and released on $25,000 bail. Dist.-Atty. Fitts immediately began an investigation that led to the issuance of a complaint and Pantages's preliminary hearing in Municipal Court, where Judge Wilson declared that there was sufficient evidence to bind the theater man over to the Superior Court for trial.

The Pringle girl's story as recited at the preliminary hearing was that she had been trying for some time to have Pantages book a small act in which she played a part and that on August 9 he invited her into the room where he attacked her. She displayed black and blue marks on her legs and other contusions on her arms and chest.

In reply to the girl's charges, Pantages asserted that he had been "framed" because he refused to book the girl's act, and that her screams were only to bolster up her story.

JAPANESE LAWYER FINED

Eddie Yamato, Japanese, paid $50 for the privilege of declaring in court that K. Nadaka, a compatriot, is not guilty of disturbing the peace and waiving a jury trial for him. Municipal Judge Bogue imposed the fine for contempt of court by practicing law without being admitted to the State Bar when Yamato, who had appeared before the court on several previous occasions, admitted he does not have the proper credentials.

The TOWN HOVSE

Sim Crabill says:

"Superlative Service attracts hard-to-please people to "The Town House" . . . as it attracts experienced Direct Advertisers to the Times-Mirror Printing & Binding House."

THE most luxurious home comforts, with complete freedom from housekeeping bothers . . . extraordinary facilities for sumptuous entertaining . . . the convenience of close-in location, made tranquil and lovely by the sunlit beauty of Lafayette Park and more than an acre of private grounds . . . the safety of massive steel and concrete construction and the watchful protection and service of a highly trained house staff . . . all these are enjoyed by those residing at "THE TOWN HOUSE," at Wilshire Boulevard and Commonwealth Avenue, the last word in apartment residences.

While this magnificent building was still but a gaunt frame, the suites were largely bespoken. Advance registrations were secured with the aid of a brochure de luxe, which visualized the planned appointments of "THE TOWN HOUSE" in an adequate and complete manner, and proffered unquestionable assurance that all would be as represented. This brochure is another notable example of our craftsmanship in sales literature, evidence of our ability to serve you decidedly well. Wouldn't you like to see it, and talk over your Direct Advertising with us? Just call TRinity 5631 . . . we'll gladly match our time against yours, without obligation.

SUPPORT OF HOOVER URGED OF CITIZENS BY PASTOR

Dr. Brown Predicts Defiance of Prohibition Act to Bring Crisis Such as Lincoln Faced

Calling upon all loyal citizens to support President Hoover in his efforts to make the United States a more law-abiding country, Dr. Bruce Brown, in his sermon at South Park Christian Church yesterday, said, in reference to the experiment of prohibition, that "we had as well face the fact that our form of government has not yet demonstrated its power to ride through every storm." Dr. Brown spoke in part as follows:

"These are dangerous days. Recently from the same paper I clipped two dispatches. One told of a concerted effort on the part of a number of lawyers in New York. They are holding public meetings and publicly instructing their hearers that they should use every endeavor to serve on juries and refuse to convict all persons charged with violation of a certain law. This is high treason, as much as spitting upon the American flag. The other gave the name of one of the best known men in America who was giving instructions where persons should go for advice as to what laws they should obey, and who said that American citizens are under no obligations to obey a part of the Constitution. This is blasting at the very foundation of popular government which must ever rest on the rule of the majority. It was inevitable that the test that came in Lincoln's day should arise, when one section should claim the right to withdraw when majority rule was not pleasing to it. It is just as certain that the test of our day shall come when a minority will refuse to abide by the rule of the majority. In the next twenty-five years we are to decide whether or not a government of the people and by the people shall perish from the earth."

GIVING OF THANKS CALLED LOST ART

Declaring that thanksgiving is a lost art, Adjt. Frank Howell, in his sermon at Salvation Army Temple yesterday, said that while there are millions of persons who are cognizant of the blessings God showers upon them, they forget to say "thank you." "Such persons may believe that all good gifts come from God but they have lost the art of being grateful, or at least of expressing their gratitude," said Adjt. Howell. "How shall we be thankful? By rendering thanks, by living a life of thanksgiving and, better still, by living a life of service. The best way to praise your Heavenly Father is by loving and serving His children, your brothers and sisters."

LIFE ONLY FRUITFUL WHERE SACRIFICIAL

"Christianity breaks out into new and vital meanings when we take our eyes off the church and get one clear vision of Jesus Christ," said E. W. Remfry-Hunt in his sermon yesterday at Brea Christian Church. Dr. Hunt said in part: "Emblazoned on the ensign of its faith the religion of Jesus has for its seal and heraldry 'Via Crucis Via Lucis.' Mission are its demonstration. The dying religions are self-centered systems. Confucianism is a cold ethic. Buddhism is an anaesthetic keeping the wilder races of Asia in calm. Islam is a brave crusade. Wistfully receding, they feel they are outlived, outdistanced. Christ took a new field when He showed that in the highest life service is incarnated in deeds."

THEOLOGY'S PATH SEEN WRECKAGE STREWN

Dr. Sheldon Shepard, presenting his regular "Bit of Happiness" yesterday at the White Church, said that confidence in one's powers is an element of all sane, normal and righteous living. He said in part:

"You can hardly do anything you think you cannot. 'Worm of the dust' theology has strewn the road of progress with untold human wrecks. There is no philosophy by which a man can accomplish a result when he thinks it is impossible for him. The strong tree of character does not grow in the atmosphere of failure and weakness. Confidence is essential to its growth. Cowardly people, fearful to attempt any mighty achievement, afraid to face the world with their convictions, too often receive credit for being holy."

JESUS CHRIST REVEALS CHARACTER OF GOD

Discussing the many records of Jesus, the Christ, Dr. H. C. Culbertson, in his sermon at All Souls' Church yesterday, declared that many biographers of the Divine Man cut out of their gospels everything which did not agree with their theological theories. "Ultimately, the apocryphal gospels were rejected because they were felt to be out of keeping with the definite impression which the character of Jesus had left upon His contemporaries," said Dr. Culbertson. "Just as you could not gain credence for any story about Lincoln which pictured him as a fop, a swindler or an avaricious exploiter of his fellows, so no portrait of Jesus will endure which does not agree with the impression of His character which is presented in our four gospels. Regardless of any mistakes which may be in the narrative, the essential fact is that His character shines forth vividly from these pages, and we believe that this character reveals the character of God and the supreme moral principles of the universe."

JESUS PICTURED AS SUPREME EVANGEL

"The Accessibility and Adaptability of Christ" was the subject discussed yesterday by Dr. John Snape at Temple Baptist Church. Excerpts from the sermon follow:

"Jesus Christ was the Evangelist of Humanity. In Him all classes, filled with a common need, found a common friend. He had a message for a poor leper, or a rich publican, or a sinful outcast bedewing His feet with her tears and wiping them with her hair, or a prominent ruler coming to him at midnight, or a rich young moralist, coming in the open day, or a streetwoman at a well-curb, or a mourner at a grave-side, or a thief on a cross. To all of these Jesus had good news to tell because he was the Evangelist of humanity. He was more—He was both Evangelist and Evangel, the good news and the bearer of it to a wearied and worried world."

ALTAR GLORIFICATION THEME OF DISCOURSE

"The Altar, Way of Atonement" was discussed yesterday by Dr. J. George Dorn in his sermon at Hollywood Lutheran Church. Dr. Dorn said in part:

"The Altar is the way of atonement, the way of confession, and the way of reconciliation. It occupies the center of worship. At the altar—the gift of cleansed affections and surrendered wills are made. When our hearts are truly tender toward God they become tender toward men. Have we come to the altar for forgiveness of our sins? Has God ought against us? Are our relationships at home, in business, in the community and in the world what they ought to be? Do I owe any one ought? Have all my contracts been carried out in all my relationships as though they were to be inspected by God?"

SCHOPENHAUER LINKED TO INDIAN THINKERS

"Lessons from Schopenhauer" is the subject of a sermon preached yesterday by Swami Dhirananda at the Figueroa Playhouse. The speaker said in part:

"Schopenhauer proved by his own petulant life that an individual's philosophy is the projection of his own moods, desires and repulsions. The blunt sincerity of Schopenhauer's pointed thoughts is refreshing, though sometimes they represent a wrong slant on life. However remarkable are his expositions that will is the reality of the world, that the body is objectified will and intellect most of the time the servant of will. Like the Indian philosophers, he places desire or will as the source and sustaining principle of creation and, like some Buddhists, he emphasizes on pessimism and broods too much on the impermanence of the world, overlooking its beauties and joys."

PERILS OF FEAR AND WORRY POINTED OUT

"Of all real or fancied misfortunes that befall man, none is so disastrous as the misfortune of being a victim of fear and worry," said Bramacharee Nerode in his sermon yesterday at Mt. Washington Center. "Worry kills and fear destroys the initiative impulses of man's creative soul," said the speaker. "Both are detrimental to the health, happiness and prosperity which are the legitimate heritage of the natural man. Constant brooding over the darker side of life weakens brain cells and creates grooves which shelter all fixed ideas and complexes. Woe unto them who become subject to such mental fixations as worries and fears and thereby shut out the tidal waves of life and light that try to break into their souls. Once allowed to enter the portals of mind, these mental monsters eat up the sap and juice of human joy. The lack of faith in the inner self, as well as in the Self Universal, is the root cause of mental unhappiness. In the face of the thundering voice of Jesus, 'Consider the lilies of the field how they grow: they toil not, they spin not.' How can man distrust God and worry?"

PASTOR SAYS FOOLS DISBELIEVE IN GOD

Rev. Harry Rimmer preached at the First Presbyterian Church of Hollywood yesterday on "Modern Science and the First Fundamental." He said in part: "The fact of Deity is universally conceded by all save the fool, who says in his heart, 'There is no God.' This traditional tenet of all faith is found in false and true philosophy alike, in the nebular evasion of words that merely cloud the issue, when they speak of Him as some ethereal, unknown 'force' or 'being.' However, the Christian religion goes right to the heart of the matter with a plain enunciation of the most vital fact in the thought of the human race, that there is a God who is a person. This is the reason for the coming of Jesus Christ—to manifest God and show Him forth. Upon this foundation of the personality of God the Christian Scriptures stand."

"REALITY" TOPIC FOR CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS

"Reality" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon yesterday in all Christian Science churches, branches of The Mother Church. The Golden Text was from Psalm xciii, "Thy throne is established of old; thou art from everlasting."

The following Beatitudes from Christ's Sermon on the Mount were included.

"Blessed are the meek; for they shall inherit the earth.

"Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness; for they shall be filled.

"Blessed are the merciful; for they shall obtain mercy.

"Blessed are the pure in heart; for they shall see God."

A correlative selection from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," presented these words of Mary Baker Eddy: "One's aim, a point beyond faith, should be to find the footsteps of Truth, the way to health and holiness. We should strive to reach the Horeb height where God is revealed; and the corner-stone of all spiritual building is purity."

YOUNG AUTHORESS' FATE WILL BE DECIDED TODAY

Barbara Follett

Hearing is scheduled to be conducted at Juvenile Hall today on the question of the custody of Miss Barbara Follett 15-year-old authoress, who was returned to this city last week from San Francisco where she was apprehended at the request of the Los Angeles authorities.

The hearing will be presided over by Referee Van Waters of the girls' division of Juvenile Court and will be closed to the public.

Miss Follette was taken into custody after Mrs. J. L. Brown and Miss Mildred Kennedy, with whom she had been living in Pasadena, reported to the local probation office that she had left their home.

When interviewed in San Francisco, Miss Follett declared she had gone there because of her love for that city and her desire to be "free to live my own life." It was stated there was no trouble between the girl and her former guardians.

The hearing today will be conducted on a petition stating Miss Follett is "without proper parental control," and it is expected steps will be taken to appoint her a ward of Juvenile Court until a regular guardian can be named or her mother returns from Honolulu. Assistant Probation Officer Harry White, who brought the girl here from San Francisco, stated there is no criminal charge against her and that she is being held under that section of the Juvenile Court law which gives the State the right to safeguard the interests of minors.

Federal Charge Hangs Over Pair

A multiplicity of charges await Paul Williams and Willard Brown, arrested by Los Angeles police on suspicion of stealing an automobile. The police at Whittier were notified and when they searched a place given as 124 North Bright street, that city, they found a small counterfeiting apparatus and some fake coins.

W. W. Ashe, head of the local secret service for the Treasury Department, after investigation stated that he probably would file charges against the pair today. They are held in the County Jail.

WHAT IT IS

• • • • •

A Bekins Lift Van is literally an immense, light-steel, reinforced, packing case ...large enough to contain an average five rooms of furniture. Your household goods are carefully loaded, protected by pads, and the van sealed at your residence, in your presence. It is then transported by truck to railroad flat car or steamship. See illustration.

Work to Begin on Saddle Club Improvements

Work will start today on more than $50,000 worth of improvements at the El Vaquero Saddle Club near Van Nuys, Elliott W. Sparling, president of the organization, announced, following the release of an escrow which puts the necessary funds at the disposal of the club. Ellis & Sheely, architects, have signed a contract for the erection of the facilities agreeing to complete the work by January 1, according to Sparling.

The club recently purchased the four and one-half-acre Whitley estate near Van Nuys, and has completed a riding ring, the first unit of a large stable, a tennis court and an archery range.

Dapper Bandit Gets $350 in Theater Raid

Held up by a dapper, well-dressed young man armed with a revolver, the Fox Theater at 331 South Western avenue was the loser by $350 shortly before midnight Saturday, according to a report made to Wilshire police by W. C. Ricard, theater manager. The bandit approached the box office just before the close of the performance, Ricard said, and threatened the cashier, forcing him to turn over the currency he was counting.

Gene Wells, an usher, told police that a man approached him inside the theater and asked at what time the box office closed. The description of this man furnished by Wells coincided with the theater manager's description of the robber.

Police Will Keep Eye on Auto Rentals

Preparation of an ordinance to place the rental auto business and drive-your-self cars under the jurisdiction of the police department through issuance of permits by the Police Commission, is now in the hands of the City Attorney, according to a communication received by the commission from City Clerk Dominguez.

The Council recently approved the plan on recommendation of its Public Utilities Committee, following the request from the Police Commission. The plan was advanced by Chief of Police Davis that his department may keep check on rented cars which might be used by bandits, hold-up men and others seeking to leave no trace after committing crimes.

Pickwick Adds New Ryan Plane

Continued steady increase in business on Pickwick's Latin American air line to Mexico City and Guatemala City has necessitated addition of another Ryan brougham to the fleet of ten planes already engaged in that service, it was announced yesterday by Thomas E. Morgan, general manager.

"Since the opening of the Latin American line last July 29, the volume of mail, express and passengers has increased steadily," Morgan declared. "In the two months three additions to the fleet of planes have been made. Starting with eight planes, we now have eleven in regular service.

THE EASIEST WAY

A diplomat is a man who can persuade his wife to do what she wants to do.

FREE AIR

Also there are more planes per capita in California than any other section of the earth. But look at the lovely stuff they have to fly in.

THE COMPENSATIONS

At any rate when an aviator is soaring over the summit of Mt. Baldy he is not slipping on a banana peel or falling over a wheelbarrow.

CAREFUL PRUNING

Another cut in the Federal taxes seems to be on the program, but this time it will be made with a safety razor.

THE WAITING LIST

It begins to look as if Mickey Walker and Jack Kearns wanted any real money they would have to fight for it. And who?

WALKING IS GOOD

The deficit in the municipal street railway at San Francisco keeps mounting. The system goes deeper in the red in the latest report. Some day the natives will awaken to the fact that they will have to walk home.

WHAT PRICE FREEDOM

In a recent divorce case the judge allowed a fee of $500 for the wife's attorney and was visibly surprised when the lawyer voiced objections and asked that it be fixed at only $100. There is a grim suspicion, however, that the counselor knew the limit in advance.

THE INSTALLMENT HABIT

An economic writer asserts that the only reason the average American family has no giraffe is that giraffes have never yet been offered them for a dollar down and a dollar a week. But the installment idea is so deeply intrenched in the massed mind of America that it is figured that ship's anchors could be sold in Death Valley if a system of partial payments was suggested.

EVERY DAY IS SUNDAY

We think we have the holiday habit, but we are exceptionally modest in this respect. Most countries observe more public holidays than we do here. There are communities having local holidays to the tune of better than one a week. A writer mentions a district in Asia having more than 180 holidays in the year. The work habit never seems to have become intrenched in that section.

INSECT LIFE

A patient investigator who has been taking a bug count reports that the population of the average ant hill is 8220 wee-wees. Some community groups have more and some less, but this is a fair average. Maybe he hasn't been able to tag and register every ant, but he guarantees that he is close. This would give every hill the population of a fair-sized town. Take the world over there must be a good many ants. It is well that we are able to keep the insect world in repression. If it were permitted to run wild for a year or two there wouldn't be room in the world for any other form of life.

GOING UP

Experts connected with the American Steel Institute aver that the limit in skyscrapers will never be reached. So far as construction is concerned there is no reason why buildings 2000 feet high cannot be erected with perfect safety and reasonable speed. Office buildings 150 stories high would offer no difficult problems to the contractor. But from the viewpoints of economy and efficiency a structure of about seventy-five stories is the better investment. It is predicted that in the towering edifices of the future there will be fine apartments on the upper floors. People will have their offices or stores and their homes under the same roof. They will have theaters and restaurants in the same structure so that they will not have to leave the building for any human need. The only problem in this up-and-down travel is furnished by the elevator cables. These become rather weighty if there is a rise of 1500 feet or so.

NAVAL PROBLEMS AND PEACE

The dragging out into the light of the motives behind some, at least, of big navy propaganda undoubtedly has helped to clear the way for a naval settlement with Great Britain and given ground for hope that a general naval arms limitation conference will succeed, at least measurably. In this connection a general review of the questions of policy involved, and how that policy may be directed toward world peace, may be useful.

In recent speeches here, Winston Churchill, former Chancellor of the Exchequer in the British government, made pleas for the standing together of Great Britain and the United States to keep the world from war, which, if not extended beyond their plain meaning by the drawing of too many inferences, may well be accepted and welcomed by every American. Mr. Churchill does not speak altogether as an alien, for he is half American by blood, and it is, therefore, easy to believe that he can more readily understand the American viewpoint, and that he respects the limitations and conditions which American public opinion must impose upon Anglo-American co-operation at the present time.

This public opinion is not ready to accept, if it ever will become ready to accept, anything in the nature of a formal alliance or understanding binding this country to joint action in all circumstances. There are, perhaps, good arguments for such an alliance, but they do not at present seem sufficiently weighty to cause this nation to give up its liberty of deciding its course upon each case as it arises. There can be no doubt that these two countries together could, at the present time at least, assume the hegemony of the world. But such a policy might be very costly and it is not plain that the benefit would repay the cost.

The most that can be said now is that the two countries see eye to eye in a great many matters, that their agreements are far more important as well as far more numerous than their differences, and that virtually every American is desirous not only that this continue, but that the differences be resolved as speedily as possible. It may also be said that America will go far jointly with Great Britain in any effort that is believed to make for world peace. As a corollary, it would be very difficult for Great Britain or any other nation to drag American public opionion into any course that seemed to be headed toward war.

It has been proposed by the extreme of big-navy advocates that it is the duty of the United States to make itself so powerful in armament that it could impose "pax Romana" upon all other nations—in other words, that it take a hand in every quarrel to spank soundly the participants as disturbers of public order. This is a possible, but is not likely to become a popular, policy. Lesser "big-navy" men do not go so far, contenting themselves with insisting that the United States should have a fleet superior to that which can be placed upon the seas by any other one nation. While such a course might gratify national pride, it would almost certainly arouse world suspicion and might result in combinations with which even this great nation would find difficulty in coping without more preparation than it would care to make.

The more moderate of naval-preparedness advocates favor equality merely with Great Britain. While on the surface this may seem to pick out Britain as a rival, and appear inconsistent with the declaration frequently heard on both sides of the water that America and England are determined never to go to war with each other, it is in essence a lesser manifestation of national pride, a desire not to be considered second-rate in anything.

But a still more moderate opinion seems to be gaining ground in this country. Its holders take the view that since Great Britain is not to be considered under any conceivable circumstances as an enemy, the actual naval needs of America do not require that any numerical comparison be made with the British navy; or at least that differences between the two navies in theoretical strength are not important and hardly even interesting. It was the theory of man for man, gun for gun and ton for ton equality that broke up the Geneva conference. Since their requirements, their defense problems were different, the two nations could not agree to adapt their naval plans to any Procrustean bed. The difficulty was solved by President Hoover with his announcement through Ambassador Gibson that relative equality is near enough.

It is a far cry from any of these views to those of the pacifists who would lay aside all naval armament. The ideal of a wholly unarmed world is theoretically attractive, but unfortunately human nature has not yet reached the point where police forces can be dispensed with.

A big enough navy to make any nation think twice before deciding to attack, but one not large enough to make any nation distrustful of our motives, is undoubtedly the kind of a navy the majority of thinking Americans desire. How this happy medium can be attained depends in large measure on what other nations are willing to do in the same direction.

The expressed willingness of the United States to lay aside ships if others will do so, until, perhaps, at some time in the future the only naval vessels in existence will be a fleet to preserve order on the seas, prevent piracy and the like should be an impetus toward the attainment of a practical ideal.

A policy of heavy armament unquestionably tends toward war. For peace, therefore, armament should be as light as is consistent with national safety. Toward attainment of this condition should our policy tend.

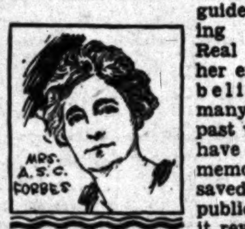
SEEK LOST CITIES

There is always a mission for the flying colonel. Now he is asked to fly low over the trackless jungles of Central America and locate and photograph the ruins and wreckage of a lost civilization. If the lost civilization but knew that Lindy was aloft it would climb up and wave its hands in ecstasy. But it is a great and fascinating quest and one that the colonel will really enjoy.

The LEE SIDE O' L.A.

BY Lee Shippey

MRS. A. S. C. FORBES, historian of the missions, has done a great deal to preserve California history and landmarks. The Mission Bell guide posts marking El Camino Real are due to her enterprise, we believe, and many a bit of the past which would have been lost to memory has been saved by her and public interest in it revived.



MRS. A. S. C. FORBES

Among other historical data, she has gathered much information about the first plantings of fruit trees here and historic trees still standing. She writes the Leeside as follows:

Wilson's Historic Palm

"In 1786 the padres from Mission San Gabriel sent a Mexican named Agina to Sinaloa, Mex., to bring back fruit trees, plants and shade trees. One of the date palms brought back by Agina still is standing in the garden of E. Clement Wilson, 108 West Fremont Place, Los Angeles. For many years that tree stood in the orchard of Don Victor Prudhomme, whose place extended from Alameda street to Macy and Date streets. When streets were laid out in Los Angeles, one was named Date in honor of that palm. It stood where it was planted as a seedling for over a century, then was removed to Sixth street and Bonnie Brae, where it remained for fifteen years. After that Mr. Wilson purchased the grand old tree and moved it to his home in Fremont Place.

Three 143-Year-Olds

"Only two other trees growing in California are known to be here as a result of Agina's trip. One stands in Ventura about one-half block from the old mission but on the opposite side of the street. The other is in the old Estudillo home place in north San Diego, now known as 'Ramona's Marriage Place,' a gift shop conducted by one Thomas T. Getz."

Easiest Way to Miss the Caller

He was knocking so himself
He never heard his guest.

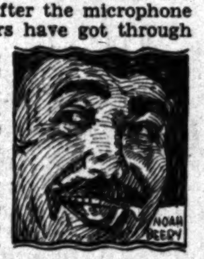
New Voices for Old

What the microphone will do to stage and screen still is undecided. Already it has cast down some of the mighty from their seats and exalted some others hitherto of low degree. But certainly it is doing many amazing things. Among others, it has made Noah Beery blossom as a singer. If he was a singer before, nobody around the studio knew it. But from the microphone, they say, his singing voice comes back with glorious resonance and feeling, and can be either softened to fit a parlor or magnified to fill Griffith Park at will.

Ability to speak in a whisper is all you need to have a voice which will fill any theater after the microphone and the amplifiers have got through with it. Whereas, many a voice which might serve for a speech at Sycamore Grove and be heard above all the exchanges of greetings in the crowd there seems to be only a raucous clatter when it issues from a loud speaker.



Not Self-Control

R. B. writes to ask if we can explain remote control.

We can't, but we can give an example of it.

Yesterday we saw a man decline a cocktail he wanted just because he knew in half an hour he would have to drive home and kiss his wife.

We Still Need Historians

Harking back to historic things, in a restaurant yesterday we overheard a conversation which reminded us how much we need people like Mrs. Forbes.

"When you get up to Chicago," said one man, "be sure and see Kit Carson in our office there."

The other man took out a pencil and notebook. "Kip Carson?" he asked.

"No. K-i-t—Kit Carson. Just like the famous bandit's name."

And it was a Los Angeles man speaking, too—a well-dressed, good-looking man of apparent culture and breeding. But he had one of the great heroes of the West's most romantic days mixed up with Jesse James.

MOTORS AND MARRIAGE

Quite frequently we hear that the motor car is destroying the home. It takes the household away from the fireside and the flame is supposed to go out on the family altar. Albert Russel Erskine, on the other hand, presents a brief for the motor as a stimulator of matrimony. He seriously attributes the rejuvenation of monogamous family life to the automobile.

The car has picked up the city and spread it all over the landscape in the suburbs. Folks who formerly dwelt in caves in canyons in the heart of the big town were borne out into the sunshine and fresh air. Like religion, the home became more moral in the light.

The machine age has been accused of dissolving the home and withholding girls from marriage. The exodus of women from the shelter of the hearthstone into business has bothered sociologists and furnished bales of statistics. But the census reports are reliable and do not trim to prove a point.

They show that the proportion of wives between the ages of 14 and 45 was greater in 1920 than in 1910. The percentage of married 18-year-olds in 1910 was 17; but in 1920 it was 19.2. Thirty-six in every 100 women 20 years old were married in 1910; but in 1920 there were thirty-eight. Fifty in every hundred were married at the age of 22 at the beginning of the same period. There were 53 at the close. Sixty-five per cent of all women 25 years old had husbands in 1910, but in 1920 it was more than 68 per cent.

We had 10,463,295 motor cars in this country in 1921. But in 1927 the number had swelled to 23,226,191, or it had more than doubled in six years. The motor industry has also given support to more than a million and a half of heads of families and has made marriage an economic possibility.

Between 1921 and 1927 a million and third new dwellings for private families were erected in 302 cities with a population of more than 25,000 each. This was done in spite of the fact that the cost of a single dwelling had risen from $3972 to $4830 in the same stretch of time.

Suburbs are growing faster than the cities. Concrete roads have lengthened their mileage from 15,991 in 1921 to 50,521 in 1927. A very large per cent of this road building was in the neighborhood of cities. Desire for recreation has also drawn families out of the rim.

A decline of 3 per cent of births in cities of more than 500,000 inhabitants is more than offset by an increase of 6 per cent in the outlying districts. The wisecrackers have found a fruitful field in roadside parking, but this is not the serious contribution of the motor to marriage. The car is the modern home on wheels.

THE INSTALLMENT LIFE

The editor of Le Temps has returned to his Paris after spending three or four months in various American cities. He admires many things in this country, but is not yet able to adjust himself to the immensity of the installment business in America. He figures that it would make a Frenchman crazy to have to figure on payments on the car, the radio, the davenport, the piano, the refrigerator, the washing machine, the vacuum cleaner, the stickpin, the wrist watch and the baby buggy all in the same month. The Frenchman would possibly compromise by not buying any of these things unless he had the money in hand and to spare. But think of the fun the American is having with these possessions while he is paying for them.

NO PLACE LIKE HOME

An American who had been doing the Alps and the picturesque country roundabout reported with some sadness that nothing looked natural to him. He missed the billboards and the tin cans. He would have given anything for a hot-dog stand.

MAIL-ORDER TRADE

This jest about getting the new midget car by mail seems to be a dud. It's the bill that comes by mail.

HERE IS ASSURANCE

By James J. Montague

I thought I was wholly immune to surprise;
It has long been my lot to observe,
As I gazed at the world with incredulous eyes,
Colossal examples of nerve
I have witnessed all forms of the flim-flamming art;
I have seen crooked games made to play;
I have seen blatant hams get away with a part
That Booth wouldn't venture to play.
But never as far as my memory reaches
Have I seen people charge for political speeches.

In all the campaigns that I ever have known
There has always been tumult and din;
The torches were waved and the trumpets were blown
To gather an audience in.
As a child I remember that many a time—
And I make the confession with shame—
I've received anywhere from five cents to a dime
To hear some great leader declaim.
And many a night I've been handsomely paid
To carry a torch in a party parade.

But a Mexican statesman who hopes by and by
To succeed the alert Mr. Gil
Is awake to the value of keeping an eye
On his future political till.
No bands boost his cause, and no rockets burn red;
He defies all the old campaign laws
And soaks his adherents a peso a head
To hear him support his own cause.
And a man with a nerve so presumptuous and plenty
Ought to cut quite a figure as El Presidente!

GRANDE ORATION PRESIDENTE
10 PESOS

MARTYR'S CROWN

BY EUGENE BROWN

An amiable friend in laboring with me the other day insisted that we should cast the mantle of charity over our prickly preacher.

That would be perfectly all right with me if the mantle would also serve as a muffler, but it doesn't. The more charity you extend, the louder the bark.

There is no personal grievance against the militant minister. One cannot but admire his audacious concept of his own importance. He is intrigued in the contemplation of his worth. Maybe he is perfectly justified.

We say maybe.

Now his dome is being measured for a martyr's crown.

Because there has been suggestion of a possible pinching of his radio output he loudly tells the world that he has been made the victim of the most cowardly attack ever made upon a public man in all history. The grand jurors, the Bar Association, the judges and the press joined in the opinion that the preacher should not broadcast harsh criticism of our courts without some knowledge of what he was talking about. They urged him to use facts, not rumors—to serve truth and not scandal.

That was the head and front of their offending.

Instantly the passionate preacher called in his beloved mike and spread the tidings that there was a huge conspiracy against him—a plot that threatened to impede the progress of righteousness.

As a matter of fact Bob Shuler loves his martyrdom.

He said that if he was in contempt of court the judge should place him in jail. But he defied him to do it. He really hoped he would. Because the value and importance of his radio ragings has been questioned he puts on the trappings of a martyr. He at once takes his place amid that glorious company of pioneers of the faith who went singing to the lions in the days of Nero. He is not only one of the martyrs but he heads the parade . . . accompanied by his one-man band. He figures on besting Peter and Paul by a city block. As a follower of the lowly Nazarene he is a cross between Ajax and St. Vitus. As a disciple he would have been recognized as the game cock of Galilee.

On his behalf it is urged that to lessen his radio production would be robbing the land of the right of free speech. Thus far the right of free speech—if there is such a right—has not been threatened. The propriety of a Christian minister so bearing himself as to be mentioned as a community scold is questioned—and always will be. Few of those who are jealous of the right of free speech have unlimited command of the radio. That in itself should be recognized as a serious responsibility. It calls for deep thinking. This clerical broadcaster wears his responsibility as carelessly as a gambler does his striped vest.

When he can get possession of some juicy bit of gossip or scandal to spread before his anonymous flock he indicates all the glee of the rural reporter who has just achieved a scoop. The difference is that the newspaper man must check his facts. Our shepherd recognizes no limitations. Hearsay evidence would be stage money in the newspaper office or the courts, but it circulates as gold in the pliant corridors of the ministerial mind.

At that he might be suffered to talk himself into oblivion, but the fact remains that these radio privileges could be used to better ends—to the greater good, as it were. The disclosures and revelations of the preacher serve no worthy purpose. If all his utterances were truths their general use would still be questioned. If he really wishes to right a wrong he should take his facts and opinions to those charged with the responsibility for correction and put it up to them. But if he merely wishes to exercise his voice by talking about it he is going great—but what of it?

The grand jurors and the Bar Association reached the same conclusion in this respect. They agreed that the attacks of the broadcasting preacher upon the probity of our courts was in very bad taste and wholly unwarranted. Had the broadcasting come from the spokesmen for the Russian commune it might have been expected. But to fall from the lips of a Christian minister in an enlightened community—perish the thought!

And this suggests the natural query, must the modern ministry go so far afield for its inspiration in service? Must the church sift over all the city's garbage to provide material for the evangelist? Do the preachers have to garner the scum of the courts to obtain nourishment for those who are weak and heavy laden?

So many preachers, instead of expounding the gospel of peace, serve their auditors with a dish-up of the day's sensations clothed in abbreviated skirts. As for example:

Guess again.

There is a shabby feeling that instead of serving his people for the love of heaven Battling Bob is preaching for the love of mike—the hard-boiled microphone that daily caresses his lips.

In far-away Japan, the law requires that every automobile be lighted within as well as without after sunset. Oh, well, maybe they do their courting inside the house instead of in the family bus. W. B. J.

School days bring to use many, many pencils, so it's no wonder that it has been estimated that each year the United States uses more than 1,000,000,000,000. W. B. J.

COUNTING THE COST

GLENDALE, Sept. 26.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Mr. Van Norman, chief engineer of the Los Angeles Water Department, admitted upon being questioned before the Women's City Club that if the pumping scheme is adopted it will require 400,000 horsepower to pump the water the 1635 feet and we will have no power for our industries. How, then, are we going to pay for the proposed Colorado River aqueduct with the power we will get from Boulder Dam, as we have been told? I am a taxpayer and would like to know.

Mr. Weymouth stated before the Women's City Club, according to The Times, that the gravity aqueduct would involve too great a financial burden at this time. I have made some cost estimates, based on my own engineering experience, and have had assistance from various other engineers and contractors, who have had extensive experience with this kind of work.

The probable cost of the Boulder Dam and power plant, as estimated by Mr. Weymouth, was $90,000,000. President Coolidge appointed a commission of eminent engineers and they disallowed Mr. Weymouth's cost estimate and disapproved his dam design, stating the stresses were excessive and they recommended a safer dam. The cost estimate of President Coolidge's engineering commission was $124,000,000, or $34,000,000 more than Mr. Weymouth's estimate.

We will use about 80 per cent of the power developed at Boulder Dam for pumping, as Mr. Van Norman admitted, and 80 per cent of $124,000,000 is $100,000,000.

The pumping scheme heading at Parker (see Mr. Van Norman's article in Engineering News-Record of May 31, 1928) will cost around $200,000,000, including pumping plants and the transmission lines from Boulder Dam to the pumping plants. This makes a total of $300,000,000 for the pumping scheme, and for that money we get 1500 second-feet of water, but no available unused power. The $200,000,000 to build the aqueduct we will raise by bond issues and the $100,000,000 required to build the Boulder Dam and power house we will borrow from the United States government and pay 4 per cent interest on the loan till repaid.

The La Rue gravity plan will cost $260,000,000, which is not more but less than the pumping scheme will cost. In addition, there is available at the Bridge Canyon dam of the gravity route 482,000 horsepower, which can be delivered in Los Angeles at an additional cost of only $36,000,000 for power plant and transmission lines. Therefore, both plans will cost us about the same, but the gravity aqueduct will deliver 482,000 horsepower of cheap power, while the pumping scheme uses all its power for pumping.

With the gravity aqueduct the cheapest power in the United States will be available for our industries and the bonds and interests for the entire project can be paid for in about forty years, if we charge 4 mills per kilowatt hour and 2 cents per hundred cubic feet for water. The city of Los Angeles is now paying 8 mills wholesale to the Edison Company for power.

I cannot understand why Mr. Weymouth and the directors of the Metropolitan Water Board claim that the gravity aqueduct will put such a great burden on us that we cannot pay it at this time, when as a matter of fact a larger burden is going to be placed on us if the pumping scheme is carried out and we will have no power for our industries.

HARRY HAGUE,
Mining Engineer.

THE DANGEROUS LULL

They tell of two philosophers,
A tale you may have heard;
How they sat side by side one hour,
And neither spoke a word.
But when they rose to separate,
Each grasped the other's hand
And both declared the interview
Was eloquent and grand.

Now this may be to you a tale
Quite foolish to repeat;
But do you know of two men who
Can consummate this feat?
Yea, in this restless day and age,
On friendly gossip bent,
Could you endure two minutes lull
In absolute content?

Yet, here's a chance for self-control
We all should cultivate;
'Tis better far to hold the tongue
Than foolishly to prate
Of home events, of private wrongs,
The last divorce affair;
Of anything to bridge the lull
We simply cannot bear.

E. L. AULTMAN.

What Mother Said

In one of the Hamilton schools a girl was so bad at geography that her teacher sent a note home to the child's mother asking that assistance should be given her at home in the preparation of her geography lessons.

Next day the teacher asked the girl if she had delivered the note.

"Yes, ma'am," was the reply.

"And what did your mother say, Annie?" inquired the teacher.

"She said, ma'am, that she had never learned geography an' she got married; ma auntie never learned geography and she got married; ma sister Jean never learned geography an' she was married last week. An' she said, ma'am, that you kept geography an' had never been married an' never would be!"—[Sir Harry Lauder in the London Sunday Chronicle

RIPPLING RHYMES

by Walt Mason

THE LOST GRIP

I used to know a weather wizard who made a great success, and when he said there'd be a blizzard he seldom missed his guess. Upon a fine and cloudless morning he'd sniff the atmosphere, and give us all a solemn warning that storms would soon be here. And storms would straightway come ker-whooping, and blow our haystacks down, and leave the tall trees rent and drooping, and ruin shacks in town. He said he never placed reliance on superstitious signs, his work was always based on science, on stern and rigid lines. His prophecies came true so often, so oft he made the grade, that critics soon began to soften the strictures they had made. His reputation kept on growing, and wise old savants said his record made as fine a showing as they had ever read. The public prints began to boost him and called him truly great, and in the village that produced him the boys would celebrate. Then all at once while Fame was hanging her garlands on his neck, his reputation went a-banging, a fierce and total wreck. He made a string of punk predictions, he guessed wrong every time; then all the claims he'd made seemed fictions, his "science" was a crime. If he predicted balmy weather with sunshine all around, a dozen storms would come together, the landscape would be drowned. So he became the theme of jokers, the butt of village fun; at all the jamborees and smokers men laughed at what he'd done. The gods seem often most malicious, they let us climb a while, and then they come along and dish us, and do it with a smile.

The end of man is the week-end.

The Shell oil crowd can't corner the American market. Most of the good corners are already taken.

"Develop perfection in solitude, before offering your creation to the public." Especially if it's a mustache.

The news butch on the train still sells pictures of undressed women, but now they are in magazine ads.

If only virtue could seem as attractive when you feel good as it does when your head aches.

School days are much like a cold bath. The longer ago they were, the more pleasant they seem.

If he handles public money and gets $30 a week and his wife has social aspirations, why wait two years to have the books audited?

Americanism: A conviction that nice people are privileged to be a little naughty if they are careful in public to set a good example for the poor and the young.

Gambling in Wall street isn't as wicked as playing poker. You can do it without any of the home folks knowing about it.

If there's a railroad in Asia worth fighting for, it just shows the bus salesmen have overlooked a good territory.

Example of man observing thrift week: Giving the hat-check girl a nickel instead of a quarter; spending the 20 cents for a cigar.

The theory that every man has equal right in all property is held only by Communists and certain officials who handle public money.

Increasing the tariff on cement is a matter of protection. It will make roads cost millions more and protect the taxpayer from the dangers of prosperity.

Keeping one ear on the ground doesn't keep a politician informed of the public will if a lobbyist has the other ear.

Correct this sentence: "I would hate this narrow-minded place just the same," said he, "if I never had lost my reputation."

Many a man is considered a good story teller who can't make his own wife believe him.

A man with a hectic past may be forgiven, but a woman's is neither forgotten nor forgiven.

Making a mountain out of a molehill is a stunt that appeals to the real estate speculator.

While lots of bushy-haired men are successful, it's usually the bald-headed man that comes out on top.

RIPPLING RHYMES by Walt Mason

THE LOST GRIP

I used to know a weather wizard who made a great success, and when he said there'd be a blizzard he seldom missed his guess. Upon a fine and cloudless morning he'd sniff the atmosphere, and give us all a solemn warning that storms would soon be here. And storms would straightway come kerwhooping, and blow our haystacks down, and leave the tall trees rent and drooping, and ruin shacks in town. He said he never placed reliance on superstitious signs, his work was always based on science, on stern and rigid lines. His prophecies came true so often, so oft he made the grade, that critics soon began to soften the strictures they had made. His reputation kept on growing, and wise old savants said his record made as fine a showing as they had ever read. The public prints began to boost him and called him truly great, and in the village that produced him the boys would celebrate. Then all at once while Fame was hanging her garlands on his neck, his reputation went a-banging, a fierce and total wreck. He made a string of punk predictions, he guessed wrong every time; then all the claims he'd made seemed fictions, his "science" was a crime. If he predicted balmy weather with sunshine all around, a dozen storms would come together, the landscape would be drowned. So he became the theme of jokers, the butt of village fun; at all the jamborees and smokers men laughed at what he'd done. The gods seem often most malicious, they let us climb a while, and then they come along and dish us, and do it with a smile.

THEME OF WEST FOR BROADCAST

Monday Evening Programs by Railway Unique

Musical Features Arranged to Advertise Coast

Sousa's Illness Feared May Cancel Engagement

A new type of program, scheduled for this evening over station KFI between 7:30 and 8 o'clock, is promised by the Great Northern Railway with especially arranged musical features with their locales mainly in the West and with the avowed purpose of carrying the story of the Pacific Coast to all of the United States over a transcontinental broadcast chain.

According to W. E. McCormick, general agent of the railway here, "Population is what the West needs, and population must come hand in hand with new industries, new pay rolls and land settlement. That is what we hope to promote with our new programs and at the same time give radio listeners a half-hour of entertainment that is distinctly different from the general run of radio programs."

The broadcast is the first of a series for Monday evenings.

Station KFWB has announced the feature of its program this evening will come between 8 and 9 o'clock when a motion-picture program will be given. An orchestra, short entertainment by stars of the camera and an installment of a radio skit have been listed.

John Philip Sousa, famous bandmaster, who was reported yesterday to be seriously ill in Syracuse, N. Y., is scheduled to go on the air with his band next Monday evening, October 7, and it is feared the program may be canceled. Sousa contracted a severe cold in a recent train wreck in Colorado when the special train carrying his band was derailed, injuring several of its members.

RANGERS NEEDED

Examinations for Federal Jobs to Be Held Soon

Forest rangers are needed by Uncle Sam, it is stated in a communication received yesterday from the United States Civil Service Commission, announcing examinations to be held.

Other Federal positions to be filled are radio operator, telegraph operator, reservation protector, printer-proofreader, agriculture engineer, junior entomologist, technologist, animal husbandryman, dairyman and home demonstration agent. Information and application blanks can be obtained from Warner McIntyre, Room 618, Federal Building, Los Angeles.

SUNBATHER ON SCHOOL GROUNDS CONVICTED

Taking a sun bath on the grounds of a public school is indecent, Charles M. Rockwell, 32 years of age, of 7654 Fountain avenue, discovered when he was found guilty of that offense by Municipal Judge McLay. He will be sentenced today. James Brown, 1628½ Cherokee avenue and Oscar Ledbetter, 1638 Cherokee avenue, called as witnesses by Deputy City Prosecutor Kaufman, told Judge McLay they observed Rockwell, partially unclothed, walking about the grounds of Selma-avenue school after teachers and pupils had left for the day. Police Officer Born, called by the two men, placed Rockwell under arrest. He told the court he was taking a sun bath.

TALE OF BREAKFAST ROW WINS DIVORCE

Trouble started in the home of Clyde Wallace and his wife Melba when she refused to get up and prepare his breakfast, Mrs. Wallace declared when seeking a divorce before Superior Judge Yankwich. She felt she was justified in not getting up. She said:

"I was working. He went to work before I did. I worked late into the night. He insisted on my getting up and getting his breakfast. I didn't like it, so he left me."

"Decree granted," declared the judge.

LATEST ART ON DISPLAY TOMORROW

California Club Sponsors Exhibition to Last Month at Barnsdall Park

Plans have been completed for the opening tomorrow of the "all-modern art exhibition" sponsored by the California Art Club at the Barnsdall Park center. Artists of Southern California who lean toward different schools of modern art have been invited.

Most of the paintings to be seen at the "contemporary exhibition" are by artists of Los Angeles, Pasadena, Laguna, Monrovia, Santa Monica and Santa Barbara. According to the committee in charge the response on the part of the invited artists represents a striking contribution to current art expression in Southern California.

The special committee is composed of Mabel Alvarez, Edith Truesdell and Conrad Buff, painters. The assembled work will be on view from tomorrow to October 31. The California Art Galleries are open to the public every day from 2 to 5 p.m., except Monday. Admission is free on Thursday and a charge of 25 cents is made on other days.

Berkeley Girl Will be Given Screen Tryout

BETTY FESSENDEN.

Betty Fessenden of the younger social set in Berkeley, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Fessenden, has arrived at the Roosevelt Hotel and has made several appointments for screen tests at various studios.

At Miss Head's school in Berkeley she appeared as the comedienne in amateur dramatic productions. Later she ran away from home to join a stock company in Texas, and after a family reconciliation went home to appear with a repertoire organization at the Fulton Theater, Oakland.

Jack White, producer, offered Miss Fessenden an opportunity.

ACTOR STILL LOOKING FOR SELF ON SCREEN

Many screen careers were halted by the World War, but yesterday Hollywood discovered one that had been postponed by the Armistice. Thirteen years ago Joseph Allen, a New York stage actor, played the role of the Kaiser in a war picture. It was his first screen part. He looked forward to seeing himself in films. Allen has just arrived in Hollywood still looking forward to witnessing his image on the screen. The war picture never was released because the Armistice brought an end to propaganda films. Allen has been on the stage in New York continuously since. He was signed by William Le Baron, production chief at R.-K.-O. studios for a role in Richard Dix's first Radio picture.

RAIL CLERKS HAVE OUTING

The annual picnic and outing of the Clerical Association of the Union Pacific System was held this year at Catalina Island. More than 300 employees were at the affair Saturday and yesterday, according to N. E. Davis, president of the clerks' organization. P. H. Knickerbocker, general manager of the railroad, granted the employees a holiday Saturday to attend the outing.

Stage Veteran Decides Times Surely Change

WILLIAM WHITE.

The show business in Los Angeles has undergone quite a change in the past fifty-two years, William White, stage manager of Wood's Operahouse in 1877, believes. In fact, he knows that it has. Fifty-two years ago he organized a minstrel troupe and played in an old barn, moving the buggies out of the way when a performance was to be given. Today he is "atmosphere" in a sound motion-picture on a spot where he used to shoot jackrabbits when he was a boy.

Times do change, he says.

When he managed the old Wood's Operahouse, Hollywood simply was not. Instead of sheiks there were jackrabbits and instead of barelegged flappers and motion-pictures there were Indians.

White is playing in Paramount's "Vagabond King."

Sentence Faced by Banker Today

Warren Smith, former manager of the Third and Spring streets branch of the Bank of America, is scheduled to appear today before United States District Judge Henning for sentence.

It is charged that Smith, while manager of the branch bank, misapplied about $15,000 of bank funds. He pleaded guilty and is awaiting the decision of the court.

LAS TUNAS ROAD JOB TO START THIS WEEK

Las Tunas Road, the $446,500 link in the Arrow Highway, will be under construction this week, according to an announcement made yesterday by Fred T. Beaty, chairman of the Board of Supervisors' highway committee. The new road will be five and three-quarters miles long and will materially aid the acceleration of traffic between Los Angeles, San Gabriel Valley points and San Bernardino. According to Myron Haig, secretary of the San Gabriel Valley Association, sponsors of the improvement, the road will be completed by July of next year. The contract calls for thirty-two feet of six-inch asphaltic concrete on either side of the Pacific Electric right of way.

TWO CONVENTIONS BOOKED NEXT YEAR

Two conventions were booked for sessions in Los Angeles next year, during the past week through the efforts of the convention department of the Chamber of Commerce. Co-operating with County Assessor Hopkins, Harry Main, manager of the convention bureau, succeeded in booking the 1930 gathering of County Assessors, which will bring approximately 200 visitors to this city. The definite date for the gathering has not been set. The American Booksellers' Association, western division, will meet here from April 23 to 26, of next year. According to E. Dawson, local member of the group, this convention also will bring 300 visitors.

STUDENTS TO HEAR TALK

Dr. Ernest Cherrington, director of the International Moral and Social Commission of Washington, D. C., who is making a tour of all Pacific Coast universities and colleges, will address the student body of the University of Southern California at an all-university assembly tomorrow at 9 a.m. in Bovard Auditorium. President R. B. Von KleinSmid will introduce the lecturer.

POLICE TO GET NEW CARS

The Police Commission has been notified by City Clerk Dominguez that the City Council has approved the purchase for the police department of 114 new automobiles and two ambulances at a cost of $89,740, as requested by the board and recommended by the Bureau of Budget and Efficiency. The commission is expected to take action tomorrow, placing the matter in the hands of the City Purchasing Agent.

The Council's order provides that payment for the new vehicles must be held up until after December 15, next, when sufficient new taxes will have been received to cover the cost. The specifications provide for two ambulances at $4500 each, forty touring cars at $1400 each, and seven new touring cars at $690 each, after deducting the price of old police cars in trade.

WEEK FINDS NINE SENT TO PRISONS

Judge Aggeler Reports on Convictions Here in Past Seven Days

Nine defendants were sentenced to State prisons during the last week by Superior Court judges on felony charges, according to the weekly report of Presiding Judge Aggeler of the criminal division of Superior Court.

Three of these were sentenced for burglary, two for assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder, and one each on charges of issuing checks without sufficient funds, violation of the gun law, forgery and petty theft with a prior conviction.

The list of defendants, the crimes of which they are convicted and the sentences imposed follow:

Joe Fisher, Folsom, second-degree burglary (admitting prior conviction,) seven to fourteen years.

John M. Pigott, Folsom, issuing check without sufficient funds (admitting prior conviction,) seven to fourteen years (two counts to run concurrently.)

Augustine Mundo, San Quentin, first-degree burglary, five years to life (two counts to run consecutively.)

Joe E. Walker, San Quentin, violation of dangerous weapons act, one to five years.

Simon J. Jackson, San Quentin, forgery, one to fourteen years.

Frank Silva Costa, Folsom, second-degree burglary (prior conviction,) seven to fourteen years.

Charley Harris, San Quentin, petty theft with prior convictions of two misdemeanors, not more than five years.

Alvin Outhers, San Quentin, assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder, one to fourteen years. Robbery of first-degree, five years to life (sentences to run concurrently.)

James W. Winn, San Quentin, assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder, one to fourteen years. Robbery of first-degree, five years to life (sentences to run concurrently.)

LAW GRADES GIVE TIP ON SCHOOLING

State Bar Examinations' Report Shows University Prepared Fared Best

California's regular law schools scored heavily over the correspondence type of law school in the State Bar examinations held in Los Angeles and San Francisco in July and August, according to the tabulated returns of the examinations, released yesterday by the committee of examiners of the State Bar.

Students of regular law schools graduating with the degree of Doctor of Jurisprudence rated 98 per cent while only 16 per cent of graduates of law correspondence schools attained this degree, it was revealed. With each type of law instruction listed, including day and evening law schools, college law schools, office study and correspondence schools, the tabulation reveals that students with a greater amount of prelegal training and possessing degrees from day law schools attain a greater volume of success.

Out of 562 candidates examined for the bar a total of 311 were successful. Of these only one J. D. degree student out of forty-three with that degree was unsuccessful. On the other hand, only three were successful out of the twenty-three who had had no high-school education and only seven were successful out of twenty-seven law-office students. A total of twenty-five correspondence-school students took the examinations and twenty-one failed, the report shows.

The LL.B.'s were 60 per cent successful while those with A.B.'s or B.S.'s were 80 per cent successful.

El Paso Air Field to be Dedicated

With a hangar and administration building costing $50,000, the newly completed El Paso terminal of Standard Air Lines, which has its western base at the Aero Corporation of California airport, Ninety-fourth street and Western avenue, will be opened officially and dedicated next Sunday, it was announced yesterday.

The new field is six miles northeast of El Paso on the Carlsbad highway and spreads over an area of 640 acres. The hangar, measuring 9000 square feet, will accommodate three of the company's trimotored Fokker passenger planes.

EXTENSION COURSES ATTENDANCE GAINS

The extension division of the University of California at Los Angeles is showing a gain in popularity, according to Director Richardson. A total of 2600 persons attended the classes during the opening week, which is approximately 600 more than attended the classes during the first week of the fall term in 1928. Of 150 classes opened during the first week those in which the most interest was shown include radio in relation to sound production; real estate, clog dancing, cost accounting, poetry writing, psychology, business investment, European travel and interior decorating.

ELECTRIC CLUB HEARS DR. M. G. LLOYD TODAY

When the Electric Club gathers at the Biltmore this noon, Dr. Morton G. Lloyd, chief of the Department of Safety Engineering in the United States Bureau of Standards, will be the chief speaker. Dr. Lloyd will discuss some of the problems met by his department in making for safer conditions throughout the country. Joe Chappelle with the banjo, will provide the entertainment. Chairman of the day will be City Electrician R. H. Manahan.

POINT FERMIN PLEA BEFORE COMMITTEE

The City Council has referred to its Finance Committee a request from the Board of Public Works for an additional allocation of $2095 for the completion of a drainage system to prevent water from seeping into the cracks caused by the earthslide at Point Fermin. The $7500 previously appropriated is not sufficient, the board states.

Jail Sentence Preferred to Paying of Fine

Rather than pay a $100 fine, Morris Singer, grocer of 424 North Fremont street, has started serving an eighty-day jail sentence imposed on him by Municipal Judge Northrup on May 23, last.

Singer was sentenced after being found guilty of libel and outraging public decency for writing a letter declaring that the "torso murder" of Mrs. Laura B. Sutton, whose body was found in the Los Angeles River, was committed at 2057 South Oxford street. Judge Northrup sentenced him to pay a fine of $400 or to spend eighty days in jail, suspending $300 of the fine for two years on condition that he pay the remainder within ninety days and report to Probation Officer Berry monthly for two years.

Berry took the grocer before Judge Northrup when he failed to report for three months and, as investigation of the records showed that he had failed to pay the $100 fine, he was sent to jail to serve his sentence.

Spring Street to be 'Dolled Up'

A course of procedure looking to the improvement of the physical aspect of Spring street will be the principal topic of discussion at a meeting sponsored by the Downtown Business Men's Association to be held next Monday, October 7, in the ballroom of the Alexandria, it was announced yesterday by Dwight H. Hart, president of the association.

Excepting four blocks, Spring street, it is pointed out, makes a poor appearance, and it is the aim of the organization ultimately to make the thoroughfare the most desirable street in the metropolitan area for certain lines of business.

Speakers at the meeting will include Mayor Porter, Chief of Police Davis, Fire Chief Scott, Dr. George Parrish, health officer, and Gordon Whitnall, directing manager of the City Planning Commission. Orra E. Monnette, vice-president of the board of directors of the Bank of Italy, will preside.

HEREDITY AND CRIME

Relationship Between Them Will Be Topic at Eugenics Meeting

The hereditary aspect of criminality will form the basis of discussion at an open meeting of the Southern California branch of the American Eugenics Society next Monday at the University of Southern California, University avenue and Thirty-sixth street.

Speakers and their subjects will be Dr. Thomas J. Orbison, one of the founders of the Academy of Criminology, "Heredity, Environment and Criminality;" Dr. Norman Fenton, director of the California State Bureau of Juvenile Research, "The Ancestry of Boys Committed to Whittier State School," and Dr. Paul Popenoe, president of the society, "Highlights of a Summer Spent at National Headquarters." Dr. Justin Miller, dean of the college of law at the University of Southern California, will preside and lead the discussion.

HOME FOR BOYS WILL BE OPENED TOMORROW

A home for worthy, homeless boys who attend high school or are employed during the day and attend school in the evening will be opened tomorrow at 526 South Boyle avenue, under the auspices of Rev. Arthur Cotter. It will be known as the Hostel. Information concerning application for admission may be obtained by telephoning ANgelus 5588.

SCHOOL PLAN TO BE TOPIC

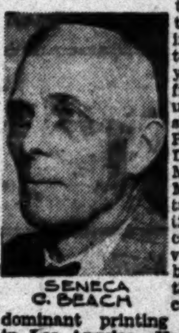
"Justifiable reasons why the Board of Education of Los Angeles school district should be composed of fifteen members each to be elected from a specific district instead of being elected at large" is the subject to be discussed at the meeting of the East Los Angeles Commonwealth League in the Benjamin Franklin Library, First and Chicago streets, Wednesday, at 7:30 p.m. The movement for amending the city charter to accomplish this purpose also will be launched.

TAX MAPS REFERRED

The City Council has referred to the Public Works Committee the assessment district map for the improvement of Garey street between Second and Third streets.

PRINTING OFFICIAL TO RETIRE

Seneca Beach Tomorrow Steps Down from Job in Open-Shop Organization



SENECA C. BEACH

Seneca C. Beach, known the country over as a veteran crusader for betterment of the printing trade, and for the open-shop in it, will retire tomorrow at 68 years of age from the executive secretaryship of the Printing Trades Division of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association. He will continue as adviser to the body, which is the trade association of the dominant printing establishments in Los Angeles. He will be available also, he said, as a general consultant in industrial relations.

When he was only 12, Beach entered the printing trade. He was born in Iowa. When a young man he went to Lake View, Or., where he published a newspaper. Later he went to Portland and did business as S. C. Beach, printer. He was County Auditor at Portland, and for two terms was Multnomah county Senator in Oregon State Legislature. He headed an organization of Portland printers and was executive officer for an Oregon employers' association.

For a time he did national organizing work, especially in Pacific slope States, for United Typothetae of America and was one of the organizers of the Industrial Association of San Francisco and of the Merchants', Manufacturers' and Employers' Association of Stockton.

In 1905, R. D. Baumgardt and others in the printing business here got Beach to come down from Portland and perfect a trade organization in Los Angeles. He helped organize the Printing Board of Trade. In 1919 S. W. Crabill, I. Hays Rice and others took him away from the secretaryship of the Stockton organization and brought him here again and put new life into the printing trade.

On that occasion he organized the Printing Trades Division of the M. & M., which is virtually an entity of itself, and since that time has been its executive officer. Of his work in this capacity, Newman W. Kellaway, president of the division and vice-president of the M. & M., said in an open letter to members:

"He has so ably served us that today ours is not merely another association but it is a nationally, as well as locally recognized institution in the cause of industrial freedom."

William H. Barry, secretary of the Master Printers' Association, a co-organization with the division, will succeed Mr. Beach as secretary of the division.

CONTINGENT FUND FAVORED

MELODIES OF IRISH TENOR PROVE HIT

Joseph Regan Leads Bill at Orpheum; Noted Leader Pleases Again

BY MARY MAYER

When the curtain goes up on the second half of the current Orpheum bill, things begin to happen. Hang on to your door-check and buy whomever you promised it to another ticket. It's well worth the price.

Joseph Regan, that Irish tenor who gave audiences a thrill last year, returns to start things off. From the lilting melody of the popular theme song, "Smiling Irish Eyes," to the last of a long series of encores, Regan grips his listeners and has them clamoring for more.

A lyric voice that makes any selection he chooses a gem of melody, a rare personality and graciousness, and the ability to program numbers to the liking of an audience, place Regan in an outstanding position among other artists of his type. His Orpheum appearances are no doubt scheduled to become yearly events.

In his present appearance, Regan pleases everyone. There is, in addition to popular songs, a medley of Victor Herbert numbers. Request encores bring such selections as "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling," "Mother Machree" and other ballads. Larry Walker accompanies.

And then, of course, there's Ted Lewis, the lad with the "everybody happy" complex, whose muted trumpets, pulsating, wailing clarinets, came as a direct contrast to Regan's unadorned melodies.

Lewis makes up the second half of the delightful period following intermission and sends everyone home in a mood of which mothers-in-law and book agents might well take advantage.

It seems as though the whole world, by this time, knows about Ted Lewis and his Musical Klowns. Those who haven't seen him have heard his records. Those who have seen him delight in telling the rest what they have missed. Lewis, however, should be seen to be fully appreciated.

His act this week opens with a dark-blue version of "The Lonely Road," and ends in a storm of applause and electrical effects with "Singin' in the Rain." But there's no lull in action between these two numbers.

Ted sings some of his most popular recordings, among them "The Silver Lining," and "King for a Day." Eleanor Brooks, a young lady whom Lewis discovered and Ziegfeld hasn't taken away—yet, adds a brand of feminine pulchritude that leaves gentlemen in the audience a bit critical of their wives.

In addition there is a miniature version of Joe Robinson, a youngster with a smile, which the toothpaste concerns should capitalize. The word "taps" means much more to him than a bugle call.

Rounding out Lewis's act are four boys who make up for their unfortunate placement as opening number on the bill by presenting an excellent blend of song and dance entertainment to the accompaniment of Lewis's orchestra. They are the "Dixie Four."

The word "vaudeville" amply covers the first half of the bill.

Opening with the afore-mentioned "Dixie Four," the program continues with a clever ventriloquist act, "In Egypt." There is a surprise ending to this one, that places it under the category of novelties.

Joe Mendi, a performing monkey, has a bag of tricks that are amusingly clever.

Character songs and monologues are offered by Ethel Davis, late star of the Greenwich Village Follies. A sneezing episode proves especially popular.

"Slick as Ever," by Willard Mack, features Harry J. Conley of New York production, Broadway Nights." Conley is a comedian of the derby hat, country yokel variety. In spite of him, however, the act drags noticeably. Ethel DeVoe, Ethel Gray, Ray King and Duncan Harris make up the remainder of the cast.

COLOR FILMS NOW FOUND PRACTICAL

Leading Film Companies Plan Large Production in New Field

The year 1930 will see 100 motion-pictures in technicolor, according to Dr. Herbert T. Kalmus, president of Technicolor, Inc., which possesses the sole method for making, in commercial quantity, pictures in natural colors. Paramount, Warner Brothers, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, First National, United Artists, R.-K.-O., Universal and other leading film companies have signed contracts for special camera equipment on more than fifty feature productions to be made next year.

Color cameras are being supplied at one a week in order to take care of the large demand for color footage, it is said. Twenty-five are now working night and day. Kalmus attributes the fact that the new film has a better projector life than the black and white print to the extra toughness of the special gelatin coating and absence of protracted chemical treatment.

Technicolor is now engaged in a plant expansion program which early in 1930 will give the company eight times its present productive capacity. Negotiations are also under way to establish a European plant.

The popularity of the talking and singing film with its logical emphasis upon the musical comedy and backstage type of story has proved to be a decisive hastening factor in the rise of the color film, it is declared.

LOWES GRATEFUL

Edmund Lowe and Lilyan Tashman, who enact leading roles on the Chinese and Pantages screens this week, feel that they owe a debt of gratitude to Walter Catlett, who first introduced them while all three were on the New York stage. Not until Catlett came to Hollywood for a motion picture did the Lowes find an opportunity to show their appreciation.

Romance and Humor Fashioned

Dorothy Mackaill
Will be seen in her first starring vehicle, "Hard to Get," starting today at Warner Brothers' Hollywood Theater. The film is a First National production.

"SHAVINGS" CAST SELECTED

Henry Duffy has completed the cast of "Shavings," the comedy by Pauline Phelps and Marion Short, which the Henry Duffy Players will offer at the President, starting Sunday. The title role, that of the lovable, sweet-natured philosopher who makes windmills for the children in a toy shop, will be taken by William V. Mong; while the important role of the big-hearted banker, Capt. Sam Hunniwell, will be essayed by James Bradbury, Sr. Others in the cast, which is now in rehearsal under the direction of Edwin H. Curtis, are Joyce Booth, Frances Morris, Allen Connor, Erville Adlerson, Paul Fix, Dean Jagger, James Burtis, Frederick Wallace and little Anita Calfot.

"Shavings" is a dramatization of a story of the same name by Joseph C. Lincoln, the well-known novelist. The lengthy run of "The Sap," in which Taylor Holmes has been appearing as guest star with the Henry Duffy Players, will come to a close this week.

COLORFUL CHORAL PROGRAM PLEASES

Smallman Choir Bids Farewell With Fine Work at Philharmonic

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

Colorful chorales rang out in the Philharmonic Auditorium yesterday afternoon when the Smallman A Cappella Choir gave its farewell program before going on its great adventure, the first coast-to-coast tour ever undertaken by a western choir. The thirty-four singers were brilliantly costumed in the Spanish lace and picturesque velvets which were the fiesta clothes of the dons and senoritas of California's golden days and they made a pretty picture as they stood before their leader, John Smallman.

The program yesterday afternoon was widely varied and called forth the resources of this well-trained group. Works of praise with many parts written by Van Niewenhoven, Brahms, Bach, Nicolau and the resident composer, Felix X. Arens, and the difficult fugues were clearly defined yet blended smoothly. The choir has gained in flexibility with each season's work and this year there is also a marked progress in tone quality.

Folk tunes from the early English songs were especially enjoyed and the Christmas songs were done with a sprightly finish. Spirituals gave opportunity to several good solo voices. There is a freshness and spontaneity about these young a cappella singers, which endears them to their audience and with the careful and self-abnegating work which John Smallman devotes to them, they are destined for greater achievement. California will be proud to have them go forth in its name.

A large audience was in attendance yesterday to wish them well, and the well-chosen program, the refinement of tone shading and the clear carrying quality brought an enthusiastic response.

Cruze Corrects Pronunciation of Word 'Gabbo'

They've called it "Gobbo," "Gorbo," "Garbo" and "Gay-bo," but there's only one correct pronunciation and that's "Gabb-bo." Such is the information from James Cruze, concerning his first all-talking picture, "The Great Gabbo," which starts with a brilliant western premiere at the Criterion Theater Wednesday night. The accent in "Gabbo" is on the first syllable.

During the filming of the production, which was adapted from a novel by Ben Hecht, the possibility of a mispronunciation of the title made the producers consider a change in the name, but this plan was later abandoned because of the very fitness of the name itself for the character which Erich Von Stroheim impersonates.

Betty Compson plays the leading role opposite Von Stroheim, and others in the cast include Donald Douglas and Margie (Babe) Kane.

Special Night at Roosevelt

"Gold Diggers" night is to be celebrated tonight in the Blossom Room of the Hotel Roosevelt in Hollywood, with George Olsen and his recently arrived orchestra furnishing the musical inspiration and entertainment novelties.

Jack L. Warner is in charge of arrangements for this festivity, which is dedicated to the latest Warner production, "Gold Diggers of Broadway." Winnie Lightner, star of the feature, is to be guest of honor, and the entire cast is scheduled to appear in person, according to Eugene Stark, managing director. Frank Fay will share honors with Olsen in presenting the notables.

United Artists Shapes Plans for Premiere

Tom Terriss, "The Vagabond Director" of radio note, will be at the microphone of the United Artists' Theater tomorrow night to introduce the stars and celebrities who will attend the gala first-night performance of "The Dance of Life." Terriss is well known throughout the country for his unique radio talks on foreign countries. He is at present producing short-length travel pictures.

The Paramount-Famous Lasky organization, producers of the film, will furnish dozens of sun-arcs and broad lights to illuminate the vicinity of the theater. Hal Skelly and Nancy Carroll are co-starred in "The Dance of Life," which was adapted from the stage success, "Burlesque."

INA CLAIRE APPEARS IN NEW TALKIE

Noted Player Has Leading Role in "Awful Truth" at R.K.O. Theater

Ina Claire, foremost comedienne of the American stage, makes her talking screen debut at the R.-K.-O. Theater Thursday in a film version of one of her greatest successes, "The Awful Truth." This picture, introducing Miss Claire to the motion-picture public, consummates one of the most important associations of the theater and the screen since the inauguration of dialogue productions, it is said.

Miss Claire's performance in the star role, according to advance reports, rivals anything she has ever done on the stage. She has to her credit such outstanding successes as "The Gold Diggers," "Blue Beard's Eighth Wife" and "The Last of Mrs. Cheyney." "The Awful Truth" is the story of a man and his wife who are madly in love, yet who encounter the snag of jealousy, pride and selfishness.

The actress is supported by a cast of stage and screen players of ability and the production was directed by Marshall Neilan. Henry Daniel, noted English actor, who made his American stage debut with Ethel Barrymore in the revival of "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray," is Miss Claire's leading man. Included in the cast are John Roche, Theodore Von Eltz, Blanche Frederici and others.

Brown to Start "Anna Christie"

Clarence Brown has practically completed preparations for "Anna Christie," which will be Greta Garbo's first talking picture, at the Metro - Goldwyn - Mayer studios. There will be but a few more of the daily conferences with Francis Marion, noted scenarist, who is making the adaptation from the Eugene O'Neill story.

Rehearsals are to commence under Brown's direction within a few days and the actual shooting of the dramatic story will start shortly after. The first scenes to be taken are those between Anna Christie and her father. The latter role will be played by George Marion, who created the part on the stage.

Lincoln Offers "Third Degree"

Announcement has been made by the management of the Lincoln Theater, where the new Lafayette Players have been appearing in "Experience," that starting tonight the noted colored troupe will present the police thriller, "The Third Degree."

Of Interest to Women

Society

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY

When grand opera opens at the Shrine Auditorium tomorrow evening many of our prominent society leaders will be conspicuous by their absence, being either abroad or in the East.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Murphy, with their daughter, Miss Bernardine Murphy, and Mrs. Murphy's sister, Miss Sue Sinnot, still are abroad, and will not return to Los Angeles much before November 1.

They have booked passage aboard the Bremen for October 16, and after a few days in New York City will come direct to the Coast.

Mrs. Harry Gray of Pasadena, who is always a "first-nighter" and much interested in musical doings, still is in Paris, with Miss Lorin Barton, the former sailing for home some time in November. The latter has not yet decided when she will come back.

Mrs. William Watson Locett and her mother, Mrs. Carrie Craig, who are both well known in Los Angeles and its environs, sailed for home last Saturday. They are planning to remain in Detroit visiting with friends for an indefinite time, and will probably not reach the Pacific Coast much before November 1.

Mrs. William T. McFie of West Twenty-ninth street, who sailed for Europe on the same steamer as the Murphys, returned to Los Angeles several weeks ago, having spent a most delightful summer on the continent. Mrs. Lyman Ross McFie (Phila Milbank) and her charming young sub-deb daughter, Miss Virginia McFie, are in New York City, where they are having a jolly time before they go to Washington, where the latter is entering Mt. Vernon Seminary, her mother's alma mater. Miss Virginia was graduated from Marlboro School last June and is one of the loveliest of our young sub-debs. Mrs. McFie will return to New York after placing her daughter in school, and will return to Los Angeles within the next few weeks.

Weds in Gotham

Miss Eileen Patricia Mead, daughter of Mrs. Francis Joseph Mead of South Harvard Boulevard, Los Angeles, was married to Herbert Allen Price, son of Mrs. Maude E. Price of Victoria avenue, Los Angeles, Saturday, the 21st inst., at St. Ignatius Church, Brooklyn, Rev. Father Murphy officiating.

Miss Mead and her grandmother, Mrs. T. J. Lannon, left for New York two months ago by way of the Panama Canal, and Mrs. Mead arrived in New York in time for the wedding, after a trip to Seattle and Alaska. Mr. Price reached New York a few days before the ceremony.

Miss Kathryn Fee of Brooklyn, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor and Marcus Elmer Fairchild, also of Brooklyn, was best man.

After the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served at the Hotel Picadilly, New York. The guests included:

Mrs. Francis Joseph Mead and Mrs. T. J. Lannon of Los Angeles, Mrs. P. E. Porterfield, Tacoma, Wash.; Mrs. George Cook, White Bear Lake, Minn.; Mr. and Mrs. Fred S. Cutter, Plainfield, N. J.; Miss Kathryn Fee, Mr. and Mrs. James Fee, Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Elmer Fairchild and Mrs. Marcus Delos Fairchild, Brooklyn, N. Y.

The bride was graduated from the University of California at Los Angeles and later took graduate work at Berkeley. She is affiliated with Gamma Phi Beta Sorority.

Mr. Price also attended the University of California and is a member of Sigma Pi Fraternity.

After a wedding trip to Europe, Mr. and Mrs. Price will make their home in Los Angeles.

Mr. Price's sister, Miss Betty Price, and his brother, Harold Price, left for Europe last February, and were joined by their mother, Mrs. Maude E. Price, early in July. Their aunt, Miss Harriet Fullner, is also with them.

Formal High Tea

A formal English tea in the beautiful garden of the Alpha Gamma Delta Sorority house, 668 West Twenty-eighth street, was given by the University of Southern California chapter of the sorority last Monday afternoon, in honor of freshmen co-eds. Huge golden dahlias in profusion were used in carrying out a color scheme of green and gold. Miss Margaret Morrow and Miss Louise Williams were in charge of the arrangements for the tea.

Delta Alpha Chapter of the sorority at Southern California entertained with a "Night in Paris" dinner Tuesday evening, when the sorority house was arranged to simulate Le Moulin Rouge. French menus, French songs, and typical costumes were part of the setting. Those who were in charge included Miss Marjorie Loud, Evangeline Peale and Miss Martha Van Buskirk.

The Palomar Tennis Club was the setting for a formal dinner given by Alpha Gamma Delta Sorority Friday night, with Miss Mary Beulah Moler, president, acting as toastmistress. Red, buff and green were the colors used, the favors being attractive silver bud vases with the sorority letters engraved upon them. Miss Carolyn Colmery was in charge of this final event in the rushing program.

Fiancee Honored

Miss Marian Miller, assisted by her sister Ruth, honored Miss Marian Vallat, a fiancee of William B. Wright of San Francisco, with a miscellaneous shower Saturday. Miss Vallat, who is an Alpha Phi and a sorority sister of the Misses Miller, will wed in the early part of this fall. They will reside in the Bay City where Mr. Wright is engaged in business.

A charming idea was carried out in the hanging on a clothes-line of the gifts for the honoree. After a refreshing tea, Miss Vallat removed her "clothes" from the line to open the packages.

Campus Notes

All new undergraduate students at the University of Southern California are to be guests of President and Mrs. Rufus Von KleinSmid at a garden tea Wednesday afternoon at their beautiful home in Chester Place. Dr. Mary Sinclair Crawford, dean of women, who recently returned from a summer trip to Europe, and Dr. Francis Bacon, counsellor of men, will assist in welcoming the student guests.

Phi Chi Theta commerce sorority at the University of Southern California has issued invitations to all women students interested in commerce, to a tea on Thursday afternoon, at the Delta Zeta house, 710 West Twentieth street. Dr. and Mrs. Reid L. McClung, Dr. Florence May Morse and Mrs. Holme are patrons of the sorority and will assist in receiving the guests.

SUPPER REVEALS BETROTHAL

Club Attends Announcement Party

Witzel Studios]

Miss Celo Elaine Wilmot

THE formal announcement of the betrothal of Miss Celo Elaine Wilmot, daughter of Mrs. James V. Leonett of 916 South Detroit street, to Paul Randolph Davidson was made at an informal bridge-supper given by the bride-elect last Tuesday evening. Clever little futuristic announcements were made by the bride-elect and placed by the two little doves of ice cream served to each guest. Those included were Misses Jane Badenoch of Inglewood, Daisy Griswold of Calexico, Adele Huber, Margaret Wylie, Ruth Booker and Jerry Crum of Los Angeles, Marion Olds of Sierra Madre and Viola Washington of Long Beach. The wedding will be an event of October in Ventura. The guests at the announcement party were members of a club established by Miss Wilmot when she attended Miss Fulmer's School and of which she is the president.

Art's Future Forum Theme

"The art of the future and what will be its inspiration" is the subject of the address that will be delivered at the open forum of California Art Club, Barnsdall Park, this evening at 8 o'clock. Fred U. S. Hughes will be the speaker. He is secretary of the Larger Circle Movement, which concerns itself with world religion affairs.

The open forums of the club are open to the public without admission charge.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORTON W. BURGESS

A NARROW ESCAPE

> Lessons taught by dangers past, > should, but do not always, last.—
> [Old Mother Nature.

Peter Rabbit and little Mrs. Peter were in a tight place. Bowser the Hound was coming around one end of the dear old briar-patch and Flip the Terrier around the other end. Thus, Peter and Mrs. Peter were between the two, and right at that particular place there was no handy little path into the dear old briar-patch. Instead, there was a very thick and close growth of brambles. It certainly looked bad for Peter and Mrs. Peter.

Peter knew that the one to fear most was Flip. He knew that Flip was very, very much quicker than Bowser. It would be easier to dodge Bowser than it would be to dodge Flip. He signaled little Mrs. Peter to follow him and started towards Bowser. Little Mrs. Peter was right at Peter's heels. Peter began to circle out so as to go around Bowser. Bowser saw this and changed his direction. Bowser's big voice was ringing across the green meadows. Flip was coming just as fast as he could run and that was very fast indeed. Peter and little Mrs. Peter, watching Flip by rolling their eyes back as they ran, both realized that Flip was the real danger. If they could once get past Bowser, they could make for the nearest entrance to one of Peter's little paths through the briars.

"I hope Fuzzy," as Peter calls little Mrs. Peter, "will dodge the opposite way from the way I dodge when it comes time," thought Peter. But there was no way of telling her this.

It looked as if Peter was going to run right into Bowser's mouth. Right at Peter's heels was little Mrs. Peter. Behind them was coming Flip, and he certainly was coming fast. Now, if there is one thing that Peter can do better than another, it is to dodge. When running at full speed he can change his direction as few others can. He did this now. He suddenly shot off to one side. Little Mrs. Peter did the same thing. But she didn't dodge in the same direction as Peter. She dodged in the opposite direction. This was very clever. It made confusion. Bowser was in doubt which way to turn. And so was Flip. They didn't know which one to chase. This gave a chance for Peter and little Mrs. Peter to gain. Both Bowser and Flip turned towards Peter. This gave little Mrs. Peter a chance and she made the most of it. How she did run, lipperty-lipperty-lip! She reached an entrance to one of the little paths into the dear old briar-patch and in she popped. She was safe. Then she turned to see where Peter was.

She saw Peter's tail flashing in the sun

She saw Peter's white tail flashing in the sun, and Peter was running as only he can run when he has to. Behind him was racing Flip. The little black-and-white dog certainly was traveling. He was gaining on Peter. Behind Flip came Bowser the Hound with his nose to the ground, for that is the way he loves to run when following a trail, and telling the whole world what he is doing.

"Oh, dear!" whimpered little Mrs. Peter. "He'll catch Peter! He'll surely catch Peter!"

It did look as if Flip would catch Peter. But just then Peter dodged. He changed his direction abruptly, and now he was headed straight towards the dear old briar-patch. Flip was running so fast that he couldn't slow down to make the turn as quickly as Peter did. So he over-ran; that is, he ran quite a little distance beyond the point where Peter made his turn. Then he managed to turn and start for Peter again. Once more he was almost up to Peter. They were close to the dear old briar-patch this time. Once more Peter dodged. This time Flip couldn't stop himself before he crashed right into the brambles. How he did yelp! By the time he had backed out, Peter was safe in the dear old briar-patch. It was a narrow escape. But then, as Peter says, "an escape is an escape," so what does it matter how narrow it was.

YOUR BABY and MINE

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office, will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb-sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

DIET FOR 8-MONTHS-OLD BABY

Mrs. W. W. McL., writes: "I watch your corner with such interest and have derived so much benefit from the problems discussed. I would like to know if I am feeding my 8-months-old baby, who weighs eighteen pounds, correctly? I give her eight ounces of the following formula, five times daily, four times in the daytime and once at night. Thirty-two ounces of milk, ten ounces of water and two tablespoonfuls of sugar. Should it be stronger?

"She was quite sick with stomach trouble at 4 months and I have been wary about giving it to her as strong as most babies take a formula at this age. I give her arrowroot biscuits but she doesn't seem to care for them. She gets orange juice and drinks a lot of water. Should she be drinking from a cup?

"She stands up and tries to walk. She sleeps all night but not more than three hours altogether in the daytime. What should I feed her now besides her bottle?"

Answer: A baby's formula for the whole day is in relation to the age and weight, and according to that your thirty-two ounces of milk is even more milk than your baby needs. In fact, it would be better if your formula were balanced somewhat differently, for it lacks sugar, has more milk than necessary and the rest of the diet is not as good as it might be.

I suggest for the present, at least until baby weighs twenty pounds, that the formula be twenty-seven ounces of milk, five ounces of water, and one ounce of sugar. Give her only four feedings during the day and none at night. In addition, the baby needs cereal twice daily, beginning with the usual one teaspoonful and increasing very slowly until at one year baby can take several tablespoonfuls at a feeding, in addition to the bottle or cup of milk.

Egg yolk can be started in small quantities, not more than one-half to one teaspoonful a day, added to a bottle formula or given in the form of soft or hard cooked yolk only. Babies react so variously to egg (white is not given yet) that one must go very cautiously and if baby has a rash or hives or shows sign of disturbance the egg should be stopped.

Vegetable soup is the other requisite at this period and it is given sometimes in preference to sieved vegetables because babies like soup with vegetables cooked in it, better than the vegetables alone. Try each out and see which your baby takes best. Same rules for these, small amounts, increased gradually.

At one year baby should take a cup and not a bottle and to accomplish this cup feedings should be started early. We discuss this quite a lot in the column. So baby's diet at 8 months should be: formula at 6 in the morning; cereal and formula at 10; soup and formula at 2 and cereal and formula at 6. No night feedings. Orange juice an hour before 10 o'clock feeding and egg yolk with any bottle formula or separately with the 2 o'clock feeding.

Chef Wyman's RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

CARROTS AND ONIONS IN CASSEROLE

Wash and scrape six medium-sized carrots, cut them in dice, and finely slice four mild medium-sized onions, oil a casserole dish, place in it a layer of the diced carrots, season with salt, paprika, sprinkle with bread crumbs, and dot with bits of butter, continue until all have been used, having the top layer of buttered bread crumbs, place in a moderate oven and bake for forty-five minutes. Ten minutes before serving, place across the top two slices of bacon, and allow the bacon to become crisp.

BAKED LEMON PUDDING

Three tablespoonfuls of butter, one cupful of sugar, four tablespoonfuls of flour, one-fourth of a teaspoonful of salt, three tablespoonfuls of lemon juice, the grated rind of one lemon, three eggs, one and a fourth cupfuls of milk, cream the butter, add the sugar, and cream well. Sift the flour and salt and add to the butter and sugar mixture, add the grated lemon rind and juice, beat the egg yolks until creamy, add the milk to them and beat into the other mixture, beat the egg whites until stiff, fold into the mixture, pour into an oiled dish or individual molds, set in a pan of hot water and bake in a medium oven for about three quarters.

HAMBURGER FRITTERS

To one pound of ground round-steak, add ten tablespoonfuls of water, one medium-sized onion chopped fine, a seasoning of salt and paprika, one-fourth of a teaspoonful of nutmeg, and one-eighth of a teaspoonful of cloves, mix all together, and add one-fourth of a cupful of flour, take up tablespoonfuls of the mixture, and saute in hot shortening until well browned on both sides.

MEXICAN SANDWICH

Slightly beat one egg, and beat into it a level tablespoonful of flour that has been mixed with one tablespoonful of sugar, and one-half a cupful of hot thin cream, place in a double-boiler, stir and cook slowly until thick and smooth, remove from the fire, and beat in one tablespoonful of butter that has been broken in small pieces, and two tablespoonfuls of vinegar, place this on the ice until chilled, chop three pimientoes and mix with them two chopped hard-boiled eggs, one cupful of dry cottage cheese, and one medium-sized tomato, peeled, and cut in small dice, combine the two mixtures, and spread between thin slices of whole wheat bread.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answered in the department, PRACTICAL RECIPES, published every Friday.—(All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY

Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

CLABBER MILK

Those of our grandmothers who lived on the farm were accustomed to set aside a dish of milk to "turn," and when it had become like little Miss Muffet's dish of curds and whey it was eaten with perhaps a dash of cinnamon or some sugar. When taken alone as a complete meal, clabbered milk is palatable and it tends to give the digestive organs a slight rest.

Sour milk and sour-milk diets are widely used, not only in America and Europe, but in Persia, Turkey, Siberia, Cape Colony and South Africa. Some eat soured milk because they enjoy it, some because they believe it of value in overcoming intestinal troubles, and some, in the hot countries, because it is impossible to keep sweet milk. There is, however, no definite proof that sour milk is superior to sweet milk for the average person.

All milk souring comes as a result of the lactic acid created by fermentation. In buttermilk, this acid is allowed to work naturally, that is, when it takes its time, and when the cream is ready, the housewife separates the butter from the milk by churning. It is certainly true that glass of fresh buttermilk just out of a cool churn has a delicious flavor if the milk has been kept clean and is not too cold. Much buttermilk is used in Ireland and Scotland, and it has been estimated that a pint of the average buttermilk has about the same nutritional value as two and a half ounces of dried beef. It is easily digested and certainly a cheap form of protein. Because of its acid content, however, it should not be used with bread or other starchy foods, and is best used by itself or in combination with the sweet fruits, such as dates, figs, prunes and raisins.

In making buttermilk generally sold as such, the cream is separated and buttermilk cultures are added to sour it, when it is then emulsified to cut the curd. Real buttermilk, however, has a much richer flavor.

Kumiss is a form of sour milk used by the Tartars on the Southern Steppes of Russia. It is made from a lactic acid fermentation of mare's milk. The process, which takes several days, produces some alcohol and the milk will foam and have about the same alcoholic content as light beer.

Yoghoort, a fermented milk used in Turkey and Persia, is made from sheep or cow's milk which is first boiled down to concentrate it and then innoculated by adding sour milk containing the bacilus lacticus.

Lemon milk is a kind of sour milk which I can highly recommend. This can be made at home by shaking a pint of raw milk and the juice of one lemon in a quart jar. This combination is easily digested and many persons who do not relish plain milk often enjoy it. If made fresh every time it is used this form of milk diet may be found valuable and even superior to other types of sour milk.

LEVY MAP PRESENTED

City Engineer Shaw has presented to the City Council the assessment district map for the improvement of Two Hundred and Fifty-sixth street from Belle Porte avenue to the west city boundary. It was referred to the Public Works Lighting Committee.

MODES OF THE MOMENT

by Honore Booth

FASHION EXPERT OF HARPER'S BAZAAR

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Blouses are just as different this season as everything else in the way of feminine attire. The revolution that has swept the world of fashion has left nothing untouched—not even the smallest details.

The new blouses are quite varied in cut and material and have more elaborating touches than heretofore—fine tucking and stitching; plaited frills and jabots and unusual placing of buttons.

TUCK-INS FOR SPORTWEAR

For sports and tailored suits the tuck-in blouse is the favorite. This is made in wool, crepe or satin both in plain colors and in floral designs. One French couturier achieves an attractive effect by using kasha in a large flower design for the lining of the jacket coat as well as the blouse.

White satin blouses are shown extensively with black suits by many of the Paris houses.

Sometimes a very short blouse, fitting tightly at the waist, is worn over the skirt, but so short that it gives the effect of a tuck-in.

NEW HIGH NECKS

These tuck-in blouses usually have high necks finished with little turnover collars, cravats or scarf ties that come up close around the neck. The cravats and ties are sometimes made of fur matching the trimming on the coat. White shaved lamb is particularly smart used in this way.

The formal suit is usually complemented with an overblouse made in satin, crepe, brocade or lame.

There are two types of these overblouses; one which is slightly gathered or draped over the hips, moulding them tightly and suggesting the higher waistline; the other is the very long tunic which is either moulded and belted or princess in line.

MANY JABOTS AND FRILLS

Necklines on these dressier blouses are both high and low. The high necks are completed with bandings of the material, jabots, plaited frills and sometimes scarf collars. The cowl-shaped neck is also popular, hanging from a deep V.

Other details are fine tucking, hemstitching and rows of buttons. On the crepe satin blouses the crepe side of the satin is often employed as trimming.

MUCH COLOR

As to color, white and eggshell are the smartest for satin. Colorful lames are worn a great deal with black velvet, black broadcloth and other formal afternoon ensembles—silver and gold combined with pastel shades.

Dark, varicolored prints in modern floral designs are worn with the semitailored type of suit. These are usually found in dark reds, browns and greens.

Plain colors harmonizing with the costume are smart, especially greens and browns.

Household Suggestions

Remember the Cook

If you thoroughly enjoy the good dinner that mother so thoughtfully prepared for you, don't forget to tell her about it. She will feel fully repaid for her effort if you just take the time to tell her.

In Place

If you have no time to dust and mop before leaving the home, be sure that everything is in order and in its rightful place. The dusting may escape notice but things out of order never will, so if there is a choice—straighten up!

Keep Young With Them

We talk about the "present generation" in horrified tones, but perhaps if mother and daddy would keep with the growing boys and girls and try to understand and interest themselves in the "awful doings" they would seem more natural instead of so terrible.

All Alike

A wise bride will make her curtains alike all over her apartment or small house. Then when she moves into larger quarters, the curtains can be changed around without having "odd" curtains on hand. Besides, a small home will look more attractive if curtained the same throughout.

Library Lecture Series Includes Numerous Topics

Subjects to suit everyone are on the Public Library's free-lecture program beginning this week. Book review series will be offered by Helen E. Haines at 7:30 p.m. every second and fourth Tuesday, and by Gertrude E. Darlow at 3:30 p.m. every first and third Thursday.

Dr. D. M. Morandini will continue lectures on the Einstein theory at 8 a.m. each Saturday in October. The Herpetological Society and the Audubon Society will continue their series at the library. The philosophy series which packed the hall last season will be continued by Dr. John E. Boodin who gives his first lecture, "Kant, the Founder of German Idealism," at 8 p.m. October 7. German, Spanish and French lectures are to be offered Thursday and Friday nights, to be announced later. Dr. Ernest L. Tross delivers two lectures on art, October 9 and 30. Prof. T. Earl Pardoe speaks on "Your Vocabulary" October 28.

Fashion Pageant to Show Unique

Complete wardrobe conceptions in three entirely new motifs embracing Batik, Russian and Oriental designs will be displayed in unique fashion pageants next Sunday afternoon and evening at the first annual National Beauty Show in the Ambassador Auditorium, opening Saturday. The first day of the exposition will be given over to formal ceremonies and introductory pageants.

To date, more than three-quarters of the 142 booths reserved for manufacturers of beauty aids and appliances already have been reserved.

LIGHTING PLEA RECEIVED

The Board of Public Works has transmitted to the City Council a majority petition asking for the installation of an ornamental lighting system in Merton avenue between Eagle Rock Boulevard and Ellenwood avenue, with recommendations that the necessary proceedings be instituted. The matter was referred to the Traffic and Committee.

County Limit on Buildings Urged

Another reason for limiting the height of buildings was proposed to the County Board of Supervisors in a letter from the Municipal League urging that the county adopt the same regulations as the city against skyscrapers, when it was suggested that the recent development of aviation is making high buildings a menace to navigation of the air.

It is also stated that buildings over the height-limit tax public transportation utilities and the capacities of streets near where the buildings are clustered. Automobiles, it is pointed, make skyscrapers unnecessary by affording easy transportation, and airplanes will perform a similar service.

Change Dark Colors to New Light Shades

County Limit on Buildings Urged

Another reason for limiting the height of buildings was proposed to the County Board of Supervisors in a letter from the Municipal League urging that the county adopt the same regulations as the city against skyscrapers, when it was suggested that the recent development of aviation is making high buildings a menace to navigation of the air.

It is also stated that buildings over the height-limit tax public transportation utilities and the capacities of streets near where the buildings are clustered. Automobiles, it is pointed, make skyscrapers unnecessary by affording easy transportation, and airplanes will perform a similar service.

THEY SPEED TO SEE VOLCANOES

Girls Hope to View Three Erupting

WHEN volcanoes began to show signs of activity in the old days, people hastily gathered their belongings together and all available ships were summoned to take them as far from the scene as possible. Women and children first was the rule.

Nowadays, when volcanoes start to erupt, ships are crowded taking people to, not from, the scene. And women first still is the rule.

This was evident when the Lassco liner Calawaii cleared the local port this week-end for the Hawaiian Islands where a new eruption of three volcanoes momentarily is expected. The large white vessel was crowded with last-minute ticket-buyers, all hopeful of a sight of Pele at its best.

Ella Leath, University of California at Los Angeles graduate, is heading a party of girls hurrying to the islands hoping to be in time to see the beginning of the forthcoming eruption. With Miss Leath is her cousin, Eve Barrett.

DE PRIEST FOR NEGRO UNITY

Representative in Address Here Urges Organization of Colored People for Equality Struggle

Organization as the first requisite in the struggle of the negro to win "equality before the law" was the theme of a speech delivered at the Shrine Auditorium yesterday by Oscar DePriest, colored Representative in Congress from Chicago. DePriest came here to help celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of the California Eagle, said to be the oldest newspaper for colored people west of the Mississippi.

"I would not be in Congress if we were not thoroughly organized in Chicago," he told his auditors. "You will not amount to anything here if you do not organize in Los Angeles."

The negro Congressman followed this injunction with advice as to how the negroes of this city should organize to make their voice most effective in the legislative halls of State and nation. The plan he outlined, he said, is based on the principles which aided in building up the effective political machine which he controls in Chicago.

RELATES EXPERIENCES

If the large colored population of this city is thoroughly organized and acts as a unit in response to the advice of leaders whom it should find trustworthy, it is not without the bounds of possibility, Representative DePriest asserted, that a negro will be elected from one of the new Congressional districts to be set up here under the terms of the reapportionment bill passed at the last session of Congress.

Although Representative DePriest said he is not as much interested in social equality as in equality before the law, he related some of his social experiences in Washington. Without mentioning the name of the Senator he meant, he said he had heard that one United States Senator has threatened to throw him out if he ever enters the Senate rest room. He has determined to accept the challenge, he said, and added "that Senator may find out that throwing out is a two-handed game."

He took cognizance of the criticism which has been directed against him for sending a colored boy to West Point and said he has no cause to regret that action. Furthermore, he said, he intends to nominate a colored boy to fill every other vacancy at either Annapolis or West Point which occurs in his district during his term.

OTHER SPEAKERS

Representative DePriest was introduced by Representative Joe Crail, who described his colored colleague as "able, patriotic, and devoted to his people." He was welcomed to the city in a short address by Mayor Porter. The Mayor, as did all the other speakers, also congratulated J. B. Bass, editor of the California Eagle, on its achievements during its fifty years of existence. Mr. Bass presided at the meeting and other speakers were F. M. Roberts, negro Assemblyman, and Dr. H. C. Hudson, president of the National Association for the Advancement of the Colored People. In addition to the speeches there was a musical program by a large female choir and by the "Hearts in Dixie" chorus.

Representative DePriest was met at the Southern Pacific station upon his arrival here yesterday morning by a large delegation of colored people, who formed a parade and escorted him to the Dunbar Hotel. He was welcomed on behalf of the city by Hugh MacBeth. Today he will attend a ceremonial at the Lincoln Airfield at which the Bessie Coleman Aero Club will christen one of its planes "Oscar DePriest."

Tomorrow he will go to Pasadena and on Wednesday to San Diego, from which city he will leave for his home on Thursday. He is accompanied by his wife and his sister and by H. H. Proctor, assistant corporation counsel of Chicago.

SAILOR GRANTED DIVORCE

Miles A. Coslet, a machinist first class in the Navy, came home from a cruise to find that his wife Melissa had left him. "I followed her to Indiana and asked her to come back," the husband said. She said she thought our marriage was a mistake and the sooner the wrong was righted the better for both of us," Coslet said. A decree was granted.

DELAY GRANTED IN POWER SUIT

City Gets Sixty Days More for Amending Charges

Edison Company Agrees to Allowing Extension

Lines in Annexed-Areas Basis of Present Action

An extension of sixty days has been granted the city of Los Angeles to file its amended complaint in the proceedings brought against the Southern California Edison Company to condemn power lines in twenty-six annexed territories.

At a hearing on a special demurrer to the complaint filed by the power company, held before Superior Judge Bishop on the 18th inst., the court sustained the company's plea and allowed the city ten days to file its amended complaint. The time for filing was up Saturday.

Attorney George Warren of the legal force of the Water and Power Department, said last night that an agreement had been reached between counsel for the city and the Southern California Edison Company whereby the city is given sixty days more in which to complete its amendment.

The Edison company won its point against the city's complaint on the ground that it described the annexed territories involved by ordinance numbers only and not by title and date of passage as provided by statute.

Efforts are being made by the city to take over, for municipal operation by the city, power lines of the defendant company in territories annexed by the city from time to time as follows:

Melrose, Sawtelle, Angeles Mesa Nos. 1 and 2; Rimpau, Hancock, Evans, Ambassador, Laurel Canyon, Hyde Park, Eagle Rock, Vermont, Laguna, Carthay, Agoure, Rosewood, Lankershim, Providencia, Cienega, Annandale, Clinton, Wagner, Fairfax, Holabird, Danziger and Santa Monica Canyon.

Citrus Juniors Can't Get Team

GLENDORA, Sept. 29.—Citrus Junior College will not enter a football team in the Junior College Conference this season due to a lack of players, according to Coach Glick, who was to have coached the college team this year. The decision was made after enough men to make up a team failed to report for practice. At first the college planned to form an ineligible squad, but due to a lack of interest, this has also been abandoned.

Instead of football, the college is planning to center interest in basketball this season. Glick will assist Coach Schott in training the Citrus Union High School football squad.

POLITICAL FIRES LIT EARLY IN ONE TOWN

MONTEREY PARK, Sept. 29.—Although the municipal election is not to be held until next April, political fires have already been lit and three candidates for City Council have been put forward by the Monterey Park Taxpayers' Association. The proposed candidates are Mrs. Elsie F. Haight, Jesse J. Thornton and Adolph Fredericks. The candidates running on the association's ticket will be pledged to economy in the city government, it was announced.

RELATIVES GOT HIS MONEY

Instead of giving his salary to his wife, Arthur D. Peters gave it to his relatives, Mrs. Margaret Peters said when asking Superior Judge Yankwich to grant her a divorce. In the two years of our married life he gave me only $50." A decree was granted.

PAVING PETITION FILED

A petition for the improvement of Cordell Drive from Doheny Drive to Sierra Alta Way with twenty-foot pavement, has been filed with the City Council. It was referred to City Engineer Shaw and the Public Works Committee.

WIGWAM CLUB HAS POW-WOW

Thousands of Red Men Take Part

Ah-Wane-U and Chief White Eagle

MORE than 2500 Indians from all parts of the United States assembled at Sycamore Grove Park yesterday for the annual picnic and reunion of the Wigwam Club of America, an organization of redskins devoted to the welfare of the needy among aboriginal tribes. Stalwart young braves and grizzled chieftains, pretty princesses and withered squaws mingled with one another, chatting in their native tongue and applauding the efforts of their kin to entertain them.

The program featured Chief Big Tree, a Seneca from New York, whose likeness was perpetuated in the heroic statue, "End of the Trail," which stands at the end of the old overland route in San Francisco; Thundercloud and Tatzuambie, Cherokees from Oklahoma; Little Bear, a Mohawk from New York, and Willow Bird, an Apache from New Mexico. Their contributions included love songs, lullabys, bird calls and addresses, all delivered in the Indian language.

Two white men also appeared on the rostrum, Frank Johnson, painter of Indian subjects, and member of the American National Academy, and Robert E. Callahan, writer on Indian subjects. The program was arranged by Ah-Wane-U (Beautiful Flower) Sharon, member of the Oneida tribe and founder of the Wigwam Club.

SIX INJURED IN TRAFFIC

Hurts May Cause Death of Three as Result of Series of Sunday Auto Accidents

Three persons were hurt possibly fatally and three others injured less seriously in automobile mishaps yesterday.

Two of the injured were passengers on a street car at First and Evergreen streets when Manuel Garcia's car crashed into it, probably injuring Garcia fatally. He was taken to the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital where it was learned he had two fractures of the skull, both arms and legs broken and a number of deep cuts.

The street-car passengers were not hurt seriously and were given emergency treatment. They are Roberto Chavez, 1451 Kearney street, and Mrs. Anna Maria, 1520 Bell street.

Joseph Thomason, 726 Wilcox avenue, probably was injured fatally when he lost control of his car and it crashed into one driven by Miss Hazel Tabor at Forty-sixth and Figueroa streets yesterday. Miss Tabor was injured slightly. After Thomason's car struck the Tabor car it careened and crashed into the parked car of Dr. Glenn Miller, 2059 Los Bioinos street.

Because of a mix-up in the police records the name of Mrs. Pearl Allen was given out Saturday night as the victim of a fatal street-car accident at Ninetieth and Vermont. The victim was Mrs. Ada Von Northrup, 43 years of age, 1050 West Ninety-second street. She was killed instantly. The police found a card in her pocket bearing the name of Mrs. Pearl Allen.

Kiyoka Miyoke, 10 years of age, of Gardena, was injured possibly fatally when she was struck by an automobile while crossing the street near her home. She was taken to Seaside Hospital, Long Beach, where she was reported suffering a fractured left leg, a fractured right arm and a fracture of the skull. The car, according to the police report, was driven by William Meyer of 717 East Palm street, Gardena. He was not held.

Beauty is a Public Duty

Outdoor advertising is all right in its place, but there is a growing sentiment that it must not be allowed to disfigure natural beauties or confine motrists between varicolored walls shutting off their view of the landscape.

The latest pronouncement is from the National Association of Real Estate Boards, which adopted resolutions at its annual convention in Boston. The realtors, after their long journeys across the country to the meeting, evidently had reacted strongly against billboard abuses. Their resolutions ask the Department of Commerce to investigate and make recommendations "concerning the possibilities of just regulation of outdoor advertising."

The resolutions pased by the realtors of the nation take a position that cannot be assailed, as the following paragraphs indicate:

"We believe outdoor advertising, where it detracts from the sightliness of residential areas and mars rural scenic beauty, is unfair to the general public and the property owner.

We believe that billboards or other outdoor advertisements should not be permitted where they form a dangerous or unnecessary traffic hazard.

"We recognize the natural beauty of our country as a public heritage to be considered, and the gigantic expenditures by the public in its highways as an investment to be protected."—[Minneapolis Journal.

Newspaper Man Dies at Home After Illness

Thomas Parker Berry, well-known Los Angeles and San Diego newspaper man, died at his home at 3418 North Broadway, late Saturday night, after having been confined to his bed for several months. Arrangements for the funeral have not yet been made.

For ten years Mr. Berry was financial editor of a Los Angeles paper, but resigned from that position about ten years ago, and after the death of his mother, his only near relative, worked in Portland, Or., and then in New York. Returning to California some years ago, he became telegraph editor on the San Diego Independent, retaining that position until that newspaper suspended publication.

Some time after Mr. Berry's sickness became serious, he was married to Miss Lenora H. King of Los Angeles, editor of the Southwest Blue Book.

Following the wedding, which took place on June 26, last year, at La Mesa, near San Diego, Mrs. Berry brought her husband to her home here and endeavored to nurse him back to health. For some time he improved and it was believed he would recover fully. But a few days ago he took a turn for the worse.

POPPIES ARE PLENTIFUL BUT NOT AS OF OLD

Nature lovers should do whatever they can to protect the wild flowers. Picking flowers is instinctive, and many persons gather them in armfuls, without stopping to consider that they may be doing great damage. Fires, agriculture and real estate development have depleted nature's gardens until some of the most attractive wild flowers are in danger of extermination. Many nature lovers aggravate the matter by pulling up by the roots plants which would not be injured if the flowers were cut off with short stems.

The beautiful and fragrant trailing arbutus is always a great favorite among flower gatherers, and the dainty columbine, State flower of Colorado, has been picker so ruthlessly that it is no longer abundant except in the rugged country where travelers have difficulty in getting around. The California poppy, which used to be so abundant, is rarely found now in stretches of orange and gold.

Dr. Carl Stormer, the prominent Norwegian astronomer, who recently discovered radio echoes, has come out with the statement that the earth has a tail like that of a comet. He reached his conclusion after an extensive study of northern lights.

ALUMINUM CONCERN TO BUILD HERE

Factory Warehouse of Cincinnati Company Will be Located in City

Los Angeles will get a new factory warehouse and branch office to handle the products of the recently merged Aluminum Industries, Inc. Edward R. Brazell has been named as Southern California district manager with headquarters at Los Angeles and Robert E. McGill, the Pacific Coast manager, according to announcement from the headquarters at Cincinnati, O.

The announcement followed the completion of negotiations for the new California warehouse where $250,000 worth of Permite Diamond California products will be kept in stock constantly for Pacific Coast trade.

Los Angeles will be the exclusive manufacturing location on the Pacific Coast but branch offices will be maintained both here and at San Francisco, officers of the corporation say. The corporation makes Permite pistons.

Vice-President F. J. Glennon, who has charge of general sales, recently returned to Cincinnati from Los Angeles after making an extensive Pacific Coast survey. Brazell, the new Coast manager, is widely known to the trade on the Coast as he was western-State manager for the Diamond Motor Parts Company, previous to its becoming a part of the Aluminum Industries Corporation.

How a Lot Seller Took Advantage of a Movie Man

"Yes," said Marshon Hicks. "I admit it. I am thinking of buying out a movie house. Now the Little Funhouse seems a right smart place. Do you have good audiences?"

Manager Snarl's heart rose with hope, then sank with apprehension. For three months there had not been more than thirteen people in the Little Funhouse at any one time, including the usher and the operator.

"You just come around to the box office tonight and watch 'em stream in," he told Marshon Hicks.

The rest of the afternoon Manager Snarl spent in feverishly pawning everything he owned and converting the money into dimes, which he gave out to anybody who would sign a written agreement to deposit it at the ticket window of the Little Funhouse that night in exchange for admission.

Marshon Hicks came around and at least 200 of the 210 people to whom Manager Snarl had given dimes.

"Well, I'm still undecided," said Marshon Hicks. "Would you mind if I went in and made a speech to the audience to see if they are a representative body of people?"

"Speech away," invited Manager Snarl cordially, and Marshon Hicks stepped out before the screen and spoke as follows: "Ladies and gentlemen, Mr. Snarl, the manager of this theater, is so impressed with the huge potential potentialities of Swill Swamps, with its bamboo drainage system and beautiful groves of oatmeal trees, that he has allowed me to inform you that building lots may be had in this beautiful suburb for as low as $469 apiece, regardless of shape or form. I thank you."

And scattering a handful of circulars among them, he disappeared, after which a strange sound was heard.

It was Manager Snarl wildly trying to swallow a six-reel film.—[Detroit Free Press.

LONELIEST ISLE LISTENS IN

Inhabitants of Tristan da Cunha, the world's loneliest island, are now enjoying broadcast programs from other parts of the world. Accustomed to hearing strange voices only when a ship touches there about once a year, the people eagerly listen in to musical and other numbers sent from studios in Europe. The new radio receiving set, presented to the island by an African newspaper last January, has just been installed.

HERE'S ANOTHER "PARKER SMILE" IN HOLLYWOOD

MISS BOOTS DUNCAN, comedienne of Christie Comedies and other widely-known film hits, smiling the infectious "Parker Smile," fashion started in Hollywood and now spreading over the nation.

TODAY ANOTHER dainty "Parker Smile" greets you direct from the land of charm and cheerfulness—Hollywood, California. Miss Duncan lives there at 1377 North Ridgewood, almost next door to the enormous Fox Films studios. Some of the most widely known photoplays in which she has appeared have been "Alibi," produced by United Artists, and "Record Breakers," now appearing on the Radio-Keith-Orpheum circuit.

"Smiling the Parker Smile" has become the latest saying—and occupation—of Hollywood picture folk. What does the "Parker Smile" signify? Why, it's the smile of health and happiness and complete self-confidence that comes from teeth in perfect condition—teeth made that way and kept that way, preferably, according to Miss Duncan and many of the film colony in Hollywood, by dentists who use the E. R. Parker System.

Miss Duncan said: "It is getting to be quite 'the thing' in Hollywood to go to dentists who use the E. R. Parker System. I always personally patronize dentists who display the E. R. Parker System shield, because I have found the doctors and nurses uniformly gentle, careful and always courteous. I have recommended them often to my friends.

"There is one thing I like especially—their clean and sunshiny offices, the nice class of people one meets, and the policy of the same reasonable prices to everyone. You know that here in Hollywood many local merchants and others charge us more just because we are in pictures. But none of us like to pay any more than anyone else for the best quality of work. And I can say without hesitation that no dentists that I know about have ever done any finer or more artistic work than the dentists who use the E. R. Parker System. I have had a number of fillings done by them and I never felt the slightest pain either at the time or afterwards."

BUILDINGS TO BE DEDICATED

Formal Ceremonies Today at Scripps College

Distinguished Speakers to Address Gatherings

Ellen Browning and Janet Jacks Balch Halls Open

CLAREMONT, Sept. 29.—Dr. Frederick P. Keppel, president of the Carnegie Corporation of New York City, will be the principal speaker at the dedication of Janet Jacks Balch Academic Hall at Scripps College tomorrow afternoon. Mrs. F. W. Kellogg of Pasadena, and Dr. William E. Ritter, distinguished biologist, will speak at the dedication of Ellen Browning Residence Hall. Invitations have been issued for the programs which will be held in the auditorium of Balch Hall at 3:30 p.m. and in the living-room of Ellen Browning Hall at 5 p.m.

The Carnegie Corporation has had, under the leadership of Dr. Keppel, the task of carrying forward the work which Carnegie started by his gifts for libraries, research, and practically all forms of education. The Carnegie Corporation has recently been interested in the development of art in colleges and universities.

The new buildings at Scripps College follow the Mediterranean style of architecture which corresponds with the first two residence halls. Janet Jacks Balch Hall, the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Allan C. Balch of Los Angeles, has class rooms, art rooms, offices of the faculty and administration, library, a lecture room, exhibit room and auditorium. The auditorium is equipped with a motion-picture projection room, and an extensive stage lighting system.

Ellen Browning Hall, the third residence unit, was given by Miss Ellen Browning Scripps of La Jolla and friends and associates of her brother, E. W. Scripps, in whose memory the hall was built. In accordance with the policy of housing the students in well-equipped residence units, Ellen Browning Hall provides accommodations for fifty-six girls, together with residence suites and guest rooms. Special features of the building are a Mexican garden patio and other courts, second and third-floor balconies giving magnificent views of the Sierra Madre Mountains, and the fourth-floor tower, which is the architectural feature of the campus.

The dedication exercises mark the beginning of the third year since the founding of the college. In accordance with the plan of limiting the entrants to approximately fifty in each class, a total student body of 150 has been admitted and is now in residence. The fourth dormitory unit will be added during the year to accommodate the entering class of 1930.

Boy Scout Move at Sierra Madre

SIERRA MADRE, Sept. 29.—A Boy Scout movement here, with the possibility of forming three troops, will be undertaken by a citizens' committee to be organized tomorrow night. The committee will be composed of representatives from all organizations in the city who will assume membership in the proposed committee tomorrow evening at a banquet to be given at the Woman's Club.

A campaign will be started to raise funds for the formation of Boy Scout troops, which will be carried out under the supervision of Frederick S. Ackley. Father Clarey of St. Rita's Church has declared his intentions of forming a troop under the auspices of his church, and Rev. Arthur O. Pritchard of the Congregational Church will sponsor a troop. The third troop will be fostered by the American Legion.

J. H. Robertson, leader of the local Boy Scout movement, is planning to enroll at the school of instruction for scoutmasters to be held at the Alhambra High School beginning October 8. Robertson stated that he is anxious that others enroll for the instruction, which would make them eligible to assist with the troops.

CLUBHOUSE TO BE BUILT

PACOIMA, Sept. 29.—A $12,500 community club and playgrounds is soon to be erected at Stonehurst, near here, following the approval of plans by the Los Angeles Playground Commission. Funds for the erection of the building were voted by residents about three or four months ago.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC MAGNATE DEPARTS

Hale Holden

HOLDEN TO LEAVE FOR EAST TODAY

Railroad Executive Going Back to Chicago in His Private Car

SOUTH PASADENA, Sept. 29.—Hale Holden, chairman of the board of directors of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, accompanied by Mrs. Holden and their daughter, Miss Eleanor W. Holden, will leave this city tomorrow in their private car for Chicago, it was learned today.

Since April, the railroad executive and his family have been occupying the residence of William A. Brackenridge, 525 Orange Grove avenue.

Upon her arrival in Southern California last February, Mrs. Holden was taken seriously ill. For months her life was despaired of, and Mr. Holden postponed his plan of making a survey of the railroad's California lines in order to remain at her bedside at the Raymond Hotel.

"Mrs. Holden, while still not out of danger, has benefited by the climate to the extent that her physicians believe she can make the trip to Chicago safely," her husband said this afternoon.

When Mr. Holden was elected to the high railroad office about a year ago, he planned to move his family from Chicago to New York in order to be near the Southern Pacific's executive offices.

"Due to Mrs. Holden's illness, I shall continue my Chicago home for the time being," he said.

There are no plans regarding any tie-up between the Southern Pacific and air transportation which can be announced at the present time, Mr. Holden asserted.

During the Holdens stay in this city they have visited with Mrs. Holden's sister, Mrs. John McWilliams, Jr., of 1207 South Pasadena avenue.

FEARS OF SAN DIEGO EMPLOYEES ALLAYED

CITY JOBS NOT ENDANGERED BY PROPOSED NEW CHARTER FOR MUNICIPALITY

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 29.—Apprehension that may be entertained by city employees that with adoption of the proposed new city charter they may be released from their present positions, was allayed yesterday when the Board of Freeholders, drafting the new charter, incorporated a clause providing that all persons holding city positions at the time of adoption of the charter will be retained.

According to this provision, employees in city positions at the time of adoption of the charter will not be required to pass a civil service examination to retain their jobs and will not be subject to removal to any greater extent than under present regulations.

The new charter will also provide that if the city takes over any public utility, persons in the employ of such public utility will be retained in the same positions and will not be required to pass a civil service examination to remain on the city pay roll.

GOVERNOR MAY SPEAK

Young Invited to Address Celebration for Opening of Garfield Avenue-Atlantic Boulevard

MONTEREY PARK, Sept. 29.—Gov. Young has been invited to speak at the Garfield avenue-Atlantic Boulevard opening celebration on Sunday, October 6, an affair that promises to attract thousands to view the developments in the East Side district. The invitation to the Governor was sent by George W. Baker, president, and Klyde Young, secretary of the East Side organization, which, with the local Chamber of Commerce, will sponsor the celebration.

Completion of the three-and-a-half-mile section of Atlantic Boulevard, the connecting link in the big highway project which has been under way for several years, and its companion project, Garfield avenue between this city and Montebello, is the motive for the gala affair.

The tentative program which has been announced by the local chamber provides for a tour of delegations from every town along Atlantic Boulevard from Altadena to Long Beach along the route of the new mountain-to-ocean highways. The program will center on Atlantic Boulevard in the P. N. Snyder tract, where greetings will be exchanged by the mayors of Long Beach and Pasadena.

Both Garfield and Atlantic boulevards will be decorated throughout their entire length within the city limits of Monterey Park by the local civic body. A free Spanish dinner will be served, through the courtesy of P. N. Snyder and the J. B. Ransom Corporation, and an entertainment program of Spanish songs and dances and other numbers will be provided.

A new home is now being built for Eddie Dowling, film actor, on the Snyder tract. The celebration will be concluded with ground-breaking ceremonies for the new $100,000 Snyder administration building.

TRAGEDY AT HOME-COMING

Husband Enters Door to Find Young Wife Had Killed Small Daughter and Then Shot Herself

SAN BERNARDINO, Sept. 29.—Apparently mentally deranged by grief over the recent death of her father, Mrs. J. R. Wells, 25 years of age, wife of an employee of the California Department of State, shot and killed her 3-year-old daughter, Phyllis, and then herself, sometime after midnight Friday night at her home, 3112 Leroy street.

The double tragedy was discovered late last night when her husband returned home from Los Angeles and broke into the locked house. Mr. Wells had gone to Los Angeles Friday evening in order to conduct civil service examinations yesterday.

The child had been shot through the head while asleep and the mother's body, also with a bullet hole through the head, had fallen across the baby's crib. Neighbors told police and the Coroner that lights were on and the radio going in the house until midnight Friday. No inquest will be conducted, the Coroner said.

The husband told police that his wife apparently was in good spirits when he left, but that she had been unusually despondent over the death of her father, J. E. Wilshire, at Redlands, a month ago. They had been married five years and Mrs. Wells was socially prominent in Redlands, where she lived prior to moving here three years ago.

New State Law Affects Sale of Mutual Stocks

YUCAIPA, Sept. 29.—A new State law controlling mutual water has gone into effect and many local companies are affected.

The new law makes some changes in the methods of notification by publication of both assessments and sale of delinquent stock, but the provision which is most far-reaching in its effect is the one that declares that stock sold for delinquent assessment may not be reissued or returned to the owner thereof except by special permit of the Corporation Commission.

E. P. Southworth, secretary of Yucaipa Water Company No. 1, in commenting upon the law states: "Under provisions of an act passed by the last session of the California Legislature stock in a corporation sold or 'forfeited' under delinquent assessment may not be redeemed except by special permission from the State Commissioner of Corporations in each case, and in pursuance with this regulation it must be borne in mind that in the case of mutual water companies that all rights to the use of water, both domestic and irrigation, are at once withdrawn if stock is sold or forfeited."

In the past it has been the custom of water companies to allow the redemption of stock sold for delinquents upon the payment of charges by the stockholder. This privilege has now been withdrawn by the law, which requires the cancellation of such stock, and does not permit of its reissuance except through application to the Corporation Commission.

CITRUS MEN PLAN "PREPAREDNESS"

ONTARIO AND UPLAND STAGE PREPARATIONS FOR FROST BATTLES

UPLAND, Sept. 29.—Preparedness is the watchword of citrus growers, and preparations toward warding off a freeze this winter are already being made by citrus growers of the district.

Orchard thermometers have been tested and orchard heaters are being overhauled, placed in the groves and filled with oil.

A wet winter is predicted by many of the old-timers, but whether it is to bring undue chill with it is not prophesied.

The Orchard Protection Association is directing the preparedness campaign against possible frost. The organization has removed a large supply of orchard heaters that have become relics and replaced them with more modern heating equipment.

During the summer the association prepared for the winter campaign by fighting frost by installing a huge new oil storage tank, which now is half full of oil for use in orchard heaters.

Floyd D. Young, government meteorologist, has established headquarters in Pomona, from which point he will guard the Upland and Ontario groves from the frost invasion.

PROTEST ON WATER RATES AT LA HABRA

LA HABRA, Sept. 29.—Residents of La Habra protesting against what they believe are abnormally high water rates will have a chance October 7, next, to present their claims before members of the State Railroad Commission, who will conduct a hearing at the La Habra City Hall. Water users to the number of 256 recently contributed to a fund to finance a campaign for lower rates. La Habra is served with water from the Orange County Water Company, which supplies a number of the smaller communities of the county.

RESERVOIR BEGUN

Inglewood Building Container to Store 1,335,000 Gallons

INGLEWOOD, Sept. 29.—Ground was broken yesterday for the new city reservoir at Wexham Way and Hargrave street under the direction of Arthur Cory, consulting engineer for the Inglewood Municipal Water Department. It will have a capacity of 1,335,000 gallons of water. Inlet and outlet pipes have been laid and grading is under way. The reservoir will be covered, and its sides will be of concrete backed by earthern banks.

WOMAN DIES WHEN CAR TURNS OVER

Mrs. C. M. D'Autremont's Neck Broken; Miss Hirsch Incurs Spine Fractures

ANAHEIM, Sept. 29.—Mrs. C. M. D'Autremont, 38 years of age, 4915 Edgewood Place, Los Angeles, was instantly killed, and Miss Marie Hirsch, believed also to be of Los Angeles, sustained five spinal fractures at 2:15 a.m. today when the machine in which they were riding crashed into an orange grove near the edge of this city. The dead woman's brother, W. Foster Word, who was driving, suffered only minor cuts and bruises.

En route to Santa Ana, they were driving over a detour and Word evidently failed to notice a sharp curve. He swerved the machine, which plowed into the grove and upset. Mrs. D'Autremont's neck was broken.

Miss Hirsch was removed to the California Lutheran Hospital in Los Angeles this afternoon. An inquest over the body of Mrs. D'Autremont will be conducted at 2 p.m. tomorrow at Hilgensfeld's funeral parlors, here.

Crystal Gazer Must Have Spied Cops in Glass

VENTURA, Sept. 29.—Known as a clairvoyant and "big business man on the inside of the stock market," Frederick Korda of Santa Paula was the object of a police hunt in Southern California today.

Korda is charged with having "invested" $1600 for Mrs. Lena Varnau and then suddenly disappearing.

Besides his crystal gazing, the clairvoyant was a confidential adviser of Charles Schwab, president of the United States Steel Corporation, he told Santa Paulans.

Covina Carnival Comes to Close

COVINA, Sept. 29.—Climaxing with a grand ball on the tennis courts in the City Park, the second annual carnival and exposition under the auspices of Howard T. Douglas Post, American Legion, closed its gates at midnight last night, after approximately 10,000 persons had viewed the exhibits.

The carnival opened with a gala vaudeville program Tuesday under canvas on the Adams tract adjacent to the City Park, which housed seventy commercial exhibits. Proceeds from the five-day carnival will be used in the construction of a new home for the local Legion post.

RESEDA SEEKING STUDENT BUS LINE

RESEDA, Sept. 29.—Following conferences with bus-line officials, it is announced here today by William Courtney, manager of the local Chamber of Commerce, that negotiations are under way for the establishment of a privately operated bus line between Tarzana and Reseda and Granada and Reseda. There are no regular means of transportation between these communities in San Fernando Valley. It also is planned by Courtney to ask the bus line which transports college students to the University of California at Westwood from San Fernando Valley to reroute the line in a way that will permit Reseda and Tarzana students to make use of the line.

REDLANDS PLANS PAGEANT

Civic Leaders Discuss Ideas for Dramatic Fiesta to Portray Glamour of Early-Day Events

REDLANDS, Sept. 29.—An annual fiesta for Redlands to dramatize the coming of life-giving water into San Bernardino Valley is being planned by civic leaders. The sponsors of the movement hope to arouse sufficient interest to insure for the city an attraction which will have a drawing power similar to that of the "Desert Play" at Palm Springs and the Ramona Pageant at Hemet.

"We in Redlands are overlooking a very dramatic and romantic event in the history of this valley," said A. E. Isham, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, today. "Bringing the water from the mountains into this valley, thus causing a dormant empire to become prolific, was an extraordinary accomplishment. It was no mean engineering feat the Indians performed more than a century ago," Isham continued.

"Besides this, we have a wealth of other material—the coming of the great explorer, Jedediah Strong Smith; the life in this valley during the pastoral days of control by Mission San Gabriel, the romantic period of the Mexican ranchos, the entry of the American settlers and finally, the placing of water from Bear Valley on the lands of what is now the southern part of Redlands. All these things have highlights which may be dramatized in an interesting manner," he added.

Isham recalled from his historical reading many characters who would fit into such a play. Such persons as old Chief Juan Antonio of the Cahuilla Indians; Cabazon, the dignified leader of later times, and Linchpin, another red man. Among the whites were men like "Tiptoe" Hunter, who was a pioneer of great prowess in the Indian wars.

It is suggested that the Greek Theater at the University of Redlands would make an ideal setting for such a play. The zanja, which was dug by the Indians to convey water from Mill Creek to the settlement now called the Mission district, passes close to this theater. Also it is pointed out that the many visitors to this city would get an insight into the work of one of the city's leading assets, the University of Redlands.

"We have a good start in the right direction now," Isham said, "with our week of flowers, which could easily be tied up with the historical material. I certainly hope the talented folk of this city, dramatic performers, writers, students of history and others will interest themselves in the plan.

"The charm and romance of the valley and its desirability as a place in which to live, can be impressed on thousands through an annual fiesta."

SEA ELEPHANTS ARRIVE IN PORT

Quartet of Marine Mammals for San Diego Zoo

Rare Specimens Brought in From Guadaloupe

Mexican Government Gives Permission for Capture

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 29. — Four huge sea elephants, weighing from two to three tons each, were brought into port here today, swung by a city crane onto large trucks, driven to the San Diego Zoo and allowed to slip down specially constructed runways into a pool that was drained, cleaned and refilled yesterday and flavored with three tons of ocean salt.

The U.S.S. Koka, carrying the seals and a party from the San Diego Zoological Society, pulled up alongside Pier No. 1 about 8 a.m. The tug probably was accompanied by the reserve tug Eagle 34. Steaming from port here Thursday, the two tugs headed for the Guadalupe Islands, about 180 miles south of here, to obtain live specimens of these huge mammals. The seals are protected on the islands by the Mexican government. Zoo officials, however, obtained permission to catch some for study.

Large crates were built to house the seals on the deck of the Koka. Quantities of salt water were poured over the seals at frequent intervals to keep them cool and damp.

This variety of seal is found only in the vicinity of Guadalupe Islands. As far as is known there is no other place in the world where the northern variety of the sea elephants are to be found. Protective laws have been passed by the United States and Mexican governments in an attempt to prevent the herd from becoming extinct.

The trip was headed by Dr. Harry M. Wegeforth, president of the Zoological Society, and included Dr. C. H. Townsend, director of the New York Aquarium; Dr. R. A. Whiting, pathologist of the San Diego Zoo, and L. M. Huey, curator of birds and animals of the San Diego Natural History Museum. Naval officers who made the trip are Commander G. H. Bowdey, Lieutenant-Commander J. C. McNulty and Lieutenants Alva Henderson, R. Wilkinson and E. B. Kroger. Luis Andrade represented the Mexican Fish and Game Commission.

Missing Youth Back With Tale of Confinement

PASADENA, Sept. 29.—With the return today of Hugh Hollems, 14-year-old boy, who disappeared under mysterious circumstances two weeks ago from his home, 185 El Nido avenue, police started a search for a man who they believe held the boy prisoner in a shack in Pasadena Glen.

Upon his return, Hollems told police that he had gone to a small shack in the lonely canyon with a man who had promised to instruct him in woodcraft.

Detective Lieutenants Henry Collins and William Cropsey informed Chief of Detectives Charles A. Beets that they have evidence indicating that the boy may have been held in the shack against his will, but that they cannot make public the details of the affair until they have located a suspect.

Mayor Resigns at El Segundo

EL SEGUNDO, Sept. 29.—Pressure of business duties is given as the reason for the resignation of Peter E. Binder, Mayor here since April, 1924, and a member of the City Council since 1920, whose action was placed before that body yesterday. The resignation has been taken under advisement by the board and will be before the meeting on October 5.

PLAYERS NOT ENGAGED

Young Tennis Stars Rumored to Be in "Love Game" to Be Among Notables at Tennis Banquet Today

SANTA MONICA, Sept. 29.—"No, Midge and Johnny have made no announcement of an engagement to me, and I certainly have made no such announcement to the newspapers," Mrs. A. Gladman, mother of the rising young tennis star, Midge Gladman, stated today at her home, 2547 Pier avenue, Ocean Park.

"Johnny" is John Van Ryn, former intercollegiate tennis champion from Princeton and now one of the leading Davis Cup aces. That Midge and Johnny have something very closely in common, however, was admitted by the mother. Their birthdays, it seems, are the same day, June 23. Midge is 20 and Johnny 23 years of age.

JOHN VAN RYN.

"Yes, they are together a lot," Mrs. Gladman admitted. "They just left for the Los Angeles Tennis Club." Aside from that, the mother of a tennis star refused to comment. They were all very fond of Johnny, she admitted.

Tomorrow at 3 p.m. Midge and Johnny are expected to leave Los Angeles on the Southern Pacific for the tournament in Mexico City, acording to Mrs. Gladman's information. Ten other stellar racket wielders from the Los Angeles tournament are to make the trip.

MIDGE GLADMAN.

Prior to this long journey, Midge and Johnny are expected to be among the guests at the Miramar Hotel here when hometown pride in its tennis embassadors, who have spread the name of Santa Monica in championship letters all over the sports world, will burst forth in a noonday banquet commemorating "Santa Monica Tennis Day."

Mrs. May Sutton Bundy of this city, who captured the Wimbledon world's championship in 1905 and reached the semifinals in the same historic tournament this year, will be among the honored guests. With her will be Johnny Doeg, her tennis-famed nephew; Midge Gladman, Jay Cohn, national boys' champion; Thomas C. Bundy, United States doubles champion, with Maury McLoughlin from 1912 to 1914; Mrs. Violet Sutton Doeg, little Dorothy Bundy and Billy Doeg—all of them tennis "greats" and most of them from the same tennis-famed family. Senator Charles Lyon will be toastmaster, and the affair is in charge of Charles J. Lick, F. Lee Smith and Nugent Thomas.

PROBLEM OF TRAFFIC AT DAM SOLVED

Aperture to Be Left in San Gabriel Canyon Dike for Trains' Passage

AZUSA, Sept. 29.—As a partial solution to the problem of operating trains up the San Gabriel Canyon during the construction of the Pasadena storage dam, Chief Engineer S. B. Morris of Pasadena states that an opening, through which the trains will pass, will be left in the dam structure until it is nearly completed.

At the completion of the dam reservoir, the railroad tracks will be removed and the opening in the structure of the dam will be filled.

As the Pasadena storage dam will be completed in three years, according to plans of engineers, and the San Gabriel flood-control dam not until several years later, ultimately the county will be forced to reroute its right of way beyond the Pasadena dam or abandon the road altogether.

Motorcycles to Carry Officers

SAN GABRIEL, Sept. 29.—The entire police force, consisting of six men, will be placed on motorcycles within the next year, according to Police Chief A. E. Manzer. The police cars now in use will be discarded.

Manzer's plan is the result of the recent ruling of the State Motor Vehicle Department that all police cars used in traffic work be painted white and traffic officers be required to wear distinctive uniforms. Manzer declares that it would be practically impossible to make traffic arrests with the easily identified automobiles.

As the first step toward making all local police motorcycle riders, the chief has transferred Officer Howell to special motorcycle duty. William Church, formerly on the South Pasadena motorcycle squad, has joined the local department as a motorcycle officer to replace Glen Stokes, who has been appointed fire chief. Manzer's next move will be to place the night shift of patrolmen on motorcycles.

Speers Death Laid to Heart

UPLAND, Sept. 29.—Isaac C. Speers, 62 years of age, widely known showman and advertising man of the Santa Monica Bay district, dropped dead late yesterday afternoon at Camp Baldy from a blood clot in the heart, according to the report of an autopsy performed at the Draper mortuary here this afternoon. Speers and his wife went to their cabin at the mountain resort a week ago.

Prior to selling his advertising business to Foster & Kleiser a few years ago, Speers operated under the trade name of Speers System. On selling his business he retired and traveled in Europe and this country extensively. He leaves his widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Speers, and two sons, Roland R. and James. The family residence is at 270 Eighteenth street, Santa Monica.

YEAR MORE TO FINISH FLOOD CONTROL DIKE

VENTURA, Sept. 29.—Completion of the flood-protection work along the Santa Clara River will not be effected in much less than a year, according to County Engineer Charles Petit, who attended a committee meeting to consider the work. Surveying parties from Los Angeles are now engaged in locating the positions of levees, jetties and all structural work, extending for about fourteen miles, and are expected to complete it within ten days, Petit said. After this work is done, the committee will look over the proposed construction as it is staked out, and if acceptable, will approve it.

Later, Los Angeles will advertise for bids, and considering the legal requirements for that, the earliest possible date the construction can be started would be January, it was indicated. Seven months will be allowed for the completion of the work, Petit said.

ONTARIO MAY HAVE ZONING ORDINANCE

ONTARIO, Sept. 29.—A city-wide zoning ordinance proposed by the City Planning Commission, having met with approval of the general public, is to be presented to the City Council October 7, with recommendation that it be adopted.

The ordinance is designed to prevent business creeping into residential districts, and also to keep residential districts out of the business section.

The proposed ordinance was brought up for public consideration this week at a mass meeting at the City Hall. No protests were heard against the proposed measure, and Willard D. Ball, chairman of the commission, announced the recommendation for its adoption is to be made to the Council at the next meeting.

TURKEY GROWERS TO SELL BIRDS IN POOL

LANCASTER, Sept. 29.—One of the large farm industries here and in other parts of Antelope Valley is turkey raising. Each fall thousands of the birds are shipped from here. This year all turkey growers in the district are going to market their holiday product in a pool and an extensive census of the turkeys in the valley is now being made, to determine the number of fat birds that can be offered to city Thanksgiving buyers from whom bids will be made in advance.

The pool for the sale of the turkeys is the first that has been formed in this section. A regularly appointed committee has been appointed to take charge of all negotiations between the turkey ranchers and commercial buyers, the latter representing Los Angeles markets.

UNIVERSITY CLUB TO ENTERTAIN MAGRUDER

VAN NUYS, Sept. 29. — Admiral Thomas P. Magruder, U.S.N., commander of the Pacific base fleet, will be the principal speaker at the meeting of the San Fernando Valley University Club at the Hollywood Country Club on Ventura Boulevard, October 9, next. The admiral will speak on "National Preparedness and International Peace." Hosts to serve at the affair are Mr. and Mrs. H. Phelps Gates, Howard Provan, Morton Colgrove, Miss Rose Charter and Miss Irene Chapman.

GOLF COURSE IN COURT

Decision Expected Today Whether San Diego Give Concession Privileges in Balboa Park

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 29.—Court decision on whether the city right to grant concession privileges in Balboa Park, where a charged, with particular reference to construction and golf course, is expected to be handed down tomorrow, L. Beyers, assistant City Attorney.

Following brief argument on the demurrer to the injunction suit of P. F. O'Rourke, seeking to restrain the Mayor and City Council from entering into a permit or lease arrangement with an individual or corporation for use of any portion of the park for recreational purposes, City Attorney Conkling will file an answer to the injunction, denying that it was ever the intention of the city to grant a lease or permit for operation of a golf course in the park.

In the answer, the court will be advised, according to Beyers, that a properly constructed and maintained golf course is a necessary recreational feature of the park, and that it is contemplated by the Mayor and City Council to grant a concession under which such a course may be operated on a self-sustaining basis and without the city. It will be such concession is granted, course shall be operated jurisdiction of the Park sion and in conformity regulations established by the mission for operation of

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

Big expansion makes places for 50 additional salesmen in a permanent capacity.

An opportunity to become associated with a prominent Los Angeles institution with an offering of the conservative, confidence-inspiring type—something you can talk with honest enthusiasm and have your efforts yield cash. Also an opportunity to build up a permanent clientele that will mean a regular income to you for the years to come.

Present sales force rolled up a million dollar dollar volume in approximately eight months. Our new program calls for a million dollar volume in three months. This gives you an opportunity to cash in on work accomplished by our present organization.

If you are puzzled about what to do, come with us, where your experience and ability will count, right from the start.

To save your waiting in line for interviews, Charles W. Preston, the widely known sales production specialist, will explain what it is and the points that sell it Monday night.

He will also give the first lecture of his famous course of salesmanship—a course that makes money—makers of men. The entire course is free to all.

Monday Night at 8 o'clock Second Floor 740 So. Broadway, L. A.

A SALES REPRESENTATIVE WITH A RECORD OF REAL ACHIEVEMENT

to care for its growing clientele, an established and reputable personal service corporation—the largest of its kind on the Pacific Coast—is about to add to its staff one and possibly three sales representatives for local office. And for Orange, Riverside and San Diego Counties.

The term "representative" is used advisedly, for the man or men selected must be REPRESENTATIVES in every sense of the word — in character, sales caliber and appearance—men who can get to the very best type of people, and after getting to them, talk their language—impress them.

The affiliation offered is not only a most dignified and congenial one, but an exceptionally lucrative one. The earnings of the right man should be very quickly at the rate of not less than $10,000 a year. The earnings of one of our force is at the rate of more than $2000 a month.

This is not to be classed with the general run of an inquiry for salesmen. It is in every sense an exceptional opportunity worthy of the investigation of the most ambitious type of men.

If you are of this class, willing to follow instructions and able to finance yourself, phone TR. 3801 for appointment. Ask for Mr. Rogers.

SALESMEN NEW ARRIVALS

To the salesman who has just arrived in Los Angeles and is desirous of making a proper connection and becoming active, I have a proposition of considerable merit on a proper basis of compensation to submit to you.

Under a new scheme of things, I have worked out a plan whereby I can utilize the services of 3 men who are new in this community. For the men who possess sales ability and who realize that to make a proper income it requires constant application and conscientious effort, I can submit for your consideration a proposition that is unusual in its character to men who have had no experience in this field.

PERMANENCY

This position assures permanency with a future and connection with one of the strongest financially and most successful institutions in the State.

Suggest that you phone HOllywood 1344 for appointment as I wish to talk this proposition over with you personally. Act today as these positions will be filled immediately.

Mel Anderson, General Sales Mgr., 2690 Beachwood Drive, Hollywood.

SALESMEN who want PERMANENT POSITIONS

Substantial financial house with an established business and hundreds of permanent customers, is seeking a few more salesmen with good personality and a clean record. This opportunity for making money and to permanently establish yourself with a reliable company will particularly appeal to the man whose mentality is above that of the average salesman. MR. DRYDEN will interview you Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday at 10 o'clock a.m. 408 S. SPRING ST., 2nd floor.

New Branch Stores

to be opened by national organization in metropolitan area of Los Angeles within the next twenty days. Applications will be accepted from men who can qualify as to character, preferably married, between 25 and 40 years of age. Applicants accepted will be groomed for sales executive position. See Mr. Cargill at our factory branch, 4568 Hollywood Blvd., at Vermont, Hollywood, 9:30 and 1:30 Monday or Tuesday only.

MANUFACTURER'S AGENT WANTED

$125,000 CASH WILL BUY ONE OF THE FINEST AND BEST EQUIPPED RANCHES IN THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA. This ranch was appraised by bank at $600,000, and a loan of $285,000 at 6% was made on ranch. This loan has been paid and ranch is now clear. Owner will sacrifice for ONLY $300,000 on terms of $125,000 cash and ten years to pay balance at 6%. Every acre of ranch under irrigating ditch costing only $7 per acre per year for water. Every acre improved and producing. Income last year $70,000.

This sacrifice is only being made on account of owner of ranch being a mining man owning several miles of rich gold bearing gravel of the famous Mammoth channel in Butte County, California (which has a record of having produced over $40,000,000.) which said mine owner wants to develop by tunnel which requires considerable capital. For immediate action on ranch buyer will be given in addition ¼ interest in mine which is expected to produce millions. Address H, box 460, Times Branch.

CHAMBER PLANS GOOD-WILL TOUR

Four-Day Trip Up Coast Scheduled

San Francisco Visit to be Social Affair

Eighteen Cities Included in Itinerary

Los Angeles business men and manufacturers, encouraged by results obtained through past tours of the surrounding trade territory, plan a new good-will junket of the cities of the coast, the trip to be made under the auspices of the domestic trade department of the Chamber of Commerce.

Secretary-Manager A. G. Arnoll of the chamber said, in commenting on the success of these tours, that they have been productive of material results in the formation of new business contacts and making possible the development of new markets.

BENEFITS NOTED

The good-will attitude toward Los Angeles and the friendly feeling that they have created between the business interests of this city and other California communities also has been demonstrated to have proven of much benefit, Arnoll said.

The tour now planned will consume four full days and will cover the coast cities of importance between Los Angeles and San Francisco, leaving here on October 15 and returning on October 18. Under the direction of Harry Harper, chairman of the chamber's committee on trade tours, notices have been sent to manufacturers and business houses in both Los Angeles and neighboring sections, announcing the opening of reservations and giving details of the schedule, which covers eighteen cities.

BAY CITY VISIT

While business contacts will be made in all cities by the personnel of the tour, the stay in San Francisco will be principally in the nature of a good-will gesture, the time to be largely spent in calling upon officials of the city and representatives of the chamber in an effort further to eliminate an existing sentiment of rivalry between this city and the northern metropolis, E. F. McDonough, manager of the chamber's domestic trade department, says.

The first three days of the tour will be occupied in regular calls on the trade in the cities between Los Angeles and Watsonville, and as a feature of the trip, manufacturers here will make an effort to distribute souvenirs in keeping with their particular line of business.

For centuries even the Latin word "sinister," for left, as opposed to the word "dexter," meaning right, has cast a slur on left-handedness. Statistics furnish a surprisingly constant ratio to prove that 4 per cent of the human race are naturally left-handed, as against 96 per cent who are naturally given to use the right hand. But a recent magazine article by Robert Kingman, says the Boston Transcript, seeks to explode the popular notion that a left-handed person is unlucky because of his characteristic; on the contrary, the man or woman who favors the use of the sinister hand has been found to be rather above the average.

Kingman refers to records recently compiled to show the advantage of left-handedness in the world of sports. In baseball, the excellence of the "southpaw" hitter is well known. A "southpaw tennis player puts up a game that is hard to beat. Left-handed golf players have never distinguished themselves as champions, and in general, left-handedness is considered a handicap in polo, though in each sport there have been exceptions. Boxers find it necessary to develop the left hand and several brilliant football players have been both left-handed and left-footed.

Many ambidextrous persons have been famous in history. Among the artists Michaelangelo, Holbein, Sir Edwin Landseer and Robert Pennell were skilled in the use of either hand. Sir James Barry and Sir Robert Baden-Powell are ambidextrous.

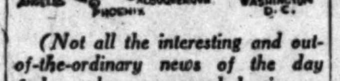
AIRPLANE NEWS EXCHANGE



(Not all the interesting and out-of-the-ordinary news of the day finds a place on crowded wires or waves. Every evening The Times conducts a news exchange by airplane. By Western Air Express, T.A.T. and Standard lines papers of current and yester date from pivotal cities are received. Washington, D. C., contributes the Star only two days from the press, Indianapolis and Chicago, thirty-six hours, Kansas City, Salt Lake and Phoenix are just half way 'round the clock. Today's gleanings range in subject from the worries of the police department in Phoenix over the custody of two "very fine" stray mules, to an account of how a spedeer won leniency from a Washington (D. C.) judge with an original alibi.)

NOW FOR NEXT MONTH

Washington (D. C.) Star, Sept. 27

Alvin Feinsilber had a bad dream and after it had resulted in his appearance in Police Court the judge and most of the occupants of the courtroom agreed with him.

When arraigned before Judge Isaac R. Hitt, the man said that he had fallen asleep while eating in a downtown restaurant and dreamed that his baby was very ill at home and that the child's mother was unaware of its condition. He awoke with a start, paid his bill, jumped into his car and was hurrying home when the police interrupted his progress.

Judge Hitt said that it was the most original alibi that he had heard this month and let him go with a $5 fine.

NICE MULES ASTRAY

Phoenix (Ariz.) Republican, Sept. 29

An urgent plea, addressed to the owners of two mules which have been star boarders at the city pound for the past several days, to come to the rescue and take the animals off its hands, was issued by the police department yesterday.

The animals, which, according to those in charge of the pound, are enjoying themselves hugely, were picked up wandering loose in the city.

They were described as "very nice mules," by the police department, but right now, it was pointed out, the city doesn't happen to need any mules and is anxious to get rid of these before their feed bill mounts higher.

TUT, TUT!

Kansas City Star, Sept. 28

An earth tremor that rattled dishes and windows was reported from Manhattan and Junction City early yesterday and the needle on the University of Kansas seismograph gave corroboration by deviating slightly from the straight line it writes when the earth is at rest. Perhaps the people of Kansas are going to have all the advantages of travel in California without stirring away from home.

HOW ABOUT HAY FEVER?

Kansas City Times, Sept. 29

John Newman is skeptical about Ben Mickel's hay story in which Ben says he and his brother put up 125 tons of hay in Western Kansas one summer. Ben came from Rooks county, pretty well to the west. Now John asserts there haven't been 125 tons of prairie hay west of the Blue River since Coronado crossed the plains of Kansas in search of Quivera.

THOROUGHLY MODERN

Chicago Tribune, Sept. 28

Seventeen new police squad cars were delivered to Commissioner of Police Russell yesterday. The cars, painted an orange color and marked "Police" in large black letters, are equipped with a built-in radio receiving set and shotgun cases.

Scotland Yard Cleans on Crime

Unlike New York, murderers hardly ever escape in England. Scotland Yard works day and night to keep up its reputation where murders are concerned. And the same holds for big jewel robberies and frauds.

The part played by the secret police never gets into the newspaper accounts of an arrest. But it is, nevertheless, no minor part. This special squad, which Commissioner Whalen had decided to copy, works quietly throughout the entire Metropolitan District. Its members are hardly ever seen at headquarters. They do not take part in raids or make arrests. Their lives are spent in the underworld.

The criminals do not know them as central office men. It would be disastrous to the detectives if they did. Their duty is to know all the criminals and yet not be known by the criminals. It is a difficult role. But judging from results they get away with it well.

Scotland Yard frequently has its men waiting about the grounds when some notorious gang arrives to loot a house. The gang are captured and sent away for long terms in prison. But one of their number never sees the inside of a cell.

TOO HUMBLE

"We farmers are humble, but we're not as humble as some of these politicians seem to think."

George L. Quackenbush, the millionaire farmer of Virginia, was talking in Richmond about the farmer's hard luck and his demand for government aid.

"Yes, we're humble," he went on, "but we're not like little Willie.

"'Where are you going, Joe?' little Willie asked his friend.

"'Down to the drgu store,' says Joe, 'to get an ice-cream soda.'

"Little Willie looked up at Joe wistfully and said:

"'Say, Joe, can I come and watch you?'"

Dollar Official Tells Plans in Building Program

Two of Six Express Liners Will be Ready in 1931

Air, Land and Sea Touring Service Announced

BY WALDO DRAKE

The first two of the Dollar Line's projected six $7,000,000 express liners for around-the-world and trans-Pacific trade, will be in operation by the spring of 1931. Announcement to this effect was made yesterday by George G. Neil, district passenger agent, on his return aboard the Dollar liner President Johnson from a survey of east coast passenger conditions. The first pair of new liners, to be built by the Newport News (Va.) Shipbuilding and Drydock Company, will be turboelectric drive, similar to the propulsion system in the new Panama-Pacific liner Virginia and her sister ships.

Mr. Neil said that advance traffic indications, in both freight and passenger trades, are so highly satisfactory that decision to begin work on the ships was made by Dollar Line chiefs immediately after award of the new mail contracts last week. It is held probable that the third and fourth ships of the fleet will be built at the Camden (N. J.) yards of the American Brown-Boveri Electric Corporation and the third pair at Newport News.

The six ships, all sisters in size and design, will be 650 feet in length and will have a sea speed of twenty knots, having luxurious accommodations for 350 first-cabin passengers, all in outside rooms with private baths. Facilities for catapulting seaplanes from the decks also are projected, both for expediting mail delivery and for use of passengers desiring to make short inland sightseeing trips at the various ports of call.

The President Johnson, on her third voyage in Dollar globe service, brought in from New York forty-five cabin passengers and 1500 tons of cargo for this port. Sailing for the Orient today, she will embark forty travelers and 2000 tons of Southland freight for twenty-two ports around the world.

RAIL, SHIP AND AIRLINE COMBINATION EFFECTED

A 9000-mile tour "over and around America" within a fortnight is to be possible through a working agreement between the Panama-Pacific Lines, the Santa Fe and Pennsylvania railroads and Transcontinental Air Transport, it was announced yesterday by W. F. Ohlson, district agent for the Panama-Pacific Line.

One ticket, purchased from any of the foregoing services at a fixed rate of less than $600, will take a passenger either from Los Angeles to New York, via Panama and Havana, aboard Panama-Pacific electric liners and thence back across continent by rail and air, or vice versa, said Mr. Ohlson. The single tariff also includes meals on planes, lower berth on Pullmans for the two nights aboard Santa Fe or Pennsylvania trains and berth and meals aboard ship for the 5500-mile coast-to-coast sea voyage.

The service will be instituted by the sailing from Los Angeles Harbor on October 14, next, of the Panama-Pacific liner California, as the first eastbound ship under the new combination.

Fred J. Easterbrook, chief engineer of the Hongkong Cargo Wharf and Godown Company, is due at the port this week on his survey of the principal ports of the United States. Mr. Easterbrook, now in San Francisco, is making his survey of modern ship terminals preparatory to designing two new piers, to cost $3,000,000, which his company will build at Hongkong. From Los Angeles he will proceed to New York and thence to London.

Several days behind schedule, necessitated by repairs to damage to her hull incurred by her recent grounding in Mazatlan Harbor, the Panama-Mail intercoastal liner Guatemala will sail Wednesday morning for New York, via Central American ports.

Among her 100 cabin passengers will be Howland Bancroft, vice-president of the Lao Petroleum Corporation, en route to Nicaragua and Venezuela on petroleum surveys for his concern; Thomas Costigan, New York barrister, and Mrs. Costigan, and Anegal Guirola, Salvadoran banker, with his family.

The veteran liners Manchuria, now the Dollar globe-girdler President Johnson, and her sister, the Panama-Pacific Mongolia, were yesterday in port simultaneously for probably the last time, since upon her arrival at New York this voyage the Mongolia is to be sold to the Dollar Line. She will be completely reconditioned, at a cost in excess of $1,000,000, at the Newport News ship yards. Renamed the President Fillmore, she will join the ex-Manchuria in around-the-world service.

Capt. Robert E. Smith this morning will take the Mongolia out to New York on her farewell voyage, she having aboard 200 cabin passengers and 3000 tons of California freight. She will be replaced on the coast-to-coast run by the new electric liner Pennsylvania, due here on her maiden voyage November 2, next.

The Calmar freighter Texmar this morning will come off dry dock at the Bethlehem yards, in completion of voyage overhaul and hull cleaning. The Cubore, her sister ship in service, is due here on Saturday with 6000 tons of steel for local discharge from Baltimore and Sparrows Point. This is the largest single cargo to be unloaded at this port.

Forty-day service between Singapore and Los Angeles Harbor and thirty-six-day service from Batavia will be afforded hereafter by the Java-Pacific Line, through a more direct routing, it was announced yesterday by Perry S. Newcomb, district manager for Dodwell & Co., coast agent for the line. The new schedule will be inaugurated with the sailing from this port of the steamer Modjokerto on November 8. Eastbound, the Modjokerto also will set the new schedule with her departure from Penang on January 5, 1930.
